

From: JOSE REVELES
To: Info@slocleanair.org
Subject: "Air contamination"
Date: Monday, March 12, 2018 1:06:59 AM

Hello, I'm here to speak on my behalf. I frequent the Pismo are for many reasons. The ocean, the dunes for most part, concerts and to visit the Monarch butterflies. I have breathing problems. If I'm an area of little dust, I begin to sneeze, eyes turn red and I have trouble breathing. NEVER NEVER NEVER, has that been the case when visiting any part of that area. Wether it's staying in the dunes for 4 days, or staying in a hotel ANYWHERE to the " so-called victimized area" you are people of reason and smart, or else you wouldn't be in that position. We only see one type of folks complaining over and over. The perfect WRONG example as to where our youth pick up the " I'm going to whine till I get things my way", ordeal. If their claim was somewhat credible, people wouldn't oppose it 100% and called them out on it. They are "older tantrum my way only forget anyone else" Folks. We are willing to work with them, but closing portion of a one of a kind locations is ridiculous because of some whining folks. In reality they can move ! I would if My Health was that important and it was that bad. We can't move the dunes elsewhere on the coast can we ? Because of the recent snow avalanche this past week they're aren't going to close Mammoth Mountain are they? We haven't closed portions or a whole beach due to oil spills have we? Let's use Logic and common sense, that's all I ask.

Sent from my iPhone