

I'm the loudest person during sex

I'm not ashamed of being a moaner. If it feels good fellows, moan, fuck that shit.

Start making sounds. (Say it and literally start moaning)

You should be able to walk past a door and not know the difference. Sounds turns women on, just every once and awhile, out the blue just moan. See what she does, either she gonna get horny or she gonna kick your ass to the curb for a thug who is allergic to emotions!

Hey, what I do might not work for you! Some women like a man who is gonna threaten them to an orgasm. Do you boo-boo!

Guys standing next to each other at the urinal.

How come you can be the only dude in the bathroom and somebody come use the urinal right next to you? Not only that, he starts a conversation with you. Talking about, "You see that Rockets game, that boy Howard a trip ain't he." You just violated two man codes and you didn't even know it.

It's etiquette when using the bathroom. You don't talk while another man is shitting! I need to concentrate, I wish I was in the privacy of my own home, where I can be naked and read the newspaper but since I'm about to shit on myself my options are limited.

Skip a stall, skip a urinal, you talk at the sink, that's the safe zone, when you drying your hands. You dudes get drunk and lose all your bathroom manners!
