Israel's Survival

Editorial

By: Mehran Etessami

The past few weeks have been very sad and desperate times for Israel and Jews all around the world. The outbreak of violence in Israel right before the High Holy Days, along with an organized political assault on Israel through the world media and in the United Nations caught all of us off-guard. Jews had not felt this much anxiety since the Yom Kippur War.

The collapse of the peace process and the eruption of violence have confirmed our worst fears about the leadership of the Palestinian Authority. Those on the political right in Israel have been warning us for years about the dangers of the process that started in Oslo seven years ago. We were told that Yasser Arafat, in his Arabic speeches, still talks about Jihad or holy war and the defeat of Israel. We knew that Palestinian schoolbooks still teach their children to hate Jews, and do not show Israel on the map. We were warned that our partners in the peace process are still embracing a culture of hate, and are not preparing their people for an eventual peace. But, with all our suspicions, we desperately wanted to believe in the peace process. After fifty years of war, sacrifice and loss of life, just the suggestion of Israel leading a normal life among the family of nations, and living at peace with its neighbors was too tempting to dismiss.

We accepted Israel's compromises and continued to dream for peace until we were so abruptly awakened last month. Palestinians used the excuse of a visit by Ariel Sharon to the Temple Mount to start daily violent attacks on Israeli soldiers and civilians. It became apparent that these attacks were planned well in advance, long before Mr. Sharon stepped on the Temple Mount. The rocks were hauled in; the armed police got their instructions; the people were incited on Palestinian radio and television and driven to the violence that we saw in daily news reports.

Simultaneously with the violence, the Palestinians started an organized propaganda campaign against Israel in the media around the world. Palestinian representatives like Saeb Erakat and Hannan Ashrawi told the world that the Israelis are committing massacres, and killing unarmed, defenseless children. However, the news footage showed a completely different picture. In a typical Palestinian attack, hundreds of mostly young men and children storm toward an Israeli outpost, throwing rocks and Molotov cocktail bottles. Behind the mob of children, Palestinian police and militiamen, armed with automatic weapons, hide behind buildings and other cover and fire on the Israeli soldiers. The soldiers are left with no choice but to fire back. Last week, in Ramallah, we witnessed tragically what would happen if the mob reached the position of the Israeli soldiers.

Watching live footage of one of the attacks, on CNN, I was amazed at the amount of restraint and patience the Israeli soldiers were exercising. One after another, young Palestinians would approach two Israeli jeeps at a road junction, and throw rocks and firebombs at them. Several times, a bottle would land right under the jeep, and the Israeli soldiers would calmly back up from over the flames. Any soldier in any other army would feel like his life is in imminent danger in a situation like this, and fire indiscriminately into the crowd. But the Israelis obviously had orders to try to keep casualties to a minimum. Once or twice a minute, they would fire back at the armed attackers.

The Palestinians send their children to the front lines of an armed conflict and encourage them to become martyrs, and then cynically use their deaths against Israel in their propaganda.

Sadly, the United Nations also reverted back to its Israel bashing days. China murdered tens of thousands of peaceful student demonstrators in Tianamen Square, but there was no call for condemnation at the U. N. Russia destroyed entire Chechen villages in its war with the rebels, but the U. N. was silent. How ludicrous that China and Russia, along with twelve other Security Council members, vote on a one-sided resolution to condemn Israel for the violence, without placing any of the responsibility on the Palestinian Authority.

Many who were involved with the peace process, including President Clinton, were surprised that Yasser Arafat did not accept Prime Minister Barak's very generous offer at Camp David, or at least make a counter-offer. But with every passing day, Arafat's master plan becomes more and more obvious. Israel's Arab neighbors have already tried several times to destroy her, but have been defeated in every war. There are only two conflicts that the Arabs consider as victories. Arafat wants to model his final battle for the defeat of Israel on these two victories: the Lebanon war, and the Intifada. Israel's army is strong and cannot be defeated in a conventional war. But many years of guerilla warfare, suicide bombings, and terrorism could wear down any army. Arafat also knows that sending children into the line of fire to throw rocks at Israelis will look great on news reports, and, when some of these children are inevitably killed, will help turn world opinion against Israel.

If a cease-fire is not reached very soon, and peace negotiations are not resumed, we should anticipate that the Palestinians will continue to strike at Israel on two fronts: guerilla warfare, and political pressure through mob violence. Expect Palestinian spokesmen to appear on CNN every night, claiming that Israel is guilty of war crimes, and demanding that the U. N. intervene in the conflict, the same way it did in Serbia or Iraq.

As we sit in the safety of our homes in the U. S., horrified at the predicament our Israeli brothers and sisters are in, we must not be complacent. What can we do, besides pray for peace, to help Israel? We must not be silent. The Palestinians are waging at least half of their battle in the court of public opinion. Every one of us who cares about Israel has a duty to fight their misinformation and propaganda campaign. Call your Senators and Congressmen and demand that the U. S. must actively support Israel. When you see unfair, biased, or unjust reporting, call, write, or e-mail the newspaper or television channel. Write letters to newspaper editors or Internet billboards and make sure that Israel's point of view is heard. Participate in demonstrations and rallies that are organized to support Israel.

This is not the first time that Israel's security has been so threatened. With G-d's help, Israel will prevail again.

Central Board Report

By: Edward Nassimi

The following is a report of some of the Central Board's activities during the third quarter of 2000.

1- 130 Steamboat Road

As previously reported, the Central Board has prepared a revised plan for this project which hopefully will be approved by the Village authorities in due course. This project remains a top priority for the Central Board as it provides for much needed facilities for the entire community—especially our youth.

2- Synagogue Construction

The re-configuration of the parking lot was substantially completed. Interior work continued including the beginning of the installation of the stained glass.

3- Financial Matters

As per the provisions of the Community By-Laws, the Central Board approved an annual operating budget for the new fiscal year started September 2000. This budget provides for expenses needed for the Mashadi Jewish Center of Great Neck-Shaare Shalom and all of the committees that operate under the umbrella of the Central Board. Most of the budget items were held at the previous year's level. A substantial increase was provided to the Charity Committee.

The Central Board also submitted the financial statement for the fiscal year that ended on 8/31/00. This financial statement is re-printed in this issue of the MEGILLAH. The Central Board would like to thank the entire community for their continued generous support. This support has enabled the Central Board to reduce the community's bank debt by over $500,000, to pay off remaining balances due on the Synagogue construction, to pay for the re-construction of the parking lot and other ongoing construction and design work. All of these payments were made in addition to meeting the annual operating budget.

4- Talmud Torah

As reported previously, the Central Board has decided to separate the Talmud Torah Committee into 2 separate committees—one to run the Talmud Torah Hebrew School and the other to administer the Yeshiva (Jewish Day School) Scholarship Program. In order to enable the community to meet the needs of these important programs, it was decided to conduct separate fund raising activities on Simcha Torah for the benefit of the 2 committees in the hope that this will lead to broader community participation.

5- Meeting with Representatives of the Iranian Government

In conjunction with the United Nations 50th Anniversary, a delegation of the Iranian government was in New York. The Jewish representative of the Iranian Parliament, Mr. Morris Motamed, accompanied by a representative from the Iranian Embassy spoke at the Mashadi Jewish Center of Great Neck-Shaare Shalom and in Shaare Tova about a number of issues of interest. Subsequently, several representatives of the Central Board and the Synagogue Board, together with other representatives of the Iranian Jewish Community in New York, met with various Iranian government officials. The Iranian government officials expressed their desire to improve relations with the Iranian Jewish Community in New York.

6- Public Affairs:

The improvement of relations with the village authorities has been a constant focus of the Central Board. In addition to frequent informal discussions and meetings, the entire Central Board plus representatives of the Synagogue Board met with 3 Village officials, including the Mayor and Deputy Mayor, for a frank exchange to address our community's needs and concerns. The meeting clearly served its purpose and we hope for a continued improvement in our relations with the Village authorities.

The Central Board also initiated a campaign to register more of our eligible community members to vote in national and local elections. This campaign was received very positively by the community and will hopefully lead to more widespread participation by our community members in future elections.

7- Old Age Home in Israel

The Central Board was informed that it is planned to formally register the ownership of the Old Age Home in Herzliya in Israel in the name of the various Mashadi communities in the world. The Central Board in an official letter expressed its position that, based on the approved By-Laws of the Community, the United Mashadi Jewish Community of America has to be the legal representative of the Mashadi Jewish Community in the U.S.A. in this matter.

Higher Education Report

By: Dr. Farrokh Dilmanian

The Play "The History of Our Ancestors in Mashad"

The idea of performing the play "The History of Our Ancestors in Mashad" was developed last January when the Higher Education Committee was planning an event for Israel Independence Day. Some members of the Committee knew of the Sinai Theatrical Group in Israel, and about a play they staged in Israel for the Mashadi Community more than ten years ago. The play was centered around the Allahdadi event in Mashad, 160 years ago, when the community was forced to convert. The story of the community's devotion to Judiasm throughout the heroic period of resistance and sacrifice that followed is told. The idea of bringing the play to New York developed further when the Committee members saw the videos of the play that was sent to them by the group in Israel. Negotiations to bring the group to the U.S. for the performance began. Since only 6 out of the 13 members of the cast could come, there was a need for one or two people to put together a local group to join the Sinai group in their performance in New York. About that time, some members of the Higher Education Committee observed the success of the beautiful Purimfest play by the Mashadi Dramatic Society, and approached the group leaders, Anita Nowbakht and Gidon Aghlar, to help them with the new play. They agreed and the preliminary planning started. For several reasons the Israel Independence Day plan did not work out, while the idea of bringing the new play to the community stayed strong.

Finally, the date June 29 was agreed upon. The group, including Mr. Amir Shamuil (scenarist and Director), Mr. Farhad Tarashandegan (group manager and the main actor), and five other actors arrived in New York about a week before the performance. Anita and Gidon agreed to help with the program not only by finding a complementary team, but also by adding Israeli dancing and singing of Mashadi children and youth at the end of the play to symbolize the start of the era of the establishment of the state of Israel after the hardships the community endured throughout the Allahdadi period. A very intensive few days of rehearsing started on June 25, both for the main cast and the dancers and singers . The play was performed in the Great Neck South High School Auditorium. Despite the timing problem (June 29, beginning of the summer vacation, with many people already out of town), and self-imposed limitations on advertising the event in the media, the attendance was at about 550 people.

The Higher Education Committee and the Mashadi Dramatic Society believe that there is much place to encourage artistic events such as this play and the Purimfest event in the Community. These events not only help strengthen the Jewish pride of our youth, but also foster interest in the arts, music, and other creative activities.

The Graduation Ceremony

By: Dr. Farrokh Dilmanian

This year's Community Graduation Ceremony was held on Sunday, June 25th, at the Shaare Shalom Synagogue in Great Neck. This year there were 45 high school graduates and 17 college graduates, with two graduates receiving advanced degrees. Mr. Martin Bassaly, who has previously acted as the Program Manager for these ceremonies, was also the Master of Ceremonies this year. As we are used to seeing in these programs, there were a great number of outstanding students, including several high school graduates who were admitted to Ivy League Universities. At the opening of the ceremony, Mr. Parviz Roubeni addressed the honored graduates as a representative of the Central Board. This year's Guest Speaker was Robert Bass, Ph.D., Professor of Business Law at Hofstra University.

The Graduation Program this year honored Dr. Yousef Hakimian, a doctor of Veterinary Medicine and the first doctor in our community. In his acceptance speech, Dr. Hakimian spoke of his memories from the time of his schooling, first in Mashad and then in Teheran.

A Higher Education Committee report on the Scholarship Program indicated that the amount of scholarships and loans awarded to the Community's college students in the last academic year was about $58,000. Out of this amount, the Central Board provided $25,000, interest on the Program's endowment funds was $8,000, and several benevolent private donors contributed the rest. It was also pointed out that the need of the Community greatly exceeds these amounts, and that the Higher Education Committee asks the Community to increase their support for the Scholarship Program. Community members can support this program by contributing to the yearly funds, or by establishing endowment funds in memory of their beloved family members.

Mr. Matthew Levian then introduced the high school graduates. As is traditional in these ceremonies, the gift books for the graduates were presented to them by the members of the Community Boards and by private donors to the Scholarship Program. At the end of the ceremony, Mrs. Sheila Rahmanan, a senior member of the Higher Education Committee who has been the Master of Ceremonies in these graduation programs for the past several years, was congratulated on the occasion of her becoming a grandmother this past year. The program then ended with the playing of "HaTikva".

The Higher Education Committee would like to thank the following individuals for their hard work in preparing this program: Mrs. Sheila Rahmanan, Mr. Martin Bassaly, Mrs. Behnaz Dilmanian, Mr. Mehran Etessami, Miss Sharona Hakimian, Mrs. Yafa Hakimian, Miss Jamie Kamali, Mr. Jack Zar, and Mr. Farshad Rahmanan. A list of the graduates, as well as the Scholarship Fund report of the Higher Education Committee (as of the day of the program), appear in this issue of Megillah.

The Higher Education Committee would like to use this opportunity to invite all graduates from this year and previous years to join the Committee as new members, initiate new activities, and take part in the Committee's ongoing programs.

Community News

Elections of the New Central Board (Va'ad Ha'merkazi) and the new Women's Board of the Community in Israel

The elections of the Israeli Community's Central Va'ad and Women's Va'ad took place in Israel on February 22, 2000, with the participation of several hundred community members. The elected members of the Central Va'ad are the following: Mr. Shmuel Ben-David (Chairman), Mr. David Sians (Deputy Chairman), Mr. Yehuda Aghlar, Mr. Yacov Yacovi, Mr. Babajan Eshaghoff, Mr. Simkha Zevuluni, Mr. Bessalel Uri (representing the congregation in Jerusalem), Mr. Shaoul Hakimi (representing the congregation in the North), and Mrs. Ora Zar (Representing the Women's Va'ad). The elected members of the Women's Va'ad are the following: Mrs. Ora Zar (Chairperson), Mrs. Esther Kashi, Mrs. Hanna Carmeli, Mrs. Shula Levy, and Mrs. Sima Dilmanian.

This information, and that in the rest of this report, are included in a detailed report sent to us by Mr. Shmuel Ben-David. On behalf of the new Boards, Mr. Ben David in his letter thanks the Community and the members of the outgoing Central Va'ad (Mr. David Cohen, Mr. Benyamin Ben-David, Mr. David Shaer, Mr. Efrayim Zevuluni, Mr. Eshagh Aghayoff, and Mr. Avraham Hakimi). He expresses hope that the new Va'ads will succeed in serving the Community.

The Committees of the Central Va'ad, and their elected members are as follows:

- The Committee for the Old Age Home of the community in Herzliya (Messrs. Aghlar and Yacovi);
- The Charity Fund Committee (Messrs. Sians, Eshaghoff, Aghlar and Hakimi);
- The College Scholarship Committee (Messrs. Sians, Aghlar, and Yacovi); and
- The Cultural Committee (Messrs. Zevuluni and Hakim, and Mrs. Zar)

Mr. Ben-David himself will be active in all the above committees.

The activities of the new Va'ad since its establishment have been the following: a) allocation of $15,000 in charity funds to the community members for Passover, b) awarding scholarships to the Community's college students (the report of which was published in the last issue of Megillah), c) collection of emergency fund for a community member who needed kidney transplant, d) establishment of the magazine "Kehilat Mashad", being published in Hebrew and Persian (whose first issue was distributed in the Shaare Shalom Synagogue a few months ago), and e) arranging a public visit to the Old Age Home. The new Va'ad also plans to have an appreciation gathering in honor of the outgoing Va'ad. Soon after its establishment, the new Va'ad arranged for the planting of trees in the Mashadi section of the forests near Jerusalem, in the names of the members of the outgoing Va'ad.

Megillah sends its gratitude to the members of the outgoing Va'ad for their years of dedicated service to the Community, and wishes much success for the New Va'ads in their important and demanding tasks. Megillah also thanks Mr. Pirooz Dilmanian for an earlier report on the elections.

A New Book on the History of the Community

Mr. Azaria Levy of Jerusalem, an historian, researcher of the history of the Mashadi Community, and the former teacher of Jerusalem high schools, has published an English collection of four articles on the history of the Community in the form of a booklet entitled "The Jews of Mashad". These four articles are entitled:

1) "Evidence and Documents Concerning the History of the Jews of Mashad" (which discusses the entrance of the Community into Mashad about 260 years ago, and the period ending a few years after the Allahdadi event in 1838),
2) "The Expulsion of the Jews of Mashad from Heart, 1856-1859",
3) "The Jews of Mashad in the Early 20th Century", and
4) "The Azizallahoff-Levy Family – a History".

Like all of Mr. Levy's other writings, this booklet is also a scholarly work in which every new statement is carefully explained and referenced.

It should be mentioned that Mr. Levy has spent much of his life studying the history of the Community. He continues his untiring research, which is an invaluable service to the Community, with very little resources. It is important that the Mashadi communities around the world recognize the work of this talented researcher, and support his work.

A few copies of the above booklet are available through Mr. Shmuel Levian and Dr. Farrokh Dilmanian. They can be purchased for $20 per copy.

The Young Mashadi

Mets

This summer a bunch of youngsters got together to play a friendly game of baseball, every Sunday at Kings Point Park. From mid June through the end of July between 1 and 3 P.M. Lawrence Bencivenga, better known as Larry, the security guard was the head coach, and Aaron Hakimian was his assistant coach. Together, they helped train these youngsters, the "Young Mashadi Mets."

The boys spent their first two weeks learning the basics of the game, including how to stand at the plate, swing the bat, and catch the ball. As the third week started, they were ready to play a real game. For the following several weeks, they had a lot of fun playing baseball.

The final week, Larry arranged for the kids, and any interested parents, to attend a Mets game at Shea Stadium. The "Young Mashadi Mets" had a terrific time watching the real Mets play the game they had been playing for almost two months. The kids were given posters and Mets magazines as souvenirs. The boys involved in this program are listed below. We would also like to thank Mr. Salim Bakshi, Mr. Alen Hakimian, all the parents and the photographers for all their efforts in making this program more fun and worthwhile for the kids.

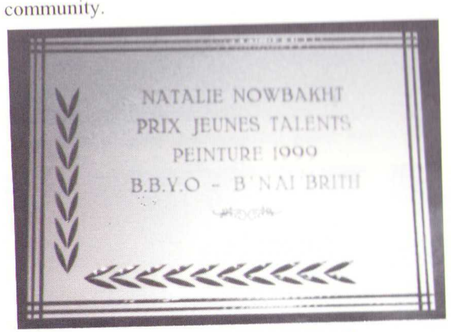
"Young Talents" Award

Natalie Nowbakht, a young member of our community who resides in Hamburg, Germany, won the First Prize in Arts at the "European Young Talents Award 1999." The competition is a prestigious contest in music and art, which the B'nai B'rith Organization arranges for all young Jewish Europeans between the ages of 15 and 19. The competition is held in three stages: Regional, National, and European.

For Natalie, the first round took place in May 1999. Her work was chosen among the group in Hamburg, and was sent to Berlin with all other successful works in Germany. In Berlin, Natalie was selected again among the winners of art, and was invited to the final stage in Italy. For the last stage, each competitor submitted three paintings regarding Israel or Judaism. On October 10, the finalists of the art and music contests joined in Milan in an exhibition and a concert. It was during this event that the winners were selected. Natalie won the First Prize in Arts for the entire European Jewish community.



Natalie was invited to present her work and to receive the Young Talents Award at the closing ceremony of the B'nai B'rith Europe Convention in the Netherlands in November 1999, in the presence of 300 delegates, representing nearly all of the twenty eight European countries in which B'nai B'rith International formally operates.

Natalie presented three paintings, which stood out among the finalists in many ways. Her works were unique in their materials, subject, in their actuality and in their criticality. Being the only participant without formal art training seemed to be a major reason for Natalie's highly individualistic style and unconventional techniques. All of her achievements are merely based on her hard work, strong will and natural talent. The jury was particularly impressed by the creative way in which she gives art an intellectual aspect. Natalie's works can be characterized as abstract and even conceptual paintings, because of the importance of the message they convey. Through her work, she investigates themes she is deeply concerned with, poses questions, and offers answers.

The first painting submitted, entitled "Peculiarity of a Jerusalem Stone," is a cylindrical painting of the Wailing Wall, hanging from the ceiling and adjusted to the viewer's height. An authentic piece of the Kotel's stone was incorporated into the painting, emphasizing the symbolic power of the material itself as one of Jerusalem's characteristics.

The second entry, entitled "Is this Israel?" was a painted shirt presented it on a hanger. Here Natalie tried to challenge people's superficial perception of Israel and it's "exterior" nature by conveying the real identity of the country, it's "interior" nature. She contrasted these two perceptions by using the interior and the exterior of the shirt itself. One face of Israel was painted on the outside of the shirt, the part we see when the shirt is closed, while the second face of Israel was depicted on the inside of the shirt, the part we only see once we unbutton the shirt.

The winning third painting was entitled "Is Judaism Eternal?" Here, Natalie's critical viewpoint questioned the future of Judaism in a world of assimilation. This specific question is close to her heart because of her own experiences living in Germany. The fluid three dimensional Magen David rising out of the painting shifts the symbolic star from a simply static and representational element to a vivid and refreshing bodily object, depicting Judaism's profound depth as well as its contemporary dynamic character. While the edges of one triangle cross each other to represent the existing fragmentation of Judaism, consequent to assimilation, the edges of the second triangle, drawn in the traditional way, embody the continuous cycle of Judaism, the only one that can subsist eternally. Natalie's individualistic, intellectual style, as well as her personal connection to these themes, made this image that much more powerful and memorable, securing her spot as the winner of the international competition.

Mashadi Magic

By: Brian Hakimian

Another successful season was recently completed by twelve of the communities finest boys. This season was no different than any of the previous eight years. The Mashadi Magic success isn't measured by wins and losses. The most important lesson that any player learns from the Mashadi Magic is the importance of friendships and the beginning of a life long bond that all the players will ultimately share.

You may be thinking that the Mashadi Magic are just a few kids who play basketball once a week. It is far greater that. Yes, we compete with other 'kaneesas' in organized basketball games, but the significance of the Magic goes way further than the competition. The backbone of our community stands in the friendships we all have with one another. When you look back on the friendships you have right now, there was always a beginning. That's what the Mashadi Magic provides each year to a dozen or so of our communities high school boys.

Looking back on my experience as a player for the Magic, I have tons and tons of memories. Each thought will last with me forever, as will the friendships that began. I had teammates who at first were strangers to me, who are now great friends of mine. Without the Magic, I know for sure that I would not be friends with many of the players I played with. At first we realized that basketball is what we had in common, but soon we realized that basketball was the least we had in common.

Now as the coach I get to watch the kids mature. High school boys are at a stage of their lives where they are gaining responsibility. Though not yet men, soon they will become. I have expressed to each of my players that being a part of the team is not about winning and losing, but the friendships that have resulted from playing on the team. I let them know that like it or not, they all now have a bond with each other. In five, ten, fifty…years, when they bump into one another, they will talk about that bad call the official made, or maybe even about that crazy coach they had. But you know what, the conversation will quickly change from basketball to their kids, their jobs, and their well-beings.

Many people ask me why I continue to coach the Magic. Next year will be my fourth year coaching, hopefully with many more years to come. Sure, the competition is a big reason why I enjoy coaching. The Magic has been in the playoffs three of the last four years. But the main reason why I enjoy coaching has to do with the players. Watching the kids mature is a real joy to me. Watching them bond and grow closer as friends is even more exciting.

Due to overwhelming demand, the Junior Magic is back! The team will be coached by Jason Hakimi, with guidance from Brian Hakimian, the Senior Magic coach. The Junior Magic will compete in a ten-game schedule against other synagogues across the five boroughs. One purpose of the team is to teach the younger players in our community proper basketball skills in a competitive manner. The team also allows players to interact with new friends in a group environment, and acts as a gateway to the senior Mashadi Magic, which many players continue with when they reach 11th and 12th grade.

The Mashadi Magic season will begin again in November. Fan support by friends and family is strongly recommended. Keep your eye and ears open about the times and locations of our games! If you have any further questions regarding The Magic, please contact Brian Hakimian at 516-482-5869 or Jason Hakimi at 516-466-2725.

Dear Friends,

The Salute to Israel Parade 2000 marks the beginning of the 21st century. It is no wonder that you have selected the theme of "Time" - "Zman" in this most significant year. For it is our prayer that this year, in this time, Israel will know real and lasting peace.

It is a time of great hope for the Jewish people. It is a time to heal the terrible wounds of war, the bitter fruit of conflict that brought tragedy and mourning to our country for nearly 100 years. It is a time of Jewish renaissance and renewal in your great city and in far-off communities around the world. It is a time of tremendous rejuvenation of our Zionist dream - to create an enlightened society that will be a light unto the nations.

Time is a precious commodity. There was not enough of it for too many young soldiers who died to protect our homeland. Time was needed, and is still needed, to complete the difficult negotiations for final peace agreements that will ensure a secure and strong Israel. And, it will take much more time to break the psychological barriers that have divided peoples in this region for too long.

I salute the city of New York. I salute the American people and the American government who have supported us in our efforts to build our State and to build peaceful relations in the Middle East. And I salute all of you who are marching proudly in this parade, and who are our partners in the greatest Jewish enterprise. Together, let us assure that the future, the time yet to come, will offer unparalleled opportunities for the Jewish State and the Jewish people.

Sincerely,

Ehud Barak

The Honorable Shmuel Sisso

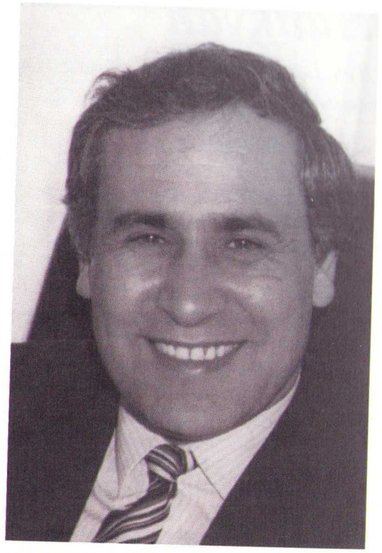
Moshe Katsav

Eighth President of the State of Israel

Compiled by: Behnaz Dilmanian



Mr. Moshe Katsav who has long championed the rights of Israel's Sephardi population, defeated Shimon Peres, an architect of the Oslo accords and winner of the 1994 Nobel Peace Prize with Prime Minister Yitzhak Rabin and Arafat, in a secret parliamentary vote that defied all forecasts.

Katsav, 54, beat the 77-year-old Peres, who had been widely expected to win, in a second round of voting by 63- 57.

Katsav's predecessor, Ezer Weizman, stepped down a month earlier in the shadow of a financial scandal.

Speaking after the Knesset vote, Katsav said he hoped his presidency would be "one of quiet and unity. I will work to reduce the tension in society."

Katsav said that despite his lengthy activity in the Likud Party, "Today I have to lock the door on my political views, for the next seven years," when his term ends.

Born in Iran in 1945, Moshe Katsav came to Israel with his parents in 1951. The eldest of eight children, he grew up in the new immigrant tent camp (and later development town) of Kiryat Malachi.

He graduated from the Ben-Shemen Agricultural School and Beer Tuvia. Following Israel Defense Forces (IDF) military service, he received a degree in Economics and History from the Hebrew University of Jerusalem.

Katsav served as president of Young B'nai Brith in Kiryat Malachi and wrote for the "Yediot Aharonot" daily. He was chairman of the Likud student council at the Hebrew University. First elected Mayor of Kiryat Malachi in 1969 as a 24-year old student, he was Israel's youngest mayor. He served as mayor of Kiryat Malachi also from 1974-81.

Moshe Katsav has been a Member of Knesset since 1977. In 1977-81, he was a member of the Knesset Committee on Interior Affairs and the Environment, and the Committee on Education and Culture. He also served as chairman of the Knesset Members' Lobby for Development Towns.

Katsav later served as Deputy Minister of Housing and Construction (1981-84), Minister of Labor and Social Affairs (1984-88), and Minister of Transport (1988-92). In the 13th Knesset (1992-96) he was chairman of the Likud Faction in the Knesset, member of the Knesset House Committee and chairman of the Israel-China parliamentary friendship league.

Moshe Katsav served as Minister of Tourism and Deputy Prime Minister from June 1996-July 1999. He also served as minister in charge of Israeli Arab affairs. He was re-elected to the 15th Knesset in May 1999.

On August 1, 2000, Moshe Katsav was sworn in as eighth President of the State of Israel.

Katsav is married and has five children. Recently for the first time he became a grandfather.

The Nasi (President) is the head of state, with the Presidency symbolizing the nation's unity, above and beyond party politics. He bears the ancient title of the head of the Sanhedrin, the supreme legislative and judicial body of the Jewish people in the Land of Israel in ancient times. The President, who may serve two consecutive five-year terms, is elected by a simple majority of the Knesset from among candidates nominated on the basis of their personal stature and lifelong contribution to the state.

Presidential duties, which are mostly ceremonial and formal, are defined by law. They include opening the first session of a new Knesset; accepting the credentials of foreign envoys; signing treaties and laws adopted by the Knesset; appointing, on recommendation of the appropriate bodies, judges, the governor of the Bank of Israel and the heads of Israel's diplomatic missions abroad; and pardoning prisoners, on advice of the Minister of Justice. In addition, the President performs public functions and informal tasks such as hearing citizens' appeals, lending prestige to community organizations and supporting campaigns to improve the quality of life in society at large.

Over the years, Israel's Presidents have each brought their own outlook and areas of interest to the position they filled, thus expanding the scope of Presidential functions and the President's social and cultural impact. By virtue of their personalities, skills and talents, Israel's seven Presidents have endowed the office with additional meaning and style, seeking to address questions of social cohesion, Jewish identity and culture, Israel's relations with the Jewish Diaspora and other key issues.

Hatikvah

By: Lerone Edalati, Brenda Hajibay, Jennifer Levi

Israel Corner

The word Hatikvah means hope. Not only is it the National Anthem of Israel, but it represents the dreams and prayers of the people in Israel. It also symbolizes a free homeland full of peace and harmony, just like our forefathers had.

The Hatikvah was written in 1878 by Napthali Herz Imber. The melody was composed by Bedrich Smetana. It was sung in the first Zionist congress one hundred years ago, and was sung again fifty two years ago when the Jews declared the State of Israel. The song was first spread out by Theodore Herzl who wanted to be free in a land of his own, a land of his brothers and sisters, the Jewish people. He opened the eyes of many other Jews and gave them the hope they needed to have a Jewish state. This song of the Zionist movement and its meaning is of great importance. It shows that Jews are willing to go back to Israel to live a harmonious and peaceful life.

Our quest for peace started fifty two years ago and still continues today. Being a minority, we have always wanted peace within our religion and country. This is one of the reasons we march in the Israel Day Parade. It is a token of our pride in being Jewish and having a Jewish State.

As long as deep in the heart,
The soul of a Jew yearns,
And towards the East,
An eye looks to Zion,
Our hope is not yet lost,
The hope of two thousand years,
To be a free people in our land,
The land of Zion and Jerusalem

What A Few Words Can Do

By: Bianca Hakimi

Over the past few years, Israeli and Palestinian leaders have been meeting to discuss peace to bring over fifty years of conflict to an end. One of the most controversial issues dividing Israel and the Palestinians is Jerusalem, a city deemed holy by Jews and Muslims alike. The city was divided between Israel and Jordan following the 1948 war, and following the war of 1967, Israel seized eastern Jerusalem. Egyptian, Israeli and Palestinian negotiators are considering an idea to declare the Old City of Jerusalem, or just its holy places, as areas without sovereignty. Israeli Prime Minister Ehud Barak, Palestinian Leader Yassir Arafat, along with President Bill Clinton were amidst peace talks at the historic site of Camp David home of the infamous accords signed between Israeli Prime Minister Menachem Begin and Egyptian President Anwar Sadat with President Jimmy Carter in 1977. The main obstacle to a deal at Camp David, and in subsequent diplomatic contacts, has been who should control Arab East Jerusalem. The crux of disagreement lies in the control of the present Arab East Jerusalem. The Palestinians want to maintain their stronghold in the eastern sector, which includes their holy sites, as the potential capital of their future state. However, no agreement was reached at the summit.

I recently received an email informing me that according to the CNN weather map, Jerusalem is no longer part of Israel. If one goes to the weather page of the Cable News Network, one will find that officials at CNN have decided to cut off Jerusalem from Israel, apparently due to recent claims to the capital by Yassir Arafat and the PLO Authority. Jerusalem is no longer listed with a state or country, is no longer under the "Israel" listing, and remains isolated under its own listing not connected to any country. I got very angered by this and decided to send them the following letter to their feedback website: "I'd like to tell you that I used to watch CNN because you were the most accurate, but now I think just the opposite. ...I am very angered by the fact that you separated Jerusalem from Israel in your weather forecast...Jerusalem is physically in Israel and just because there are peace talks does not mean that Jerusalem is a Palestinian state. Please get your information straight before doing this disgusting act. I have to let others know how inaccurate CNN is."

Within 24 hours I got a response from CNN stating that CNN.com's main weather page listing of "Jerusalem" was changed to "Jerusalem, Israel and that they do not have an editorial positioning on this or any other political issue and thanked me for contacting them. I felt that my letter had an impact and that a large organization like CNN not only changed it but also contacted me to inform me that they changed it. From this experience I have learned that one person can make a difference. I have also learned that you should always be conscious of events affecting his/her environment, and that in order to make a monumental change, one must speak out and defend what is truly right.

