Dear Alyssa,

Healthy, clean air is a right, and it seems silly to feel the need to fight for it. Currently, I'm able to enjoy going outside when the air is healthy. Being an asthmatic, I cannot enjoy the freedom of being outside any time I want. SAD! Have you ever seen someone struggle to breathe? It seems like clean air vs. money coming to the local communities. How much money would you spend just to take a deep breath?

Please use common sense and support the right for clean air for all of us, even those who are currently polluting it.
