

WHAT ARE THE INSURANCE COMPANIES SAYING?

"Listing all your possessions in the event of a fire, an earthquake or burglary be difficult. The emotions experienced after a loss may present a big challenge when you try to remember all of your personal possessions. Thus, it is very important to take inventory of your personal property before you have a loss."

State Farm.com

"An accurate inventory and proof of ownership at the time of a loss can make claim settlement easier and faster. For your future protection, it would be a good idea to make a detailed inventory of your personal belongings."

Allstate.com

"Conducting a Home Inventory allows you to keep a record of what you own, which will simplify the process of sorting through damaged items should you need to file a claim."

Nationwide.com

"A great way to log your belongings is to keep a photographic record. Then, if something happens, you will have a better record of all your stuff and help prove what you had in your home when the loss occurred."

Farmers.com

"If you had a burglary or a fire in your home tomorrow, would you have the information you need to file a complete claim?"

LibertyMutual.com

"Conducting a home inventory now - before a loss occurs - is important as it will help you in determining items that were lost, stolen, or destroyed and will expedite the claims process. It will provide you with a record of your possessions and peace of mind that you have the protection you need. An inventory of your personal belongings is important no matter if you own a home, a condo, or rent."