The Israeli Struggle for Peace

By: Besalel BenHaim

Opinion

On September 13, 1993, Israel and the Palestinian Liberation Organization or the PLO, signed the Declaration of Principles in Oslo. It was a strange moment in Israel's history. The negotiations between Israel's Labor Party and the PLO were held secretly, without a vote by the public or the Knesset, the Israeli Parliament, and it culminated in a treaty no one truly understood. It was called the "Declaration of Principles on Interim Self-Government Arrangements," and the public was not taught what "Interim," "Self-Government," or "Arrangements" means. Does "Self-Government" mean a Palestinian State, and if so why don't they just call it a Palestinian State? All we were told is that it was a "peace process." A process, you see, which comes to a conclusion, like all processes do. The conclusion was to take place on September 13, 1998. The result: peace! No more wars. No more deaths. Who could argue with that?

The numbers told a different tale. During the three years before the declaration was signed, from September 13, 1990 until September 13, 1993, a total of five people were killed in terrorist attacks carried out by Arabs in Israel. During the three years that followed the signing, from September 13, 1993 until September 13, 1996 a total of one hundred forty two people were killed in terrorist attacks carried out by Palestinians in our homeland. Some peace! But we were patient. We were told that we couldn't forget that it is a process. It will not happen overnight. The end result is what counts.

September 13, 1998 came and went, and there was no final result. We were still processing the peace. Three Israeli Prime Ministers later and still no peace. We said goodbye to Hevron, the first capital of our nation, and home to Adam, Avraham, Yitzchak, Yaakov, Chava, Sara, Rivka, and Leah, and continued to hope but still no peace. We said goodbye to Shechem, the city where our beloved Yosef HaTzaddik is buried, and instead of peace we became the hunted. One gloomy November day in 1996, in the midst of a violent outbreak, Palestinian soldiers stood in Shechem and killed fifteen Israeli soldiers. With the guns we gave the Palestinians in the "peace process" they took our brothers and sons. But we were willing to sacrifice our children to be left in peace.

The new deadline was set for May of 1999 and Israelis elected the most pro-peace Prime Minister ever. Israel's most decorated soldier, Ehud Barak, worked vigorously to give the Arabs everything they wanted. Without hesitation Barak agreed to give back virtually all of Judea and Samaria and even throw Jews out of their own homes. We shouted: "JUST GIVE US PEACE!" But peace we shall not receive. May of 1999 came and went and the process was still rolling. No one was really sure what kind of process it was at this point, but we still hoped.

A new deadline was set for September of 2000. If we did not reach an agreement by then, the Palestinians threatened to declare statehood without peace. Barak became desperate. No matter how much he gave them, it was not enough! It was time to say goodbye to our capital; time to give back Jerusalem.

In July, President Clinton called in Barak and Arafat for a summit at Camp David, a Presidential retreat in Maryland where in 1979, President Carter brokered a deal between then Israeli Prime Minister Menachem Begin and Egyptian leader Anwar Sadat. Clinton hoped to emerge from the summit as the hero who brokered peace in the Middle East. "Perhaps", he thought, "my legacy will not be in my pants." Barak showed up with no advisors and no public support. Moments before Barak left to Camp David, three major parties that made up his government withdrew from the coalition: Yisrael Ba'Aliya (Russian), Shas (Sefaradi) and Mafdal (National Religious Party) all said, "enough is enough." In addition to that, David Levy, the foreign minister of Israel, resigned from the crumbling government. No one wanted to take part in a scheme to give away our holiest city. At Camp David, the world learned what they already feared: Arafat will never be satisfied. Barak returned to his collapsed Parliament where a preliminary vote for a bill calling for early election easily passed through the Israeli Parliament. Additionally, the Knesset convened during its summer recess to overwhelmingly pass a law that Barak and the 30% of the Knesset that is still with him, cannot pass any new laws or sign any treaty until the summer recess is over. It is becoming obviously clear that by October, new elections will be held in Israel. In the second week of September, at the U.N. Summit in New York, Clinton tried to revive the talks once again but Israelis and Palestinians could not reach a final agreement. To get an idea of how wild the negotiations have been getting, on September 19, first the Israelis broke off the talks then the Israelis agreed to resume the talks and then the Palestinians broke off talks- all in a single day! So where are we headed now?

Whether or not Israel agrees to a Palestinian State, there will be one. There already is one; it is just not called a State yet. But as Avraham Burg, Speaker of the Knesset, said in late August, "If it walks like a duck and quacks like a duck, it's a Palestinian State." They have an army, a government, a people, and more allies in the Middle East than any other country. They would not have had any of these state-like characteristics without the "process." It was the process that gave the Palestinians autonomy and a police force. Arafat will have a State, it is just a matter of when. And when Arafat declares his state, Israel will annex all the land it occupied in 1967. In the Six Day War, Israel captured the West Bank from Jordan and the Golan Heights from Syria. Until now only Jerusalem and the Golan Heights have been annexed. Arafat now has one of two choices: He can have a State and give Israel peace, or he can have a State and continue to War with the Jews. What incentive does Arafat have to agree to the former?

So now let us look back at what has transpired since the signing of the Declaration of Principles. More Jews were killed, the PLO got a State in the Jewish homeland, and we are looking directly at a showdown with the Arabs when they declare their State. The Process is coming to a final result and sadly the result is war. This whole time we were in a "war process" and we didn't even know it.

Go, Joe, Go!

By: Eric Hakimian

Who could have predicted back in 1999 that at the dawn of this new century an Orthodox Jew would be a vice-presidential candidate for a major political party in the United States? Joseph Lieberman's candidacy has brought about a great sense of pride and enthusiasm in the Jewish community, as well as optimism expressed by Americans at large.

Here are a few things that were said by the media:

- Emotions simply spilled out. Some people cried. Others had a hard time sleeping. They said things like, "G-d, I wish my parents were alive to see this day." Even secular, assimilated, successful Jews who don't usually give their religious identity much thought gushed about smashing barriers, breaking glass ceilings, and the special historic significance of the moment. The Lieberman selection seemed to tap a wellspring of emotion and Jewish pride that's been dormant for at least twenty years. - NY Magazine
- The selection of Sen. Joseph Lieberman for the Democratic ticket is having so profound an effect on the American Jewish psyche. Instantly it has smashed the myth of a person being "too Jewish" to bits and replaced it with a non-ethnic, value-based, positive and - heaven forbid - religious approach to being Jewish and in power. - Jewish Week
- Perhaps the most remarkable quality about Joseph Lieberman's rise to the No. 2 spot on the Democratic ticket this fall is that he doesn't just happen to be Jewish. He's an authentic, practicing Jew, and proud of it. Many of us share his pride, as well as the fact that America has reached a point where a Jew can be chosen to run for such a high office. It's understandable that we're having a bit of trouble adjusting. The last time a national leader chose a Jewish fellow named Joseph to be his No. 2 may well have been when the Egyptian Pharaoh picked the biblical Joseph. So it's been awhile. - Jewish Week
- Face it. Lieberman has blown Sandy Koufax out of the water, replacing him overnight as the prime role model for every Jewish child. [Sandy Koufax was a Dodgers baseball player who did not play during the 1965 World Series because it fell on Yom Kippur]. - Jewish Week
- Whether he wins or loses in November, Joe Lieberman has ushered in a new era in American Jewish life. Lieberman is popularly known as "the moral conscience of the Senate." He was the first Democrat gutsy enough to stand up on the Senate floor and rebuke Clinton for the scandal with Monica Lewinsky. This type of integrity - doing the right thing even at personal cost - is what Jewish observance is supposed to be all about.

Lieberman's appeal is that he has the personal conviction to do what's right, regardless of whether it's politically correct. Senate colleagues report of meetings where they pleaded with Lieberman to change his position. Not only did Lieberman stand by what he believed in, colleagues say, but he did so with such conviction and belief that the others felt no anger, only respect.

As Lieberman himself said on Larry King Live: "Sometimes you've got to speak the truth to your friends, and ask them to draw a line, and say, 'Okay, maybe we can make a few more dollars going over this line, but it's not worth it, because it's not good for our country and for our kids.' " - Jewish Press

- Lieberman is precisely the type of role model that America needs. The morning his nomination was announced, the media ran a photo of him walking with his family to the synagogue on Shabbat. How refreshing to have a leader who for 24 hours each week is actually thinking about G-d and not politics, who is actually fulfilling family values, not just talking about them. - Jewish Press
- No one is viewed more virtuous in American politics today than Lieberman - a hero at home rather than a hero on the battlefield. G-d-fearing, humble, compassionate, and deeply committed to his family, Lieberman embodies the core values that has made America great. Values that many fear are slowly drifting away. - Jewish Press
- Lieberman's direct affect on American Jewry can be even more dramatic. A century ago, the Jewish philosopher-poet Yehudah Leib Gordon admonished, "Be a Jew in your house, and a regular person outside." In other words, keep your Jewish practice a private affair, and when interacting with the rest of the world, relegate your Jewish identity to the back burner. Or better yet; hide it altogether. Lieberman's legacy is not to be afraid. He publicly articulates the practical and spiritual benefits of observing mitzvot - and how that brings foundation, order and purpose to one's life. As he told Larry King: "I can see thousands of households across the fruited plain, spending an uninterrupted weekend day of quality family time, with no phones, television, or internet to distract them." Today, with assimilation threatening American Jewry, this image of how Torah values and Western success can go hand-in-hand is needed more than ever. - Jewish Press
- Lieberman's selection gives Jewish observance increased civic respectability, particularly among those who need a role model whom other Americans respect, not despite his being a religious person, but because he is a sincerely religious person. - Jewish Press
- When a Jew stands up and says that "faith in G-d is the primary value," that creates a Kiddush Hashem, a sanctification of G-d's name. Whatever the outcome of the election in November, Kidush Hashem is sure to be Joe Lieberman's most enduring legacy. - Jewish Press

Here is what a few prominent Jews and non-Jews had to say about Joseph Lieberman and what he means for America:

"Lieberman's appointment is what Holocaust survivors always say - it could only happen in America," said Benjamin Meed, president of the American Gathering of Jewish Holocaust Survivors. "We always thought a thing like this could happen, but we never thought it would happen in our lifetime."

"When I heard about Joe Lieberman's candidacy," said Hineni's Rebbetzin Esther Jungreis, "I had goose bumps, because I'm a survivor of Bergen-Belsen. So for me, as a Holocaust survivor, to hear that in this blessed country a Jew could attain such a prestigious position - it's a dream come true! You know, Jews are only 2 percent of the population in this country. And if we can do this - if we're allowed to attain such an office - that speaks very well for the people of this country. Because Gore didn't come to this decision alone, I'm certain that his aides and pollsters told him that America was finally ready to support a Jew in this position-and that's significant."

"Did you see what he did?" asked Rabbi Jacob Goldstein, a Lubavitcher Hasid who is the National Guard's head chaplain for New York State. "Did you see what he did when he left the house?" He was referring to when Lieberman was coming out of his house in Washington to go to Nashville. Lieberman had paused at the threshold of the front door, touched his right hand to the mezuzah on the doorframe, and then kissed it.

"It's just amazing," said Rabbi Daniel Polish, director of the Reform movement's commission on social action. "On some deep level, it tells all Jews we're full citizens of this country. What a profound message. What an occasion for celebration."

"This is a remarkable event in Jewish history," said Steven Bayme, director of Jewish communal affairs at the American Jewish Committee. "It opened up all the doors… Think about it - Dan Kurtzer, an Orthodox Jew, is the ambassador to Egypt. Clearly, being Jewish in America is no longer a disability." Steven said, "Lieberman is a shining example of the ability to live in two worlds. He's proving you can take your Jewish heritage seriously and at the same time not compromise one iota of your commitment to American society."

"It's certainly momentous," said James Tisch, CEO of Loews Corporation and president of UJA in New York. "But the fact that Joe Lieberman is Jewish is not the headline. The headline is that he's a first-rate choice because of his qualifications, because of his principles, his morals, and the kind of person he is."

"I'm extremely excited about this," said Rabbi Marc Schneier of the Hampton Synagogue, who in the past four weeks has hosted Hillary Clinton, Rick Lazio, Chuck Schumer, and Jerusalem mayor Ehud Olmert. "Senator Lieberman's Orthodoxy is my Orthodoxy. It's based on inclusiveness and tolerance."

"This is a great thing for the modern Orthodox community," said Dr. Norman Lamm, president of Yeshiva University." Because after all the bad press that Orthodoxy has gotten here and elsewhere, we finally have a rational, practical, dignified, and honorable man who represents what we stand for."

"His selection gives Jewish observance greater public visibility and respect," the Bostoner Rebbe noted. "While I am proud of the selection of Senator Lieberman as a vice presidential candidate, I am even prouder of the fact that he is a person of morally impeccable character who in his distinguished career has consistently refused to compromise on his values."

"He will never make anyone feel that you are any less if you are less devout," said Malcolm Hoenlein, executive vice-chairman of the Conference of Presidents of Major American Jewish Organizations. "A lot of the conflict between Orthodox Jews and non-Orthodox Jews comes because people are intolerant of each other. Joe Lieberman isn't."

Richard Joel, executive director of Hillel, said, "Lieberman is a proud, passionate and purposeful Jew, and his presence gives permission for lots of young Jews to feel pride in being Jewish. For too many Jews, being Jewish is just being part of an ethnic group, tribal background or nationality. Lieberman says it is so much more than that." He observed that as more Jews are moving toward tradition and finding meaning in ritual, "Joe Lieberman now becomes the poster child for doing Jewish. Our message to college students is that being a fully participating Jew makes you a great American. If we live our lives a certain way, we get to be a light unto the nations."

Manhattan City Councilman Stanley Michaels said, "Lieberman's selection is an immense step forward in the history of Jews in the U.S. Lieberman is someone who proclaims his Judaism and does not try to hide it. He is someone who lives his religion in everyday life and it is extremely important to him."

Rockland County Legislator Ryan Karben agreed, saying: "This is a great moment to be a Jew, a Democrat, an American. This convention is a celebration of the American dream - and that resonates for every ethnic group that has struggled to make it. It's an American story. Lieberman proves you can be a leader by following your conscience."

Mort Zuckerman, the founder of Boston Properties and publisher of the New York Daily News, U.S. News & World Report and Fast Company said, "I think it's natural that people who have suffered a lot of discrimination in earlier parts of their life have had to adjust to the fact that we live in a different world now, and in a different era. Things have changed dramatically, not just in politics, but also in education, in the arts, in business. It's been an ongoing process, and this is the last breakthrough."

"The American notion of inclusion of all people regardless of origin has become a reality," said political consultant Hank Sheinkopf.

"I've known Joe for twenty years," said former New York State attorney general Bob Abrams. "We've traveled together, shared family occasions together. And I can tell you he's a rarity in politics. He's a genuine person with a core set of values that guide his life, and he knows who he is. He has an inner peace." Bob Abrams said, "I cried when I watched the announcement. And let me tell you, this is going to resonate across this country with African-Americans, Latinos, Asians, and all immigrants who came here looking for a better life. This is the latest chapter in the story of America, this wonderful, unique nation."

"What a country," Jewish social activist and writer Leonard Fein kept repeating. "What a country!"

BUSINESS TAX PLANNING: Like Kind Exchange

Money Matters

By: David Eshagh Pour

In the present environment of a thriving real estate market, investors often find that shortage of capital prevents them from seizing grand opportunities. Sometimes they opt to sell existing real estate properties in order to raise the funds necessary to purchase new ones. However, unfortunately, the gains that are realized on such sales are subject to high federal and state taxes. For buyers and sellers of real estate in the ordinary course of business, the combined taxes can reach up until forty-five percent. For investors, gains from selling a property that was held more than one year are taxed at a rate of twenty percent. Frequently, the threat of giving away twenty to forty-five percent of the gain on the property to the government deters investors from selling the properties. As a result, investors are forced to abandon newly discovered real estate opportunities.

Like kind exchanges offer real estate investors one of the greatest investment opportunities to build wealth and save taxes. In the meantime, by completing an exchange, the investor can dispose of his investment property and use the entire proceeds to purchase a new property without paying a single dollar in taxes. The rational behind this loophole is that the investor is simply switching between similar investments rather than selling his investment and collecting the profits.

A like kind exchange is relatively simple. However, following the precise guidelines is essential. Typically, when an investor sells a property, he may not take possession of the proceeds from the sale. Instead, a qualified intermediary holds the money in escrow until the investor identifies a replacement property. The investor must identify a potential property for purchase within 45 days and close on it within 180 days. For it to be like kind, the value of the identified property must be the same or more than the original one. Prior to the closing on the new property, the qualified intermediary prepares various legal documents to facilitate the exchange. At closing, he uses the escrow funds to pay for the replacement property. Despite his significant participation in the transaction, the qualified intermediary never takes title to either property, and does not need to attend the closing.

It is imperative that the like kind exchange rules, which are provided in Section 1031 of the Tax Code are closely followed. As such, the qualified intermediary must be an independent party. That is, anyone that the investor has worked with, in any capacity, within the past two years is disqualified from acting as the intermediary. This automatically excludes the investor's attorney, accountant, realtor, broker, financial planner, partner, employee or close relative. In addition, the same person or entity that held the original property must hold the replacement property. That means that if an investor held a building, for example, under his personal name, and wishes to exchange it with a shopping center, the investor must purchase the shopping center under his personal name.

To illustrate how the exchange works, suppose for example, that Robert, who buys and sells real estate for a living, purchased a building in New York City for $400,000. Now, several years later, the property is worth $1,000,000. Robert wants to sell the building in order to purchase a shopping center on Long Island, which costs $1,000,000. If Robert sells the building, he must pay forty percent tax on his $600,000 gain, or $240,000. As a result, while both properties are similarly valued, Robert gave up $240,000 in taxes. If he wishes to purchase the shopping center, he must raise the difference from other resources.

Suppose that Robert is aware of the use of a like kind exchange. Now, when he sells the building for $1,000,000, Robert pays no tax on the gain. Accordingly, as long as he follows the rules, he may use the entire $1,000,000 to purchase the shopping center. By taking advantage of the like kind exchange vehicle, Robert ends up owning a more profitable property, without paying taxes on his previous profits and without the need to use other funds to supplement the purchase.

Entering into a like kind exchange is easier when a single investor owns a property and wishes to sell it. However, often it is the case that several investors own a property in form of a corporation or a partnership. When a decision to sell the property is made, some partners wish to purchase another property, whereas others prefer to liquidate their investment. In the past, such circumstances prevented investors from utilizing the advantages of a like kind exchange.

Recent Tax Court decisions identified various ways to accomplish like kind treatment despite certain circumstances, such as the one mentioned above, which deviated from the classic pattern. As a result, tax planning opportunities are available for partnerships or corporations which want to sell a property, with some partners interested in liquidating their gains while others wishing to engage in a like kind exchange. Also, there are tax-planning opportunities for a tax-free treatment for different partnerships, with one or more common partners, which choose to buy and sell real estate properties.

In conclusion, like kind exchanges offer a valuable tax planning opportunity for investors in real estate. Knowledge of the availability of this instrument could help an investor better his business, and increase his purchasing power. However, since the rules are very strict, it is important to closely follow them in order to obtain the sought after gains. As such, the structure of the deal must be designed by a specialist in this area in order to ensure that the intended benefits are indeed resulted.

Memories from Mashad

The story of grandmother and the love of grandfather

"Do not mind a bad reputation - if you are devoted to your love"

By: Morvarid Basal Rahimoff

(Translated from original Farsi)

For quite some time, glancing through the pages of history and passing from the streets of my memory, I came upon the story of a grandmother that has been told from one generation to the next.

In ancient times, male supremacy was an acceptable tradition. Women were the victims of illiteracy and ignorance and regrettably their rights were seriously violated at all levels. This is one of the stories told by my grandmother:

There was a young man by the name of "Master" married to a young girl from a noble family called Khorshid.

While the couple was enjoying a happy life together, Khorshid's pregnancy added to her love and rejoicing. On a beautiful, sunny day, the newlywed groom noticed a magnificently good looking young girl, with long black hair and elusive eyes on the roof! Her heavenly face being partially exposed from under the chador, Master fell madly in love to the extent of forgetting about his life with Khorshid. Debating with his broken, sensitive and agitated heart, the love of the young girl captivated his being, and forced him to disclose the secret to his mother and ask for help.

I do not know any such good looking young girl in our neighborhood, said the mother. Besides, you are already married my son. Why don't you forget about this matter and go on with your life with Khorshid?

I can't do that mother, replied Master. I am so very much in love with this young girl that I can not continue life without her. You must go to her parents, asking for her hand in marriage.

Mother's advice being fruitless in changing her son's decision, out of compassion and motherly love she reluctantly contacted the neighbor and asked for the girl to marry her son. With abundant joy and pleasure the acceptance of the family was announced, a closer relationship between the two families was established, and every Friday night, freshly baked bread arrived at Master's house, exhorting the Master for a speedy marriage.

Due to his passionate love and affection, the nights became restless and days passed very slowly for Master. He could hardly wait for the wedding and the glorious night of the ultimate gratification!

At last the wedding took place, guests were invited and the musicians were called and they brought the bride with her beautiful white gown to the groom's house.

Traditionally, the groom was not allowed to see the bride's face until the night of the wedding in the bedroom. The groom who was impatiently waiting to see the face of his new love, was totally shocked when he removed the chiffon and found himself with an unattractive, ill-looking girl. This was not the same girl Master had seen on the roof.

He immediately ran out to his mother complaining that there must be a mistake, that is not the girl that I saw on the roof. The poor mother, without looking in her son's face, told him, you must close your eyes and mouth and return to the bedroom for she is waiting for you.

Contrary to the first wife, Khorshid, who was simple but very pretty, and since unable to express her sadness, secretly cryied all the time, the second wife was unattractive but very a clever and expressive person. Less than a month after her wedding, the second wife enthusiastically participated in the shower for Khorshid's pregnancy, who finally gave birth to a little girl and brought unhappiness to Master and his family. In contrast, not much later, the second wife gave birth to a son and filled the house and her husband's heart with joy and happiness.

Ultimately, Khorshid had three girls and the second wife bore three boys.

As was customary of the period they honored the second wife with an olive crown for giving birth to three boys and sort of classified Khorshid as a second class member of the family for giving birth to three girls thus forcing her into isolation and sadness.

After a while however, Khorshid also gave birth to a son but unfortunately it was too late, for she had fallen sick to the extent that she was unable to nurse the child and then died.

With the help of a wet nurse the child was rescued and eventually together with six other children raised by Master's second wife until each had her or his own family.

Although Master treated both wives fairly, throughout his life he was always remorseful for having two wives and advised his sons to avoid the same.

What to Eat? WHERE to Eat

For the first time in our long (two issue old) illustrious careers as Megillah food columnists we felt just a bit on the heavy side as we walked out of a restaurant review. If you saw the portions at Primavera located at 357 Central Avenue in the South Shore town of Lawrence, you'd know why.

As we entered Primavera, we were quickly greeted by the hostess and co-owner, who actually knew we were speaking Farsi as we were sizing up the place, and quickly arranged a table for us.

Primavera was rather crowded on a Monday night ending the Labor Day weekend. It was mostly a local family crowd as well as a Sheva Brachot gathering which made the restaurant quite busy and noisy. The restaurant was tastefully decorated with reproductions of Middle Age tapestries alternating with wall lighting throughout the restaurant. It was actually very well lit; lighting a candle at the table would actually have been very useless.

Although Primavera has been around for two years, and was previously located in Brooklyn for seven years, we were attracted to the prospect of reviewing a dairy Italian restaurant (something Great Neck could desperately use), we certainly weren't disappointed, with an extensive and affordable menu; Primavera had appetizers beginning at $4.00, pasta dishes averaging $11.00, and fish dishes at $14.00 and up.

Uri, the co-owner along with his wife (we aren't supposed to mention her name; are you happy now, Nancy?), explained how various dorehs from our community have come through his restaurant. He described the doreh phenomenon perfectly: usually late on Saturday nights, without much notice, in large groups of six or seven couples, sit down with men and women separately from one another on a long table and stay at the restaurant well past closing. And you know it's a Mashadi doreh when they have offered Uri investment money to open another restaurant in Great Neck numerous times.

Considering the crowded nature of the restaurant the service was acceptable. What impressed us was the fact that another waitress, seeing Tony's sneezing attack from his allergies, was courteous enough to bring him a paper napkin without it ever being requested of her.

The basket containing loaves of water bread, made fresh at the owner's bakery, Main Street Bagels in Flushing were terrific and devoured to the last crumb. The bread had just the right amount of crustiness. Uri further explained that it is a special bread which he only makes for the restaurant, and doesn't sell to the public.

We started off with appetizers consisting of Bastone Di Mozzarella, deep fried breaded sticks of Mozarella with Marinara sauce, and Insalata Primavera-tossed salad topped with strips of Grilled tuna. Although they arrived at the table quickly we unanimously decided that the Mozzarella sticks needed more cheese and less crust. The salad accompanied with low-fat creamy Italian dressing was a meal by itself. The salad's grilled strips of Tuna were maybe the most tender of any we have ever had. Although Anita complained of their overcooked nature, our third appetizer of Funghi Ripieni, stuffed mushrooms also served with Marinara was seasoned well and tasted pretty good.

Tony had also ordered Minestrone soup, which he enjoyed as it contained large pieces of vegetable. However, his only complaint was that the soup wasn't warm enough as he likes his soups piping hot. (Please refer to dessert review in upcoming paragraph.)

As for the actual meals ordered, Tony had the Tonno Con Funghhi, which are sautéed strips of tuna and mushrooms served with Angel Hair pasta. Without any fault to Primavera, Tony was a bit disappointed since he expected grilled tuna but the menu clearly read "sautéed." Otherwise, Tony enjoyed the dish and had a tough time finishing the huge portion.

Anita and Allen also went with fish dishes, without pasta. Allen ordered a Salmone Alla Griglia, broiled fillet of salmon served with steamed zucchini and Anita had the Salmone Beichamelle Con Spinachi-strips of salmon fillet cooked in white sauce, spinach, garlic and wine. Although Allen's dish was quite simple, we all liked it. The salmon was quite tender, well seasoned and fresh, unlike the dry, bland variety many restaurants serve. As for Anita's dish, the white sauce was exceptional and gave the salmon an added zest. However, Afshin disliked the bed of fresh spinach which the salmon was served with. He only likes his "sabzih in his kukoo sabzih or khoresht gormeh sabzih." But for those that don't mind spinach, it gave the dish added flavoring and took away much of the fish taste, which many people dread and avoid fish dishes as a result.

Primavera also has a full selection of pasta. Afshin's dish was the sole pasta dish ordered, although he really wanted a tuna steak, he took "one for the team" in order to give a review of the pasta at Primavera. So he ordered his favorite, Fettuccini Alfredo, with extra Alfredo sauce on the side. And once it arrived, there was no need for extra Alfredo sauce, since the Fettuccini had plenty of it already. All in all, the pasta was fresh and the sauce though copious tasted fine.

Last but not least, were the dessert options at Primavera, which ranged from cheesecake to Tiramisui from peach to crepe suzette as well as mousse and ice cream dishes. We settled on the Hot Apple Crumble with Vanilla ice cream. But this time Tony could not complain about that the dish "wasn't warm enough" as he had previously about his soup. After watching Tony burn his mouth with the Hot Apple Crumble we erupted in laughter and enjoyed this dessert rich in cinnamon flavor even more so. It just teaches that you shouldn't always be such a tough critic!

Hush Don't Say Anything to God: Passionate Poems of Rumi

By: Laleh Asher

Samaa: In the poetry of Rumi, Samaa refers to the whirling dance of the Darvishes. This sacred movement is offered to, and symbolizes the constant movement of the universe. From the subatomic particles to the galaxies, all are subject to rotation. Darvishes believe that the human body is no exception, and that through whirling one harmonizes with the energy of the creation.

Rumi, the 13th century poet of the Persian Empire, has been referred to as the greatest mystical poet of any age. His name is often prefaced with the reverential term "Moulana," Our Master. Over the course of 25 years, he composed over 70,000 verses of poetry. As the story goes, Rumi a genius theologian, pillar of Islam, and brilliant and sober scholar, met a wandering wild darvish named Shams of Tabriz. "It seems that the universe brought these two opposing characters together to remind us for eternity that it is never what you expect when it comes to mysticism. It is impossible to know where your next inspiration may come from.... Rumi and his spiritual friend Shams left an undying legacy of the way-of-the-heart triumphing over intellect and logic." Although immortalized by Rumi, Shams who was seen as a threat, was assassinated. For Rumi who spoke his poetry, as opposed to writing it on paper, "the creative expression is as far away from an intellectual process as you can imagine.... he uttered the words as he experienced the emotions." The Mevlevi Order of Whirling Dervishes, continue to tour the world today, and continue Rumi's passion for whirling.

While Rumi's influence is pervasive in the East, he is a growing phenomenon in Western culture, and is seen as an exciting new literary and philosophical force. He is currently among the most widely read poets in America. One reason for the popularity is that "Rumi is able to verbalize the highly personal and often confusing world of personal/spiritual growth and mysticism in a very forward and direct fashion. The world of Rumi is neither the world of a Sufi, nor the world of a Hindu, nor a Jew; it is the highest state of the human being, an "ensaan-e kaamel," or a complete human. A complete human is not bound by cultural limitations; he touches every one of us. Today, Rumi's poems can be heard in churches, synagogues, Zen monasteries, as well as in the downtown New York art/performance/music scene," says Shahram Shiva. The new age author Andrew Harvey says Rumi is "an essential guide to the new mystical renaissance that is struggling to be born today. He is the spiritual inspiration for the 21st century."

The theme of Hush: Don't Say Anything to God is Passion. The poems deal with love and its many facets. "They are about the joy of the lover and the beloved embracing, the pain of separation, the unnecessary childish games that make no sense at all but are part of the everyday fabric of being in love, the anguish, the invisible bloodshed, the escapes, the returns, the sacrifices, the humility, the acceptance, the teachings, the hypocrisy, the hide and seek, the secret meetings, the gut-wrenching pain, and the willingness to die for one's loved one."

Shiva, author of this book, was born in Mashad, in Khorasan. He is a major interpreter of Rumi in the West, and has translated several hundred of Rumi's poems. Some of these serve as the basis for concerts and performances, and some have been utilized by other contemporary interpreters, and have appeared in textbooks and various publications. Visit: www.rumi.net for a very kitsch and interactive overview of Shiva's books, and upcoming events.

One of my favorite poems in this book is the following:

If your heart is not with me,
sitting together is not enough.
If your mouth is closed, but your heart is on fire, bathing in a stream is not enough.
If in the body, there is no soul,
the face lacks the spark.
If there is not food on the table,
having silver trays is not enough.
If you fill the earth to the sky,
with amber and musk,
if you have not a spiritual guide,
all that perfume is not enough.
If you escape the fire,
you will be sour and raw, like a dough.
Choosing a hundred lovers and sweethearts is not enough.

This poem introduces a theme which we all encounter: appearance verses reality. Life is full of paradoxes. There are many contradictions, illusions, and disillusions that we engage in. How something looks, isn't necessarily the way it is. The symbols of spirituality, health, and wealth, are not the same as embodying those things or experiencing them. Furthermore, the answers are all there, if you stop to look and notice them, or are patient enough to figure them out. We often look far away and on the outside for answers that are right in front of us, and are closer than we imagine. Silver trays, like big houses, and fancy cars, are all ostensible signs of wealth and beauty. We all want to be surrounded by those things. But what is beauty? What do those things signify? Do we want them at the expense of other less obvious things? This poem indicates that there is a disparity between the two, and between outside and inside. We have all known beautiful people who "lack the spark" (they're not that bright, or are just dull). We also occasionally encounter someone who exudes profuse good character and charm. Next time you buy a big shiny apple, look at it, then close your eyes and taste it. I guess the problem though, is that you don't know until you've bought the apple, until it belongs to you, and not until you bite into your apple, do you really know how sour or sweet it is, or if there's a worm inside.

Dear Diary,

It is the last day of the millenium, if you go by the calendar of the "ancient ones." I don't really know much about them, except what mother teaches me at our lessons every day. Mother and I are the last remnants of the ancient ones. I get quite lonely but I guess this is the way it must be. The "creatures" run the world now, and I can't imagine it any other way. I often ask mother about what happened to these long lost ancestors of ours. She said that she doesn't really know for sure, but in simple words, they screwed up big time, and the "creatures" were deemed by G-d to be the best choice to run the world. Then mother mentioned something about a "SEXUAL REVOLUTION." People were starting to be more careless and much more free about a sport they called sex. What was called "men" (who by their nature are more aggressive), were convincing girls to do things they really didn't want to do. But they just didn't have the courage to say no. That led to many weird diseases; I'm not sure what they were called. I think it was something like AIDS and Venereal something or other. Eventually they just all died out (except for my mother and father who were the "old fashioned" people left). So I said to mother, "Isn't this the same society, that decided to educate their daughters, send them to the best universities, and make them leaders of the communities?" Couldn't they have taught their daughters that they are all princesses and should be treated as such? Didn't these girls know that they should have said no to these guys, and say I am sorry but I am a princess, and I am above this? They should have said, "Make me your holy wife that you cherish and honor, if you love me so much. Then we will be together as two souls uniting in a holy and dignified manner." Couldn't they have taught the girls who would determine the future of their community how to say the simple word "NO!" But I think the universities just forgot to teach this in their lesson plan. I studied in the ancient text that you can judge a society by the actions of its women. I guess these girls never read that book and didn't know what was counting on them: the world as we have come to know it. If these girls only could have known what was bound to happen.... But as I said, no one really knows for sure what happened to the "ancient ones." This all might just be a myth. It could have been just a great flood that destroyed them. But I know history is just for us to learn from. So if I could do it all over again, myth or no myth, I would make sure not to make the same mistake!

