NOTEWORTHY

GREAT WALL OF GARNET

The Gamecocks have been a force at the net since the beginning of the season and continue to apply pressure in that area. Against Michigan, South Carolina put up 18 blocks which is the most amount during the Rumely Noble era and ranks third in program history. The stat remains a season high. In four additional matches the team has recorded 13 or more blocks, more recently tallying 15 against ETSU which currently is the second highest amount this season. CONTROLLING THE MIDDLE

Senior Ava Leahy has started every match this season and has recorded at least five kills in each outing, leading the Gamecocks in kills against Clemson and Wofford with 17 and 18, respectively. Her 18 kills against Clemson marked a season high. Leahy has hit .324 or better in nine matches, including three performances .500 or better, and currently leads South Carolina with a .377 hitting percentage.

She currently ranks second in the SEC with 1.45 blocks per set while also contributing offensively, recording five kills in five matches and hitting .305 on the season.

DINNAMIC OFFENSE

Kiana Dinn has started every match this season and has led the Gamecocks in assists in all but one appearance, reaching 20 or more assists in nine matches. She set a career high with 42 assists against Clemson before nearly matching the mark the following day against Wofford with 41. Most recently, she reset her career high against ETSU with 43 assists. She was also recognized as the 2025 Metro Area Volleyball Fall Athlete of the Year, earned MaxPreps All-America honors, was named to the JVA Girls' All-National Team and JVA Watchlist, and surpassed 1,000 career assists.

MIDDLE PRESENCE

The Gamecocks have a mix of new and returning faces at the next for the 2026 middles. Ava Leahy returns for her senior year after contributing heavily to the offense last year - averaging .72 blocks per set which ranked second highest on the team. She led the team in blocks at seven matches, tying her career high of 9 against Georgia. In total she notched 126 kills and 69 blocks across the 96 sets she played. Additionally, Leahy started in every match.

Sydney Davis and Ella Grivna will be the newcomers - Davis, who redshirted her freshman year due to injury will compete in her first collegiate season along with true freshman Grivna. Davis had a strong high school/club career where she set a school record for blocks during the 2021 season, hit .474 with 211 kills her senior season and helped her team finish second at the 2021 AAU Nationals. Grivna, along with her high school/club experience mentioned earlier, stands at 6'6 as the tallest player on this year's squad, bringing some valuable height at the net. Both Gamecocks had prominent roles in the preseason exhibition matches and are eager to contribute this season.

RIGHT-SIDE PRESSURE

A wealth of experience makes up this year's right sides, who consist of Elise Marchal and Ally Cavanaugh. Marchal, who was named 2024 Sun Belt Freshman of the Year at her previous school App State, emerged as one of the top hitters last year, contributing significantly in a few areas. Marchal recorded 10 or more kills at five different matches, reached a career high hitting percentage (.409) and led the team offensively to a top-25 win against Florida, and totaled 131 kills over 87 sets played. She added some assistance to the defensive side, earning at least one dig for all but two matches and reaching her season high of six against Ole Miss.

Ally Cavanaugh spent her past two seasons at USF where she had a breakout first year, tallying 270 kills and 296 points for the Bulls after playing in all 29 matches. Cavanaugh set career highs in hitting percentage (.588 against Georgia) and kills (19 against Ohio State) and had 11 additional matches where she notched 10 or more kills. She faced the Gamecocks once before transferring, earning 12 kills with a .478 hitting percentage last season in Tampa.

THE OUTSIDE REBOOT

The Gamecocks' outsides went through a complete makeover this season as the group is entirely made up of newcomers. Two transfers, Ceci Vance and Olivia Borgman, make up the non-freshmen of the crew. Vance comes from Arizona State where she played in two matches for her freshman season. During the preseason exhibition matches, she made some noise as the top kill leader on her team for the Garnet & Black intrasquad.

Borgman comes from SEC foe Georgia where she appeared in 12 matches and 23 sets for her freshman debut. The South Carolina native concluded her first season with a total of 40 kills, 34 digs and 10 blocks, reaching a collegiate career high of 8 kills and a .500 hitting percentage against Alabama State. Borgman arrived to Columbia this past spring and was able to train in Rumely Noble's system.

The remaining two outside hitters for the Gamecocks are freshman, Madi Crnjac and Norunn Westersjo.

DIGGING DEEP

The 2026 liberos are a mix of fresh faces and veterans. Elizabeth McElveen returns for her senior year after recording a season high nine digs and career high four aces last year. Anne Bradley Bing enters her sophomore year after appearing in six matches for her freshman season.

The Gamecocks will look to lean on Cincinnati transfer Lilly Gillespie who played in 192 sets during her time with the Bearcats, dishing out 537 digs across two seasons. She played in 28 matches both years and reached a collegiate career high 32 digs against Kansas during her sophomore campaign. Gillespie was the starting libero all of last season for the Bearcats and looks to make an impact during her first season as a Gamecock.

SETTING UP SUCCESS

Like the liberos, the 2026 setters are also a mix of Gamecock veterans and newcomers. Sydney Floyd enters her senior year, coming off a solid junior season where she put up season highs in assists (22), aces (3) and digs (9). Kaia Pixler returns for her sophomore year after a strong collegiate debut where she had a couple breakout performances. Pixler led the team in assists against Georgia with a career high 23 and passed out 20 or more in four additional matches.

