

*“Mrs. Claus Retires
From
The 108th Annual Elf Talent Show”*

After an unprecedented 107 year run as the coordinator of the annual elf talent show, Mrs. Claus is calling it a day. For the 108th year, she wants to hand over the reins to one of her children, but which child is up to the task? As the Claus siblings compete for the position, a special election committee will serve as an audience to see and hear what each child can do to make this the best show ever. Each competitor will present their best of the best elf talent to prove they can put on a truly special Holiday Show!