Fictional Story by Donna Kalati

IN THE VOID

I am sitting in the movie theatre, popcorn and soda in hand, thrilled about how smoothly things went. I look over to my friend beside me, and we gloat over how dumb the guy taking admission tickets was. He didn't even think twice about our age when we handed him the ticket stubs. To my left are a group of eleven and twelve year old boys, and in front of us are some more kids my age, about fifteen or sixteen. I guess they didn't have any problems getting in either. The people around us in the movie theatre are busy laughing and talking, but soon the lights are dimmed and the previews start to roll. We quiet down and settle in our seats to watch Scary Movie.

After an hour and a half, the credits are going by and there is a green pallor to my skin. The kids around me are still laughing and joking around, and I have the sudden urge to shout "WEREN'T YOU JUST WATCHIN?!". I have never seen so much filth and perversion concentrated into ninety minutes of Hollywood magic since... wait: I reflect on blockbusters of the past such as Something about Mary and American Pie. I suddenly realize that no one was shocked much by those movies either, although they were equally as repulsive as what I had just seen, if not more. The nudity, the lewd sexual references, the dirty jokes... they had no place being in a movie that so many teenagers would see. I realize that these movies were rated R, but is that really severe enough? Maybe they should have been rated NC-17 or any higher rating that might hinder children and young adolescents from seeing them. I am reminded of a comment my cousin once made when she said that people have become so desensitized that they don't think much of these movies any more: that through our negligence they have become common. At that moment, sitting there in that theatre, I know she is right.

As time goes by, and filmmakers run out of new ideas, they turn to a new method—to shock the audience and thus renew lost interest. Little by little, movies include a bit more nudity, a touch more vulgarity, a tad more sex scenes than usual. And therein the problem lies; the more people come to tolerate and accept, the less magnitude these very things that threaten the values we have worked so hard to protect will have. It isn't healthy for a person to find normalcy in the things these "shocking" movies encompass; things like belittling women with the roles they play, or frivolous sex between two people who hardly know each other. What kind of message does that send? To disregard things like love, depth, devotion, and stability is not right. It is venom to think that it is.

When you talk about censorship, people immediately respond with how "The First Amendment to the Constitution protects..." or "the Freedom of Expression" or, and this one is my favorite, "It's art." I don't see anything "artistic" about Mary's hair gel or Kate Winslet flashing her ta ta's for a quarter of an hour in Titanic, a PG-13 movie. It's just plain obscene, and often unnecessary. This is where we need censorship, to block the perversion that people have come to shrug off as "humor."

There is no reason why power and fame should be awarded to filth and sordidness. Why should men like Howard Stern, someone clearly abhorrent to morality or virtue, have his own television show in addition to his already-popular radio show? We NEED censorship. Not to stifle expression but to eliminate perversion. I am not saying that people shouldn't communicate themselves the way they want; I am saying it's wrong when that form of expression becomes harmful to others. The obscene movies, the vulgar music, the scanty clothes, they are all recipes for decay in a secret skin. I see no beauty in that kind of expression. All I see is crass disregard for any kind of ethical principles. People just wallow in the void. And it needs to stop.

If the media will not stop and censor some of these things, then maybe parents should. A lack of interest on their behalf is just as bad, if not worse, than any effect a slimy movie could have on any kid. Next time your child says that they are going out to see a movie, take some interest and ask what they're going out to see. Or if they tune in to their favorite television show, take some time to stop and watch it with them. Borrow their favorite music album; try and listen through their ears; see through their eyes. Sheepish resignation, perpetual passivity, floating along in a bouncing bubble, will not help anyone. Time has come to take matters into your own hands. It may just make all the difference.

PACING PAT PONG

This past summer I went on a "family trip" to Thailand. In other words, I had to spend three entire weeks of my inadequate summer vacation in a third world country along with my younger siblings, parents, cousins, aunt, and uncle. The idea of this was outrageous to me, and I did not want to go. How could I possibly enjoy being away from my friends, my computer, and my bed? Miraculously, I found myself aboard an airplane to Tokyo, Japan, then to Bangkok, Thailand, totaling in a gruesome twenty-two hour flight. I have no idea how my parents did it, but they persuaded me to come along with our entire family to Thailand. Looking back I am actually quite grateful they did. Visiting a foreign country with people of an entirely different culture and lifestyle than my own was honestly one of the most beneficial experiences of my adolescent life. Now, what does this all have to do with SEX?

One night while in Bangkok, my family decided to do some "touring," so we visited the infamous Pat Pong Road. At first it seemed like it would be fun. We took a Tuk-Tuk taxi to this exciting street crowded with peddlers selling fake Prada bags along with other cheap accessories and clothing. Great! I thought to myself, time for me to do some shopping. But my joy was rudely interrupted when some random man flashed pornographic photographs in my face and asked me if I wanted to buy. Utterly disturbed by this shocking incident, I turned to my parents, who assured me that it is not like I have never seen porn magazines being sold at local drugstores before. As we walked along, I realized that every other vendor on the street was selling porn. I was starting to feel a little uncomfortable, but the worst was yet to come.

Next up we saw a white-haired old man grabbing onto the arm of a young Thai girl. That is one odd couple, we thought. "Where should we do this?" asked the old man, and the helpless girl pointed to an alley down the street. Inevitably, this young girl was a prostitute. A prostitute amongst the millions of other prostitutes living in Thailand, thousands of which spend their nights lingering the streets of Pat Pong Road picking up men, or "working" at the many strip bars located there. For me, it was appalling to see girls my own age selling themselves to sexually driven men, although for a Thai person, that might be a regular profession, especially when you have no money. Most probably these girls are doing it for selfless reasons, like to support their families. As bad as one's living situation might be, I strongly believe that any self-respecting female can accomplish more than that.

I was physically nauseous from the environment I was standing in and had to get out. I could not take it anymore. Just thinking of the number of STD's flying around that country was frightening. Would you believe that these indigent prostitutes could really afford birth control? Or that those drunken men who actually pay for sex would take the time, or effort, to put a condom on properly or even at all? What worries me is that the answer to these two questions is, probably not.

To convince myself that the Thai population is not dying out from AIDS being transmitted through drug needles and unprotected sex, I decided to do some research. Research, as in Thai travel guides, to find out more about Pat Pong Road and prostitution. I surprisingly learned that the Thai government is doing a lot to regulate prostitution and promote a drug-free environment. Recently, the Thai government administered an age limit to prostitution to ensure the safety of their young girls under the age of sixteen. There are also many advertisements regarding safe sex and the dangers of drug use, but they are advertised in Thai, and that is why I never noticed them. What I found most interesting was that the mayor of Thailand himself takes periodic visits to Pat Pong Road, not for fun, but to hand out free condoms to encourage safe sex. Despite the country's efforts, prostitution and illegal drug smuggling remain a major concern in Thailand.

During my stay in Thailand, witnessing people selling drugs in the open and buying women off the street was not only repulsive to me, but also a complete disgrace to humanity. My humanity, that is: the surroundings I grew up in and the people I grew up with. I realize how fortunate I am to be part of a community where the majority of its inhabitants, thank G-d, are financially stable, so people do not have to sell their daughters to earn money. It is a privilege being in this community where drugs and prostitution are socially unacceptable and would never be in my future, regardless of what the circumstances may be, but being in a community where hopefully college will be a part of my future. Experience, insight, and education are catalysts for success in life. Through the guidance of parents, mentors, teachers, and society at large, we learn what is right and what is wrong, and can prevent immorality from developing in our community. Indirectly through my trip to Thailand, my parents accomplished teaching me to appreciate what I have and how I live, and leading me, by affirming the direction I am headed in. I am thankful for this opportunity.

DID YOU KNOW?

Fred and Wilma Flinstone were the first couple to be shown together in bed on T.V.?

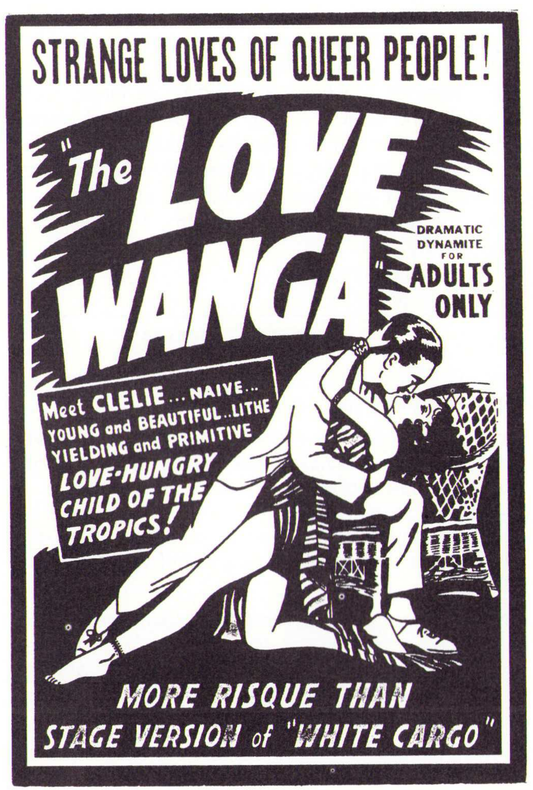
Researchers at the University of Pennsylvania and Wilkes University claim that having sex will cure the common cold, by a release of endorphins, the body's own painkillers. Some scientists prescribe it two times a week as a preventative measure, since sex boosts levels of Immunoglobulin A, a key component of your immune system.

A neuropsychologist in Edinburgh Hospital spent ten years studying the effects of sex on aging. He found that people in COMMITTED relationships who did it at least three times a week looked and felt more spry than their less lucky counterparts.

Smokers get lucky half as much as nonsmokers (5.7 times a month, compared with 11.6) and they're also more likely to experience infertility and impotence.

WHAT IS LOVE?

It is generally the Jewish attitude that love, marriage, and the act of procreation or sexual relations, are intimately interrelated. Marriage, the union of one man and one woman is called "kiddushin," or an act of holiness. It is with marriage that a person can achieve a higher and more exhausted state of holiness. This is achieved by the well-known fulfillment of the first commandment in the Torah, "Be fruitful and multiply (Genesis, 1:28)." Therefore, we see that it is not merely the act of procreation, but the product, a living, breathing child that achieves this divine goal. Indeed, the bible is filled with references to children as God's greatest boon. Although having children is the main component in a marriage, it is certainly not the only one. It is the mutual love and respect that are the foundations of marriage. Domination of either partner by the other violates the equality, which is the heart of the marriage relationship. Another way one may view the relationship of two partners in a marriage is in the form of a Venn Diagram, where there are two circles intersecting with each other, constantly striving to come closer, so that they may pose a larger area in common.



So where exactly does love fit in the picture? Various questions arise regarding this feeling of "love," what exactly is love? Does a person need to feel love in order to marry another person? Love can generally be regarded as a physical attraction in some respects, and as a feeling of reverence and affection towards another person in other respects. References to people "falling in love" are not unknown in the Jewish tradition, as we see in the story of Yaakov, that he loved Rachel before he married her (Genesis, 29:18). However, in Judaism, the feeling of companionship and love of a husband and wife is regarded as a high ideal when it is kept permanent throughout marriage. Perhaps the greatest love story in the Torah, is that of Yitzchak and Rivkah, for we see that they had a perfect marriage. In the case of Avraham and Sarah, or Yaakov and Rachel, one may notice that there have been minor flaws in their marriage. Both marriages had a problem with child bearing; both had some insecurities, as we see by Sarah's infamous laugh when the angel brought news that they will bear a child at such an old age. Another example is when Sarah disagreeably ordered Avraham to send away their handmaid Haggai and her son Ishmael into the desert. By Yaakov and Rachel, the fact that she gave him her handmaid to take her place in the mitzvah of bearing children and revive Yaakov's love for her, shows one major insecurity that Rachel possessed. However, by Yitzchak and Rivka we see a genuine and unparalleled love that existed from the very beginning and throughout their marriage. In the Torah, when Yitzchak meets Rivka, it states: "And Yitzchak brought her into his mother Sarah's tent, and took Rivka, and she became his wife; and he loved her (Genesis, 24:67)." The order of the words, he took Rivkah, she became his wife, and then he loved her calls for comment. In modern life we would place "he loved her" first, and write: "He loved Rivkah, he took her, and she became his wife." However, from this pasuk or verse we learn the lesson that as much as it is important that love shall precede marriage, it is far more important that it shall continue to grow after marriage. It is because Yaakov and Rivkah kept their love so constant after marriage that they had such a wonderful relationship together.

Today, although the notion of love may serve as a spark between a future husband and wife, it is not an all-sufficient condition for marriage. The compatibility in religious background, education, ideals, or temperament is an important factor to take into account. Once in marriage, the two partners must strengthen this love and keep it permanent both on a physical level, which also includes the joy that a soul experiences during sexual relations, and spiritual level, which includes performing this sexual act for the higher purpose of fulfilling Hashem's mitzva of having children. When this is achieved indeed the two intersecting circles representing marriage between two people can be regarded as one.

I LOVE YOU

In my opinion one of the most commonly used phrases among adolescents is "I love you." There are I love you's coming from thirteen year olds till the I love you's coming from newlyweds. What do these I love you's mean in today's society? Is there any truth behind them? What is love?

Society pushes love so greatly these days in movies, television, and teen magazines by displaying images of romance such as couples at candle-lit dinners and flowers, that teenagers feel the only way to express themselves is to say I love you. This truly ends up causing a great amount of hurt and sorrow in teenagers' lives. Being a teenager and not having yet lived through life to know the true meaning of love, how can you tell a person you love them at such a young age? It could only mean that there is no substance behind what s/he is saying. They might feel like they have such a strong love for each other and are going to spend the rest of their lives together, but are actually only to be putting themselves into a trap for heartbreak.

I heard a moving story in school that relates to this topic. There was a boy and girl who started dating seriously at a very young age. They became so attached to one another and the I love you's had already begun. Years and years passed and they felt that they were "basheret," or soul-mates. Around the age of eighteen, when time came to settle down, the boys parents did not allow. They felt that he had to go to college and get a medical degree while the girls parents demanded her marriage immediately. Unhappily they decided to go their own ways and start new lives for themselves. They both got married but never truly loved their spouses to the full extent that they should have. Each made aliyah to Israel, constantly thinking about their true love and wishing that they had been married.... In Israel they ended up becoming neighbors, and when they thought things were finally getting better they had never been worse! To be married to the person you feel is not your soul mate and to live next door to the one you wish was! If this relationship hadn't been started at such a young age maybe this heartbreak and depression could have been prevented. The two would probably be able to lead happy and productive lives without always questioning themselves. Most teenage I love you's and relationships are meaningless and should be prevented. Although there are exceptions why put yourself in a position for hurt when the desired outcome is so rare?

How can you define love? A teacher of mine once said love is giving. It is what you give of yourself to the other person, what that person takes, how much they give back to you, and how much you in turn take. He compared this to a plant growing. A man has a plant that he bought from the gardening shop. It had already grown and all he had to do was plant it into the soil. Then he has another plant that he's had for many years since he grew this one straight from the seed. Which plant does this man admire and adore, 'love more?' The one that he grew from the seed of course! He gave this plant more of his affection, time and love than he did the other one that took a matter of five minutes to put together. The same goes for love between man and woman. It is a matter of affection and time until you can truly love a person. It is giving your every waking moment to "water" the seed and make sure its surroundings are proper. It is only with the best intentions, and right timing, as well as enough support and nurture that you can make this happen. Only then can you begin to say I love you.

OUR GENERATION

Our generation has greatly changed since the time of our parents and grandparents. If we were living like our parents in Iran, things such as drugs and alcohol would never have entered our minds. For example, T.V. has a great impact on our generation's lives. Nowadays, everywhere we turn there is not one show we can watch without mature content. Another great influence are our elders, our role models. In school we learn that drugs, smoking, and alcohol are bad substances that could greatly harm our lives. But everywhere we turn there is someone smoking. Everywhere we go there is someone drinking. What can we say? These are our elders; these are people we respect. When we hear our parents lecturing us on what is right from wrong, we are in great controversy with ourselves. What could we do when people are constantly telling us what not to do, but still some are doing the same thing themselves? How can we not think about doing something when we see our highly respected ones smoking or drinking? Our generation is the Mashadi community of the future, and if you are concerned about our community's future, then you as our role models must show us the right things and set good examples. Don't smoke cigarettes, when we learn and know that they are bad. Don't drink alcohol when it can ruin people's lives. And if you are not willing to sacrifice those things, then please don't expect it from us.

We, the writers know that it is bad to smoke and drink, but other children might not understand this. They think that if their parents are doing it they should too. So please make the change in your life. It might not have a big impact on you, but it will for many other people including our community and it's future! We would also like to thank all of you for caring about us and trying to make our generation a better one!

REFLECTIONS OF AN ISRAELI A JEWISH MOTHER

What does it mean to be a Jewish mother? A friend asked me to write a proposal for a book on modern Jewish mothers and especially on how different I am from my mother. When I started thinking what I could write, I was amazed to find out how many aspects there are to being a Jewish mother. You might have heard the jokes going around about the "Yiddish mama," and how you can never please her. Have I turned into a yiddish mama like my mom? In this article I would try to focus on the culture transfer from being an Iranian Jewish mother in Israel to being an American Jewish mother in California.

My Mashadi parents immigrated to Israel in the early fifties. I grew up in Tel-Aviv and was raised with very conservative values of home, family and religious traditions. Unlike my parents who had no higher education I was encouraged in Israel to continue my studies through high school and university and graduated with a degree in biochemistry.

When I got married my Iranian aunts and uncles, and other relatives, told me that once I would have children, I would be like all other Jewish mothers. I would have to stay home with them and take care of their physical health and well being, and I would not be able to take advantage of my education. Contrary to these premonitions I did manage to keep my profession, and work outside the home throughout the years of raising my sons both in Israel and in the states. I had to cut down my work hours at times when I wanted to be more involved in the education of my sons, but I had no problems employing strangers to do household chores. It was a pleasure for me to watch my sons grow and learn. I knew most of their teachers personally, and helped with their homework. I made it clear to my sons that they would study whatever they were best at. There were years when I had to apply pressure on the high school principal to open another math honor class so that Ron, my elder child, would not have to be left behind in his math studies.

The transition to life in the US meant less involvement with close family, but instead more involvement in different activities, like boy scouts where I served as a chemistry advisor, and marching bands (both my sons played in the high school band). This transition also meant spending more time in Hebrew school and participating very actively in the Bar-Mitzvah preparation of both my sons.

My Iranian and Israeli backgrounds also had a strong influence on the kinds of foods I prepared for my sons as they were growing up. We had a variety of dishes from American to Israeli to Iranian. My sons had many occasions to help in the kitchen and they learned to prepare some basic dishes for themselves, like hamburgers and spaghetti. They even learned to appreciate chelo nochodav and ghormeh sabzi when they got much older.

I tried to transfer to my children many of the Iranian traditions of religious observance, celebration of holidays, ethnic foods and the kind of things I learned from my mother. In addition, I was able to transfer to my sons intellectual messages of Judaism through study of literature and philosophical discussions. My mother's concerns were mainly keeping up with social pressures and maintaining the right appearances on the outside. I take pride in Ron's achievements, such as his column in the UCLA newspaper "The Daily Bruin" in which he dedicated one of his articles to freedom, which was based on the lessons and experiences he had at passover time. He also told me that he would like to marry a Jewish girl, mainly because he liked our traditions. This confirmed my assertion that I passed on these traditions in a positive, effective manner.

When my mother sees her grandchildren, she is concerned about their jobs and their salaries, their appearance and their grooming. Unlike her, I ask them what book they are reading and what they are thinking. It is hard for me to explain to her that "The mind is not a vessel to be filled, but a fire to be lit." I have to tell you that she is very compassionate and caring, and I aspire to be like her, just as nurturing and caring.

Being a mother is a very rewarding experience. Being a jewish mother is a great challenge.

SEX. ALL THE RIGHT REASONS.

Sex. What does the word mean to you? Sex used to be something sacred, shared by two people in love and committed to each other. Where did that all go? Sex in this day and age has lost it's true meaning. Teenagers find it okay to share this intimacy with just anybody that they feel attracted to, not realizing that it is their hormones leading them. A big dilemma is how many girls think that they are sure they've found "the right one". These girls may be physically ready, but how many of them are really emotionally and mentally ready? By sleeping around with random people a person can expose themselves to many dangerous diseases, such as AIDS and venereal diseases. Another danger of premarital sex is the possibility of teenage pregnancy. We hear about girls getting pregnant during their high school years, which leaves the people affected for the rest of their lives. Major decisions are then put on the shoulders of would be teenage parents who must think about abortion and adoption. This child never asked to be brought into this world unwantedly. Was it really worth it? If only they had waited. Waited for the right time. Waited until they were sure they were having sex for all the right reasons: true love and commitment. In our community there is a double standard. Most people believe that it is okay for young guys to have sex before marriage, but that it is not okay for girls. Sex is a very personal and delicate issue, and each situation is very different, but the bottom line is that premarital sex is just wrong.

TWO SCENARIOS

Scenario #1:

"Son, I would like you to look across the street at that girl and tell me if you want her or not. She's very 'najib and kadbanoo,' and her parents are good people.

"Mother dear, I can barely see her from here. How am I supposed to know if I like her or not?"

"What does that have to do with anything? I tell you she's a pure girl and I know her family. It'll be a good match."

"Whatever you say Maman!"

One of the most well known, respected, and loved members of this community was once heard retelling the story of how his beloved wife and himself got together. (Refer to the scenario above). Hugging his wife close after telling the story, he said, "Baruch Hashem, what a good match it turned out to be! I guess our parents knew what they were doing after all and I have to say that they even do a better job of finding our matches for us than we do ourselves."

Scenario #2:

As Mashadis have had a habit of designating a specific place, either a park, some street, restaurant or bar, as their spot to hang out with each other, meet and socialize, so too my mom tells me in her time the airport was one of the selected spots where guys would go to see girls and vice versa. One night the popular 'Airport' was packed as word had gotten around (like it always does between us) that a certain girl would be there to be shown to a specific guy for the purpose of marriage. (As if there could be any other purpose in those days!) The guy was standing with his married brothers on one side and the girl with her married sisters on the other side of the hall. The siblings of the mentioned 'couple' were whispering among each other and smiling and giggling across the way to the other group. Squinting hard to see the girl better, the sight was of a blushing female. Her embarrassment was due to the fact that she was on display. Well she wasn't a modern girl like us to know that it's a good thing to be on display and to show yourself off; the more the better even! After going through a whole set of procedures to get the 'bale' from the young lady's parents and succeeding, the parents of the gentleman told their son that he is now engaged and he can now 'date' his fiancee, as long as some sort of chaperone like the girl's younger brother would accompany them. (No I did not mix up the order of how things went).

While in those times the majority dated for marriage and the parents were almost totally in charge of it, today, in contrast, people don't even necessarily date for marriage, but just for fun (dating with the intent to get married is also fun). Nowadays males and females want to know if they are 'compatible' physically and everybody is free to do whatever they want to find enjoyment and pleasure. Of course this is not the way to date among Mashadis and Iranians in general (not counting most of the guys), but it certainly is the norm among Americans and the population in general. When asking Persian girls to go out with them, many 'non-Iranian' guys are definitely surprised and even shocked to be turned down because the girls only date for marriage. The girls have a difficult task because this idea is rare and foreign to these guys.

Up until thirty years ago and even in our parents' time, the parents of the kids would just tell them to whom they were getting engaged and that was the end of it. It was totally the parents' choice. (They made good matches though). They could not get to know the other person and decide if they like him or her. Today's times though, almost everything is the opposite of how it used to be. In addition to having nonrestrictive relationships with the opposite sex, these days the individual can choose for him or herself and the option is open as to whom to have that relationship with. In my opinion there should be a balance between the old times and the new, a sort of melding. The person should choose but should ask their parents for advice because they want the best for their children. They should also get to know the other person and learn about him or her (in a 'kosher' way of course), to be able to make the correct decision. Hope all your decisions are the right and the best ones.

THE RIGHT DECISIONS?

Obviously, when most parents came to America, they came for change. They wanted freedom; they wanted money. Unfortunately, their main focus wasn't on their children. The lack of time and effort put into their kids shows. Most kids engage in promiscuity. Age doesn't matter in the U.S.; people of all ages are doing it. This is an issue mostly in the younger sector of people. Self control is very important. Today, there is no control. There is no distinction made between doing what's right or wrong. We have to start making those decisions or it will hurt the community in many ways. We have to know who to trust, and how we can trust them.

What are people who have had sex before their marriage, then get married and start a family, supposed to say to their kids? How should they teach their kids to take the right path? How shall we explain to our kids that they can get sickenesses, when it was never taught to us before? There are many diseases such a Aids, and herpes, and many others that we can get from doing it. Do we want to carry those diseases into another generation? It would be sad to find out that you're HIV positive when you've just started a family. Sex can be good, but it can be wrong, especially when we don't know what's out there for us. Everyone might not even have the knowledge that they shouldn't just do it with anyone, until they reach a certain point in life, and they're ready to start a family.

As most of you may know, Dharva Konger was on the show, "Who Wants to Marry A Multi Millionaire?" Her relationship with her husband did not last long, and now, she has become a target for television. Recently, Dharva Konger was on the news, and she called herself a very religious Christian, who is against pornography. Well it turns out she posed nude for a magazine, and still calls herself a religious person. Does a religious Jew ever turn out doing this? Well not that I know of today, but as our values deteriorate, into American ways, we might as well turn out like Ms. Konger. Do you know that a couple of hundred years ago, the Christian monks would consider prostitution a religious act? Well that's what separates Judaism from all other cultures and races. We're supposed to be pure and innocent, and not make the wrong decisions. Everyone knows that we sometimes do the wrong things, but we should try to prevent them from happening. We should prevent them from ever happening at all. We don't think about all the bad things while we're doing them, but we should, we really should.

We get it on T.V. We can even get it on the Internet. It's inappropriately explicit material. But do we have to watch? No. There's a phrase in Shema Yisrael, "And so that you will not stray after your heart, and after your eyes, after which you are wont to turn." This phrase means that we do not see something unless we want to see it. The sexually explicit material only shows up if we bring it there.

We should all have sex, after we're married, because it isn't a bad thing, if we do it in the right time and place. Then we can get our lives together and be loyal to our husband or wife. And remember, "And so that you will not stray after your heart and your eyes, after which you are wont to turn." Remember that what we want to see or do, does not have to be what we should see or do. We should try to hold ourselves back and be reserved, for our future, and for the rest of our lives.

SOCIETY VS. THE INDIVIDUAL

There comes a time in everyone's life where the utopia they live in can be threatened with the slightest persuasion. It is up to you to take matters into your own hands and follow what you believe, so that your life doesn't slip through the holes. From how we see it, you've got a choice: Be a follower, or be the individual you dream to be. Part of being a teenager is facing peer pressure. A person of weak character may give in to the convincing of a friend just to fit in, whereas someone with strong will would use their morals to reason and reach the right decision. He or she is the one who is open minded and is in control of his or her own life. Use logic, put two and two together to come to the conclusion that drugs can kill you. That makes you a wiser person. These people take a stand and do what it takes, to say NO, even though it means they can end up being the odd one out. They're lucky to have the freedom of expressing themselves to be different, rather than being the same identical, closed- minded person as the next one.

Recently, we were approached with a very disturbing story from a person we know very well. We will address him by "Joe Shmoe." We were speaking to him about a week ago, and were discussing the issue of drugs. Well, we've known this boy for about seven years. He had confided in us that he has smoked marijuana before. Thinking back on old times, he wasn't as "cool" as he wanted to be. He didn't have a set pair of friends and everyone would push him around. Now, he feels that in order to be accepted by his peers the only solution is to get high. The sad part is that he is very bright and he's wasting his life just to "have a place in society." This situation connects to the older generations of Mashadis, because it is similar to having a good name, showy houses, and a billion cars. It has come to the point where your character and who you are is just not enough. Joe Shmoe is not the only one with such problems in our community. Unfortunately, there are hundreds of other people who don't have the privilege of thinking on their own. These people who give in to the pressures and desire being "cool" are only giving in to a reckless future. What you don't realize is that G-d gave you brains to reason, and not using it is plain old FOOLISH AND IGNORANT.

SEX IN ENTERTAINMENT

My husband and I always channel surf to find old musicals and family shows or movies which we can enjoy with our kids. Even with all the channels and cable that is available, it's so hard to find anything wholesome. There's so much foul language and many sexual situations which don't belong in homes with young children.

When I was in High School, we had a "Media Day." For several hours, we were shown video tapes of news broadcasts, movies clips and various commercials from the seventies and eighties. For example, in the seventies, Close-up toothpaste showed a man an a woman accidentally brushing up against each other in a movie theater when one of them dropped a scarf. In the eighties, the man and woman in the Close-Up commercial were not only kissing, they were embracing and rolling around on the grass in each other's arms. The focus of the presentation was to show us how relationships had become more sexual and uninhibited over the decade. Before that I never thought much about the effect of novels, television, and movies in our lives. Our youth are bombarded with messages about sex, even in song lyrics on the radio. If you take a good look around, you'll see advertisements which hint of sex, in magazines, on billboards, it's everywhere!

One of the movies that seems to have had the worst effect on unsuspecting public is the James Bond series. We're attracted to his films because they are filled with a lot of action, danger, suspense, and adventure. If you pay close attention to this character though, you'd see that the message that comes across in each episode is that being single is cool and life is about fast cars and sex with strangers: many and often. The svelte females in his films like to play hard to get, but he pursues them and always get the girl. Once he has sex with a woman, you never see her again in other 007 movies. It's all about the chase, no commitments, no continuation, no love, and no respect. What does this say to young viewers about sex in relationships?

I used to live close to a famous car dealership which sold and leased the the racy sports cars that James Bond's character drives. I saw many people in my area tearing up the streets in those cars. I saw them in the shopping centers or the gym, my child even played on the same sports leagues as some of their children. Only they weren't the single guys you'd expect, they were mostly divorcees or men separated from their wives some with girlfriends, and almost all of them were Jewish! Unfortunately outside of a religious environment where a fear of G-d exists, people are so bored with work, marriage, and the strict routines of childrearing that they allow themselves not only to believe what is supposed to be fictional entertainment, but to put aside all morals and ethics and behave like those fictional characters too. I guess we don't realize how easily the things that we see can get incorporated into our thinking and behavior, if we're not careful.

Some people criticize Orthodox Jewish families becaue they don't watch television except for the news or some selected videos. I understand their point of view and although I may not do exactly what they do, I respect them. I also admire women who dress and behave modestly. I have lived equal amounts of time in secular and religious surroundings and have observed that families who belong to Modern Orthodox congregations have closer bonds and longer lasting family relationships than those who are more secularized and reformed. I personally believe that if children are allowed to watch television it should be monitored closely by parents or other adults. Anything sensitive that they see should be discussed, especially sex and childbirth.

Talk to your kids about sex the way you would have liked someone to speak to you before you knew what it was. You want them to know it can be holy and it can have a purpose. They should also know that despite all the pressure they may feel to have sex before, during, and after their teen years, being a virgin is something to be proud of. By avoiding talking about it, they'll just think it's something dirty and be secretive about it. Sex is too delicate a subject to be left to children to find out about on the streets, from other kids, in school, or from pornography. Always be there for them to answer their questions. And most importantly, even though it may seem difficult at first, take an active role in educating your kids.

MIRRORS & MARBLE

My little girl, I am certain that you look at yourself for minutes and even hours in the glare of the mirror. Yes, look at yourself. At that body, crystalline and adamantine. Look at those curves and turns. That body, clean, bright, pure, soft, smooth, crystal-like and marble-like, it compares to a stem of a beautiful flower, among the stems of a towering unreachable tree. Ay! At that instance when the hand of a thief, when human nature steals this flower from its stem! Separation from the stem- think of it- followed then by being handled, passed from hand to hand, being smelled, inhaled, then withering and being thrown out.

You are also like that flower.

Till the time that a hand can't reach you, and there is no possibility of someone separating you from the stem, everyone admires you and looks at you high above. And from looking at you, and taking in your scent from afar, they derive great pleasure. Do not easily separate yourself from that stem. During this passing of time, don't let yourself fade and shrivel. It would be a shame. A waste of my little girl.

Fictional Story Translated from the Farsi Original

THE TRUE MEANING

The true meaning of a relationship is something that not many understand,
To be able and willing to grab onto another's hand.
To be sincere and honest with every word you say,
To trust another so that the fire behind your power will never fade away.
To be eager to reach all your goals and dreams,
To have an optimistic view of life, so you can help your partner,
To see things easier than it seems.
To be able to compromise and agree on things you never thought you will,
But because of your love and passion you will surrender but forever stand still.
To have confidence that together you can climb to the peak of the highest mountains,
To think that your emotions can fill fountains.
Although there may be a time which will cause pain and strife,
Just remember that this is LIFE!

FREEDOM

Freedom of laughter and joy.
Freedom of being in the presence of a boy.

Freedom of keeping secrets deep in your heart.
Freedom of opinions based on a piece of art.

Freedom of showing your emotions.
Freedom of swimming in the four oceans.

Freedom of ending a story any way you want to.
Freedom of having anything that's good for you.

IF SOMEONE TRIES TO CONVINCE ME TO DO SOMETHING I DON'T WANT TO DO?

First off, I would give the person a dirty look, making them feel what they've tried to do or say is wrong. Then raising my head up high, showing that I'm too good for them or this, walk away with total confidence.

