So Long America

For some reason, I believe that Killlary will find a way to steal this election. AND - if that is the case, America is doomed. First of all, there is no one in the present administration that will seek the truth and definitely no one to prosecute the evil doer. That would mean that the corruption will continue for at least the next four years. Actually it would mean eight years since no one will be willing to take the chance of “bucking” Clinton.

I sure hope that I’m wrong. You just can’t tell when dealing with a Clinton. Being along in years, a Clinton outcome won’t hurt me much. It will hurt my children, grandchildren and great-grandchildren. There will not be a way out of this mess without a rebellion or civil war. The corruption is embedded far to deep to be thrown out via a vote. It will bring back the time we had to prove to England that we wanted freedom and not a king to rule us.

Pray that God hears our prayers and does not allow Killlary to become President.

Manteca Book Fest

I was able to meet up with an author friend of mine, Hans Berger, who I met last year at the same book fest. I bought his book this time (A Bridge to Cross) and within the first 11 pages I can recommend it to all my family and friends. It's about his personal experience, along with his family, evading the Nazi and Russian forces in WW11. The experience is mind boggling and something to really think about what we could experience in today's world. This book lays it on the line for those that don't remember or don't want to remember what it was like in the world in the 30's and 40's. You only have to put yourself in Hans' shoes to get the true feeling of what it's like under a dictator who could care less about the people.

This is also a good history book for the younger generation to learn from. Many books now are playing down the cruelty of the Nazis and even leaving out the holocaust of the Jews. History will repeat itself if we don't understand our past.

This book is found on amazon.com. Look up books, type in Hans Berger and bingo. He also authored other technical books which are impressive to just view. Do yourself a favor and read a first hand account of the evil that humans are able to do to other humans just to gain and keep power. It will have you rethinking your intentions to vote for Killary if you already made up your mind.

May God bless you Hans, for allowing us to see first hand the hardships that were endured by so many during your childhood days.

Blessings to all,

Ron