Kiana Dinn comes from Pitt, where she took a medical redshirt her freshman year before returning the following season to play in five matches. She recorded her first collegiate career dig and ace against Ohio and first assist against Duke. Freshman Jill Bohannon rounds out this year's setter crew. All four Gamecocks made positive contributions to the team during the preseason exhibitions.

STATUS QUO IN THE CLASSROOM

The program extended its streak to 17 consecutive seasons earning the AVCA Team Academic Award, announced July 23, after posting team GPAs above 3.50 in both the fall and spring semesters. Only 14 of the 353 Division I programs hold a longer streak.

SARAH RUMELY NOBLE | HEAD COACH

- Won 50 games in three seasons as head coach at App State; the program had won just 21 games total the three seasons prior.
- Was a four-time All-SEC setter and two-time AVCA All-American at Kentucky from 2006-09.
- Won SEC Freshman of the Year honors in 2006 and SEC Player of the Year honors in 2008 as a Wildcat.
- Worked in the SEC as an assistant coach for seven years, spending five seasons at LSU and two at Arkansas
- Helped LSU bring in three nationally ranked classes in 2019 (13th), 2020 (22nd) and 2022 (17th), including nine top-100 players.

Sarah Rumely Noble, a former SEC Player of the Year and all-American, was named the University of South Carolina's 12th head volleyball coach on March 31. Rumely Noble comes to Columbia after three seasons as head coach of Appalachian State volleyball and previously spent seven seasons as an assistant coach in the SEC following a hall of fame playing career at Kentucky.

The Mountaineers went from averaging seven wins per season in the three years prior to her arrival, to averaging 17 wins over her first three seasons at the helm. In her first year in Boone, Rumely Noble led the Mountaineers to an 18-10 record, highlighted by a season-ending stretch of 11 wins in the final 12 matches. In the most recent fall campaign, App State went 18-10 and earned a spot in the National Invitational Volleyball Championship (NIVC), with four individuals making all-conference.

Rumely Noble joined the Mountaineers from LSU, where she worked as an assistant for five seasons, including as the Tigers' associate head coach in 2021. Serving as LSU's recruiting coordinator, Rumely Noble helped the Tigers bring in three nationally ranked classes in 2019 (13th), 2020 (22nd) and 2022 (17th). In her last four recruiting classes at LSU, Rumely Noble helped sign nine top-100 players, including the top-ranked player from South Carolina in the 2023 freshman class.

Over five seasons on the court, the Tigers posted 67 victories with a berth in the 2017 NCAA Tournament, while she helped implement a faster offensive system and worked primarily with the setters, her position group earned SEC Setter of the Week six times, and two made the SEC All-Freshman Team.
Prior to LSU, Rumely Noble spent two seasons at Arkansas, where she ran the defense in 2016 and directed the offense in 2015. She also coached at Wake Forest from 2013-15, recruiting three players that earned All-ACC honors and working primarily with the team's setters. She began coaching at North Texas for two seasons (2010-11) where she helped the team to 43 wins.

Rumely Noble was a four-time All-SEC setter and two-time AVCA All-American at Kentucky from 2006-09, where she earned SEC Freshman of the Year honors in 2006 and SEC Player of the Year honors in 2008. She also was named a third-team Academic All-American in 2009, after making the honorable mention team in 2008. She led the Wildcats to four NCAA Tournament appearances and is still the program's all-time leader in both career and single season assists and service aces. She was inducted into the Kentucky Athletics Hall of Fame in 2017, was named an SEC Women's Legend in 2019, and made the school's "Title IX Top 50" team, honoring the 50 greatest Wildcat women's athletes of the Title IX era, in 2022.

She graduated from Kentucky in the spring of 2010 with a degree in education-kinesiology. Following graduation, she played overseas in the top professional division in France, Ligue A, where she was the starting setter for Nantes Volley Feminin from 2010-11.

We are thrilled to welcome Sarah to South Carolina. She is a rising star in the coaching circles and is a great fit for us as her values are aligned with ours here at the University. Having been a player and assistant coach in the SEC, she knows what it takes to be successful in our league. She will be a great leader for our volleyball student-athletes and we look forward to her taking our program to greater heights.

- Through Zimmick's work with the team's middles, junior Maya Winterhoff became the seventh Mountaineer in program history to earn AVCA All-Region honors as well as a spot on First Team All-Sun Belt Conference in 2024.
- The Mountaineers as a team recorded the three highest blocking totals over the program's last decade in Zimmick's three seasons.
- Zimmick joined App State after two seasons as an assistant coach for Butler. His first coaching position out of school came as a graduate assistant at Kentucky for the 2018 and 2019 seasons, seeing the Wildcats advance to the NCAA Regional Semifinals both years.

- The Mountaineers' defensive specialists/libero units averaged over 14 digs per set in each of her three seasons on staff, while also helping improve the defense's serve receiving numbers. The passing quality carried over to the App State offense, which posted two of its highest team hitting percentage totals over the last 10 seasons.

- Rupert came to Ball State after serving as a volunteer assistant coach for the Princeton Tigers.
- Prior to his coaching stint at Princeton, Rupert played professional volleyball in Croatia for Mladost Ribola Kaštela in 2018 and 2019, starting for the team as it reached the league title match.
- As a collegiate student-athlete, Rupert was a middle blocker for BYU from 2014-2018. He helped the Cougars make appearances in the NCAA Championship match in 2016 and 2017 and the semifinals in 2018.