- Sheena Dilmanian

Just Say NO.

- Jackie Kamali

Politely decline so as not to embarrass the person. I would never succumb to someone pressuring me into doing something I don't want to do.

- Arezou Dilmanian

Maybe later!!!

- Benny Livian

I would say, "I'll think about it." That way I won't be rejecting the person's persuasive tactics. And also, by the tone of my voice and my body language, I would try to give the impression that I'm not really into it.

- Kami Kalaty.

NO. I'm tired.

- Justin Hakimian

I've learned to give people a definitive "no" as well as a reason why, because I found that being indecisive, saying "maybe," leads people on. I no longer want my friends getting upset at me for changing my mind, so I think it's more fair to be honest with them.

- Tina Namdar

I'd tell them that I'm sorry, but I'm not interested. End of story.

- Melody Kashi

If it is something which has no consequential loss to me or anyone else, then I may do it. But in such a case I don't see why there would be any question. In a situation where either I or someone else would be at a loss (smoking, drugs, sex, alcohol, etc.) I'd simply say NO to them before they can finish talking to me. Whoever it may be, I won't think of them as highly as I did before. If I feel that there is no threat to me, or that a threat made would not be carried out, I would almost certainly also report the person to whoever should deal with it. I would then drop the case, and imagine the issue never came up.

- Mickey Karimzadeh

When someone tries to make me do something I truly don't want to do I say "No thanks" and I walk away.

- Sean Hakimi

It's easy I just say NO and if they won't back down I try to either get help or talk them out of it.

- Nabila Levian

I say that I really can't do that but Jack will; he'll do anything!

- Amos Lavian

"We'll See"

- Dalia Zabhi

I would reply no, since this is something I don't want to do, and I don't care to. Although, I have in the past given in and done things which I did not care to do, only to find out I did really like it!

- David Payam Dilmanian

I'll show them who I really am!

- Reuben Ben-Yehuda

If it's about sexual things I wouldn't let myself get into anything unless I know who the person is... and I wouldn't just do anything even if I knew the person unless I had feelings for her.

- Adam Bassalali

I would tell them to try to understand where I am coming from and respect my values. If they won't listen and continue to be selfish, I would just leave the situation

- Karen Karmely

Its simple, I would just say no and if they still try to convince me I would just walk away.

- Shirley Hakimi

It is in fact very difficult to say no to someone who is trying to convince you of something. I would respond by asking them first..."Why should I?" Then, after hearing their response, would simply just say, "No thanks."

- Natalie Rahmani

I think I can hold my ground whenever someone tries to convince me of something I don't want to do. Most of the time I would tell them "no" rather than give someone the run around. Otherwise, I'd insist on "seeing what everyone else wants to do." Now that this excuse is out in the open, I need to come up with a new one.

- Afshin Bassali

No this is peer pressure and I don't have to take it from you, but it was nice talking to you, anyway, bye !!

- Tanya Ebrani

If a person tried to make me do something that I was uncomfortable with, I would let them know immediately. I wouldn't do something to make someone else happy unless it made me happy first. The most important thing to remember is that if the person knows that what he/she is asking is hard on you and he/she still insists, then know that this person is only using you and that he/she doesn't have any feelings for you. If a guy really loves you, he will wait until you are comfortable. Don't let anybody persuade into doing something you don't want because you will regret it. Don't let anybody change your beliefs and values!!!!

- Romina Namdar

I would never ever let someone pressure me into doing something that I don't wish to partake in. I'm my own person, with my own values and morals, and I know what's right for me. I think for myself, and my brain is to control my body and my actions, and nobody else is permitted, has the right, or the authority to make my decisions for me. For this reason, if someone were trying to pressure me to do something I didn't want to do, I'd first politely answer no. I'd even explain why I don't want to do it, so they'd get a better sense of why it was wrong for me, and maybe are more inclined to leave me alone. I would also make sure to address that I am either not ready or that it completely isn't for me. If the person doesn't seem to get the hint, and takes physical action to force me, I would then use more harsh tactics like defending myself either verbally or if worse came to worse, defend myself physically. A "NO" is a "NO" and people should learn to understand and accept that.

INTERNS' QUESTIONNAIRE

The moment you have been waiting for is here! This is the Megillah Questionnaire for INTERNS. The following set of questions were presented to a distinctive set of interns, who were requested, agreed to, and were then selected to participate in this questionnaire not only because they've done an internship, but because we thought they'd have something interesting to say! All the wildly successful people featured in our previous issue, the ones who called themselves "GROWN-UPS" talked about INTERNSHIPS. What is an internship? Why do an internship? How do you get an internship? What do you get out of an internship? Who does an internship? Where can you do an internship?

An internship is work experience in the form of an unpaid job, usually done while still in high school or college. Sometimes, it's done in lieu of a class or for school credit. It offers an insightful opportunity to catch a firsthand glimpse of a job or industry a person might be interested in. It might even be something you know you don't want to do in the long run, but might just want to try, before entering "the real world." Or, you might realize you hate it, and that it's not for you, once you're in it. Under any circumstance, the internship is an invaluable experience. It looks great on your resume and college applications. Hopefully, you'll not only get answers to these questions, but some of you will get ideas on what to do next semester or next summer.....

0- Name

Ten brave individuals decided to help make this issue of Megillah even better than the last one. The point of this questionnaire and Megillah is to promote, compel, intrigue, educate, and propel ideas among the youth, and maybe even show the older people what we're made of!

PS - If you didn't get a chance to participate in this issue, be in touch for the next one.
We look forward to reading from all of you soon.
PPS - Our very own Megillah is looking for an 'Intern.' Find out about the criteria.

Teaching the Mashadi youth about the importance of these issues helps keep us family oriented, which is VITAL for our future and happiness. I like the emphasis we place on the security that is offered through our beliefs. However, we have to look into and ABSORB some AMERICAN VALUES as well. No one is to say that the values Americans have are healthier or unhealthier - THEY ARE JUST DIFFERENT. I think that Mashadi's need to understand this and begin to BE A BIT MORE OPEN to certain American WAYS OF THINKING since the youth has been raised in this country and are bound to be impacted by its culture and what it believes in.

3. I worked under the Dietician, helping him figure out ways to use his nutrition program on the web sight. I also researched other competitive web sight companies to see the different tools they used for assessments and tracking of clients. I helped edit the questionnaire, and decide the relevance of questions used. I was also able to sit in on meetings with the programmers for the web sight and contribute to the programming. In general I did many little tasks, and was a second opinion when needed. The most important thing I had to do was to write a nutrition article for the web site's nutrition section.
4. There wasn't too much glamour that went along with the work but I did get to meet Tony Little, fitness guru, (you may know him as the short, blond, energetic guy from the infomercials), he is their spokesperson. The least "glamorous" thing I CHOSE to do was making photocopies when needed. They had one of those cool machines that copied front and back, collated, and stapled, IT WAS FUN using it.
5. My internship was actually a class at school, so I got credit for it, but I had to do a project that contributed to the company, which was the article I wrote.
6. One of the executives had a dog, Daphne that he would bring in to the office. Daphne would walk around the office all day, and occasionally come to the room I was in to visit. She was definitely the most interesting part of my experience at cyft.com.

7. I learned a lot about the business aspect of nutrition. I also became very knowledgeable in Internet navigation and research.
8. I do plan on working in nutrition, but most probably not anything with Internet companies. I want to work in the private practice field of nutrition.
9. I don't Have favorites, I'M INTO VARIETY when it comes to CDs, books, and movies, and I LOVE ALL FRUITS.
10. At C.W. Post, the head of the nutrition department is an older woman, Dr. Gezis, who is the most knowledgeable person in the nutrition field that I personally know. She also happens to be the nicest person.
11. I don't necessarily admire one specific person. I admire anyone who goes to college, TRIES TO WORK HARD, and FEELS they are successful in their life.
12. Loquacious (look it up), Ambitious, and Loving.
13. Biochemistry, I had a great professor, and I got an A.
14. Hobbies/ after school: I LIKE MAKING PUZZLES. After school and work I am generally too tired to do anything.

16. If your house where on fire and you could retrieve 1 thing what would it be? : My picture album.
17. I don't know.
18. I don't think I have ever gotten a gift that has been very meaningful.

20. What do you do or say if someone tries to convince you to do something you don't want to do? I JUST SAY NO, I DON'T DO THAT.
21. Are Mashadi viewpoints on sex, relationships, and marriage healthy? Are American viewpoints healthier? I think many of the Mashadi viewpoints are healthy for Mashadi people, because we have been raised this way, and to a certain extent the American ones may even be unhealthy for Mashadi people.
22. Do you think that teenagers are educated about Drugs/ Sex Education mainly:
a- at school
b- at home
c- from friends
d- by experience
e- what education?:
I would say it is a combination, a lot at school but some can be from friends and personal experience
23. Do you think teenagers should be educated about Drugs/ Sex mainly:
a- at school
b- at home
c- from friends
d- by experience
e- why educate? :
I THINK A LOT OF THE EDUCATION SHOULD BE FROM HOME.
24. How many kids do you want to have? (just pick a #) minimum 5 (don't tell my mom)

PAULINE NEMATI

1. Art / Christie's
2. NYU / Print Journalism and Art History / May 2001
3. All the dirty work...for free!
4. The most glamorous thing I got to do was watch some of the actual auctions. It was also cool being around and having access to such great ART all the time. But, most of the work I did was unglamorous.
5. I got my internship through my cousin.

CHRISTIE'S

6. What's so great about people in this industry is that most of them come from diverse and interesting CULTURAL backgrounds and speak many languages. Also, most are artistic and creative themselves, which provides for a STIMULATING and EXCITING work environment.
7. I learned a lot about art from having to look up and research artists and artwork so often. But more importantly, I learned the VALUE OF HARD WORK and experience.
8. I probably won't go into this field or stay with this company. Instead, I hope to achieve a career in the magazine industry, either writing or doing public relations.
9. Favorite CD?! Anyone who knows me knows that I LOVE MUSIC and have an eclectic, mammoth CD collection (hip-hop, trip-hop, r&b, house, brit pop/rock, salsa, etc.). FAVORITES include Portishead and Bjork. One of my favorite books is Khalil Gibran's The Prophet. I also love many movies, but Pulp Fiction, Heavenly Creatures, and Trainspotting are some of my favorites. I like SOUR FRUITS the best.

10. The only person I know well enough in this industry to admire at all is my cousin, AFSOUN. She has influenced me in many ways, often letting me know what's hot in music, fashion, etc. She is one of the most CULTURED, INTELLIGENT, and INDIVIDUALISTIC people I know.
11. I admire anyone who is UNIQUE, sincere, GENUINE, hard-working, INDEPENDENT, humble, PASSIONATE, and SELFLESS.
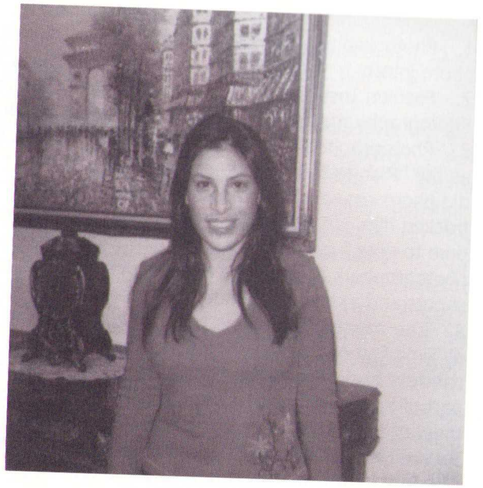
12. Fun, open-minded, knowledgeable.
13. I've had some really interesting journalism, art history, and sociology classes. My major has given me the OPPORTUNITY to do some interviews at the United Nations and MTV. Generally, I like classes that MAKE ME THINK, force me to learn, REQUIRE me to write or be creative, or are just FUN—ultimately, it's all about having a good time.
14. I wouldn't call them "hobbies," but I'm into travelling, WRITING, READING, film, music (that includes dancing to it), and art. After school, I prefer to stay in the city and hang out with friends.
15. At this point in my life, I probably wouldn't change anything; FLAWS DEMONSTRATE CHARACTER.
16. If my house were on fire, I'd first make sure my family was out of there, then I'd worry about my "things."
17. Wait, why can't I just take a plane?? Anyway, I'd LOVE TO TRAVEL anywhere AESTHETICALLY BEAUTIFUL and CULTURALLY UNIQUE.



18. The best gift I've ever received was a trip around Europe with a few of my friends for almost a month (when I was only 18!); it was AMAZING. My parents were VERY COOL for letting me do that, and I'll always appreciate it.
19. Lunch is about hanging out with friends—just talking, laughing, and having fun.
20. What do you do or say if someone tires to convince you to do something you don't want to do? That's never been a problem for me. I ALWAYS DO WHAT I WANT TO DO. Peer pressure should never be an issue for anyone who is CONFIDENT.
21. Are Mashadi viewpoints on sex, relationships, marriage healthy? Are American viewpoints healthier? When comparing Americans and Mashadis, I don't think it's FAIR to call one viewpoint HEALTHIER THAN THE OTHER. The ideal mentality would probably MEET SOMEWHERE IN BETWEEN.
22. Do you think that teenagers are educated about Drugs/ Sex Education mainly:
Friends and Experience.
23. Do you think teenagers should be educated about Drugs/ Sex mainly:
a- at school
b- at home
c- from friends
d- by experience
e- why educate?
A, B, C, and D.
24. How many kids do you want to have? (just pick a #) 3

TANIA LEA IDJADI

1. Photography – Time Out New York – photo intern
2. Fashion Institute of Technology. Photography major, May 2001
3. Photographed weekly sections such as the "Public Eye" and "Around town", did photo research, and maintained & tracked film. In addition to this, from time to time I got to assist the photographers and editors during photo shoots and in the final editing process.
4. The most glamorous part of being at Time Out NY, was having to escort models back and forth to castings being part of an actual photo shoot. But most of all, having my photographs as well as my name PUBLISHED. The least glamorous is having to go on location scouting in NYC in 95º weather.
5. I called up a few magazines I was interested in and sent them a cover letter attached with my resume and then INTERVIEWED UNTIL I DECIDED to go with Time Out NY.
6. The most interesting person I met at Time Out NY was the associate photo editor. She's extremely DEDICATED & CULTURED and that's what I admire and respect about her. The most interesting experience was seeing how magazines are put together.
7. I've learned to STAY FOCUSED. It's an extremely competitive field where it becomes very easy to let people distract you. YOU CAN'T GIVE UP AND LET PEOPLE'S OPINIONS AFFECT YOU. I've also learned to stay active in the field, whether it be trying different things or networking.
8. I plan on hopefully being a photo editor for a fashion magazine. In the next year I'll be occasionally shooting film for Time Out NY. But my MAIN FOCUS is to perhaps DO ANOTHER INTERNSHIP and then start pursuing a full-time position.
9. CD – Mary J. bilge, Jamiroquai, the Pharcyde. Book – Joy Luck Club by Amy Tan. Movie – Say Anything. Fruit – I'm not a big fruit fan (can't pick)
10. Anyone who makes it! It's a demanding industry that includes serious dedication, it means literally GIVING ALL YOU HAVE!
11. I admire people who go after the one thing in life that intrigues them.
12. "creative, independent & caring"
13. Photographic Technology – It helped me see how much more creative photography can be once placed completely into your hands through process of exposure and development manipulation.
14. My hobbies include going to MUSEUMS, sightseeing, and PICNICS (although I never get a chance to do them). After work, I like either relaxing or having coffee with friends.
15. Impatience. Its made me not enjoy a lot of simple things in life.
16. My PORTFOLIO. It's who I am, losing it would probably mean losing a part of me.
17. Prague. Its full of culture and beauty and a lot of photographers I've come to respect over the years have settled there.
18. There are some things people should keep to themselves; this is one of them.
19. Running errands, getting things done. It makes me feel accomplished.
20. If someone tries to convince you to do something you don't want to do? Truthfully, I'd tell them to get over it.
21. In general, I think neither American nor Mashadi viewpoints on sex, relationships and marriage are healthy. American culture ABUSES THE IDEA OF SEX, treating it way too casually, while Mashadi culture neglects, sometimes SEX and so on. I think of sex and marriage as SACRED, therefore believing that the ideal healthy mindframe on sex, marriage and relationships should have characteristics of both cultures.
22. Teenagers are educated about Drugs/ Sex mainly by: experience, school and friends (they're related)
23. Teenagers should be educated about Drugs/ Sex mainly: at school but further discussed at home
24. How many kids do you want to have? (just pick a #) 2

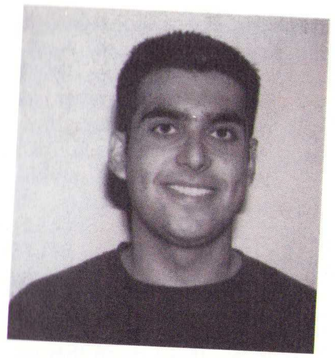
NICK NEMATI



1. Management Consulting/ Deloitte & Touche Consulting Group (DTCG)
2. Cornell University / Computer Science / May 1998
3. Over the course of a full summer, I participated in two client engagements. My first role was in a large investment bank's global foreign exchange group, where I worked on delivering a software selection report. The second part of the internship was in the operations group of an international law firm, where I helped gather and document data for a business process re-engineering effort.
4. In general, the actual work done in consulting is not glamorous (at least in my opinion.) However, some people consider the travel and social events glamorous.
5. DTCG recruited through my university's career office. There were on-campus INTERVIEWS, then on-site INTERVIEWS. Pretty straight forward.
6. All the DTCG interns spent a "team building" weekend in Chicago which was rather MEMORABLE. It was great hanging out with interns from around the country.
7. Most importantly, I GAINED EXPOSURE to management consulting. That exposure proved to be INVALUABLE as most people/students do NOT UNDERSTAND the work involved in management consulting .
8. At the end of the summer, I was extended an offer at DTCG. Although I enjoyed the culture at DTCG, I wanted to perform a full job search before committing. I ended up accepting an offer with ANDERSEN CONSULTING, where I am currently employed. EXPLAINING my job at Andersen is probably the toughest question I get asked, because it's such a broad area (technology consulting, that is.) It's actually very similar to the work done a my internship.
9. FAVORITES: Finally, some relevant internship questions! Notorious BIG/ Ready to Die. I don't read books. Saving Private Ryan. WATERMELLON.
10. Someone in your industry you admire and WHY? GEORGE SHAHEEN (left Andersen Consulting after reaching the top)
11. Someone outside your industry you admire and WHY? BRADFORD WARREN FANELLI. If you've never heard of him, I suggest you look him up on the web.
12. Ambitious, Logical, Jamaican
13. Fundamentals of Just-In-Time Processing (fjp214.) FJP is not only a concept, but A WAY OF LIFE. Great things have, and will come of it in the future.
14. What are some of your HOBBIES? What do you do after work or after school? Play SPORTS, watch MOVIES, fill out SURVEYS. You know, the USUAL STUFF.
15. If you could change 1 thing about yourself what would it be? (&why) My AGE. I'd like to be a teenager again. Things seemed much clearer then.
16. If your house were on fire and you could retrieve 1 thing what would it be? My laminated copy of the first edition of Megillah.
17. If you could be abducted by aliens and dropped off at your destination of choice, where would it be and why? Why doesn't anyone believe me when I tell them about my alien experiences??
18. What is the most meaningful gift you've ever gotten? Tough questions.... Probably some HONEST, life altering ADVICE from a good friend.
19. EAT!! Answer Megillah internship surveys which quickly morph into sex/drug surveys.
20. What do you do or say if someone tries to convince you to do something you don't want to do? POUT.
21. Are mashadi viewpoints on sex, relationships, marriage healthy? Are American viewpoints healthier? Clearly another important internship question. Sure, Mashadi viewpoints on the aforementioned are "healthy." Our relationships may be overly focused on wealth, and status though. American relationships may not be "healthier", but we can definitely gain valuable insights from them.
22. Do you think that teenagers are educated about Drugs/ Sex Education mainly:
a- at school SURE
b- at home SURE
d- from friends DEFINITELY e- by experience MAYBE
f- what education?
23. Do you think teenagers should be educated about Drugs/ Sex mainly:
a- at school
b- at home
c- from friends
d- by experience
My internship stressed that the best method of learning, was hands-on experience.
e- why educate?
24. How many kids do you want to have? (just pick a #) Too soon to be thinking about that... see answer to question 15.

MELISSA GHAFARIAN

1. Investment Banking/ Salomon Smith Barney
2. Hofstra/ B.B.A. summa cum laude in Business Computer Information Systems & Finance/ May 2000
3. I was making stock and mutual fund reports and graphs via computer, spreadsheet analysis of funds, incorporating cost-basis analysis, and dealing with mail mergers.
4. The most glamorous thing I did was working and speaking with the Baldwin family investments. Actor, Billy Baldwin, was a childhood friend of my boss's and also a big client. He would call and very casually say, "Hey Melissa, it's Billy - what's new with you?" The least glamorous thing was photocopying all the reports I created for the clients as a backup for the company records.
5. I worked closely with a few of my professors and one of them brought up the opportunity.
6. My boss, he is the Vice-President of Investments. He was definitely such an intel!igent individual. He taught me so much about making better decisions, both career wise and in general, such as investment opportunities and the importance of furthering education.
7. TIME MANAGEMENT SKILLS: I learned that the only way I could DEAL with school life, this demanding yet interesting job, and still have a semi-social life, was to make sure I PACED MYSELF and kept my PRIORITIES straight.
8. Yes, I had a job offer from my firm and other investment banking firms. However, I took a job in my other area of specialty, computer programming and web-design and development, which I really enjoy as well. At the same time, I have been accepted into graduate school and am currently attending Hofstra University for my M.B.A.
9. CD: Sarah MacLachlan - Surfacing Book: The Catcher in the Rye by J.D. Salinger Movie: Titanic & Meet the Parents Fruit: MANGO
10. I admire Abby Joseph Cohen of Goldman, Sachs & Co. I really look up to her STRONG CHARACTER, DETERMINATION, & INTELLIGENCE. It is important to me that not only is she a female that is so highly respected by her colleagues, but that she is a Jewish female. Her advice has strongly impacted and motivated many individuals in our society. She is a role model for many Jewish females, proving that WE TOO CAN MOVE FAR IN LIFE.
11. This was a tough question because I couldn't pick one answer. I admire my father and my mother. My FATHER attended UCLA in California, one of the TOP UNIVERSITIES in America, at a time when EDUCATION was not viewed as NECESSARY and was viewed as an extra expense. However, my FATHER made the right DECISION to attend college regardless of societal PRESSURES, and I respect that, and look up to him for that. My MOTHER got married and came to the U.S. in the early 1970s where she concluded high school in New Jersey. At the time, everyone still lived in Iran, which made her rather INDEPENDENT and involved in the rather competitive workforce. Together, my parents worked hard to lead a SUCCESSFUL life for their family, and I would like to follow their path someday. My parents taught me that YOU SHOULD NEVER GIVE UP ON WHAT YOU BELIEVE IN.
12. determined, outgoing, perfectionist
13. Quantitative Methods (QM) 001 - Statistical Analysis--This class was a classic, for those mesh that were in my class, they would say the same. We had an Iranian professor, Dr. Paknejad, and I never thought I'd laugh so much in a statistics class....ahaha.
14. I like to DANCE, draw, and PAINT in my spare time.
15. Sometimes I wish I were less of a perfectionist. It's my nature to want to get everything done in the exact way I want to get it done, which gets to be a tad stressful sometimes.
16. Hmmm...interesting question...that would have to be MY COMPUTER. I worked through many sleepless nights for those files saved on my hard drive.
17. Definitely ISRAEL: it is probably the most beautiful and heart-warming place in the world. I have been there twice before, once with the MYC and more recently this past January. These have been the best experiences of my life! I feel so welcome there and hope to return in the near future.
18. HEALTH from G-d and LOVE from my FAMILY. Without the SUPPORT of the people that love me, I don't think I would be where I am today.
19. Sitting outside on a park bench and chatting on my cell phone.
20. RELAX--I don't think so.
21. Mashadis have healthy morals for youth growing up in America. They teach the youth to stick together and observe the traditions of Jewish Mashadi life, while allowing us to grow as successful young Americans. Although there are many limitations in our community, it will help all of us in living better lives in the future.
22. AT SCHOOL
23. at school & AT HOME
24. ummm...haven't thought of that yet...but I guess some...

ROBERT SALOMON NOWBAKHT

1. Investment Banking, GoldNames Inc.
2. Yeshiva University – Double Majoring in Finance & Management – May 2003
3. During my three month internship over the summer I was mostly working with the Internet. My job consisted of financial analysis, industry analysis, industry research, & online research. I also helped the German & French Market Teams. I pioneered marketing strategies for the German Speaking Market, and I also assisted the Business Team.
4. In the last days, the German Market Manager empowered me to contact potential customers in Germany & Austria with the goal of making them buy domain names related to their business. The experience of acting internationally made me feel important and useful. One of the less glamorous things I had to do was to examine GoldNames' new-posted Web Site for bugs. Every two weeks we had a Q&A session where everyone was supposed to check the Web Site out for new bugs.
5. It was clear to me that I wanted to do an internship in ISRAEL. I was very optimistic to find an Internet Start-Up. By February I started my research, which lead me to KEDMA, an organization helping JEWISH students from North America & Europe, to find an internship in their fields in Israel. They offered me several CHOICES in and I DECIDED to apply for GoldNames. When I went to Israel for Passover, I was interviewed twice. By the time I returned to New York, I found a positive answer.
6. There was not 'one' most interesting person in the company. I worked with A TEAM of highly professional people, and EVERY single person had a grandiose background. All left a safe, 6 digit salary, in America & Europe, to live in Israel and contribute their skills to the nation's development.
7. I learned a lot about computers, the Internet, and the domain names field. I discovered cool & useful Web Sites (insider links). I learned to be a TEAM PLAYER, which is not only an essential feature in today's work environment but also the KEY TO SUCCESS. The most significant point though is that I made precious contacts for my entire life.
8. I don't think my focus will be specifically on Internet domain names. However, I am definitely interested to be active in investment-banking, as well as in the brokerage & computer/internet field. This industry has lots of potential to offer our generation. Years ago, people with computer skills were highly distinctive. Today, if one has no computer & Internet aptitude, he is considered an outsider.
9. CD: YANNI ➔ just wonderful! Book: "Der gelbe Vogel" The Yellow Bird, by Miron Levy. Movie: Don't really have 1 favorite. But I have to pick one: SHINDLER'S LIST.Fruit: Cherries & Chinese Apples
10. To be honest: NO ONE.
11. I admire G-d, the Creator of Universe. He CREATED the two most wonderful things we have: THE WORLD IN ITS ENTIRETY & THE HUMAN BEING.
12. I dislike doing that. But I will try: perfectionist, down to earth, & musical.
13. I am only in my third semester now, so I did not go through many classes yet. But so far, I adored my MIS (Management Information Systems) course, for a very simple reason: The teacher was great! He was a WONDERFUL PERSON with incredible knowledge, but behaved like a fellow student, not a teacher. The student body elected him to be 'Professor of the Year 1999', which proves the wide IMPACT OF HIS CHARACTER.
14. I enjoy sports, especially tennis, & other types of physical activities. I love to sing, which I don't do exclusively under the shower. I am also passionate about the world news: I always look for the latest, breaking news, & mostly know it before even mentioned on radio or TV (Online is faster!) After classes, the day is almost over. Besides studying and going through my 800 page thick Finance textbook, I call friends in Germany & France, & write emails.
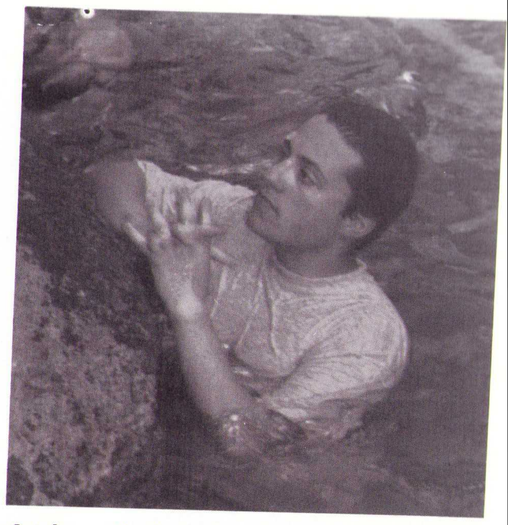
15. Could change?! As long as changing is in order to become better it should remain our daily duty. Thinking that we cannot change is a widespread misunderstanding in our society. If we really strive for something, many doors are open before us, and we should be the last ones to avoid our own change.



16. I wouldn't even think for a minute. I would just retrieve MYSELF, because there is NOTHING MORE PRESTIGIOUS than one's LIFE. I would just try to get out of the house & say to G-d: THANK YOU for having me saved.
17. If the destination must be on the earth, I will choose the DEAD SEA. It's the most beautiful place on earth (with the yellow moon above the quiet water). If the destination could be anything, I would choose PARADISE.
18. The LIFE that was given to me. The privilege to live, to be healthy, and to have a wonderful family is the most significant gift one can get.
19. I mostly go online, check my stocks, my emails, and of course: the news.
20. A valuable characteristic I have is that I can control myself and it's usually I who have power about others and not others about me. So basically PEOPLE HAVE NO CHANCE TO GET ME TO DO SOMETHING I DON'T WANT TO DO.
21. Neither the Mashadi, nor the American point of view is healthy. The absolute healthiest is the Jewish point of view. Indeed, to marry is a fundamental Mitzvah in Judaism. The first commandment of our Torah is 'Be fruitful and multiply yourselves!' Marriage and building a family should play a major role in our lives although, we SHOULD NOT RUSH IT.
22. From friends & by experience.
23. At school & at home.
24. How many G-d wants to gift me, & my future wife will want to have.

