

Ceri Jackson is the Director of RNIB Cymru, the largest sight loss charity in Wales. RNIB Cymru provides a wide range of services and support to blind and partially sighted people across Wales, as well as campaigning for service improvements and to prevent avoidable sight loss. Ceri has worked in the third sector for over 20 years in England and Wales, she also worked for several years as an independent consultant.

Since joining RNIB Cymru, Ceri has been instrumental in raising the profile of eye health and extending vital support services to people with sight loss across Wales including the Eye Clinic Support Services, Specialist Advice Services and Digital Inclusion Services. Ceri has been successful in developing sustainable partnerships to increase reach and support, she is responsible for 60 staff and 300 volunteers across Wales.

Ceri has undertaken two secondments within the health sector, she is Chair of the Wales Vision Strategy Advisory Group, Chair of Age Alliance Wales, Trustee of Cardiff Institute for the Blind and Chair of the National Eye Health Week Steering Group (Wales).

Ceri is originally from Cardiff and now lives with her family in the Wye Valley.
