Alva Edward Garey

1913

Addey, Andrew

Residence: Brush Creek, Iowa

Sergeant, 38th Infantry

From the list 1855-58 inclusive (incomplete), p. 22

ANDREW ADDEY came to America from Scotland with his parents and settled on a farm three miles northeast of Milton, Rock County, Wisconsin. He attended Milton Academy between the years of 1855 and 1858, and returned to the farm where he remained until he enlisted in Company I of the 13th Wisconsin Infantry on August 24th, 1864. He became a Corporal Sergeant and was mustered out, June 2nd, 1865. Shortly after the war he moved to a farm near Arlington, Iowa, on which he lived until a few years ago, when he retired from active labor and has since lived in Arlington. He made a success of farming and twice represented his district in the state legislature as a Democrat. He is now President of the town board of the village of Arlington

Aldrich, Cyrus

Residence: Fond du Lac

Quarter Master Sergeant, 1st Cavalry

From the list 1855-58 inclusive (incomplete), p. 22

CYRUS ALDRICH was reared on a farm near Fond du Lac and attended Milton Academy between the years of 1855 and 1858, and probably returned to the farm from where he enlisted in Company E of the 1st Wisconsin Cavalry, October 1st, 1861. He was wounded and captured at Whitewater River, Missouri, April 24th, 1863, and was paroled on May 6th of the same year. He became a Corporal and was mustered out Quarter Master Sergeant, October 31st, 1864. He then returned to the farm near Koshkonong Lake, Wisconsin, where he now lives with relatives.

Allen, J. Hugh

Residence: Cooksville

Private, 1st Heavy Artillery

From list of year ending July 8, 1862, p. 28

J. HUGH ALLEN was reared on a farm in the town of Dunkirk, Dane County, Wisconsin and attended Milton Academy, 1861-1862. One record shows that he served for some time as a private in the 1st Heavy Artillery, but this is not substantiated by the regular roster which shows that he enlisted September 1st, 1864, in Company F of the 42nd Wisconsin Infantry and was mustered out a Corporal June 20th, 1865. He has been engaged in farming since the war, and now lives at Cross Lake, Minnesota.

Allen, Ormanser

Residence: Austin, MN
Captain and Provost Marshall
From the list 1845-54 inclusive (incomplete), p. 21

ORMANSER ALLEN was reared in New York State probably in or near Plainfield. He came to Milton and attended Du Lac Academy previous to the year 1854. Later he returned to Plainfield, New York, and taught school for a time. He then completed a course of study in Union College and removed to Austin, Minnesota, where he was commissioned as Captain and Provost Marshall and there served as recruiting officer during the war. After the war he read law in Milton, was admitted to the bar in Janesville, and began practice in Austin. Later he was elected and served as Probate Judge in Austin in which city he lived until death.

Anderson, Anthony E.

Residence: Decorah, Iowa
1st Lieutenant, 12th Iowa Infantry
From list of year ending July 10, 1860, p. 24

ANTHONY E. ANDERSON was reared on a farm in Iowa. He came to Milton and worked for Joe Goodrich at ordinary manual labor for sometime [sic], and then attended Milton Academy during the year of 1860. Afterwards he returned to his farm home at Decorah, Iowa from which place he enlisted in the 12th Iowa Infantry and served during the war. He was mustered out First Lieutenant. After the war he returned to Iowa and entered the employ of some railroad company. He is now, presumably, an engineer with his home at Decorah.

Ash, Elliott

Residence: Janesville
Sergeant, 13th Infantry
From list of year ending July 10, 1860, p. 24

ELLIOT ASH was reared on a farm near Janesville, Wisconsin, and attended Milton Academy in 1860. He left the farm to enlist in Company A of the 13th Wisconsin Infantry on September 9th, 1860 [sic, probably 1860]. He became Corporal Sergeant and was mustered out November 24th, 1865. He again took up farming near Janesville and there remained until his death.

Atherton, Joseph C.

Residence: Milton
Corporal, 49th Infantry
From list of year ending July 4, 1865, p. 32

JOSEPH C. ATHERTON was reared on a farm one mile northeast of Milton, Wisconsin. He attended Milton Academy during the year of 1864, and, although a married man, enlisted in Company C of the 49th Wisconsin Infantry on February 8th, 1865. He became a Corporal and was mustered out November 1st of the same year. He then moved to a farm somewhere in the state of Iowa where he yet lives.

Auld, John

Residence: Janesville
1st Lieutenant, 13th Infantry
From the list 1855-58 inclusive (incomplete), p. 22

JOHN AULD was a farmer's son from La Prairie, near Janesville, Wisconsin, and attended Milton Academy between the years 1855 and 1858. On September 12th, 1861 he left the farm to enlist in Company A of the 13th Wisconsin Infantry. He served as Corporal Sergeant, 1st Sergeant, 2nd and 1st Lieutenant, and from October 4th, 1864 as Captain, and was mustered out November 24th, 1865. For some time he again lived on the farm, but later moved to Minneapolis where he engaged in the stave manufacturing business. Finally with poor health, he retired to Santa Monica, Los Angeles County, California, where he died in 1901.