TONY CARMILI

1. Public Accounting/ KPMG Peat Marwick
2. Hofstra / Accounting/ December '97
3. I interned as an Auditor. I assisted an Auditing team from my company in auditing the financial statements of large companies. Some of my clients included Cablevision, Entenmanns Bakery Goods and Scudder Mutual Funds.
4. Since there really wasn't too much formal training, I was expected to contribute to every audit to the best of my abilities. However, on one of my client assignments our audit team was faced with a major deadline and I WAS ASKED to do work that was usually done by people TWO YEARS ABOVE me. I ended up WORKING throughout the night for two straight weeks in order to meet our deadline while other interns were leaving their jobs about 5 o'clock everyday. I know IT DOESN'T SOUND so glamorous but I FELT REALLY IMPORTANT. The least glamorous...easy: I had to make 25 photocopies of a 300 page book. It took me two days!
5. I got my internship through Hofstra's Internship Program.
6. My most interesting experience was when I had to interview the CEO of a large public company who had a notorious reputation of being a real you know what. I'm happy to say I got through it alive.
7. I learned that in order to accomplish your tasks you have to ESTABLISH POSITIVE RELATIONSHIPS with every person you meet whether or not you like them. You NEVER KNOW whose help you're going to need and in the business world IT'S IMPOSSIBLE to do EVERYTHING ON YOUR OWN.
8. I actually did end up going into this field and working for KPMG. I worked as an auditor for a little over a year and passed the CPA exam but then decided that I wanted to explore other opportunities in the financial world. I didn't feel as if this was the type of job I could see myself doing in ten years but at the same time I knew that I had something concrete to fall on if I ever decided to get back into public accounting. So I took the fact that I was still very young and used everything I had learned in college to land myself a job as an EQUITY TRADER in the STOCK MARKET. I now work as an equity trader for the hedge fund Titan Capital Management. It's important to know that an internship doesn't marry you to its specific industry for life and instead will teach you valuable things that you will be able to take with you in what ever you decide to go into.
9. Favorites: CD -Guns N' Roses- Appetite For Destruction, Book -DON'T HAVE ONE, Movie -"GO" and "Sleepers", Fruit- MANGO
10. The person I admire in my industry would have to be Jonathan Aminoff. His SUCCESS in the stock market does not compare to the amount of hard work and confidence he puts into his job everyday. He is a GREAT LEADER and naturally possesses the POSITIVE ATTITUDE that is sorely needed to succeed in this business when times are good and even bad.
11. The person I admire outside my industry is my FATHER. He has shown me that if you WORK HARD IN LIFE and believe in what you do, you can achieve any and every dream you PUT YOUR MIND TO.
12. Perfectionist, Competitive, Rational.
13. My favorite class was SPEECH. Until then, I had a fear of speaking to a large audience. Not only did this class help me get over it, but also it taught me how to properly conduct myself in other important situations such as job interviews.
14. My HOBBIES include playing basketball, skiing, listening to music, collecting newspaper covers of historical events, and of course BOTHERING MY SISTERS. After work? I take a short NAP, eat DINNER and then either prepare myself for work for the next day, watch T.V., or GO OUT with my FRIENDS.
15. I wish I could speak more languages fluently. It would make it a lot easier to understand what my Italian friends are talking about.
16. Besides SAVING MY FAMILY, the first thing that came to mind if my house was on fire was to save my TEFFILIN.
17. Amongst many other places, I would like to be on a LEDGE of an airplane with a parachute on my back getting ready to JUMP over the beaches of SPAIN. I've always wanted to sky dive and I COULD USE A VACATION right NOW.
18. Most meaningful GIFT? Last year I got a phone call on my birthday from my high school FRIEND who was in the ISRAELI ARMY. It was SEVEN years since I had spoken to him and he still REMEMBERED my birthday.
19. Other than eating lunch I like to take a NAP, watch T.V., or go SHOPPING.
20. Tough question. I would probably explain that I am TOO BUSY TO DO IT, which is usually the truth. Apparently it didn't work for this questionnaire...
21. Are Mashadi viewpoints on sex, relationships, marriage healthy? Are American viewpoints healthier? Mashadi's viewpoints are definitely healthier. NO COMMENT.
22. I believe that teenagers are educated through and from all their surroundings but will usually do what is right or wrong BASED ON WHAT THEY LEARN FROM HOME.
23. At home, from family.
24. How many kids do you want to have? (just pick a #) Four

JUDY BASSALY

1. Estee Lauder Inc.-International Marketing Division
2. NYU/ Communications/ 2003
3. I had the privilege of working throughout the International dept. I primarily worked with Cheryl Brown, the Executive Director of International Fragrance marketing. My tasks included refining competitive ad files and history, cataloging perfume compacts, coordinating photography samples for catalogs, and updating competitive European fragrance rankings. I also worked with the International marketing team in collating and distributing bulletins for cosmetic launches. I was also fortunate enough to have worked with the Executive Director of Finance for two weeks. Prior to my internship, I was looking to major in finance, but after working with numbers for two weeks I decided it was not something I was interested in.
4. One thing I realized during my internship was that MOST JOBS ARE NOT as glamorous AS THEY APPEAR to be. IF I HAD TO PICK a "glamorous" moment, it would have to be when I went on a PHOTO SHOOT for Estee Lauder print ads. I basically spent one day in a studio arranging fragrances and makeup pallets that were photographed for newspaper and magazine ads. The least glamorous thing that I had to do was PHOTOCOPYING. I have officially MASTERED the photocopy machine.
5. In high school I was in a program that gave me the OPPORTUNITY to do an internship for the second semester of my senior year. One of my friends who was in the program told me that her aunt (Cheryl Brown) worked for Estee Lauder corporate. I called and arranged for an interview. A few weeks later I was informed that I got the internship.
6. The most interesting experience I had was when I bumped into Donald Trump in the lobby of the General Motors Building – where I worked.
7. I learned so much, but the most important thing was that if you want to get anywhere in life YOU HAVE TO WORK HARD. I also learned that YOU CAN DO ANYTHING YOU WANT TO DO, and you should NEVER LIMIT YOURSELF.... PURSUE YOUR DREAMS!
8. Although I VENTUALLY want to go into BUSINESS, I don't think I'd like to work in the cosmetic industry. My experience was great, BUT I don't find this industry to be very interesting. What I ENJOYED most, was that it is a BIG COMPANY. In the FUTURE I hope to work for a large company.
9. I don't really have a favorite CD but my favorite recording artist would have to be STING. BOOK: The World According to Garp, by John Irving. MOVIE: Good Will Hunting. FRUIT: STRAWBERRIES.
10. I really don't admire anyone in this industry.
11. One person that I truly admire is my FATHER. He came from Iran (like most Mashadis) and started his own company from nothing. He didn't speak much English and really didn't have a clue as to how to run a business in America. Over the years I've grown to not only admire, but honor and respect the HARD WORK my father does in order to provide for his family. I hope to one day be as successful and hard working as he, but more importantly, I hope to love my work as much as he loves his.
12. Opinionated, Caring, Independent.
13. INDIVIDUALS & SOCIETY. It's a philosophy class that explores the writings of philosophers such as Plato, Aristotle, Macciaveli, Hobbes, Locke, etc. Although I WON'T PURSUE a career in PHILOSOPHY, I find it to be very INTERESTING, and I hope that it will make me a WELL-ROUNDED PERSON.
14. My HOBBIES include watching TV, READING, travelling, going to MUSEUMS/movies, skiing, JOGGING, and just hanging out with friends.
15. There are a lot of things that I'd like to change about myself, but then I wouldn't be who I am today. I think that sometimes we take what we have for granted. The more we change about ourselves the more we forget how FORTUNATE we were to begin with.
16. Assuming all members of my family were safe, I'd save all my PICTURES. Photographs are our recorded memories.
17. If aliens abducted me, I'd ASK THEM to TAKE ME to their planet. I'd love to KNOW FOR SURE if there's LIFE ON OTHER PLANETS.
18. I never really got a meaningful gift... the most meaningful part is the CAR
19. Washington Square Park during my lunch break and just hang out with my friends. COP-A-SQUAT on the GRASS play some MUSIC, and just RELAX.
20. I'm pretty BLUNT when it comes t saying WHAT'S ON MY MIND. If someone asked me to do something didn't want to do, I'd just tell them.
21. I RESPECT the way Mashadis feel about SEX & MARRIAGE, but sometime I feel that their attitudes towards relationships are WRONG. I think mar people in our community are RELUCTANT to date because they ris BEING RUMORED ABOUT. It's UNHEALTHY to raise Mashadi children in this TYPE OF COMMUNITY. It's DIFFICULT enough to find someone that you WANT to HAVE a RELATIONSHIP with, even more so when your community talks about it. Our community needs to RESPECT eac other's PRIVACY in these circumstances
22. I think students are mainly educate at SCHOOL.
23. I think students should be educated at HOME as well as at SCHOOL. It's important for children to have a close relationship with their parents. It's also important for parents to trust their children. Often PARENTS FEEL tha the only way to PROTECT their children from doing the WRONG thing is by BEING OVERPROTECTIVE. In many cases this is NOT TRUE. Most children are smart enough to do the right thing; PARENTS just HAVE TO GIVE them the opportunity to experience the world for themselves.
24. I hope to have many children, but the number doesn't matter as long a they're all healthy.

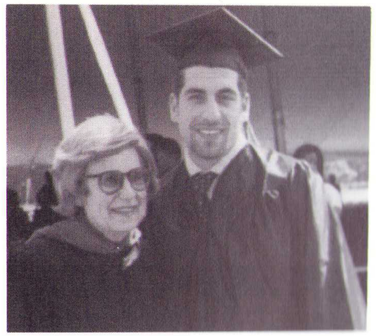
DORON HAKIMIAN



1. Architecture/Lloyd Goldfarb & Ass.
2. NYIT/ 5-year B.A. Architecture/ 1998
3. I did EVERYTHING from answering PHONES, SPEAKING to other professionals in the FIELD regarding drawing DETAILS, and DRAWING and SKETCHING anything from BATHROOM fixtures to actual FOUNDATION PLANS for BUILDINGS.
4. My most glamorous experience was helping with the INITIAL DESIGN process of the new Great Neck Water Authority building off of Bayview Ave and actually having an IMPACT on how the building LOOKS today. My least glamorous experience was DIGGING up SOIL SAMPLES from a barren, MUDDY construction SITE on a hot summer day.
5. My Architecture professor who asked me to help him over the summer gave me the opportunity for the internship.
6. Meeting actual blue collar construction workers on the job site and seeing them work in challenging weather conditions digging deep muddy trenches for foundations, or working precariously on steel beams high above the ground. These less glamorous components are as critical to putting a project safely together. They may not receive all the accolades, but they have the satisfaction of knowing they had a part in creating a finished project.

7. I LEARNED that putting a building together is much MORE INTRICATE than it SEEMS. There are MORE STAGES to reaching COMPLETION than just the physical aspects. There are also the POLITICAL and LEGAL phases. I also learned that there are NUMEROUS PEOPLE involved in the PROCESS.
8. Unfortunately, I did not continue with architecture after completing my studies. As much as I wanted to use my CREATIVITY on something that I love to do, my family needed me in the business; I was brought up to believe that family is the most important element in life. Fortunately, having a background in architecture assisted in the jewelry business as the construction and design methods in architecture are similar to those in jewelry. Both take time and skill to master. The study of space and the balance in composition allowed me to appreciate the better jewelry designs to manufacture.
9. CD- Pearl Jam's "Ten" BOOK- Idiots Guide to Jewish History and Culture MOVIE- With Honors. GRAPEFRUIT.
10. For the Swiss born architect and city planner, Lecorbusier (1887-1965), architecture constituted a NOBLE ART, a higher calling in which he combined plastic INVENTION, INTELLECT and higher MATHEMATICS to go BEYOND STYLE. A principal profit of the modern movement in architecture and a near LEGENDARY figure of the international school. He designed some of the 20th century's most MEMORABLE buildings, including the office tower of the United Nations in NY. His 5 points of architecture, which included the use of columns, open ground floors, and free facades, helped make his buildings more airy and seem to float, in contrast to the grounded heavy masonry buildings of his time.

Dove's JEWELRY DESIGNS™

11. Holden Caufield from Catcher In the Rye. His quest for INDEPENDENCE always INSPIRED me to be more open-minded and LIBERAL and to believe that I could ACHIEVE anything I TRULY BELIEVED IN The fact that at the end of the novel, he WENT BACK HOME for the sake of his sister REMINDS ME of how I entered the jewelry business for the LOVE OF MY FAMILY.
12. Creative, humorous, open-minded
13. Architectural History. I learned how you can take from the old and learn from it, and make the new even better. I learned how much knowledge people thousands of years ago had and their conquest to completing beautiful and functional buildings for their love of religion or their culture as opposed to individual and economic benefits.
14. My hobbies are free hand drawing and video games. After work I like to RELAX at home by watching a movie or READING and hanging out with friends.
15. I would want to be more patient with others and myself. Patience is the guide to learning and understanding.
16. My photo album and sketch book. The key to survival is the recollection of past times and LEARNING FROM EXPERIENCES. My photo album is filled with pictures and memories of various events I want to keep with me forever. My sketchbook allows me to REVISIT PLACES I've been to and drew.
17. Florence, Italy when the buildings we see now were in the making and Renaissance was at its PEAK.
18. A mezuzah my mom gave me using the first dollars I ever made. I wear it to REMIND me of my ACCOMPLISHMENTS and to motivate me to continue to WORK HARD and achieve my GOALS.
19. Taking a breather from stress of work and relaxing. Taking time to reflect on other aspects of life rather than work.
20. I am a very submissive person and don't find myself putting up much of a fight, which often leads me to giving in.
21. MASHADI VIEWPOINTS are HEALTHY, though not always REALISTIC. Having a LIMITED POOL of INDIVIDUALS to choose from makes for heated COMPETITION and slow progress in finding the ultimate mate. Though, the idea of community togetherness makes it comforting to know you ALWAYS HAVE PEOPLE there for you.
22. C) Friends
23. B) Home
24. As many as G-d blesses me with.

Anonymous Or Not!

One of the important functions of Megillah is to allow an open expression and exchange of opinions regarding community-related issues. We often receive anonymous letters that we would certainly wish to be able to print. Unfortunately, we are unable to.

Megillah, just like any other publication that abides by professional journalistic principals, does not accept submissions or letters received anonymously. In order to maintain integrity, we must be able to verify and demonstrate the authenticity of a submission.

We understand that in a certain rare case the author might want to withhold his or her name. Occasionally, we can accommodate this request. Our policy dictates that at least one of our editors must be able to authenticate any letter or article that we publish. Even so, we insist that our writers stand behind their opinions, as this adds strength to any argument.

We will not weaken the magazine's content by encouraging articles whose authors hide behind their anonymity.

- Editorial Staff

Guidelines for Articles

- We will consider articles, opinion pieces, short stories, poems.
- We promise lots of readers.
- Write anything you feel passionate about.
- You do not need to be an experienced writer.
- If you're having difficulty, imagine you're writing to your best friend. If you don't have a best friend, imagine you have one.
- Keep your article between 500 and 800 words if possible.
- Try to submit a relevant photo or two with your piece.
- Submissions may be edited as necessary.
- Include your complete name, telephone #, email address.
- Attach your article as a word document and email to megillah5761@hotmail.com or mycny@aol.com
- Otherwise, include article in an email, or, fax or snail mail accepted.
- Anonymous pieces will not be considered except in life threatening circumstances. Even then, author's identity must be known to at least one editor.

Meet the Members

Don't ask what you can do for the community, ask what the community can do for you! Or was it the other way around? Don't ask what the community can do for you, ask what you can do for the community! Either way we're talking about service here. And we aim to please. Who is the MYC? What does the MYC do? Who is the Central Board? What does the CB do? WE INVITE ALL CURRENT AND UPCOMING MYC MEMBERS AS WELL AS ALL CB MEMBERS TO DO THE QUESTIONNAIRE.

How do we IMPROVE OUR POSITION in society, especially as part of a greater community?
Where do you SEE OUR COMMUNITY 5 years from now, 10 years from now, 20 years from now?
What are some of the POSITIVE THINGS we NEED to EMPHASIZE and SHOULD EMPHASIZE as a growing community?
What are some of the ISSUES OR PROBLEMS that should be addressed among the youth or ELDERS?
How do we improve OUR IMAGE - and no, not clothes, cars, shoes. You know - how people sometimes think of us. It's gotta be based on something!
Not that we have any PROBLEMS, but how do we thwart MATERIALISM, 'lashon-hara', drug use?
How do we increase our sense of pride and belonging, EDUCATION, and TRUST?
How do we increase our RESPECT for one another, and others' RESPECT for us?
ASSIMILATION: Should we? Shouldn't we? What can we adopt from American culture? What should we keep from our own?
What are your EXPECTATIONS or DEMANDS for the MYC or CB?
Have an idea? Want to suggest it? Better yet: Try executing it!

Think about it: If you come up with anything, email: megillah5761@hotmail.com fax MYC: 516.829.2822

What's your Viewpoint?

گزارش مالی انجمن مرکزی

Financial Statement of the Central Board of the United Mashadi Jewish Community of America
September 1, 1999 - August 31, 2000
اول سپتامبر ۱۹۹۹ تا ۳۱ آگوست ۲۰۰۰

انجمن مرکزی بدینوسیله گزارش مالی سال گذشته سازمان یهودیان مشهدی متحد مقیم امریکا را (از اول سپتامبر ۱۹۹۹ تا آخر آگوست ۲۰۰۰) برای اطلاع اعضای محترم جامعه منتشر مینماید.

هدایا و کاودهای جمع آوری شده مربوط به تعهداتی است که در «مشهدی جوئیش سنتر – شعره شالوم» بعمل آمده و همچنین مینیان های موقتی که توسط انجمن مرکزی در هتل هیلتون هانتینگتون و سالن رستوران کلبه در یوم کیپور تشکیل شده است.

ضمنا" به اطلاع جامعه محترم میرسانیم که کاودهای دریافتی کنیساهای شعره طوا و شیرا خداشا (به غیر از کاودهای مربوط به سیمخا توراه) بر خلاف مندرجات مصوبه اساسنامه جامعه به صندوق مرکزی برای مخارج برنامه های مختلف جامعه پرداخت نمیگردد.

انجمن مرکزی از اعتماد اعضای محترم جامعه به این سازمان و کاودهای سخاوتمندانه آنان صمیمانه قدردانی مینماید. در سال گذشته بیش از ۲,۱۳۴,۰۰۰ دلار به صندوق انجمن واریز گردیده که نمودار ۲۰ درصد اضافه کاود نسبت به سال ۱۹۹۹ میباشد. این کاودها باعث گردید که انجمن مرکزی علاوه بر بودجه جاری خود بتواند بدهی های خود را به بانک ها بمبلغ متجاوز از ۵۰۰,۰۰۰ دلار تقلیل دهد و در ضمن مبلغی حدود ۵۲۷,۰۰۰ دلار برای تکمیل کردن ساختمان کنیسا پرداخت گردد.

The Central Board is pleased to submit the financial report for the United Mashadi Jewish Community of America, Inc for the fiscal year ending August 31, 2000.

The donations (Kavods) collected are from the pledges made in the Mashadi Jewish Center of Great Neck (Shaare Shalom), and the temporary Minyans organized by the Central Board at the Huntington Hilton and Colbeh for Yom Kippur. It must be noted that the pledges made in Shaare Tova and Shira Chadasha (except for Simcha Torah) are kept by these Synagogues because they have chosen not to join Central billing (as mandated in the Community By-Laws), and do not contribute to the Community programs and institutions under the umbrella of the Central Board.

The Central Board expresses its sincere appreciation for the generous donations made by the Community exceeding $2,134,000.00 during the last fiscal year. This represents a 20% increase over Kavod's collected in the previous year. These funds have enabled the Board to reduce the community debt to banks by over $500,000 and to pay for the completion of at the Mashadi Jewish Center of Great Neck (Shaare Shalom) in the amount of about $527,000. The payments were made in addition to all of the operating expenses.

سوز عشق

سرمست اگر درآیی، عالم بهم برآید
خاک وجود ما را، گرد از عدم برآید
گر پرتوی ز رویت، در کنج خاطر افتد
خلوت نشین جان را، آه از حرم برآید
گلدستهء امیدی، بر جان عاشقان نه
تا رهروان غم را، خار از قدم برآید
گفتی بکام روزی، با تو دمی برآرم
آن کام بر نیامد، ترسم که دم برآید
عاشق بگشتم ار چه، دانسته بودم اول
که تخم عشقبازی، شاخ ندم برآید
گویند دوستانم، سودا و ناله تا کی
سودا ز عشق خیزد، ناله ز غم برآید
دل رفت و صبر و دانش، ما مانده ایم و جانی
ور زانکه غم غم تست، آن نیز هم برآید
هر دم ز سوز عشقت، سعدی چنان بنالد
کز شعر سوزناکش، دود از قلم برآید

تعرفه گمرکی بین این سه کشور بمقدار زیادی و از روی حدود ۹۰ درصد از کالاها برداشته شد و تجارت آزاد اعلام گردید. محافل بازرگانی اعلام داشتند که دولت مکزیک بیش از دو دولت دیگر از این قرارداد سود برده است. اما مطلعین معتقد بودند که سود امریکا هم کمتر نیست زیرا دولت امریکا به هر صورت چاره ای جز این نداشته است که اقتصاد مکزیک را که متزلزل بوده نگهداری نماید. به علاوه با اجرای این قرارداد صادرات امریکا به مکزیک، سالیانه حدود بیست درصد افزایش خواهد یافت. میزان این صادرات تاکنون سالیانه ۵۰ بیلیون دلار بوده است. میزان کل تجارت ۳ کشور سالیانه به ۳۰۰ بیلیون دلار برآورد شده است. بعد از انعقاد قرارداد وضع «پزوی» مکزیک که در مقابل ارز خارجی تنزل شدید کرده بود بهبود یافت ودولت مکزیک امیدوار است که منبعد سرمایه های خارجی در مکزیک سرمایه گذاری نمایند؛ کما اینکه کارخانه های بزرگ اتومبیل سازی امریکا برای این منظور برنامه هائی در دست اجرا دارند.

جنگ داخلی افغانستان (۱۹۹۲)

بعد از خروج شوروی از افغانستان جنگ بین جبهه های مختلف ادامه یافت. محمد نجیب ا لله خان، نخست وزیر دوره کمونیسم هم فراری شد و حکومت او ساقط گردید. در سال ۹۲ جنگهای عمده ای بین دو جبهه مخالف صورت گرفت. یکی از آنها احمد شاه مسعود رهبر حزب اسلامی و دیگری گلبدین حکمت یار رهبر جامعه اسلامی میباشند که هر دو برای تصرف کابل با هم مبارزه میکنند و البته هر کدام در افغانستان حامیان و طرفدارانی دارند. به هر صورت نتایج این جنگها بطوریکه آمار منتشره نشان میدهد تا کنون بیش از ۵۰ هزار کشته و چند میلیون آواره و بی خانمان داشته است. آوارگان بیشتر به کشورهای ایران و پاکستان روی آورده اند و نتایج این پیکار معلوم نیست.

«کامن ولت» جدید روسیه (۱۹۹۲)

رهبران ۱۱ جمهوری سابق شوروی تشکیل یک «کامن ولت» یعنی اتحادیه جدید دادند بنام:
آنها در مینسک بیلوروسی ملاقات نمودند و بحث در باره تشکیل یک ارتش دفاعی متحد را دنبال نمودند که جایگزین ارتش سرخ اتحاد شوروی سابق شود. جمهوری اوکراین با طرح مزبور مخالفت کرد چون اوکراین بعد از روسیه بزرگترین و ثروتمندترین عضو اتحادیه میباشد و از

جدائی چارلز و دیانا (۱۹۹۲)

نخست وزیر بریتانیا جان میجر در یک مصاحبه تلویزیونی اطلاع داد که پرنس چارلز ۴۴ ساله و همسرش پرنس دیانا ۳۱ ساله بواسطه اختلاف تصمیم به جدائی گرفته اند که البته شامل طلاق نخواهد بود. آنها به اتفاق مسئولیت بزرگ کردن دو پسر خود را خواهند داشت و همچنین در آینده وظایف خود را بعنوان شاه و ملکه بریتانیا انجام خواهند داد. این جدائی بدنبال چند ماه اختلاف بروز کرد و رفتار آنها در اجتماعات نشان میداد که علاقه ای به هم ندارند. بعد از این جریان بسیاری از انگلیسی ها فکر می کنند که چارلز هیچوقت پادشاه نخواهد شد و تاج و تخت را به پسر بزرگش ویلیام واگذار خواهد کرد.

در همین سال دوک آف یورک نیز همسرش سارا را طلاق داده بود. پرنس آن نیز در تابستان از همسرش طلاق گرفته در دسامبر دوباره ازدواج کرده بود. اما پرنس ادوارد چهارم تا این تاریخ ازدواج نکرده است. بهمین مناسبت ملکه الیزابت سال ۱۹۹۲ را یک سال وحشتناک برای خانواده سلطنتی دانست.

پیروزی حزب محافظه کار (۱۹۹۲)

تلسکوپ هابل در فضا (۱۹۹۲)

ناسا مؤسسه تحقیقات فضائی امریکا یک تیم ۷ نفره را به مدار زمین فرستاد که با تلسکوپ هابل که از سال قبل به مدار زمین پرتاب شده بود تماس گرفته و تعمیرات لازم را انجام دهند. تلسکوپ هابل در پانصد کیلومتری زمین با سرعت بیست هزار کیلومتر در ساعت بدور زمین گردش میکند و اسرار کرات سماوی را با ارسال عکس های متعدد به زمین مخابره مینماید. امریکائی ها قبلا" هم یک تلسکوپ عظیم در هاوائی در قله کوه ماناواکی نصب کرده بودند که مبتکر آن ادوین هابل ستاره شناس معروف بوده است و تاکنون بسیاری از رموز کائنات را کشف نموده است و بدین لحاظ نام این تلسکوپ ها هابل گذارده شده است.

حمله قوای سازمان ملل به عراق (۱۹۹۱)

۱۵ ژانویه - چون صدام حسین به اخطار سازمان ملل مبنی بر خروج سربازان عراقی از کویت وقعی ننهاد، ایالات متحده و سایر ملل عضو شورای امنیت جنگ را علیه عراق در ۱۶ ژانویه آغاز نمودند. آغاز جنگ با حملات هوائی شدید علیه مواضع عراقی منجمله فرودگاهها و نیروی هوائی، وسائل ارتباطی، پایگاه های موشک های اسکاد، پالایشگاه های نفتی، جاده ها و پل ها شروع شد و بعد از ۱۵ روز نیروهای زمینی نیز وارد پیکار شدند و ضربات خرد کننده به هدف های خود در عراق وارد آوردند بطوریکه صدام حسین مجبور شد به نیروهای خود فرمان عقب نشینی از کویت بدهد و بعد از عقب نشینی و تخلیه کامل کویت، پرزیدنت جرج بوش به نیروهای خود و سایر کشورها دستور آتش بس صادر نمود. عراقی ها قبل از عقب نشینی کلیه چاههای نفت کویت را به آتش کشیدند که خاموش کردن آنها بوسیله متخصصان امریکائی مدت ها بطول انجامید. از شرایط آتش بس جنگ با عراق این بود که دولت عراق از ساختن سلاح های شیمیائی یا هسته ای ممنوع گردد و نمایندگان سازمان ملل بتوانند در هر موقع خاک عراق را در این مورد بازرسی نمایند. ولی آینده نشان داد که دولت عراق باز هم از این شرایط سر باز زده و بکمک متخصصان آلمانی مشغول توسعه سلاح های هسته ای میباشد. عراق از آغاز مدت ۴۲ روزه جنگ شروع به پرتاب موشک های اسکاد به خاک ایسرائل نمود به این حساب که ایسرائل را به جنگ بکشاند و دول عرب را با خود متحد نماید ولی نقشه او عملی نشد چون دولت ایسرائل به توصیه دولت ایالات متحده از هر گونه پاسخ گوئی به عراق خودداری نمود و عراق در جنگ خلیج تنها و بی یار و یاور قرار گرفت و وقتی در ۲۷ فوریه آتش بس برقرار شد بیش از ۸۰ درصد تانکها و آرایش جنگی عراق نابود شده، ۸۵,۰۰۰ سرباز عراقی کشته و ۳۳,۰۰۰ تلفات هم به کویتی ها وارد شده بود.

در خاتمه جنگ، برخی محافل بین المللی دولت ایالات متحده را مورد انتقاد قرار دادند بر اینکه چرا ۴۸ ساعت بیشتر به جنگ ادامه نداد که صدام حسین را بطور قطع مستعفی بنماید. دولت امریکا مدعی شد که رأی شورای امنیت ادامه جنگ را تا بازگشت عراقی ها از کویت اجازه می داد و نه بیشتر و حتی نیروهای سازمان ملل متحد خاک عراق را بعد از آتش بس تخلیه کردند.

قتل نخست وزیر هند (۱۹۹۱)

رجیو گاندی پسر جواهر لعل نهرو و ایندیرا گاندی که بعد از قتل مادرش در سال ۱۹۸۴ در هندوستان زمام امور را در دست گرفته بود ضمن مبارزات انتخاباتی در دور دوم موقعی که به یک سالن کنفرانس میرفت هدف گلوله قرار گرفته و بقتل رسید. (پدرش جواهر لعل نهرو موقعی که هندوستان استقلال گرفت اولین نخست وزیر هند بود) با قتل رجیو گاندی تمام فامیل نهرو در هندوستان از بین رفتند. عامل قتل زنی بود که دسته گلی به رجیو گاندی تقدیم میکرد و در همان اثنا اسلحه ای از زیر پیراهن خود درآورده او را بقتل رسانید. بعداً" معلوم شد زن مزبور از اعضاء سازمان آزادی بخش سریلانکا بوده است که رجیوگاندی از دادن استقلال به آنها خودداری و برای فرونشاندن آتش انقلاب آنها سربازان هندی را به سریلانکا گسیل داشته بود.

سقوط کمونیسم در شوروی (۱۹۹۱)

بعد از اقدامات گورباچف و سقوط کمونیسم و اصرار و پافشاری او در برنامه های اصلاحی، اعضاء پولیت بورو هم با این اصلاحات موافقت نمودند و بعد از یک کودتای سه روزه مخالفین علیه گورباچف که به شکست کودتاچیان منجر شد بالاخره در ۳۰ آگوست ۹۱ پارلمان شوروی با اکثریت ۲۸۳ رأی از ۳۶۴ رأی تصویب کرد که حزب کمونیست در کلیه جمهوری های شوروی برچیده و غیر قانونی اعلام گردد. سپس جمهوری های شوروی بعد از مذاکرات به این نتیجه رسیدند که یک «کامن ولت» یا اتحادیه از کشورهای خود تشکیل دهند که در بین آنها روسیه قدرت برتر و مرکزیت داشته باشد و بالاخره ۱۱ کشور از ۱۵ جمهوری این اتحادیه را پذیرفتند و چون یلتسین نخست وزیر روسیه بود در اتحادیه جای گورباچف را گرفت. جمهوری گرجستان قبولی خود را به آینده موکول نمود. سه جمهوری بالتیک یعنی لتونی، استونی و لیتوانی تقاضای استقلال نمودند که موافقت شد و حتی اتحادیه روسیه با آنها روابط دیپلماتیک دائر نمود. در این ضمن پرچم های داس و چکش از کلیه مراجع دولتی برداشته شد و مجسمه های کمونیست های معروف مثل لنین و استالین از میدانها و ادارات دولتی برداشته شد. یکی دیگر از عواقب این تحولات منحل شدن اتحادیه پیمان ورشو بود زیرا دولت های اروپای شرقی هم یکی بعد از دیگری از قید کمونیسم رهائی یافته بودند و متوجه شدند که باقی ماندن پیمان ورشو دیگر مفهومی نخواهد داشت و ضمن یک جلسه مشترک تصمیم گرفتند که پیمان ورشو را باطل شده اعلام نمایند.

مسئله دیگر پایان گرفتن جنگ سرد بود و همین نکته موجب بهبود روابط امریکا و روسیه گردید. بطوریکه دو سال بعد موقع وخیم شدن اوضاع اقتصادی روسیه دولت های بزرگ معادل ۲۵ میلیارد دلار کمک در اختیار روسیه قرار دادند.

روابط روسیه و ایسرائل (۱۹۹۱)

میخائیل گورباچف قبل از برکناری اقدام به برقراری روابط دیپلماتیک با دولت ایسرائل نمود و در ۱۸ اکتبر ۱۹۹۱ اعلام داشت که دوران ۲۴ ساله قطع روابط پایان یافته و روابط کامل دیپلماسی با ایسرائل برقرار میشود. (در سال ۱۹۴۸ موقع اعلام استقلال ایسرائل روسیه سومین کشوری بود که بعد از امریکا و گواتمالا روابط دیپلماتیک با ایسرائل برقرار کرد) بعد از گشایش مجدد روابط دیپلماتیک، اسحق شامیر نخست وزیر ایسرائل دعوت بوش رئیس جمهور امریکا و گورباچف نخست وزیر شوروی را برای تشکیل یک کنفرانس صلح با اعراب در مادرید مورد قبول قرار داد.

ضعف احتمالی بکوشیم. از جمله مهمترین نکات تحسین برانگیز جامعه یهودیان مشهدی نگهداری شعائر مذهبی، شبات، کشروت و عدم ازدواج با غیر یهودیان و درصد بسیار کم طلاق و عدم گریز جوانان از جامعه و مذهب و بالاخره اتحاد و اتفاق افراد جامعه مشهدی ها با یکدیگر میباشد. متأسفانه اغلب نکات مثبت ذکر گردیده در مورد جامعه مشهدی، در میان سایر جوامع یهودیان ایرانی از استقبال و طرفداری کمتری برخوردار میباشد.

من در این مقاله کوتاه مایلم پیرامون اهمیت داشتن اتحاد و همبستگی تمام افراد جامعه با یکدیگر نظراتم را ابراز دارم. اتحاد و اتفاق در جامعه باعث «شالوم» و صلح وصفا در میان افراد اجتماع میگردد. داشتن همبستگی و یکپارچگی در جامعه ملزم این نکته مهم میباشد که افراد جامعه به نظرات و عقاید و شخصیت های یکدیگر احترام کامل بگذارند.

در تمام اجتماعات پیشرفته و دموکرات افراد صرف نظر از عقاید شخصی و اختلافات ایدئولوژی فکری و مذهبی به یکدیگر احترام کامل میگذارند و گروههای کوچکتر در اجتماع با یکدیگر تبادل نظر و مشورت مینمایند. ولی همواره حد انتقادات و بحث های خویش را رعایت مینمایند تا خدای نکرده اتحاد و همبستگی کل جامعه و در نتیجه صلح و صفا بین افراد آن مختل نگردد، چون اتحاد و یکپارچگی و صلح برای افراد جامعه بسیار مهم و حیاتی میباشد.

اختلاف نظرات و افکار اشخاص جامعه نبایستی خدای نکرده باعث کدورت و کینه و اختلافات شخصی بین آنان گردد.

افراد و گروههائی که مایلند میتصوت و شعائر مذهبی را بیشتر و سخت تر از دیگران نگه دارند نبایستی منتقد سایر افراد اجتماع باشند و بر عکس آن نیز صحیح میباشد. این گروهها و افراد مذهبی تر نبایستی مورد انتقاد افراد و گروههای دیگر واقع گردند. افراد باید دیگران را همانطور که هستند و مایلند زندگی کنند دوست داشته و احترام بگذارند.

من عقیده دارم که بخشی از خداپرستی، همنوع دوستی میباشد. چرا؟ در رسوم و قوانین دین یهود، ما معتقدیم که نشانائی که درون هر فرد یهودی میباشد، در حقیقت ذره و جرقه ایست از نور جلال خد–اوند. بنابراین وقتیکه به همنوع و دوست یهودی مان احترام بگذاریم و وی را دوست بداریم، (صرف نظر از عقاید شخصی او) در حقیقت به خدائی که در وجود وی میباشد احترام گذارده ایم. اگر وی را دوست داشته باشیم، در حقیقت نور و ذره الهی درون وی را دوست داشته ایم. و خد–ای ناکرده بی احترامی به شخص دیگر نیز با این طرز فکر به هیچ وجه جایز نمیباشد.

چنانچه افراد با چنین خوش بینی و احترامی به یکدیگر بنگرند، صلح و صفا و دوستی بین افراد جامعه بمراتب بیشتر میگردد، خدای ناکرده انتقادات تند و کینه توزانه بسیار کمتر گردیده و در نتیجه اتحاد و یکپارچگی و همبستگی و خوشبختی جامعه بیشتر گردیده و تقویت خواهند گردید.

میدانیم یکی از اسامی خد–اوند «شالوم» میباشد، ما باعث «شالوم» یعنی صلح و صفا که نتیجه آن اتفاق و اتحاد در جامعه میباشد باشیم، یعنی اینکه نام خداوند را تقدیس نموده ایم. آرزو دارم خداوند قلبهای همه افراد جامعه یهود را به یکدیگر نزدیک تر نموده و صلح و صفا و اتحاد و اتفاق بین همه آنان برقرار نماید. آمن

خنده

اثر: هاینریخ بول

ترجمه با تصرف : بهروز دیلمانیان

وقتی از من در باره شغلم می پرسند، در می مانم که چه بگویم.

