My husband and I have lived in Blacklake, Cypress Ridge and now in Trilogy at Monarch Dunes. Neither one of us can go outside other than go get in and out of our car because of the blowing silica (sand) in the air. We only go out early in the am when the pollution is down.

My husband and I are healthy, except since moving to the Nipomo area, we are now getting bronchitis and or sinus infections several times a year. We used to play bocce ball but had to stop for this reason.

The air is unhealthy and it's interesting when someone says, "Well, have you thought to move?" Since the dunes have been here all along, and since riding on them has been "legal" all along, then the fault is not with unknowing buyers, but rather with the SLO Planning Department. They allow the Developers to come into our areas and they designate where housing is to be built. So when they are aware of the issue that they themselves created, then any lawsuits presented will list them as litigants.

Please do right by the homeowners and demand the State of Parks and Recreation hold up their part of the bargain to alleviate at least half of this unhealthy air we endure.

Thank you,
Ron and Linda Willis
