

Technical Bulletin

The 205058 is a High Performance radiator and is engineered for superior heat transfer over the OEM unit. As a result you will find that this radiator is wider than the original radiator and will require modification of the existing mounts during installation. Northern part # Z21220 is a generic mounting kit available to assist in the installation of this radiator.