

FEATURED PRESENTERS

Acharya Swami Atmarupa Saraswati started teaching yoga over 20 years ago and has led programs in the US, Colombia, India, Australia and Mexico. In November, she became one of six founding Yogacharyas (master teachers) of the Yoga Vidya Council, International Yoga Fellowship Movement. She spent 25 years in anesthesia and 10 years on the faculty of the renowned Cleveland Clinic before opening her own studio, the Atma Center, in 1997. Swami Atmarupa is the Director of Education for the Yoga Academy of North America. Her wealth of knowledge and down-to-earth style have made her a much sought-after instructor for group and private classes, retreats and workshops.

Sannyasi Atmadarshan worked in psychiatry before completing yoga teacher training in 2001. She is a senior instructor for YANA, lectures across the US and internationally, and leads annual retreats on the Bhagavad Gita. Her humor and ability to make ancient principles of yoga applicable to daily life enhance the popularity of her classes.

END OF SUMMER GETAWAY

CONNECT. The word yoga means “union.” Create a more unified personal practice and join like-minded people for this inaugural retreat in the heart of Cleveland, America’s comeback city.

CHAKRAS are energy centers which represent different levels of our being, including physical, vital, mental, and spiritual. One of the main goals of yoga is to transcend the drives of the lower chakras and integrate their energies into the work of the higher ones. Delve deeply into the first and sixth chakras, which are closely linked together and serve as the cornerstone for understanding the entire chakra system. Mooladhara (1st) Chakra gives us our reason for being in the world while Ajna (6th) Chakra awakens us to our highest potential.

This RETREAT provides two levels of practice to meet your unique needs, exciting sessions on chakra theory, and networking with new and old friends.

Family friendly! Your partner, children, or friends can come along and enjoy some of the sites and activities that make Cleveland such a great destination. Attend an all-ages yoga class at the beautiful Cleveland Public Library. Take a narrated cruise on the Cuyahoga River, relax on a Lake Erie beach, or explore any of our world-famous museums.

Want more? Join us for the pre-conference on Friday. Extend your stay at our residential center and we can help you design a personal retreat. Schedule a private yoga session or join us for a series of foundational and specialty yoga classes. Explore the city and metroparks or simply relax in the meditation garden...

...the possibilities are endless!