Avery, Edgar C.

Residence: Concord

Private, 7th Battery

From list of year ending July 5, 1864, p. 31

JOHN AVERY was a farmer's son from Concord, Jefferson County, Wisconsin, and attended Milton Academy during the year of 1863 and 1864. He then went to Milwaukee and enlisted in the 7th Battery, Light Artillery, on March 28th, 1864 and was mustered out July 20th, 1865. No record of him since the war is obtainable.

Babcock, Edwin P.

Residence: Milton

Private, 13th Infantry

From list of year ending July 8, 1862, p. 28

EDWIN P. BABCOCK was the son of a grocer in Milton Rock County, Wisconsin, and clerked in his father's store some before attending the Academy in 1861. He enlisted in Company K of the 13th Wisconsin Infantry October 15th, 1861, and was discharged for disability May 8th, 1862. For a time he engaged in the furniture business in Milton; later he ran a creamery at Clinton, and finally became a prosperous farmer near the last-named village where he still lives.

Babcock, James S.

Residence: Columbus

Lieutenant, 49th Infantry

From list of year ending July 8, 1862, p. 28

JAMES S. BABCOCK came to Milton Academy from a farm at Fountain Prairie, Wisconsin, and was in school during the year of 1862. He enlisted from his home in Company K of the 32nd Wisconsin Infantry August 11th, 1862, and became Corporal Sergeant in that Company. On February 16th, 1865, he was made 2nd Lieutenant and was transferred to Company H of the 49th Wisconsin Cavalry which position he held when mustered out November 8th, 1865. The last record we have says he is farming near Columbus, Wisconsin.

Babcock, Lucius A.

Residence: Homer, NY

Private, 9th Minnesota Infantry

From the list 1855-58 inclusive (incomplete), p. 22

LUCIUS A. BABCOCK was the son of Luke Babcock, a Baptist minister at Homer, New York, and attended the Academy at Milton during the years of 1855 to 1858. From Milton he went to Minnesota and enlisted in Company D of the 9th Minnesota Infantry. He became a prisoner and died in Andersonville prison September 18th, 1864.

Bailey, James A.

Residence: Madison

2nd Lieutenant, 12th U.S. Colored Troops

From list of year ending July 10, 1960, p. 24

JAMES A. BAILEY came from Madison, Wisconsin, and attended Milton Academy during the year of 1860. His history before and after attending school is practically unknown. The records simply show that he served as 2nd Lieutenant in the 12th U. S. Colored Infantry.

Balch, Charles D.

Residence: West Milton

Private, 16th Infantry

From list of year ending July 7, 1863, p. 30

Charles D. Balch came from a farm near Milton Junction and was enrolled in the Academy during the year ending July 7th, 1863. He returned to the farm and enlisted in Company F of the 16th Wisconsin Infantry December 30th, 1863, and was mustered out July 12th, 1865. He then returned to a farm near Newville, Rock County, Wisconsin, where he has since lived.

Baldwin, Oscar L.

Residence: Millard

2nd Lieutenant, 36th Infantry

From list of year ending July 5, 1864, p. 31

Oscar L. Baldwin came from a farm in Millard, Walworth County, Wisconsin, and attended Milton Academy during the year of 1863-64. He left school March 30th, 1864 and enlisted in Company D of the 36th Wisconsin Infantry. He advanced in rank and was a 2nd Lieutenant when he died at Washington, D.C. on September 3rd, 1864. [Note by LKW: died at Point Lookout, Maryland Sept. 2nd, 1864]

Ball, Rufus R.

Residence: Heart Prairie

Private, 40th Infantry

p. 33 - HUNDRED DAYS MEN - 1864

Rufus R. Ball came from a farm on Heart Prairie, Walworth County, Wisconsin, and was attending school when he enrolled in Captain Twining's Company D of the 40th Wisconsin Infantry, May 10th, 1864. He was mustered out at the expiration of his term September 16th, 1864. Presumably he returned to the farm, but no authentic record of his whereabouts since the war is at hand.

Barber, Edward L.

Residence: Edgerton

Corporal, 40th Infantry

p. 33 - HUNDRED DAYS MEN - 1864

Edward L. Barber came to Milton Academy from Edgerton. He left school May 9th, 1864, to enlist in Captain Twining's Student Company C of the 40th Wisconsin Infantry, and was mustered out a Corporal at the expiration of his term, September 16th, 1864. After studying law he began practice in Chicago where he still lives at 94 LaSalle Street.

Barkhuff, George W.

Residence: West Union, Iowa

[unknown rank], 2nd Iowa Cavalry

From list of year ending July 5, 1864, p. 31

George W. Barkhuff is another man, who, as far as I can ascertain came from and returned to the unknown. The records show that he was in Milton Academy a part or the whole of the year of 1864, and later enrolled in the 2nd Iowa Cavalry and gave his home as West Union, Iowa.

Barnes, Charles W.