گر چه آدم کم روئی نیستم، سرخ و سفید می شوم و در جواب دادن بلاتکلیف می مانم. کاش جواب ساده ای داشتم که بدهم. مثلا" می گفتم بنّا هستم، آرایشگر هستم، حسابدار هستم یا بلیط سینما می فروشم؛ اینها را مردم می شناسند. اما شغل من «خندیدن» است.

بدنبال این جواب فورا" ابروها بالا می رود و می پرسند: «یعنی چه، یعنی با خندیدن پول در می آوری؟» باید بگویم «بله». من با خندیدن زندگی می کنم و خوب هم زندگی می کنم. خندیدن من متاعی است تجارتی که خیلی خریدار دارد. من بسیار خوب می خندم و در این کار تجربه چندین ساله دارم. هیچکس نمی تواند مثل من بخندد. هیچکس چنین تسلطی به ریزه کاریهای این هنر ندارد.

من مدتها خود را با عنوان «بازیگر» معرفی می کردم اما استعداد من در زمینه تقلید و سخن گوئی بقدری نارسا است که کلمه بازیگر از واقعیت حرفهء من بدور است. من صرفا" «خنده کن حرفه ای» هستم. نه دلقک و نه کمدین. من مردم را خوشحال نمیکنم بلکه خوشحالی را تصویر می کنم.

من هم مثل امپراطور روم می خندم و هم مثل شاگرد مدرسه. هم مثل مردم قرون وسطی، هم قرن بیستم، من میتوانم مثل مردم هر قرن و عصر یا مردم هر سن و سال بخندم.

خنده کوتاه، خندهء طویل، خندهء یک نفس، خنده مقطّع، خنده طبیعی، خنده شرمندگی، خنده وقیح، خنده تحسین، خنده تمسخر، خنده تأئید، خنده بیخود، خنده آرام، قهقهه، خنده ارباب و خنده رعیت؛ استاد همه اینها هستم. مثل خیاط و کفاش که حرفه خود را میدانند، من در سینه خود خنده امریکائی، خنده افریقائی و آسیائی، خنده نژاد سفید، خنده نژاد زرد و خنده سرخپوست، همه را آماده دارم و در مقابل دستمزد کافی، همه جور آنرا تحویل میدهم.

من جزئی جدا نشدنی از برنامه های تفریحی شده ام. تهیه کنندگان نوار و صفحه موسیقی و کارگردان های تلویزیون همه با من با احترام رفتار می کنند. من هم لبخند زدن بلدم، هم پوزخند و هم زهرخند را میدانم. هم خندیدن پر طراوت صبح را، هم خنده خستهء بعد از ظهر، هم خنده رسمی سر میز شام و هم خنده زورکی آخر شب را یاد دارم. بگوئید چگونه خنده ای میخواهید. تحویل دادنش با من.

اینرا بگویم که شغل من بسیار خسته کننده است. مخصوصا" «خنده واگیردار» که رشتهء تخصصی من است مرا بکلی از پا می اندازد اما بسیار مورد تقاضای کمدین های درجه سوم و چهارم است زیرا می ترسند مردم متوجه نکته ها و لطیفه های آنها نشوند. من برای اینجور خندیدن بیشتر شبها تا دیروقت در کافه ها و تماشاخانه ها میان جمعیت می نشینم. وظیفه من اینست که وقتی برنامه شب از رونق افتاده است، در لحظه مناسب بصورت واگیردار بخندم و مردم را بدنبال خود به خندیدن وادار کنم و از کسالت درآورم. لحظه خندیدن باید با دقت انتخاب شود. نه زود و نه دیر. خنده واگیردار باید طبیعی، وزین و پراستحکام باشد. من باید خنده را در لحظه مناسب، بی مهابا سر دهم و جمعیت بدنبال من می خندد و جوک کمدین از خطر می جهد.

من باید خودم را تا اطاق رخت کن بزور بکشم؛ بارانی خود را بردارم و خوشحال باشم که وظیفهء خندیدن آن شب تمام شده است. وقتی به خانه می رسم باید پیام ها و تقاضاهای برنامه های آینده، کاباره یا تلویزیون را جواب بدهم. اول صبح روز بعد، من دوباره سوار بر قطار بسوی سرنوشت خود می روم.

اما وقتی در محیط کار نیستم یا وقتی به مرخصی می روم اصلا" میل به خندیدن ندارم. کفاش هر لحظه بتواند بوی چرم و نخ و سوزن را فراموش کند خرسند است. بنّا هر وقت آجر و سیمان را کنار می گذارد شادمان است. قنّاد، خیارشور دوست دارد و نانوا کباب. گاوباز در ساعت فراغت کبوتر می پرورد و بوکسور از اینکه فرزندش خون دماغ بشود رنگش می پرد. من هم آدم گرفته ای هستم و خیلی ها بحق میگویند که بدبین هم هستم! ولی وقتی از خندیدن فارغ شوم شادم.

در اولین سالهای ازدواج، زنم می گفت خواهش میکنم قدری بخند. اما بعد متوجه شد که نمی توانم تقاضای او را برآورده کنم. من وقتی خوشحالم که ماهیچه های درومند صورتم را آرام و آزاد، بحالت کسالت، یا بُهت زده و یا غمزده نگه دارم. در حقیقت خنده دیگران هم مرا عذاب می دهد زیرا مرا بیاد حرفه خودم می اندازد.

زندگی فامیلی من ساکت و آرام است زیرا همسر من فراموش کرده است که چگونه بخندد. گهگاه او را در حال لبخند زدن غافلگیر می کنم و احیانا" خودم هم لبخندی می زنم و آرام صحبت میکنم. از سر و صدای کاباره ها بیزارم؛ مردمی که مرا نمی شناسند فکر می کنند من شخصی گوشه گیر هستم. شاید هم باشم زیرا فقط در وقت اجبار دهانم را بخنده باز می کنم.

زندگی روزانه من با بی تفاوتی توأم است. گهگاه از خود می پرسم آیا هرگز حقیقتا" خندیده ام؟ اطرافیانم می گویند که خیر.

قصه مادر بزرگ و عشق پدر بزرگ

گر مرید ره عشقی فکر بدنامی مکن...

مدتی بود که تاریخ را ورق میزدم و از کوچه های خاطراتم رد میشدم. به ایستگاهی رسیدم که به یاد سرگذشت مادر بزرگی افتادم. در زمان قدیم سرگذشت ها سینه به سینه گفته میشد؛ برای هم تعریف میکردند که در چه زمان چه اتفاقهائی رخ میداده.

در ازمنه قدیم مردسالاری، پدرشاهی و شوهر شاهی رسم روزگار بود. زنان و دختران قربانی عصر جاهلیت بودند و افسوس که همه حق و حقوق شان زیر چرخ های سنتی له میشد. الحق که به حق دختران کافری میشده و این داستان واقعی را از پیر خردمندی شنیده امَ:

جوانی بوده به نام «آقا». او با دختری خوب و نجیب و اصیل و زیبا ازدواج میکند. پس از چندی زن او باردار میشود و آن مرد و زن جوان با هم زندگی خوبی داشتند و از همه چیز بی نیاز بودند. روزها به خوبی و خوشی میگذشت و اما در یک روز آفتابی، تازه داماد در حیاط خانه قدم میزده ناگاه چشمش بر روی بام می افتد دختری بسیار زیبا با موهای بلند و چشم و ابروی مشکی می بیند با صورتی که با ماه برابری میکرده. قدری از چادر از سر دختر پائین افتاده بوده و جلب توجه «آقا» را می کند! مدتی غرق در احساس خود شده، راز دل با دل خویش می گفته و با دل خویش در جدال بوده. بالاخره عشق پیروز شده، او یک دل نه صد دل عاشق بیقرار و واله و شیدای آن دختر گیسو کمند پشت بام میشود. خواب و خوراک بر او حرام شده بود تا اینکه پس از چند هفته روزی عاجزانه به سراغ مادر میرود. با وجودیکه زنی باردار و جوان در خانه داشته، همه چیز را بطاق نسیان می سپارد و بی آنکه بداند چکار میکند، اسرار دل را به مادر میگوید. دست به دامن مادر و التماس کنان میگوید که دختر بسیار زیبای همسایه را دیده و دل باخته. و از مادر میخواهد که «چاره بیندیش»!

مادر حیران و سرگردان میگوید: فرزند، در همسایگی ما دختری به این زیبائی که تو میگوئی نداریم! از مادر اصرار که «فرزند، بر سر عشق بی حاصل مادرت را آزار مده – فکر کن چه خیال اشتباهی بر سر می پرورانی؟» اصرار و انکار هیچکدام در تصمیم «آقا» تأثیری نمیکند. عشق چشمانش را بسته بوده. پس از چندی در خانه همسایه ها این خبر پخش میشود و آنها که از این موضوع با خبر میشوند خیلی خوشحال میشوند و رابطه شان را بیشتر و بهتر میکنند. برای خانهء «آقا» هر عصر آدینه نان های تازه تنوری می فرستادند. و اما نصیحت های مادر «آقا»ی عاشق فایده ای نداشته و آن مرد در تب عشق میسوخته و در فراغ یار نادیده بی صبری میکرده.

پس از مدتی کوتاه، عاقبت مادر را مجبور و راضی می کنند که به خواستگاری دختر همسایه برود و آنها با شادی و علاقه «بله» میدهند. داماد خوشحال هر چه زودتر میخواست بوصال یار برسد. روزها برای او به سختی میگذشت. هر روز برایش صد روز بود. خلاصه، شب زفاف میرسد و با ساز و تنبور و کمانچه، عروس خانم راهی خانه داماد میشود. همه مهمانها به یکدیگر مبارک باد میگفتند و آرزوی خوشبختی شان را میکردند. داماد شاد و عروس خانم شاد و در پوست نمی گنجیدند. در قدیم رسم بود که شب عروسی چارقد توری روی صورت عروس می انداختند که از نظرها پنهان باشد و یا اینکه چشم نامحرم بصورت عروس نیفتد و تا لحظه آخر فقط داماد آن تور را که اسمش «دُواق» بود از صورت عروس بر میداشته. عروس و داماد به حجله راهنمائی شدند. آقا داماد با کمال بی صبری هر چه زودتر میخواست سیمای قشنگ محبوب خود را ببیند. مطابق قانون و شریعت، داماد نقاب از چهره عروس خود برمیدارد. دهانش باز می ماند! با خود میگوید «وای که چه اشتباهی کردم». سراسیمه به نزد مادر میرود و میگوید: «مادر، این آن دختر نیست که من دیده ام» بیچاره مادر، سرش پائین به پسرش نگاه نمیکند و میگوید «چشم و دهانت را ببند و به حجله ات برگرد».

در این ایام زن اول بچه سال که آبستن بوده اشک ریزان و در نهانخانه دل همه غم ها و غصه ها را پنهان نگاه میداشت و دم بر نمی آورد. عروس خانم تازه بیشتر از یک ماه نبود که به خانه شوهر آمده بود که برای زن اول یعنی «خورشید خانم» ویاران بران می کنند و آن زن دوم برای مهمانها چای و شربت پخش میکرده و همه را پذیرائی میکرده.

از قرار زن دوم بسیار دانا و فهمیده و از سیرتی زیبا برخوردار بوده. با همه به خوبی رفتار میکرده. زمان میگذرد و خورشید خانم دختری بدنیا میآورد. بعد از نه ماه دیگر زن دوم پسری بدنیا میآورد. دوباره زن اول دختری دیگر بدنیا میآورد و به زن دوم خداوند پسر دیگری عطا میکند. خورشید خانم که زن اول بوده صاحب سه دختر میشود؛ یعنی به معیارهای آن زمان «فاجعه» و یک پسر نیز بدنیا میآورد. زن دوم سه پسر بدنیا میآورد. در آن دوران بقولی، یک زن اگر سه پسر یا بیشتر بدنیا میآورد باید بر سر در خانه شان تاج زیتون نصب میکردند که چه افتخار بزرگی نصیب شان شده! و من به نوبه خود میگویم که خدا میداند که بر کارهای خدا چه میگذرد.

بگذریم، باری این قبیله کوچک همه با هم بر سر یک سفره می نشستند و همه با هم زندگی میکردند و با صلح و صفا روزها را شب و شب ها را روز میکردند و نیز خورشید خانم یک پسر دیگر بدنیا می آورد و از طالع بدش خورشید خانم که بچه شیرخوار شش ماهه داشته مریض و بستری میشود. هیچ امیدی به بهبود او نبوده. همه

می گفتند از غصه دق کرده و غم ها او را از پای درآورده است. در تابستان همان سال خورشید خانم در حال احتضار بوده و دیگر حالی نداشته و بچه اش در گهواره گریه میکرده. مادر چشمانش را باز میکند و با لکنت میگوید: «بچه ام را بیاورید شیر بدهم، گرسنه است» لحظهء بعد جان به جان آفرین تسلیم میکند و بسرای باقی می شتابد. روانش شاد.

آنها برای بچه دایه میگیرند و از شیر او تغذیه میکرده. و اما زن دوم سالهای متمادی به خوشی زندگی میکرده و از بچه های خود و اولادهای خورشید مواظبت میکرده. این «زن پدر» دانا همه اولادها را عروس و داماد میکند و اما «آقا»ی عاشق، از روز اول ازدواج شان پشیمان بوده ولی هیچگونه رفتار بدی با زنهایش نداشته ولی یک موضوع تا آخر عمرش او را رنج میداد و سوهان پشیمانی همیشه به او کشیده میشد و همیشه به اولادهایش یادآوری میکرد که هیچ وقت فکر دو زن نباشید!

شما و مگیلا

تطبیق با زمانه

خانواده هائی هستند که از همه حیث مرفه بوده و میتوانند زندگی راحتی داشته باشند ولی بر اثر کم توجهی به موقعیت خانوادگی، آسایش را بر خود و همسر و فرزندان حرام نموده و عمری را که هر یک لحظه آن ارزشمند است وباید به نحو احسن از آن بهره گرفت با تلخی و ناکامی سپری میکنند. اکثرا" هم مشاهده شده آنهائیکه در خود کمبودی احساس میکنند بدون آنکه خود متوجه باشند به این اشکال برمیخورند چون فکر میکنند اگر خود را کوچک وانمود کنند سایرین آنها را کوچکتر بحساب خواهند آورد. در حالیکه خود شخص هر قدر متواضع باشد از دید سایرین مقام والاتری خواهد داشت و در نزد همگان بیشتر محترم و محبوب خواهد بود و با بکار بردن این روش، ناخودآگاه بیشتر مشکلات خانواده ها حل خواهد شد.

باز هم یادآور شویم خلقت بشر طوریست که تمام افراد دارای نکات ضعفی میباشند یعنی هیچکس بدون ایراد نیست. بر ما است که قدرت آنرا داشته باشیم که حس غرور و خودپسندی را از سرمان بیرون رانده و نگذاریم این آفت خانمانسوز گریبانگیرمان شود و باعث کدورتها، کینه توزیها، ناکامی ها و در نهایت جدائی ها و بدبختی های بعدی برای خود و فرزندانمان گردد و تا آخر عمر نزد وجدان خود شرمنده و سرافکنده باشیم.

همانطور که قبلا" هم در مگیلا درج شده بود «شخص عاقبت اندیش و دانا دردسرهای بزرگ زندگی را به دردسرهای کوچک تبدیل نموده و دردسرهای کوچک را تدریجا" از بین میبرد.»

این دردسرها و مشکلات بیشتر با زندگی کردن در امریکا بوجود آمده چون در این سرزمین زنها هم دوش بدوش مردان فعالیت میکنند و حتی در بعضی موارد رُل اصلی کارها بدست ایشان است و برای بعضی از شوهرانشان طبق سنت ایران که مردسالاری بوده امری شاق و دور از انتظار میباشد و نمیتوانند بخودشان بقبولانند و برتری زن را تحمل نمایند. ولی با کمی فکر میتوان درک نمود که دنیای امروز مرد و زن نمی شناسد؛ هر کس بتواند بهتر کاری را انجام دهد قابل احترام است. باید بدانیم که غرور و خودخواهی کسی را بجائی نمیرساند.

با مطالعه مقاله سرکار خانم حشمت بصلی که حقیر آشنائی نزدیک با ایشان ندارم و فقط به اسم ایشان را می شناسم و حقا" که از نویسندگان توانا و مطلع ما مشهدی ها میباشند و انشاء و قلم ایشان قابل تمجید و تحسین است، دیدیم که حتی خد–اوند هم از غرور و خودخواهی متنفر و بیزار است و کشتی تایتانیک بر اثر جمله ای که نمایانگر غرور دست اندرکاران کشتی بود به چه مصیبتی گرفتار شد.

پس بیائید همه با هم راهی را انتخاب نمائیم که به صلح و آرامش خانواده منتهی میشود و به فرمایش استاد معظم و محبوب همگان آقای نسیم بصلیان شالوم بیت بزرگترین هدیه الهی است و صلح و آرامش خانواده ها را تضمین میکند.

بنا به یک ضرب المثل قدیمی، اشخاص دانا و دوراندیش سعی میکنند خود را با زمانه وفق دهند ولی بر عکس آنهائیکه سطحی فکر میکنند و بفکر عاقبت کار نیستند، اکثرا" به دردسرهای علاج ناپذیری گرفتار میشوند و وقتی از خواب غفلت بیدار میشوند که دیگر کار از کار گذشته و ندامت مشکلی را حل نمیکند.

فرزندان اخلاق و ادب را اول در خانه از والدین خود و طرز رفتار آنان به یکدیگر می آموزند پس بهتر است با ایجاد محیطی آرام و سرشار از محبت در خانواده، فرزندان شایسته ای به اجتماع تحویل داده و نام نیکوئی که بزرگترین سرمایه ابدی است برای خود پس انداز نمائیم.

والی و خیاط

از قصه های محلی حکمت آمیز چین

ترجمهء بهروز دیلمانیان

در روزگار قدیم در سرزمین پهناور چین، مثل خیلی کشورهای دیگر رسم بود که ریش سفیدهای هر دهکده و قصبه شخصی را بعنوان والی، یا کدخدا انتخاب میکردند که در زبان محلی به او «ماندارین» خطاب میکردند. «ماندارین» همه کاره دهکده بود. هم کدخدا، هم شهردار، هم قاضی، هم کلانتر، هم مشاور امور خانواده و خلاصه همه چیز. یکروز ریش سفیدهای یک قصبه جلسه کردند و «وانگ» را به سمت «ماندارین» انتخاب کردند.

وانگ خیلی خوشحال شد چون دوست داشت همه کاره باشد. البته برای شغل جدید مهمتر از همه این بود که یک قبای فاخر و زربفت بدوزد که وقتی در کوچه و رهگذر راه میرود همه ببینند و بدانند که والی ولایت کیست.

در دهکده چندین خیاط وجود داشت اما دوزندهء قبای وانگ باید بهترین می بود. وانگ شروع به پرس و جو کرد. از رفقا و آشنایان سراغ بهترین خیاط را گرفت و همه یکصدا گفتند که دوزنده سالخورده و کارکشتهء دهکده که نزدیک پل جلوی رودخانه زندگی میکند از همه بهتر است مخصوصا" که باریک بین و دقت کار است و به جزئیات کار توجه دارد. وانگ پهلوی خیاط رفت. پارچه را انتخاب کردند؛ اندازه ها را با دقت گرفتند و قبل از آنکه دست بکار بشود گفت: حالا من چند سئول دارم که برای دوخت قبا بسیار مهم است و باید با دقت جواب بدهی. وانگ قبول کرد.

خیاط از طرز راه رفتن، بلندی قدمها، اندازه چوبدستی، روش نشستن و تکیه دادن پرسید و در آخر کار پرسید امسال

چندمین سال است که شما «ماندارین» هستید؟ وانگ پرسید: چه ربطی دارد به دوختن قبا؟ خیاط پیر گفت: ربط دارد. وانگ گفت: نمی فهمم مدت اشتغال من در سمت والی چطور میتواند به دوخت قبا مربوط بشود؟

خیاط گفت: جوان، سالهاست که این کار، کار من است. من برای والی های مختلف شهر دهها بار قبا دوخته ام و چم و خم اینکار را خوب میدانم. والی شهر همیشه یکی دو سال اول مثل سیخ سکندر می ایستد، باد به غبغب می اندازد و سینه اش را جلو می دهد و با حرکت دست به مردم امر و نهی می کند؛ پس جلوی دامن قبا در سالهای اول باید از پشت آن قدری بلندتر باشد تا صاف بایستد و آستین آن قدری گشاد باشد تا حرکت دست راحت باشد.

دو سه سالی که گذشت، والی شهر قدری سختی مسئولیت را درک میکند و دیگر عطش دستور دادن را ندارد و بادی به سینه و غبغب نمی اندازد. در این زمان جلوی دامن قبا را با پشت دامن باید مساوی درآورد و پائین قبا صاف خواهد ایستاد چون معمولی می نشیند و عادی می ایستد و بی تکلف راه میرود. آستین گشاد هم لازم ندارد. اما پس از چندین سال اشتغال به کدخدائی، وضع بکلی فرق میکند. والی سالخورده و با تجربه از ناتوانی و نارسائی خودش آگاه است، پشتش زیر بار مسئولیت خم شده است، اشتباهات خود را می شناسد و از آنها

افسرده و پشیمان است. والی سالخورده سر بزیر است و قامت خمیده دارد و علاقه ای به امر و نهی ندارد از این جهت آستین هایش میتواند چسب و قشنگ باشد و بخصوص جلوی دامن قبا را باید از پشت آن کوتاه تر گرفت تا صاف بایستد.

خیاط پیر شاهد است که وانگ نکته را فهمید و هرگز لازم نشد جلوی قبایش را بلندتر بگیرد.

اثرات منفی دلار قوی در صادرات کشور

برابری دلار در مقابل ارزهای خارجی و قوت فوق العاده آن در یکسال اخیر زیان زیادی بر صادرات امریکا خصوصا" به کشورهای اروپائی داشته است. از ژانویه ۱۹۹۹ الی اواسط آگوست ۲۰۰۰ واحد مشترک ارزی اروپائی «یورو» EURO بیش از ۲۵ درصد از ارزش خود را در قبال دلار از دست داده است. در مقابل شرکتهای امریکائی که قسمت اعظم از فروش خود را بفرم صادرات به اروپا انجام میدهند در بازار سهام امریکا ارزش های خود را از دست میدهند. بطور مثال کمپانی کلگیت پالمالیو اخیرا" ۱۶ درصد تنزل ارزش سهام داشته است و همچنین شرکتهای مک دانلدز، کوکاکولا و ژیلت بطور متوسط حدود ۵ درصد ار ارزش خود را از دست داده اند. وقتی که واحد ارزی «یورو» ۲۵ درصد ارزش خود را در قبال دلار از دست میدهد در واقع باعث میشود که صادرات این شرکت ها بهمین نسبت ارزش دلاری خود را از دست بدهند چون واحد فروش به یورو است که می بایست برای برگشت به امریکا دومرتبه به دلار تبدیل شود.

در مقابل این اخبار «آلن گرین اسپن» رئیس با قدرت یهودی بانک مرکزی امریکا (Federal Reservea) در مصاحبه نادری بی تفاوتی خود را در این مورد نشان داد و اظهار امیدواری کرد که این یکی از چندین عواملی باشد که باعث شود اقتصاد و بازار قوی امریکا میزان توسعه تولید خود را بطور خفیف تر ادامه دهد که امکان توسعه تورم کمتر باشد. او مدتها است که از توسعه بازار و اقتصاد قوی امریکا و اثر آن در افزایش تورم اظهار نگرانی میکند و در عرض یکسال گذشته، با افزایش نرخ بهره های دولتی سعی میکند با امکانات توسعه تورم مقابله کند و باصطلاح خودش با "Soft Landing" یا (فرود آرام) اقتصاد قوی کشور را موجب شود. همچنین بعقیده او و تأئید عده زیادی از دانشمندان اقتصادی کشور ترقی قیمت های فراورده های نفتی نیز چون در قوه خرید افراد کشوری اثر منفی خواهد گذارد در مقابله با تورم نهائی بسیار مؤثر خواهد بود.

در ضمن در آستانه انتخابات ریاست جمهوری امریکا، پرزیدنت کلینتون برای کمک به امکان پیروزی تیم دموکرات ال گور و جو لیبرمن، کارنامه اقتصادی خود و مقایسه با ۷ کشور صنعتی مهم دنیا (امریکا – انگلستان – ژاپن – فرانسه – کانادا – ایتالیا و آلمان) را بصورت زیر ارائه داد.

در مورد توسعه تولید کشوری (Economic Growth) – بالاترین میزان را امریکا در حدود ۴٫۳ درصد در دست دارد در مقابل این میزان کمتر از نیم درصد ژاپن ۱٫۴ درصد در ایتالیا – ۱٫۵ درصد در آلمان – دو درصد در انگلستان – ۲٫۷ درصد در فرانسه و ۴٫۲ درصد در کانادا میباشد.

در مورد کسری یا مازاد بودجه کشوری (Budget Deficit) یا (Surplus) بالاترین میزان را کانادا با ۲٫۸ درصد مازاد از تولید کشور در دست دارد در مقابل مازاد نیم درصد امریکا – مازاد سه دهم درصد انگلستان – کسری ۱٫۱ درصد آلمان – کسری ۱٫۸ درصد فرانسه – کسری ۱٫۸ درصد فرانسه – کسری ۱٫۹ درصد ایتالیا و کسری بودجه ۷٫۱ درصد ژاپن.

اگر این آمار به عدد دلاری تبدیل شوند مازاد بودجه امریکا بدلیل اقتصاد عظیم آن چندین برابر کانادا میباشد.

در مورد میزان بیکاری کشور (Unemployment) – کمترین میزان را امریکا با ۴ درصد داراست. در مقابل ۴٫۳ درصد انگلستان – ۴٫۷ درصد ژاپن – ۷٫۶ درصد کانادا – ۹ درصد آلمان – ۱۱ درصد فرانسه و ۱۱٫۴ درصد ایتالیا.

بغیر از این آمار اصلی و اساسی، ده ها نوع دیگر از آمارهای اقتصادی نمودار ادامه توسعه اقتصاد امریکا از اول ژانویه الی آخر سپتامبر ۲۰۰۰ میباشد.

تنظیم مالیات مشاغل

از «دیوید اسحق پور»

فارغ التحصیل دانشگاه کلمبیا در رشته اقتصاد

فارغ التحصیل رشته حقوق دانشگاه ویرجینیا

در محیط امروزه که بازار خرید و فروش ملک خیلی گرم شده، اغلب سرمایه گذاران بواسطه کمبود پول کافی فرصت های جالبی را برای خرید ملک از دست میدهند. بعضی وقت تصمیم میگیرند که ملکی را که دارند بفروشند و با پولش ملک دیگری را خریداری کنند.

متأسفانه از سودی که از فروش ملک بدست میآید باید ۲۰ درصد آنرا بعنوان مالیات بدولت پرداخت و از این لحاظ بعضی ها از فروش ملک صرفنظر میکنند.

«سیستم های مبادلاتی» (Like Kind Exchange) (L.K.E.) راه تازه ای برای سرمایه گذاران باز کرده و امکان میدهد که ثروتشان را زیاد کنند و کمتر مالیات بدهند.

با بکار بردن سیستم مبادله (Exchange) سرمایه گذار میتواند هر مبلغی که از فروش ملک دریافت میکند را برای خرید ملک جدیدی استفاده کند بدون اینکه مالیات بپردازد. این راه حل اینست که سرمایه گذار بجای فروش ملک، آنرا با ملک دیگری مبادله میکند.

برای مثال تصور کنیم که شخصی به اسم روبرت قبلا" ساختمانی در نیویورک بمبلغ ۴۰۰ هزار دلار خریده باشد و امروز ارزش این ملک یک میلیون دلار است با این مبلغ او میتواند یک «شاپینگ سنتر» در لانگ آیلند بخرد که آن هم بمبلغ یک میلیون دلار بفروش میرود.

اگر روبرت ساختمانش را بفروشد باید از روی سود، ۶۰۰ هزار دلار، مبلغ ۱۲۰ هزار دلار مالیات بدولت بدهد (۲۰ درصد) در نتیجه برای خرید شاپینگ سنتر احتیاج به تهیه کردن ۱۲۰ هزار دلار از محل دیگری دارد.

اگر روبرت از سیستم (L.K.E.) استفاده کند میتواند ملکش را به یک میلیون دلار بفروشد و شاپینگ سنتر را بخرد و اگر مطابق مقررات این سیستم جلو برود هیچ مالیاتی هم نخواهد داد و میتواند یک معامله پرسودی را انجام بدهد و احتیاج به تهیه پولی اضافی هم ندارد.

سیستم (L.K.E.) چیز ساده ایست بدین شرط که از روی مقررات صحیحی اجرا شود.

وقتی که سرمایه گذار ملکی را میفروشد بجای اینکه پولش را وصول کند آنرا نزد یک واسطه بصورت «اسکرو» (Screw) نگه میدارد تا اینکه ملک جدیدی را پیدا کند. البته به دو شرط:

اول اینکه در عرض ۴۵ روز ملکی که قصد خرید آن را دارد باید معین و مشخص باشد. ثانیا" در عرض ۱۸۰ روز خرید ملک جدید باید ثبت بشود. برای اینکه این معامله انجام شود باید قیمت ملک جدید مساوی یا بیشتر از قیمت ملک اولیه باشد.

قبل از ثبت ملک جدید شخصی واسط می بایستی مدارک قانونی لازمه را تهیه کند تا اینکه مبادله بخوبی صورت گیرد پولهائی که در «اسکرو» گذاشته شده برای پرداخت خرید ملک جدید استفاده شود.

با وجودیکه شخص واسط رل مهمی در این معامله دارد ولی هیچگونه حقوقی در ملک جدید ندارد و مجبور نیست که موقع ثبت حاضر باشد. باید تأکید شود که مقررات (L.K.E.) باید توافق با قوانین مالیاتی بخش ۱۰۳۱ داشته باشد. طبق این مقررات شخص واسط باید آدم مستقلی باشد معنی آن اینست که شخصی که در عرض ۲ سال اخیر با سرمایه گذار کار کرده باشد نمیتواند واسط باشد یعنی وکیل، حسابدار، دلال، کارمند، سرمایه گذار و حتی فامیل نزدیک حق واسط شدن را ندارند. اضافه بر این ملک جدید و ملک قدیم باید باسم همان شخص باشد. اگر روبرت صاحب ملک در نیویورک بوده، شاپینگ سنتر در لانگ آیلند هم باسم او خواهد بود.

اخیرا" قوانین مالیاتی تسهیلاتی برای سیستم (L.K.E.) در شرایط مخصوصی صادر کرده است که با قوانین قبلی فرق دارد. مخصوصا" تنظیم برنامه مالیاتی برای شرکاء آسان تر شده است.

طبق این مقررات بعضی از شرکاء میتوانند منافعشان را وصول کنند در حالیکه شریک های دیگر میتوانند با منافعشان مطابق سیستم (L.K.E.) به سرمایه گذاری جدیدی دست بزنند.

رویهمرفته سیستم (L.K.E.) فرصت بسیار خوبی برای سرمایه گذاری میباشد بدین شرط که قوانین و مقررات اکیدا" اجرا شوند و از این لحاظ بهتر است که با متخصصینی که کاملا" آشنا به این سیستم هستند، مشورت کنید تا به منافعی که انتظار آنرا دارید برسید.

بحث سیاسی

آیا خاور میانه در حال دگرگونی سیاسی و اجتماعی است

از: یعقوب اسمعیلی

بنا به اعتقاد بسیاری از صاحب نظران سیاسی، روزهای طلائی افراطیون اسلامی رو به افول است. چند سالی است انقلاب سیاسی واجتماعی ساکتی بطرف دموکراسی و تمایل به غرب در خاور میانه در حال تکوین است که آخرین نتیجه آن انتخابات جدید لبنان و شکست جبهه متمایل به سوریه و دار و دسته حزب ا لله و پیروزی طبقه روشنفکر میباشد.

در اواسط سالهای ۱۹۹۰ تا ۱۹۹۵ گروه های تروریست در خاور میانه با کمک کشورهای تندرو بیداد میکردند. در ایسرائل گروه های جهاد اسلامی و خمس و در جنوب لبنان حزب ا لله با کمک سوریه خسارات جانی و مالی جبران ناپذیری را به ایسرائل وارد آوردند. در کشورهای دیگر خاور میانه و افریقای مسلمان اوضاع بهمین منوال بود. در الجزایر افراطیون اسلامی سایه مرگ و وحشت در دل مردم بوجود آورده و این کشور هر روز شاهد ترورهای سیاسی بود و مردم عادی هم در حاشیه این مبارزات متحمل خسارت مالی و جانی بسیار می شدند. بطوریکه کارشناسان غربی سقوط این کشور را قطعی دانسته و معتقد بودند که اگر جریان بهمین منوال گسترش پیدا کند، کشورهای مراکش و تونس و مصر در مقابل فشار مذهبیون افراطی بزانو در خواهند آمد. در آنصورت کشور ترکیه هم از خطر مصون نخواهد بود. در لبنان حزب ا لله با همکاری نزدیک ایران، رؤیای یک لبنان اسلامی را می دید. بدیهی است که در تمام تحریکات ایران نقش فعالی بعهده داشته و از نظر مالی و تعلیمات نظامی، تروریست های اسلامی را مورد حمایت قرار داده است.

