JOB DESCRIPTION:

We are a global PR agency searching for a strategic and switched on Associate Director to join our growing brands team. We believe it is better to hold 10% of a £1m share capital than hold a 100% of £1. So we have a generous profit sharing program for our entire team. If you have what it takes to become an integral part of our directorial shareholding team, we would like to hear from you.

We are looking for an Associate or an ambitious Senior Account Director to step up - this would be brand team with leading global brand accounts.

The brand team has a few large global clients - you will be a lead on three of the largest brands around crossing over from lifestyle, travel and property. The company itself has been on the forefront of winning great new business for the agency and this position will be pivotal in defining 2016 and on wards for the agency.

The position offer autonomy, creativity and room to grow into a Director role within the business once the team is settled. You'll report directly into the network of global clients and lead with the Director of Brand on global decisions for the clients. You'll have experience with C-suite level clients and be able to manage expectations. You'll also be able to pitch and win new business to help grow the brand team.

You:

- 5+ years' experience
- Agency or in-house
- B2b / Consumer specialist in destination shopping
- Ability to manage and grow a team
- Not afraid of pitching or winning new business
- Experience in managing senior exec relationships

We are looking to pay from £45k + 10 % commission and 10% profit share for this position.
