Product Information

Contains premium organic and wild-crafted Grapefruit, Cinnamon Bark, Anise Seed, Peppermint, Basil essential oils. The blend of constituents found in this blend were assembled specifically to reduce sugar and starch cravings. Be Fit provides an undeniable boost to your will-power, assisting you in your fitness and wellness goals. In fact, the peppermint essential oil in this blend has been known to reduce carbohydrate cravings.

How to Use

Many of our customers put a drop of this on their tongue 3-5 times throughout their day or into their drinking water in order to experience an elevated mood and reduction of sugar cravings. It can also be applied topically to the bottom of feet or on location of heavy cellulite areas. The body will also respond well to aromatic use.

E.O.B.B.D. Guarantee

E.O.B.B.D stands for Essential Oils Botanically and Biochemically Defined. It is one of only 2 recognized global standards for evaluating the quality and content of essential oils used by health and wellness professionals. In fact it is the ONLY protocol that's suitable to determine the therapeutic benefit of an essential oil. E.O.B.B.D. includes not just one, but an entire sequence of tests and evaluations conducted strictly by third party experts professionally trained for the evaluation of essential oils.

In the United States, governmental agencies have virtually no standards when it comes to claims about the quality of the essential oils. As a result of these lax standards, U.S. manufacturers/distributors of essential oils are permitted to label their essential oil products as "100% Pure" with as little as 2% of essential oil content, and without any regard to the quality or type of essential oil that makes up that meager requirement. This has enabled manufacturers to distribute lower quality and less expensive essential oils in a wide variety of unregulated combinations. This presents a great deal of risk to individuals seeking quality essential oil products to benefit their health and wellness.
