Charts 15-7, 15-8, 15-9, 15-10, 15-11

Places of Paul

Explanation

Paul's journeys took him throughout the Mediterranean world. He introduced Christianity to many areas and was responsible for conversions in other areas. The branches of the church, large and small, contained many people with whom Paul was personally acquainted. Certainly he manifested concern that all run the good race to follow the example of Christ. To better understand Paul's labors, a knowledge of Mediterranean geography is necessary, especially of the Roman provinces in Greece and in Asia Minor. The following maps offer the reader the necessary geographic orientation and depict Paul's most likely route on his three missionary journeys and his voyage to Rome.

Reference

F. W. Farrar, The Life and Works of St. Paul (London: Dutton, 1879).

Charting the New Testament, © 2002 Welch, Hall, FARMS

Charting the New Testament, © 2002 Welch, Hall, FARMS

25
30
35
40
EUXINE
THRACE
Byzantium
Nicomedia
Sangarius R.
PAPHLAGONIA
Propontis
Nicæa
BITHYNIA
R. Halys
Thasos
Samothracia
Imbros
Troas
Lemnos
Tenedos
Assos
MYSIA
Olympus M.
Adramyttium
Ancyra
Tavium
GALATIA
PONTUS
Pessinus
Lesbos
Mytilene
Pergamos
Thyatira
ASIA
Hermus R.
Tatta L.
Mazaca
Cæsarea
Argæus M.
CAPPADOCIA
Chios
LYDIA
Sardis
Philadelphia
Smyrna
EPHESUS
Meander R.
Hierapolis
Antioch of Pisidia
LYCAONIA
Iconium
Taurus Mons
COMMAGENE
Andros
Samos
Tenos
Laodicea
Colossæ
PHRYGIA
PISIDIA
Lystra
Derbe
Tarsus
CILICIA
Euphrates R.
Troglium Pt.
Miletus
CARIA
Patmos
PAMPHYLIA
Naxos
Cos
Perga
Attalia
Cnidus
LYCIA
Patara
Myra
Rhodes
Seleucia
Antioch
Orontes R.
SYRIA
Carpathus
C. Salmone
Casos
CYPRUS
Salamis
CRETE
Paphos
Tripolis
Berytus
Sidon
Damascus
Mt. Hermon
Tyre
PHŒNICIA
Ptolemais
CAESAREA
Samaria
Lydda
JERUSALEM
Dead Sea
PALESTINE
Rhinocolura
Catabathmus
Alexandria
R. Nile
EGYPT
ARABIA
Memphis