خوشبختانه به گذشت زمان و مبارزات کشورهای منطقه این خوابهای طلائی افراطیون تقریبا" نقش بر آب گردید در الجزایر دولت قانونی با مشت آهنین در مقابل متعصبین ایستادگی کرده و با دادن قربانیان زیاد بر اوضاع مسلط گردید. حتی در مصر مبارک با قدرت و با کمک دول غرب در مقابل اخوان المسلمین مقاومت کرده و تقریبا" در این مبارزه پیروز گردیده است. در مراکش سلطنت بعد از مرگ ملک حسن دوم به پسرش با موفقیت منتقل گردید و در حال حاضر هیچ گونه شواهدی از افراطیون مذهبی در این کشور به چشم نمیخورد. در انتخابات لبنان بطوریکه در بالا ذکر گردید احزاب لیبرال به موفقیت چشمگیری دست یافته و در جنوب لبنان با وجود فشار حزب ا لله مردم زیر بار نرفته و از دادن رأی خود به حزب ا لله تا حد امکان خودداری کردند.

همچنین در سوریه بعد از درگذشت حافظ اسد پسرش بشیر با احتیاط دست به یک سلسله تغییرات سیاسی و اقتصادی زده و کارشناسان خاور میانه معتقدند که سوریه هم دیر یا زود ناچارا" به جرگه کشورهای صلح جو خواهد پیوست. در کشور اردن بر خلاف تصور بعضی از حکمرانان عرب که ملک عبدا لله جوان را به بازی نمی گرفتند نامبرده در این مدت کوتاه لیاقت خود را نشان داده و با درایت یک رشته رفورم های اقتصادی را با کمک ایسرائل به مرحله اجرا درآورده است. این کشور با ایسرائل از یک رابطه حسن همجواری بسیار نزدیک برخوردار است.

در ایران با انتخاب شدن خاتمی به ریاست جمهوری، قدرت بین دو گروه معتدل و تندرو تقسیم شده و با رویدادهای اخیر ایران، ظاهرا" گروه معتدل به رهبری خاتمی قدرت بیشتری بدست آورده و خواهان برگشتن به بازار آزاد و دموکراسی بیشتر میباشد. در مجموع تمام این حوادث قدر مسلم اینست که در دنیای اسلام بخصوص در کشورهای عربی همجوار ایسرائل دگرگونی عمیقی بسوی اعتدال بچشم میخورد. کارشناسان سیاسی اشاره میکنند که در این رهگذر قطعا" فراز و نشیب هائی وجود خواهد داشت و شاید این تغییرات به کندی جلو رود ولی نتیجه نهائی آن گرایش خاور میانه عربی بسوی صلح خواهد بود.

پیشرفت های فوق العاده صنایع با تکنولوژی پیشرفتهء ایسرائل

از: نشریه لس آنجلس تایمز

ترجمه گادی (بهرام) آقالرپور

خوانندگان گرامی، مقاله حاضر ترجمه و خلاصه ای از مقاله مفصلی میباشد که در شماره ۱۳ آگوست ۲۰۰۰ نشریه لس آنجلس تایمز بچاپ رسیده بود. این مقاله بسیار مهم و جامع در مورد پیشرفت های چشمگیر اقتصادی کشور ایسرائل در سالهای اخیر و سال جدید تهیه شده بود و قسمت هائی از آن نیز در صفحه اول نشریه لس آنجلس تایمز چاپ گردیده بود.

در این مقاله سعی شده است که چکیده ای از مطالب این مقاله مهم ترجمه و جهت آگاهی خوانندگان عزیز مگیلا درج گردد.

طبق آخرین آمار و اطلاعات گردآوری شده از منابع موثق بین المللی و ایسرائلی که نام آنها در انتهای این مقاله ذکر گردیده است، عوامل زیادی در توسعه و رشد سریع صنایع با تکنولوژی پیشرفته (High-Tech) ایسرائل مؤثر بوده اند که در این مقاله چهار عامل عمده آن را بررسی مینمائیم. این پیشرفت های اقتصادی سریع و افزایش سرمایه گذاری در صنایع ایسرائل، این کشور را جزو بالاترین و موفق ترین کشورهای جهان در زمینه صنایع پیشرفته قرار داده است.

عامل اول: افزایش سرمایه گذاری های خارجی:

حجم سرمایه گذاریهای خارجی در صنایع با تکنولوژی پیشرفته ایسرائل بخصوص صنایع در ارتباط با «اینترنت» در سال جاری افزایش چشمگیری داشته است. قابل ذکر میباشد که بخش زیادی از این سرمایه گذاری ها از طرف سرمایه گذاران امریکائی بوده و ۷۱ درصد آنها در صنایع مرتبط با اینترنت صورت گرفته اند.

طبق آمار جدید موجود، حجم سرمایه گذاری خارجی در صنایع با تکنولوژی پیشرفته در سه ماه اول سال ۱۹۹۷ از ۶۷ میلیون دلار به ۱۵۸ میلیون دلار در سال ۱۹۹۸ و به ۱۳۰ میلیون دلار در سال ۱۹۹۹ و بالاخره به ۶۱۷ میلیون دلار در سه ماه اول سال ۲۰۰۰ رسیده و سرمایه گذاری در صنایع وابسته به اینترنت از ۶۷ میلیون دلار در سه ماه اول سال ۱۹۹۷ به ۴۳۹ میلیون دلار در سه ماه اول سال ۲۰۰۰ رسیده یعنی در عرض سه سال، حجم سرمایه گذاری های خارجی در این صنایع به نزدیک ده برابر افزایش یافته است.

عامل دوم: کنترل تورم اقتصادی در کشور ایسرائل:

پس از افزایش تورم های اقتصادی سرسام آور و زیاد در اواسط سالهای ۱۹۸۰ در کشور ایسرائل بشکر خدا این درصدهای تورم اقتصادی بتدریج تا سال ۲۰۰۰ کنترل گردیده اند و زمینه را برای سرمایه گذاری های خارجی بسیار مساعد ساخته اند.

درصد تورم اقتصادی در ایسرائل در سال ۱۹۸۵، ۳۰۸/۸۸ درصد و در سال ۱۹۹۰ به ۱۷/۳ درصد و در سال ۱۹۹۵ به ده درصد و بالاخره در سال ۲۰۰۰ به عدد معجزه آسای ۲/۸۸ درصد رسیده است.

عامل سوم: افزایش درآمد ناخالص ملی (GDP)

کشور ایسرائل در سال ۱۹۹۹ بالاترین درآمد ناخالص ملّی را برای (هر فرد) در میان کشورهای خاور میانه دارا بوده و با فاصله بسیار زیاد از سایر کشورهای منطقه در رده اول قرار داشته. این عدد مهم یعنی «درآمد ناخالص ملی» (Gross Domestic Product) در سال ۱۹۹۹ برای کشور ایسرائل ۱۶/۱۰۰ دلار در سال و برای کشورهای لبنان، مصر، حکومت خودمختار فلسطینی و اردن و سوریه به ترتیب ۳/۵۰۰ دلار و ۱/۴۰۰ دلار و ۱۲۰۰ دلار و ۱۱۰۰ دلار بوده اند.

عامل چهارم: تعداد فراوان مهندسین کارآموزده:

یکی از مهمترین عوامل شکوفائی اقتصادی چشمگیر صنایع «تکنولوژی پیشرفته» کشور ایسرائل وجود تعداد بسیار زیاد «نیروهای کاری» تحصیل کرده و کارآزموده میباشد. کشور ایسرائل از جنبه دارا بودن تعداد مهندسین به تعداد کل کارمندان شاغل در مؤسسات و کارخانجات سراسر کشور در دنیا مقام اول را دارا میباشد. این آمار حیرت انگیز بصورت زیر میباشد:

در اواخر ماه ژانویه گذشته، در شهر کوچکی بنام «تونکو» در کشور ایتالیا مراسم تجلیل از یک فرد نیکوکار که ۹ سال پیش جان کودکی از اهالی این شهر را نجات داده بود برگزار گردید. نشریه معروف نیویورک تایمز مقاله مشروحی در باره این رویداد، با عکس و تفصیلات انتشار داده که فشرده آن از این قرار است:

«در سال ۱۹۹۱ دو جوان یهودی ساکن منطقه بروکلین بعلل درمانی احتیاجی فوری به مقداری خون پیدا کردند. با پخش این خبر، عده زیادی از مردم بروکلین، داوطلب شدند که خون خود را به آن دو جوان بدهند. در بین این داوطلبان یک ربای بنام «رانلدبَری» و همسرش «میریام» نیز بنوبه خود آستین ها را بالا زده خون خود را اهدا نمودند. ولی چون خون هیچکدام شان با خون آن دو جوان هماهنگی نداشت بمصرف نرسید. اما نام و مشخصات و گروه خون ربای و همسرش در آرشیو مرکز انتقال خون نیویورک ثبت گردید که در موقع لزوم بتوانند با آنها تماس بگیرند. چند ماهی از این جریان گذشت. روزی از طرف مرکز خون نیویورک به «ربای بری» اطلاع داده شد که به خون او که از گروه بسیار کمیابی میباشد احتیاج فوری پیدا شده است. ربای بلافاصله باتفاق همسرش باین مرکز مراجعه نمود که خون خود را هدیه کند ولی در آنجا قبل از هر چیز به او گفتند که آنچه مورد احتیاج میباشد خون ربای نیست بلکه مغز استخوان اوست که بایستی به کودکی که دچار بیماری «لوکیمیا» (نوعی سرطان خون) میباشد پیوند شود. در این هنگام ربای و همسرش دارای ۵ فرزند بودند و ششمی هم در راه بود. همسر ربای که نگران شوهرش شده بود از پزشکان سئوال کرد که آیا این عمل تا چه حد سخت و خطرناک است.

به او جواب داده شد که این عمل برای دهنده مغز استخوان بسیار سخت و دردناک است ولی خطر آن فقط یک در ۲۰ هزار نفر میباشد در حالیکه شانس بهبودی و زنده ماندن گیرنده مغز استخوان ۵۰ –۵۰ است. ربای بفکر فرو رفت ولی پس از لحظه ای تصمیم خود را گرفت و گفت «برای من موقعیت ممتازی پیش آمده که شاید بتوانم جان یکنفر را نجات دهم. من این شانس را از دست نمیدهم و کاملاً" آماده هستم که به این کودک بیمار کمک کنم.» سپس او در بیمارستان بستری گردید و پزشکان با دهها سوزن ریز، مقداری ماده ژله مانند از ستون فقراتش بیرون کشیده بفوریت آنرا در یک یخچال دستی گذاشتند که هر چه زودتر به بدن کودک بیمار منتقل نمایند و این در حالی بود که ربای و همسرش بهیچ وجه اطلاع نداشتند که این کودک کیست، نامش چیست، آیا در همین بیمارستان بستری است یا جای دیگر؟ در این اثنا همسر ربای ورق کاغذی پیدا کرد و با عجله این چند کلمه را روی آن نوشت: «من خیلی مشتاق هستم بدانم مغز استخوان شوهرم در بدن چه کسی جای میگیرد. امضاء میریام.» و سپس این نوشته را ضمیمه یخچال دستی نمود.

در اواخر سال ۱۹۹۱ در آنسوی اقیانوس اطلس در شهر «تونکو» واقع در ناحیه «استی» در قسمت شمالی کشور ایتالیا، پسر بچه ای بنام «نیکولا ترویزان» که مبتلا به بیماری سرطان خون شده بود تحت معالجات پزشکی قرار گرفت ولی هیچ نوع درمانی بر او مؤثر واقع نشد و پزشکان اظهار داشتند تنها راه معالجه و زنده ماندن او پیوند مغز استخوان میتواند باشد و باین خاطر از ساکنین شهرک تونکو و نواحی اطراف آن تقاضای کمک نمودند که بلافاصله عده زیادی حاضر شدند

Fred R. Conrad/The New York Times

ربای دانلد بری و همسرش میریام

که مغز استخوان خود را به نیکولا هدیه نمایند ولی متأسفانه خون هیچ یک از این داوطلبان به او نمیخورد؛ از این رو کم کم از سراسر کشور ایتالیا اشخاصی برای کمک به این کودک آمادگی نشان دادند ولی در بین آنها نیز کسی که خونش برای نیکولا مناسب باشد نبود. بالاخره تصمیم گرفته شد که نیکولا را برای معالجه به امریکا بفرستند که این امر با کمک مالی افراد خیرخواه، عملی شد و نیکولا بهمراه مادرش عازم شهر سیاتل در ایالت واشنگتن گردید و در مرکز تحقیقات سرطان Fred Hutchinson Cancer Research بستری گردید. در این موقع بود که پزشکان این مؤسسه علمی فوراً" با تمام مراکز انتقال خون در ایالات متحده تماس گرفتند و از این طریق آگاهی یافتند که در شهر بروکلین نیویورک شخصی زندگی میکند که گروه خونش با این پسر بچه سازش دارد و در این موقعیت خطیر، «دانلد بری» ربای ارتدوکس از جامعه سوریه ای های مقیم بروکلین، حاضر شد مغز استخوان خود را به این کودک ناشناس تقدیم نماید.

یخچال محتوی مغز استخوان بموقع به سیاتل رسید و در همان روز قبل از ساعت ۱۲ نیمه شب به بدن نیکولا وارد گردید. این در حالی بود که نیکولا قبلاً" تحت معالجات کیموتراپی و رادیوتراپی قرار گرفته و تمام سلولهای سرطانی در بدنش از بین رفته و در نتیجه مغز استخوانش نیز کاملاً" خالی شده و سیستم ایمنی بدنش بکلی از کار افتاده بود. در چنین شرایطی مغز استخوان ربای بری بعنوان یک دستگاه تولید کننده خون در بدن نیکولا کار گذاشته شد و خوشبختانه بدن او آنرا پذیرفت و عکس العمل منفی نشان نداد و با جاری شدن خون پاک و تازه، حالش کم کم رو به بهبودی گذاشت.

در این هنگام مسئولین بیمارستان نامه میریام همسر ربای را بدست «نادیا» مادر نیکولا دادند در حالیکه او هم نمیدانست چه کسی جان پسرش را نجات داده است. فقط به او گفته شده بود که ناجی فرزندش یک مرد بسیار مذهبی یهودی میباشد. نادیا که در تمام مدت عمرش هرگز با هیچ فرد یهودی روبرو نشده بود بسیار علاقمند گردید که با این مرد روحانی آشنائی پیدا کند. او در نامه جوابیه ای که به میریام نوشت ابتدا خانواده خود را معرفی کرد و سپس اضافه نمود: «من آرزو دارم این روزهای سخت سپری شود و ما بتوانیم با خانواده شما ملاقات نمائیم.» نیکولا هم بنوبه خود نامه ای بزبان ایتالیائی نوشت به این مضمون: «من نیکولا هستم؛ ده سال دارم، از ایتالیا آمده ام. من از تو شخص ناشناسی که مرا دوباره زنده کرده ای قدردانی مینمایم و هر شب برایت دعا میکنم.»

بدین طریق یک سلسله نامه نویسی و دوستی نادید بین این دو خانواده شروع شد. نیکولا آنقدر در امریکا ماند تا پزشکان اطمینان پیدا کردند که بدن او مغز استخوان جدید را واپس نخواهد زد و بالاخره در سال ۱۹۹۴ به او اجازه داده شد که به میهنش باز گردد. نیکولا از ایتالیا نامه ای برای خانواده بری نوشت و مژده داد که او دیگر بمعالجه احتیاج ندارد، فقط هر سه ماه یکبار بایستی برای «چک آپ» نزد پزشک برود.

در سال ۱۹۹۶ نیکولا در یکی از نامه هایش که این بار بزبان انگلیسی بود اینطور نوشت: «من دیگر فرد مریضی بحساب

The New York Times

نمی آیم و مثل مردم عادی زندگی میکنم. من اکنون در رشته طراحی صنعتی مشغول تحصیل هستم. من آرزو میکنم دوباره به امریکا بیایم ولی نه بعنوان مریض بلکه برای دیدار از کسی که جان مرا نجات داده است.»

ولی دیدار نیکولا از امریکا بمرحله عمل در نیامد بلکه این ربای و همسرش بودند که شانس دیدار از ایتالیا برایشان پیدا شد. در اواخر پائیز سال ۱۹۹۹ ربای رانلد بری و همسرش میریام برای دیدار پسرشان که در ایسرائل بتحصیل اشتغال دارد به آنجا رفتند و تصمیم گرفتند که در راه بازگشت شان سری هم به ایتالیا بزنند. در ماه ژانویه ۲۰۰۰ وقتی آنها بخاک ایتالیا رسیدند ورود خودشان را بخانواده «ترویزان» اطلاع دادند. ترویزان ها با خوشحالی و اشتیاق بسیار از ربای و همسرش خواهش کردند که تا ماه فوریه در ایتالیا بمانند که دو خانواده باتفاق یکدیگر در نقاط دیدنی ایتالیا گردش کنند. ولی برای خانواده بری چنین امکانی وجود نداشت. بنابراین آنها تصمیم گرفتند که فقط برای یک دیدار ۲۴ ساعته به شهر تونکو بروند. در این مرحله، مسئله مهم برای ربای و همسرش تهیه غذای کاشر بود ولی وقتی آنها در شهر میلان یک اغذیه فروشی کاشر پیدا کردند توانستند با صاحب آن آقای «شلمو کهن*» بزبان عبری صحبت کنند و مشکل شان آسان شد. آقای کهن از طریق پست الکترونیکی (e-mail) با خانواده ترویزان تماس گرفت و توضیحاتی در مورد غذای کاشر به آنها داد. سپس مقدمات کار را فراهم نمود. بدین ترتیب که از روز قبل چند بسته غذای کاشر به آدرس خانواده ترویزان به شهر تونکو فرستاد. در حالیکه آنها نیز بنوبه خود یک سرویس کامل غذاخوری و یک اجاق گاز تازه برای استفاده مهمانان خود خریده به خانه آورده بودند.

نیکولا یکی از کسانی بود که پای هواپیما به استقبال آمده بود. وقتی ربای او را دید بسیار هیجان زده شد. او مجسم نمود که اینک خون او در رگهای این جوان برومند جریان دارد. ربای بری، نیکولا را چون فرزندی در آغوش فشرد و بوسید. وقتی همه دسته جمعی بخانه رسیدند غذاهای لاک و مهر شده کاشر در اجاق گاز انتظار آنها را میکشید. در ساعات بعد از ظهر، عده ای از منسوبین و دوستان خانواده ترویزان بدیدار این مهمانان گرامی آمدند. وقتی شب فرا رسید، ربای و همسرش بهمراهی مهماندارانشان در مجلس ضیافتی در سالن شهرداری که بافتخار این ربای انسان دوست برپا شده بود شرکت نمودند. در این ضیافت یک پلاک افتخار به ربای دانلد بری بعنوان قهرمانی که یکی از فرزندان این شهر را از مرگ نجات داده است تقدیم شد.

صبح روز بعد خانواده ترویزان مهمانان خود را تا فرودگاه بدرقه نمودند. در بین راه فرودگاه آنها از یک کنیسای قدیمی که در سال ۱۵۹۹ توسط یهودیانی که بخاطر فجایع «انکیزیسیون» از کشور اسپانیا فرار کرده و در این محل ساکن شده بودند ساخته شده دیدن کردند. در این دیدار یکایک آنها دفتر یادبود این کنیسای تاریخی را امضاء نمودند. آقای ارماند و ترویزان پدر نیکولا، در این دفتر نوشت: بمناسبت دیدار دوستانه خانواده بری از شهر بروکلین در امریکا با خانواده ترویزان از شهر تونکو در ایتالیا این سطور را بیادگار مینویسم.»

و اینچنین بود که اهداء مغز استخوان، پلی از تفاهم و دوستی بین دو فرهنگ متفاوت از دو قاره مختلف ایجاد نمود.

نان گندم و مجالس عروسی

مرحوم علی اکبر دهخدا خوب فهمیده بود. در یکی از مقالاتش – حدود صد سال پیش – نوشته بود که روش انقلابی ترک سیگار را کشف کرده است و میخواهد بنام خودش به ثبت بدهد و از آن بابت پول و پله حسابی به جیب بزند. بعد توضیح داده بود که کسی که روزی ۲۰ – ۱۵ تا سیگار میکشد، روز اول ۴ سیگار را کم میکند و در عوض یک گندم تریاک میکشد و هیچ احساس کمبود هم نمی کند. روز دوم ۵ سیگار کم میکند و یک کف دست حشیش اضافه میکند؛ نشئه اش از روز اول هم بهتر است. روز سوم ۷ سیگار کم میکند و قدری بنگ و ناس اضافه میکند که اصلا" مسئله ای پیش نمی آورد. روز چهارم بقیه سیگارها را هم دور می ریزد و تریاک را قدری زیاد میکند. باین ترتیب ظرف چهار روز عادت زشت سیگار کشیدن را بکلی دور ریخته و فقط یک نخود تریاک، یک کف دست حشیش، یک جزئی بنگ و قدری ناس می زند و احیانا" اگر لازم شد یک سوزن مرفین هم تزریق میکند و شنگول و کیفور است!

دهخدا توضیح داده بود که دولت هم از روش انقلابی او پیروی کرده است. در آن زمان مردم ایران به عادت زشتی مبتلا بودند. نان گندم می خوردند. به این ترتیب هم به خزانه مملکت ضرر میزدند و هم زیادی قوی و گردن کلفت میشدند. دولت آمد و چاره ای اندیشید. یعنی از یک خروار آرد گندم که هر روز به نانواها تحویل می داد، روز اول یک من جو، ارزن، سبوس، یونجه، خلاصه بگویم چوب پنبه، کاه، خاک اره، کلوخ، ماسه، و تیر دو دَم قاطی آرد کرد و تحویل داد. روز دوم، از صد من – دو من، روز سوم سه من و خلاصه درست بعد از سه ماه و ده روز بجای صد من آرد گندم، صد من جو، ارزن، سبوس، یونجه – مختصر عرض میکنم – کنجواره، چوب بلال، چوب پنبه، کاه، خاک اره، کلوخ، قلوه سنگ، پاره آجر، تیر دو دم و گلوله ۸ مثقالی آرد کرد و تحویل نانوا داد و مردم هم اصلا" متوجه نبودند که عادت نان گندم خوردن را از سر بدر کرده اند!

هر جور حساب کنید جماعت ما هم نسبت به حق امتیاز ترک عادت – قانونا" باید شریک دهخدا باشد، زیرا ما هم مستقلا"، بدون خواندن مقاله دهخدا، ظرف این بیست سال عادتهای ناپسند گذشته را دور ریختیم و عادتهای نونوار و شیک و پیک برای خودمان دست و پا کردیم که نمونه اش را عرض میکنم.

همین عادت ازدواج کردن را بگیرید. هیچکس نداند شما و بنده که میدانیم کار بیجائی بود. دخترها هنوز بیست سالشان نشده دنبال شوهر می گشتند. پسرها هم بعد از تحصیلات، بمقصود ازدواج می آمدند؛ همه آماده بودند. ظرف یکماه گفتنی گفته میشد و کار ازدواج راه می افتاد. دست یکدیگر را می گرفتند و پی بختشان میرفتند.

مهمانی های مقدماتی در منزلهای شخصی انجام میشد. از مراسم زیر دندانی گرفته تا حنابندان، خوانچه بران، شیرینی خوران، هرزه وزان و خود عروسی، همه نسبتا" ساده و بی تکلف بود. هدایای طرفین در حد ساعت، قالیچه ابریشم و لباسهای قدیمی موروثی بیشتر جنبه ابراز شادمانی و یادبود داشت تا اثبات شخصیت و اشرافیت. در همه مراسم، دور و بری ها از خودشان مایه می گذاشتند. چیدن خونچه، تدارک مجلس، پخت و پز و حتی دوختن لباسها، با هنر و ذوق و مهارت و سلیقه خانمها انجام میشد. می بینید که همه چیز مثل نان گندم ساده و بی تکلف و کسالت آور بود و باید آنرا ترک میکردیم و کردیم و حالا آن نان دیگر را میخوریم!

آنروزها در مجالس عروسی توجه مردم بیشتر به زوج خوشبخت بود. همه چیز بر محور زندگی نوینی میگشت که آغاز میشد. امروز همه نظرها، همه توجه همه جا هست غیر از آن زندگانی نوین. امروز از مجلس ۸۰۰ نفری اقلا" سیصد ستاره، سینما، ملکه زیبائی، دختر شایسته و سوپر مدل داریم. امروز، از برکت تمدن جدید از خواننده، نیمه عریان گرفته تا مهمانها و گارسون ها، آقایان و خانمها، ماشاالله هر کدام یک تابلو نقاشی هستند. لباسها، همه آخرین مد پاریس و روم – اندامها همه کشیده (بعضی پوست ها هم همینطور) – آرایشها، چهل قلم – ژست ها و فیگورها، همه سینمائی – موها پریشان اما منجمد – هر گوشه ستاره ای می درخشد و کبکی می خرامد! خوب مگر آدم مریض است زوج خوشبخت را نگاه کند!

ما جهان مدرن را برگزیده ایم. امروز مهم نیست که وقت ازدواجت رسیده باشد. اول باید در نهاد خودت جستجو کنی که آماده تشکیل خانواده هستی یا نه؟ این خودش چند سالی وقت لازم دارد. بعد اگر احیانا" جواب مثبت بود باید عشق رویائی را پیدا کنی و چند ماهی – چند سالی با او راه بروی که مطمئن بشوی. اگر همه چیز بر وفق مراد پیش رفت، باید شروع کنی به برنامه ریزی، که پیشنهاد ازدواج را از چه طریق و با چه ابتکاری تحویل بدهی که از این سه بیلیون و اندی آدم روی زمین هیچکس همچه کاری نکرده باشد و عقل جن هم به آن نرسد. این از لازمات ازدواج است؛ فراموش نشود!

تا اینجای قضیه تقریبا" باندازه چهل تا عروسی نرمال از وقت و

اعصاب خود و خانواده خود مایه گذاشته و هیجان آفریده ای. می بینید چه عرض میکنم؟ بعد مسئله قرار و مدار محل مجلس، مخارج مجلس، تعداد مهمان، خرید منزل، لباس عروس و غیره مطرح میشود که زبانم لال – هفت سرش عزاست. چه کسی را دعوت بکنی یا نکنی؟ چطور هزار نفر را دعوت کنی و روی هفتصد صندلی جا بدهی؟ کدام مهمان را سر کدام میز بنشانی؟ تکلیف مهمانهای خود خوانده چیست؟ تکلیف مهمانهائی که میخواهند سر میز دونبش، آفتابگیر، هوادار، نزدیک پیست رقص، دور از ارکستر با همسایه های مناسب – مختصر عرض میکنم – متناسب با حیثیت شخصی – دور از درب ورودی، دور از آشپزخانه، دور از مسیر حرکت گارسونها، دور از دستشوئی، سمت چپ آن آقا و سمت راست این خانم بنشینند چیست؟! تکلیف آنها که سر میز تعیین شده نمی نشینند چیست؟ گلهای مجلس چه رنگ باشد، آیا به رنگ شب کلاه میخورد؟! ارکستر از کدام شهر بیاوری؟ آن ارکستر دیگر را چطور؟ پرده نمایش ویدئو کجا نصب شود؟ پیش غذا چه باشد؟ پس غذا چه باشد؟ شهود عقد که باشند؟ چطور بابت دعوت نشدنهای گذشته از مهمانها انتقام بگیری؟ چطور با مردم تسویه حساب کنی؟ چطور روی دست مجلس قبلی بزنی؟ چطور مجلس بعدی را غافلگیر کنی؟ بعد از مجلس برای تمدد اعصاب کجا بروی؟ زخم معده را چه کنی؟ فشار خونت را پیش کدام متخصص ببری؟

تصدیق میفرمائید اینهمه هیجان را هیچ کجا نمیشود آسان آفرید؟ تخصص ما است! می بینید چگونه نان گندم را ترک کردیم؟

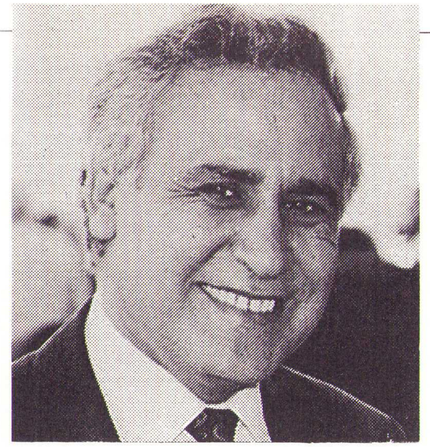
از کمپ مهاجرین تا مقام ریاست جمهوری

بمناسبت انتخاب مشه کتساو بمقام ریاست جمهوری ایسرائل

در زمستان سال ۱۹۵۱ مشه کتساو شش ساله به اتفاق پدر و مادر و خواهرش شوشانای یکساله به ایسرائل مهاجرت نمود. در جواب مأمور اداره مهاجرت که اسم او را می پرسید گفت: اسمم «ماشاءاله» است ولی مأمور اسم او را «مشه له» نامید و گفت که از این به بعد اسم تو این خواهد بود. از آن موقع او را مشه نامیدند.

خانواده کتساو به کمپ مهاجرین شعره علیا (دروازه مهاجرت) نزدیک حیفا منتقل و از آنجا به کمپ کاستینا که بعدا" در کنار آن شهرک کریت ملاخی ساخته شد اسکان داده شدند. زمستان آنسال بسیار سخت و شاید یکی از سخت ترین زمستان های کشور نوپای ایسرائل بود. خانواده کتساو در شرایط بسیار سخت در زیر چادر زندگی مشکلی را سپری کردند. بعدها مشه کتساو در مورد آوارگان فلسطین گفت: «من غم و اندوه آوارگان فلسطین را تا اعماق وجودم درک میکنم چون خودم همان دوران را گذرانده ام». بعد از دو سال در مجاورت کمپ مهاجرین شهرک کریت ملاخی ساخته شد و خانواده کتساو به محل تازه نقل مکان نموده و پدر مشه به شغل جنگل بانی در کرن کیمت استخدام شد و بعدا" در کارخانه نخ ریسی که در نزدیکی شهرک ساخته شد مشغول بکار گردید. در طی سالیان به خانواده کتساو شش اولاد اضافه گردید ولی موقعیت اقتصادی خانواده کماکان دشوار بود. مشه کتساو در طفولیت دوران تحصیل ابتدائی را در مدرسه نزدیک کمپ و بعد از آن به مدرسه شبانه روزی «بن شمن» ادامه داد. مشه میگوید: «در آن دوران بعلت عدم اتکاء به نفس و تفاوت طبقاتی با سایر دانش آموزان از نظر روحی وضع بسیار مشکلی را گذراندم. بعد از چهار سال به دبیرستان «آرتوبییا» که از طرف حزب «مپای» اداره میشد رفته و برای اولین بار با طبقه ثروتمند و تحصیل کرده ایسرائل آشنا شده و به منزل آنها رفت و آمد پیدا کردم. در واقع در آن سالها در اثر تماس با این طبقه زیربنای سیاسی من پایه گذاری شد.» بعدها که از کتساو جوان سئوال کردند چه برنامه ای برای آینده ات داری؟ در جواب علاقه خود را به روزنامه نگاری نشان داده و مدت کوتاهی را هم به شغل خبرنگاری روزنامه معروف یدیعوت اخرونوت پرداخت.

مشه بعد از انجام دوران سربازی در دانشگاه ثبت نام نموده ودر رشته تاریخ و سپس در رشته اقتصاد فارغ التحصیل گردید. در سال ۱۹۶۹ به مرکز حزب لیکود پیوست و در سن ۲۴ سالگی به سمت شهردار کریت ملاخی انتخاب شد و در سن سی سالگی از طرف حزب لیکود به نمایندگی کنست انتخاب گردید.



مرحوم بگین نخست وزیر وقت، وی را به معاونت وزارت راه و ساختمان برگزید. نامبرده اولین شخصیت مهمی بود که لیاقت و نبوغ سیاسی کتساو را کشف کرد و هم او بود که دروازه های ترقی را بسوی کتساو جوان گشود.

نمایندگان مجلس و همکاران دوران جوانی وی همگی در مورد کتساو می گفتند این شخص کوچک به بزرگی خواهد رسید. در سال ۱۹۸۴ کتساو به وزارت کار و سپس در دوران نخست وزیری اشحق شامیر به وزارت راه و ترابری و در کابینه بنیامین نتنیاهو به سمت وزارت جهانگردی و معاونت نخست وزیر انجام وظیفه نمود.

مشه کتساو دوران سیاسی و مدارج ترقی را با پشتکار زیاد و لیاقت و خوشنامی پیموده و در تمام دورانی که نماینده کنست (پارلمان ایسرائل) بود همیشه مظهر صلح و صفا بوده و حتی تمام احزاب مخالف به او و افکار او احترام میگذاشتند. در سال ۱۹۹۴ برای مدتی از کار سیاست کناره گیری نموده و در جواب خبرنگاران اظهار داشت «حالا باید قدری وقت خود را صرف خانواده خود نمایم.»

کتساو در مورد خود میگوید: «من هیچوقت از موقعیت خود مغرور نشدم همانطوریکه در زمان سختی مأیوس نشدم. هیچ موقع برای پیشرفت خود متوسل به دروغ یا تملق نشده و راه خود را بسوی ترقی با پشتکار زیاد و با درستی و صداقت و احترام به مردم پیمودم.»

خبرنگار معروف ایسرائلی آقای مناحم میخلسون که چند سال قبل بیوگرافی کتساو را نوشته در خاتمه مینویسد: «صبر کنید نبوغ این شخص را خواهید دید.»

و اکنون پیش بینی این خبرنگار با انتخاب وی به مقام ریاست جمهوری ثابت گردید.

صنعت «های تک» ایسرائل

طبق گزارش ماهنامه تکنولوژی «ویرو» چاپ آمریکا، سیلیکون والی کالیفرنیا از نظر تراکم مراکز پیشرفته «های تک» در مقام اول و ایسرائل در مقام چهارم قرار دارد.

در آخرین شماره این ماهنامه که از اعتبار خاصی برخوردار است گزارشی در چهارده صفحه بطور کامل موقعیت مراکز پیشرفته «های تک» در دنیا را مورد بررسی قرار داده و از بین آن چهل و شش مرکز مهم و پیشرفته را معرفی نموده است. در مورد ایسرائل مینویسد کشور مزبور دارای تکنولوژی بسیار پیشرفته و یکی از مراکز بسیار مهم «های تک» در دنیا میباشد که با سرعت فوق العاده در حال گسترش است و چنانچه بهمین طریق جلو رود بطور قطع در مدت کوتاهی در مقام دوم بعد از امریکا قرار خواهد گرفت. در ادامه نویسنده گزارش میدهد: ایسرائل میبایست به توانائی خود در این صنعت که نود و نه بیلیون دلار گردش پولی آن میباشد افتخار نماید.

رده بندی این ماهنامه همانطوریکه در بالا ذکر گردید بشرح زیر است: ۱- کالیفرنیا ۲- بوستون ۳- استکهلم (سوئد) ۴- تل آویو (ایسرائل) ۵- کارولینای شمالی ۶- هلسینکی (فنلاند) ۷- هوستون تکزاس و بالاخره ژاپن در رده هیجدهم قرار دارد.

با توجه به اینکه رده اول و دوم دو مرکز امریکائی میباشند در واقع ایسرائل در رده سوم جهانی میباشد که افتخاری بسیار بزرگ برای این کشور کوچک است.

آیا به ملیت خود افتخار میکنید؟

طی آماری که توسط مرکز پژوهشی برای تحکیم دموکراسی در ایسرائل بعمل آمده سئوالی بدین مضمون مطرح گردیده بود «آیا به ملیت خود افتخار میکنید؟» جواب های رسیده به این قرار بود:

۵۹ درصد جواب دادند خیلی به ملیت خود افتخار میکنیم.
۳۵ درصد جواب دادند فقط به ملیت خود افتخار میکنیم.
۱۱ درصد جواب دادند به ملیت خود افتخار نمیکنند.
۵ درصد اصلا" به ملیت خود افتخار نمیکنند.

همچنین مایلم از زحمات بیدریغ آقایان اعضای وعد گذشته که مأموریت خود را بپایان رسانیده اند، آقای داوید کهن، آقای بنیامین بن داوید، آقای داوید شاعر، آقای افرایم زبولانی، آقای اسحق آقایوف و آقای ابراهیم حکیمی صمیمانه سپاسگزاری کنم و برای آنها موفقیت و سلامت مسئلت نمایم.

در انتخابات ۲۲ فوریه ۲۰۰۰ همچنین اعضای شورای بانوان نیز بشرح زیر انتخاب شدند: ریاست شورا خانم اورا زر، خانم استر کاشی، خانم حنا کرمیلی، خانم شولا لیوی و خانم سیما دیلمانیان.

همه‌ء ما به تأئید شما مباهات میکنیم و مسئلت داریم که بتوانیم وظایف خود را با جدیت و درستی بانجام برسانیم.

خانه سالمندان در هرتصلیا نمودار خلاقیت، همت والا و لیاقت جامعه مشهدی است و به بهترین وجهی توسط هیأتی کارآزموده و سرسپرده اداره میشود. جلسه هیأت مدیره‌ء خانه سالمندان هر هفته برگزار میشود و در آن به امور جاری این مؤسسه رسیدگی میشود که این سرمایه مهم جامعه مشهدی به کار منظم و فعالیت حیاتی خود بنحو موفقیت آمیز ادامه دهد.»

کمیته های وعد مرکزی عبارتند از:

- کمیته خانه سالمندان جامعه در هرتصلیا (آقایان آقلر و یعکووی)
- کمیته صندوق کمک به نیازمندان (آقایان سیانس، اسحق اف، آقلر و حکیمی)
- کمیته بورسهای تحصیلی (آقایان سیانس، آقلر و یعکووی)
- کمیته فرهنگ (آقایان زبولونی و حکیم و خانم زر)

آقای شموئل بن داوید خود در همه‌ء کمیته ها فعالیت خواهند داشت.

فعالیت وعد مرکزی جدید از بدو ایجاد عبارت بوده است از:

کمک به نیازمندان برای ایام پسح (با مبلغی معادل ۱۵,۰۰۰ دلار)، تقسیم بورسهای تحصیلی که گزارش آن در شماره گذشته مگیلا داده شد، جمع آوری کمک مالی بصورت اضطراری برای یک فرد جامعه که احتیاج به پیوند کلیه داشت، تأسیس نشریه‌ء «کهیلت مشهد» که به زبانهای فارسی و عبری چاپ میشود و توسط کمیته فرهنگ تهیه میشود، و تهیه برنامه بازدید از خانه سالمندان برای عموم. وعد جدید همچنین در نظر دارد یک برنامه تجلیل از افراد وعد سابق برگزار کند. (وعد جدید در بدو ایجاد درختهائی بنام افراد وعد سابق در جنگل «یهودیهای مشهد که در نزدیکی یروشالیم واقع است احداث کرد).

مگیلا ضمن یادآوری خدمات وعد سابق، برای وعدهای جدید در انجام وظایف سنگینشان آرزوی موفقیت میکند. همچنین از آقای پیروز دیلمانیان برای گزارش جداگانه ای که در مورد این انتخابات نوشته بودند متشکریم.

جزوه ای در باره‌ء تاریخ جامعه

اخیرا" آقای عزریا لیوی ساکن یروشالیم، محقق تاریخ، جامعه و دبیر سابق دبیرستانهای یروشالیم جزوه ای بزبان انگلیسی تحت عنوان:

The Jews of Mashad

چاپ کرده اند که شامل چهار مقاله میباشد. مقاله‌ء اول در باره‌ء تاریخ ورود یهودیان به مشهد در زمان نادرشاه و مطالبی راجع به واقعه‌ء الله دادی و زندگی جامعه در سالهای بعد از آن، مقاله‌ء دوم در مورد اخراج یهودیان از هرات در سالهای ۱۸۵۹ – ۱۸۵۶ و برگردانده شدن آنها به مشهد، و مقاله‌ء سوم در باره‌ء زندگی یهودیان مشهد در اوایل قرن بیستم و مقاله چهارم راجع به تاریخچه‌ء خانواده‌ء نصرا لله اف لیوی میباشد. این جزوه مانند همه‌ء نوشته های آقای لیوی، نوشته ای علمی است که در آن نویسنده با دقت زیاد هر موضوع را به کتاب و مقالات چاپ شده استناد میدهد.

لازم به یادآوری است که آقای لیوی همه‌ء عمر خود را صرف تحقیق تاریخ جامعه کرده اند و با امکانات بسیار کمی که در اختیار دارند این کار عملی بزرگ خود را و این خدمت خود را به جامعه بدون خستگی ادامه میدهند.

بسیار جایز است که جوامع مشهدی در امریکا و در سایر نقاط دنیا، این دانشمند عزیز را تشویق کنند و از کار ایشان پشتیبانی نمایند. تعداد معدودی از جزوه‌ء اخیر آقای لیوی در اختیار آقای شموئل لیویان و دکتر فرخ دیلمانیان میباشد که آنها را میتوان به بهای ۲۰ دلار از ایشان ابتیاع کرد.

کمیته فرهنگ و تحصیلات عالی موفق شد اشخاص هنرمندی را برای همکاری با گروه «سینای» از میان افراد جامعه پیدا کند. دوشیزه آنیتا نوبخت و آقای گیدئون آقلر (که چند ماه قبل از آن نمایش زیبای «پوریم فست» را تهیه کرده بودند) متصدی پیدا کردن بازیکنان مکمل برای این نمایش شدند و آقایان داریوش رحمانی و روبرت مردخا متصدی تهیهء دکور و لوازم صحنه گردیدند. آقای امیر شموئیل کارگردان، آقای فرهاد تراشندگان و بقیهء افراد گروه سینای که شامل بهترین هنرمندان ایرانی مقیم ایسرائل میباشند بتدریج در ظرف یک هفته قبل از تاریخ اجرای نمایش به نیویورک رسیدند و برنامه سنگین تمرین و تکوین نمایش از روز یکشنبه ۲۵ جون آغاز گردید. اضافه بر نمایش، آنیتا نوبخت و گیدئون آقلر دو قطعه رقص و موسیقی ایسرائلی نوجوانان جامعه را به آخر این نمایش اضافه کردند که تاریخ ۱۶۰ سال پیش جامعه را در مشهد که در آن آرزوی بزرگ افراد جامعه دیدن استقلال کشور ایسرائل و امکان رسیدن به زندگی در ایسرائل بود را با رقصهای ایسرائلی نوجوانان که ایجاد کشور ایسرائل را مژده میداد بهم ربط داد. در این دو قطعه نیز ۱۲ نفر نوجوان جامعه شرکت کردند.

با وجود نامناسب بودن زمان نمایش که در آن تعداد زیادی از افراد جامعهء ما و سایر جوامع ایرانی یهودی نیویورک سفر تعطیل تابستانی خود را شروع کرده بودند، و با وجود محدودیت هائی که در زمینه پخش آگهی در مورد این برنامه در نظر گرفته شده بود، بیش از ۵۵۰ نفر از این نمایش دیدن کردند. یادآوری میشود که این اولین باری بود که جامعهء ما در نیویورک شاهد اجرای نمایشی در مورد تاریخ واقعه ا لله دادی میشد.

کمیته فرهنگ و تحصیلات عالی از گروه سینای بخصوص آقایان امیر شموئیل و فرهاد تراشندگان، آقایان داریوش رحمانی و روبرت مردخا، از دوشیزه آنیتا نوبخت و آقای گیدئون آقلر و سایر شرکت کنندگان در این برنامه و کمک کنندگان برای تهیه این برنامه که لیست ایشان در زیر درج شده است تشکر میکند. این کمیته همچنین از انجمن مرکزی که مشوق و پشتیبان فعالیت های این کمیته

است تشکر میکند. چندین نفر از افراد خیّر جامعه برای جبران کمبود مالی این برنامه هدایائی اهدا کردند که این کمیته از ایشان صمیمانه تشکر میکند.

این کمیته تشویق هنر و فرهنگ و یادآوری سنت های تاریخی جامعه را جزو هدفهای اصلی خود می بیند و امیدوار است جامعه در آینده شاهد ایجاد برنامه های هنری دیگری مانند Purimfest و این نمایش باشد و جوانان جامعه بیش از پیش در اجرای این برنامه ها سهیم گردند.

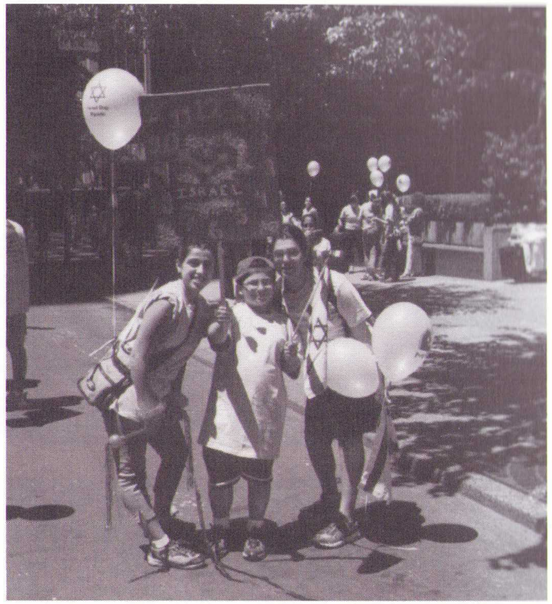
گزارش کمیته فرهنگ و تحصیلات عالی

از: دکتر فرخ دیلمانیان

نمایش «تاریخ اجداد ما در مشهد»

روز شنبه ۲۴ جون تعداد زیادی از افراد جامعه ما یک ملاقات خاطره انگیز و غیر منتظره با یک دوست خوب و قدیمی از دوران دبیرستان در ایران داشتند. آقای فرهاد تراشندگان، در این روز به کنیسای شعره شالوم آمدند تا ضمن دیدار از دوستان قدیمی مشهدی که آنها را از زمان مربی بودن در سازمان خلوتص ایران میشناختند، افراد جامعه را دعوت کنند که برای دیدن نمایش «تاریخ اجداد ما در مشهد» که قرار بود پنجشنبه ۲۹ جون در مدرسهء گریت نک ساوت برگزار شود حضور بهم رسانند. آقای تراشندگان، بهمراهی آقای امیر شموئیل سناریو نویس، کارگردان، و هنرپیشه ایرانی، مدتهاست که گروه هنری «سینای» را در ایسرائل احداث کرده و اداره میکنند. نمایش «تاریخ اجداد ما در مشهد» یکی از نمایشهای متعددی است که این گروه در ظرف ۱۵ سال اخیر در ایسرائل به صحنهء نمایش گذارده است. اجرای این نمایش در ایسرائل، که وقایع دورهء الله دادی در مشهد و مقاومت جامعه در سالهای بعد از آن را نشان میداد، با استقبال زیادی روبرو شد.

در اوایل سال ۲۰۰۰ کمیته فرهنگ و تحصیلات عالی از این گروه دعوت کرد که به نیویورک آمده این نمایش را برای روز استقلال ایسرائل اجرا کنند. متأسفانه به عللی بعمل آوردن این برنامه در روز استقلال عملی نشد و بعد از مدتها تلاش برای یافتن زمان مناسب، بالاخره اجرای آن به ۲۹ جون موکول شد. تهیه این نمایش احتیاج به تدارکات و تمرین های زیادی داشت چون اولا" فقط ۶ نفر از ۱۳ بازیکن این نمایش از ایسرائل می آمدند و ۷ نفر دیگر باید از بین افراد جامعه انتخاب شده با گروه اصلی تمرین میکردند. ثانیا" دکور و صحنه و تقریبا" همهء لوازم صحنه (Props) باید در نیویورک تهیه میشد. خوشبختانه



مسابقه «عکسهای ما از ایسرائل»

بمناسبت پنجاه و دومین سال استقلال ایسرائل، کمیته جوانان مشغول جمع آوری عکس هائی از ایسرائل میباشد. این عکس ها در چهار قسمت مختلف طبقه بندی میشوند. مردم ما، میراث ما، اماکن مقدسه، سرزمین ما و مسافرت ما. تعدادی از این عکس ها در تقویم سالیانه کمیته جوانان بچاپ رسیده است و در نمایشگاهی در مشهدی جوئیش سنتر بمعرض نمایش گذاشته خواهد شد. کمیته جوانان هنوز برای این مسابقه عکس می پذیرد. لطفا" برای ارسال عکس های خود با آنتیا نوبخت و یا افشین بصلی تماس حاصل فرمائید.

پارتی روی قایق

در پایان تابستان گذشته پارتی روی قایق از طرف کمیته جوانان در شنبه شب ۲۶ آگوست برگزار گردید. در این جشن بیش از ۱۸۰ نفر از جوانان جامعه شرکت داشتند و شب فراموش نشدنی را در دور جزیره منهتن گذراندند. کمیته جوانان بدین وسیله از زحمات آلن حکیمیان و بنی لیویان در تنظیم این جشن قدردانی می نماید. همچنین از سایر کسانی که در برگزاری این جشن دست داشتند از جمله جیمی کمالی، سیمونا نامدار، متیو عنایتیان، لعبت زرووابلی، دینا کمالی، جک زر، کامی کلاتی و لئون کاشی قدردانی میکند.

پارک تفریحی گریت ادونچر

دهمین مسافرت سالیانه کمیته جوانان به پارک تفریحی گریت ادونچر در روز پنجشنبه ۲۴ آگوست با شرکت ۱۲۰ نفر از نوجوانان در دو اتوبوس برگزار گردید. کمیته جوانان از بنی همتیان، دینا کمالی، جاستین حکیمیان، جیمی کمالی، ایلان حکیمیان و سامی قصابیان برای برگزاری این برنامه تشکر میکند.

سفره یکروزه به «واتر پارک»

کمیته جوانان در روز ۱۳ آگوست مسافرتی به پارک تفریحی تنظیم کرد که عده ای از جوانان با یک اتوبوس در آن شرکت کردند. با وجود هوای نسبتا" سرد در این روز، جوانان روز خوبی را در این پارک گذراندند. کمیته جوانان از زحمات تونی کرمیلی و بنی لیویان در تنظیم این برنامه قدردانی می نماید.

«نقش زن یهودی»

در روز چهارشنبه ۲۳ آگوست یک جلسه سخنرانی تحت عنوان «نقش زن یهودی» با شرکت ۲۵ نفر از نوجوانان برگزار گردید. سخنران این جلسه خانم سارا کرمیلی بودند که کمیته جوانان بدینوسیله از ایشان تشکر مینماید. برای اطلاعات بیشتر راجع به سخنرانی های آینده کمیته جوانان با آنیتا نوبخت تماس حاصل فرمائید.

کتابچه های مخصوص روش هشانا

امسال نیز کتابچه های براخاهای شب روش هشانا از طرف کمیته جوانان انتشار یافت. این کتابچه ها در کلیه کنیساها در دسترس علاقمندان قرار گرفت. در این کتابچه علاوه بر براخاهای روش هشانا به سه زبان فارسی، انگلیسی و عبری، دعاهای مراسم تشلیخ نیز درج شده است. کمیته جوانان از کمک های مالی جماعت محترم تشکر کرده و از زحمات آقای افشین بصلی و خانم بهناز دیلمانیان در تنظیم این کتابچه قدردانی می نماید.

تقویم سالانه یهودی

چهارمین تقویم یهودی کمیته جوانان منتشر گردید. این تقویم شامل زمان روشن کردن شمع شبات و اعیاد مذهبی میباشد. منتخبی از عکس های ایسرائل مربوط به

مسابقه کمیته جوانان زینت بخش صفحات این تقویم میباشد. هزینهء چاپ این تقویم از طرف خانواده های خیّری تأمین گردیده است که هشکاوای عزیزان از دست رفته آنان در پائین صفحات این تقویم درج شده است.

کمیته جوانان از این افراد و همچنین از آقای مهران اعتصامی و خانم بهناز دیلمانیان بابت زحمتشان در تهیه این تقویم سپاسگزاری مینماید.

سفر تورای جماعتی

کمیتهء جوانان در حال تهیه سفر تورائی برای استفاده جماعت محترم در سفرهای گروهی و موقعیت های دیگر میباشد. این سفر تورا در ایسرائل نوشته میشود. قسمتی از هزینهء این توراه توسط بعضی از افراد جامعه تأمین شده است. کسانی که مایلند در این میتصوا شرکت نمایند و قسمتی از هزینه این کار خیر را تقبل نمایند لطفا" با افشین بصلی 516-984-7508 و یا بنی همتیان 516-978-4045 تماس حاصل فرمایند.

تیم بسکتبال مشهدی مجیک

تیم بسکتبال مجیک بار دیگر بعنوان تیم جوانان مشهدی در مسابقات بسکتبال «جوانان یهودی» شرکت میکند. مربیان تیم آقایان براین حکیمیان، جیسون حکیمیان و جرمی نیکفرجام میباشند. مشهدی مجیک به همکاری شما احتیاج دارد. برای اطلاع از مسابقات این تیم به هخودش ماه های آینده مراجعه کنید.

گزارش انجمن مرکزی

از: ادوارد نسیمی

گزارش فعالیت های انجمن مرکزی در سه ماهه سوم سال ۲۰۰۰ بشرح زیر میباشد:

۱- ساختمان شماره ۱۳۰ استیم بوت رود

همانطوریکه قبلا" به اطلاع جماعت محترم رسیده، انجمن مرکزی نقشه جدیدی را برای ارائه به انجمن شهر گریت نک آماده کرده است که امید می رود مورد تصویب انجمن شهر قرار گیرد. این پروژه در صدر برنامه های انجمن مرکزی قرار دارد چون احتیاج مبرمی برای استفاده از این مرکز مخصوصا" برای فعالیت های جوانان احساس میشود.

۲- کارهای ساختمانی کنیسا

در این مدت کار ساختمان پارکینگ کنیسا به پایان رسید. کارهای داخلی کنیسا با نصب شیشه های رنگی ادامه دارد.

۳- امور مالی

طبق مندرجات اساسنامه جامعه، انجمن مرکزی بودجه سالیانه امور جامعه را برای سال مالی که از سپتامبر ۲۰۰۰ شروع شده است بتصویب رسانید. این بودجه شامل مخارج کنیسای شعره شالوم (مشهدی جوئیش سنتر) و کلیه کمیته های وابسته به انجمن مرکزی می باشد. اکثر بودجه ها در سطح بودجه سال گذشته تأمین شده، گر چه بودجه کمیته امور خیریه به مقدار قابل توجهی افزایش یافت.

انجمن مرکزی همچنین گزارش امور مالی و دخل و خرج جامعه تا پایان آگوست ۲۰۰۰ را انتشار داد. این گزارش در این شماره مگیلا بچاپ رسیده است. انجمن مرکزی مجددا" از کمکهای سخاوتمندانه کلیه افراد جامعه قدردانی مینماید. از این طریق کمیته مرکزی توانست بدهی بانکی خود را به مبلغ بیش از ۵۰۰,۰۰۰ دلار کاهش دهد و مخارج بازسازی پارکینگ کنیسا و سایر مخارج ساختمانی و تزئینی کنیسا را نیز بپردازد. غیر این پرداختی ها، بودجه سالیانه کلیه سازمانهای وابسته نیز از طرف انجمن مرکزی تأمین گردید.

۴- تلمود توراه

همانطوریکه قبلا" گزارش داده شد، انجمن مرکزی تصمیم گرفت که کمیته تلمود توراه را به دو کمیته تقسیم نماید. یکی از این دو کمیته مسئول برنامه کلاس های تلمود تورا میباشد و دیگری برنامه بورس های تحصیلی دانش آموزان یشیواها را عهده دار خواهد بود.

بمنظور ایجاد موقعیتی برای کلیه اعضای جامعه که مخارج این دو کمیته را فراهم نمایند تصمیم بر آن شد که برنامه جمع آوری پول در دو مرحله مختلف در ایام سیمخا توراه برگزار شود تا عده بیشتری از جماعت محترم در این برنامه مهم شرکت کنند.

۵- ملاقات با نمایندگان دولت ایران

در طی برنامه پنجاهمین سال تأسیس سازمان ملل متحد نمایندگان دولت ایران نیز برای شرکت در این برنامه به نیویورک آمدند. نماینده یهودیان در مجلس جمهوری اسلامی آقای موریس معتمد که با نماینده سفارت ایران همراهی میشد در کنیساهای شعره شالوم و شعره طوا برای جامعه مشهدی سخنرانی کرد. بعد از آن تعدادی از نمایندگان انجمن مرکزی و بورد کنیسا به همراهی نمایندگان سایر جوامع یهودیان ایرانی مقیم نیویورک با چند تن از مقامات جمهوری اسلامی ملاقات داشتند. این مقامات اظهار امیدواری کردند که روابط بهتری با جوامع یهودیان ایرانی نیویورک ایجاد شود.

۶- کمیته روابط عمومی

ایجاد رابطه بهتر با شهرداری گریت نک همیشه جزو هدفهای مهم انجمن مرکزی بوده است. علاوه بر ملاقاتهای غیر رسمی و تماس های دائم با مقامات شهرداری، اخیرا" ملاقاتی با شرکت کلیه اعضای انجمن مرکزی و بورد کنیسا با مقامات شهرداری منجمله شهردار و معاون شهردار صورت گرفت و در محیطی بسیار آرام به مسائل مربوط به جامعه رسیدگی شد. انجمن مرکزی امیدوار است که روابط جامعه با شهرداری همچنان رو به بهبود رود.

انجمن مرکزی همچنین برنامه ثبت نام اعضای جامعه را برای شرکت در انتخابات محلی و کشوری آغاز کرد. از این برنامه بسیار استقبال شد و امید می رود که تعداد بیشتری از اعضای جامعه ما در انتخابات آینده شرکت نمایند.

۷- خانه سالمندان در ایسرائل

اخیرا" به اطلاع انجمن مرکزی رسیده است که مالکیت خانه سالمندان در ایسرائل به جوامع مشهدی سراسر دنیا منتقل خواهد شد. انجمن مرکزی در ضمن یک نامه رسمی نظریات خود را در این مورد اعلام کرد که طبق اساسنامه ای که از طرف جامعه محترم به تصویب رسیده است، UMJCA نماینده قانونی جامعه یهودیان مشهدی مقیم امریکا می باشد.

حیات ایسرائل

از: مهران اعتصامی (ترجمه از متن اصلی انگلیسی)

هفته های گذشته برای کشور ایسرائل و یهودیان جهان هفته های سخت و غم انگیزی بوده است. اغتشاشات و درگیری هائی که درست قبل از ایام روش هشانا و کیپور درگرفت، همراه با حملات زهرآگین تبلیغاتی از طریق مطبوعات، رادیو، تلویزیون و حتی در سازمان ملل متحد، همه را بهت زده کرد. یهودیان از جنگ کیپور ۷۳ چنین نگرانی عمیقی را تجربه نکرده بودند.

از هم پاشیدن روند صلح و درگیری ها و سنگ پرانی ها ثابت کرد که عدم اعتماد و سوء ظن بعضی از ما نسبت به رهبران فلسطینی متأسفانه درست بوده است. سالها راست گرایان ایسرائل به ما هشدار میدادند که قرارداد «اسلو» که هفت سال پیش به امضاء رسید سرابی بیش نیست. به ما میگفتند که یاسر عرفات در سخنرانی های خود به زبان عربی هنوز از انهدام ایسرائل و جهاد صحبت میکند. کتابهای درسی فلسطین هنوز نفرت از یهودیان را به کودکان می آموزند و کشور ایسرائل روی نقشه های آنان وجود ندارد. به ما تذکر میدادند که شرکای ما در قرارداد صلح هنوز فرهنگ نفرت را گسترش میدهند، نه صلح و برادری را.

برای ما یهودیان، پس از پنجاه سال جنگ و خونریزی، دشوار بود که رؤیای شیرین زندگی آرام در میان خانواده ملل را رها کنیم و دوباره چشم به واقعیت های خاور میانه باز کنیم. ما گذشت های ایسرائل را برای دستیابی به رؤیای صلح پذیرفتیم تا اینکه ماه گذشته از خواب شیرین پریدیم. فلسطینی ها دیدار شارون از «تپه معبد مقدس» را بهانه قرار دادند تا هر روز سربازان و شهروندان ایسرائل را مورد حمله قرار دهند و بزودی روشن شد که سنگ پرانی ها و اغتشاشات از مدتها قبل از دیدار شارون تدارک دیده شده بود.

همزمان با شورش، فلسطینیان اقدامات شدیدی را علیه ایسرائل از طریق مطبوعات در سراسر جهان شروع کردند و نمایندگانشان مانند «صائب اراکات» و «حنان اشراوی» ادعا کردند که ایسرائل دست به کشتارهای دسته جمعی کودکان بدون اسلحه و بی دفاع آنان زده است؛ در حالیکه ما خلاف آنرا در تلویزیون مشاهده میکردیم. در یکی از نمونه های حمله فلسطینیان بخوبی دیدیم که چطور صدها مرد و جوان به یک پست نگهبانی سربازان ایسرائلی ناگهان حمله کردند و بطرف آنها سنگ و بمب های مولوتف پرتاب میکردند و در پشت سر حمله کنندگان، سربازان فلسطینی مسلح با تفنگ و مسلسل خود را در پشت دیوارها و ساختمانها پنهان کرده و بطرف سربازان ایسرائلی شلیک میکردند. البته سربازان هم چاره دیگری غیر از دفاع از خود نداشتند و ناچارا" باید بطرف آنان شلیک میکردند. هفته گذشته در «رام الله» مشاهده کردیم که چه وحشتناک خواهد بود وقتیکه فلسطینی ها بتوانند به سربازان ایسرائلی دسترسی پیدا کنند!

با مشاهده نمونه های زنده این نوع حملات وحشیانه در ایستگاه تلویزیونی «سی-ان-ان»، از صبر و حوصله سربازان ایسرائلی واقعا" تعجب کردم. یکی پس از دیگری جوانان فلسطینی از چپ و راست به دو جیپ ایسرائلی نزدیک میشدند و آنها را زیر رگبار سنگ و بمبهای آتش زا قرار داده بودند. چندین بار بطریهای بمب آتش زا در زیر اتومبیل ها منفجر میشد ولی سربازان ایسرائلی با آرامش هر چه تمامتر فقط عقب نشینی میکردند در حالیکه هر سربازی در هر ارتش دیگر که جان خود را در چنین موقعیت خطرناکی میدید بدون شک بطرف حمله کنندگان شلیک میکرد؛ ولی کاملا" مشخص بود که سربازان ایسرائلی دستور اکید داشتند که سعی کنند از حمله کنندگان کسی کشته نشود.

فلسطینیان فرزندان خود را عمدا" در جلوی میدان نبرد قرار میدهند و آنها را تشویق میکنند که شهید شوند و بعد با بیشرمی از کشته شدن آنها برای تبلیغات علیه ایسرائل استفاده میکنند.

متأسفانه سازمان ملل متحد هم به دورانی برگشت که احساسات ضد ایسرائلی در آن غلبه داشت. چینی ها ده ها هزار نفر تظاهرکنندگان صلح جو را در میدان «تیانامان» زیر گلوله بستند ولی سازمان ملل کشور چین را تقبیح ننمود و یا روسیه که کلیه اهالی یک دهکده را در «چاشنیا» قتل عام کرد، سازمان ملل کاملا" سکوت اختیار کرد. اکنون چقدر مضحک است که چین و روسیه به اتفاق ۱۲ عضو دیگر شورای امنیت برای محکومیت یک جانبه علیه ایسرائل رأی بدهند بدون آنکه هیچ نوع مسئولیتی برای فلسطینیان قائل شوند!

شخصیت هائی که در مذاکرات صلح دخالت داشتند منجمله پرزیدنت کلینتون تعجب کرده بودند که چرا یاسر عرفات پیشنهادات سخاوتمندانه اهود باراک را در کمپ دیوید قبول نکرده و یا اقلا" پیشنهاد متقابلی عرضه نکرده است تا اینکه نقشه مزورانه وی برایشان روشن شد. اعراب همسایه ایسرائل تاکنون چندین بار سعی کرده اند که ایسرائل را نابود سازند ولی در تمام جنگها شکست خورده اند. اعراب فقط بدنبال دو پیروزی هستند و عرفات دو نوع جنگ را بعنوان نبرد آخر و شکست ایسرائل در نظر دارد: یکی «جنگ لبنان» و دیگری «انتفاده»؛ زیرا وی بخوبی میداند که ارتش ایسرائل قوی تر از آن است که بتوان آنرا با یک جنگ نظامی شکست داد ولی سالیان دراز جنگهای چریکی، ترور انتحاری و عملیات تروریستی میتواند هر ارتشی را فرسوده نماید. عرفات همچنین بخوبی میداند که فرستادن کودکان بیگناه جلوی آتش و سنگ پرانی آنها به ایسرائلیان تصویر جالبی برای خبرنگاران است و میتواند بدینوسیله افکار عمومی جهانیان را علیه ایسرائل برانگیزد.

چنانچه بزودی آتش بس اعلام نشود و یا اینکه مذاکرات صلح مجددا" از سر گرفته نشود، باید انتظار داشت که فلسطینیان به حملات خود از دو جناح علیه ایسرائل ادامه دهند: جنگهای چریکی و فشار سیاسی از طریق حمله و شورش و هر شب نمایندگان آنان در سی-ان-ان، ایسرائل را به جنایتهای جنگی متهم نموده و درخواست نمایند که سازمان ملل مانند «صربستان» و «عراق» به طرفداری از فلسطینیان دخالت نماید.

در حالیکه ما در سایه امنیت امریکا در منازل خود نشسته و شاهد موقعیت خطرناک برادران و خواهران خود در ایسرائل هستیم نباید آسوده باشیم. آیا برای کمک به ایسرائل، علاوه بر دعا برای صلح چه کاری از دست ما بر میآید؟ ما نباید ساکت بنشینیم. فلسطینیان حداقل نیمی از حملات خود را متوجه افکار عمومی نموده اند. وظیفه یکایک ما که به ایسرائل علاقه داریم اینست که در مقابل این تبلیغات مغرضانه علیه ایسرائل ساکت ننشینیم؛ باید با نمایندگان خود در کنگره و سنای امریکا تماس بگیریم و از آنها بخواهیم که دولت امریکا از حقوق ایسرائل با قدرت هر چه بیشتر دفاع نماید. وقتیکه مقالات و اخبار یک جانبه میخوانیم و یا می شنویم به روزنامه ها و ایستگاه های رادیو و تلویزیون نامه بنویسیم، به آنها تلفن کنیم و پست الکترونیکی بفرستیم و اعتراض نمائیم و همچنین در تظاهراتی که برای دفاع و پشتیبانی از ایسرائل تشکیل میشود شرکت نموده حمایت خود را نشان دهیم.

این اولین باری نیست که امنیت ایسرائل مورد تهدید قرار گرفته است. بیاری خد-اوند ایسرائل مجددا" پیروز خواهد شد.