Residence: Janesville

Private, 5th Battery

From list of year ending July 10, 1860, p. 24

Charles W. Barnes attended Milton Academy during the year ending July 5th, 1860. It seems from the records that he came to Milton from Janesville, and apparently enlisted in the 5th Battery, Light Artillery, from Mt. Pleasant, September 4th, 1861. He became a Sergeant and was mustered out at the expiration of his term, September 30th, 1864.

Records also show that a Charles W. Barnes enlisted in Company H of the 17th Wisconsin Infantry from New Buffalo, February 4th, 1862, and was detained in Company G of the 14th Infantry from March 7th, 1864, to the expiration of his term, December 31st of the same year. [Note by LKW: Not Milton - two men, same name & initial; 3/23/94]

Private, 10th N.Y. Heavy Artillery

From list of year ending July 5, 1864, p. 31

F. Marion Bates was reared in Richmond, Virginia, but served in the 10th New York Heavy Artillery. Later he came to Wisconsin and was in Milton Academy in 1864. In the fall of the same year he became Principal of the Clinton Public Schools while Professor Albert Whitford of Milton was County Superintendent. After this he studied law and began practice in Richmond, Virginia, where, as far as known, he still lives.

Bean, James M.

Residence: McFarland

Private, 49th Infantry

From list of year ending July 5, 1864, p. 31

James M. Bean came to Milton Academy from the town of Dunn, Dane County, Wisconsin, and remained in school all or part of the year of 1864. On February 16th, 1865, when he was sixteen years old, he enlisted in Company B of the 49th Wisconsin Infantry and was mustered out November 1st of the same year. Presumably he returned to the farm near McFarland.

Bear, Joseph L.

Residence: Janesville
Corporal, 8th Infantry
From list of year ending July 8, 1862, p. 28

Joseph L. Bear was reared on a farm near Janesville, Wisconsin, and attended the Academy all or part of the year ending July 8th, 1862. He enlisted in Company G of the 8th Wisconsin Infantry, and was mustered out a Corporal, August 14th, 1865. He returned to the farm, became interested in politics as a Republican, served several terms on the County Board and later as Sheriff of Rock County. He has retired and lives in Janesville

Beckley, Edwin R.

Residence: Chicago, IL
Sergeant Major, 16th INFANTRY

Bond, Samuel M.

Residence: Milton

Captain, 2nd Infantry

From the list 1845-54 Inclusive (incomplete), p. 21

see Wm Winegar - Gettysburg

see Arthur Hamilton - GAR

also Everett Moon

Samuel M. Bond was reared on a farm near Milton and attended Du Lac Academy in 1850. He was preparing ground for wheat sowing on a farm south of Milton when Pliny Norcross, adorned in a military cap, ordered him to stable his horses and enlist. On the 21st of April, he, with ten other men – one of whom, L. A. Platts, was rejected, and another, W. P. Clarke who was only eighteen years old, was sent home on account of his mother's sickness – went to Madison and was enrolled in the 2nd Wisconsin Infantry. He received various promotions, and, after having fought in forty-four battles with General Gibbon's Iron Brigade, and receiving wounds in the battles of Bull Run, Gainesville, and Gettysburg, he was transferred to Company A of the Indiana Battery as a 2nd Lieutenant on June 10th, 1864, where he served until December 21st. At that time he was made 1st Lieutenant and transferred to Company G of the 6th Infantry. He was acting Captain when mustered out July 14th, 1865. This man has the proud distinction of having served in more battles than any other Wisconsin man, save one who fought at Chancellorsville while Mr. Bond was wounded and home on a leave of Absence. After the war he became a railroad employee and for twenty-eight years was a passenger conductor on the Union Pacific, Wabash, and Green Bay and Western railroads. He was retired and lives in Milton.

He attended school during the year ending July 4th, 1861, and enlisted on the 7th of the next October in Company K of the 13th Wisconsin Infantry. For a time he served as bugler in Stinberg's Battery, and played in the Regimental Band most of his term, although he is not so credited. After being mustered out November 16th, 1864, he became a druggist in Brodhead where he still lives, but has for the last ten years traveled for a wholesale drug house.

Clarke, Willis P.

Residence: Milton

1st Lieutenant, 13th Infantry

From list of year ending July 8, 1862, p. 28

[see Marvin Stannard]

Willis P. Clarke was born in Otsego County, New York, in 1842, and came to Milton with his parents in 1856. He was in his senior year-in the classical course of the Academy on April 24th, 1861, when he, with ten other men – Milton's original eleven – went to Madison and enlisted in the 2nd Wisconsin Infantry. His mother was sick, however, and, since he was only eighteen years old, he was sent home and completed his Academy course, July 4th, 1861. He re-enlisted in Company K of the 13th Wisconsin Infantry on the 7th of the following October and served through the war as Corporal Sergeant, and Lieutenant. On November 24th, 1865, he was mustered out as 1st Lieutenant and returned to Milton. While working as a mechanic he studied pharmacy and for thirty-eight years he has conducted a drug store in Milton. Under Arthur and Harrison he served as Postmaster, and has, since 1882, been Treasurer of the Wisconsin Pharmaceutical Society, and also, for twenty years he was Secretary of the Board of Trustees of Milton College. To this grand old man Milton, and especially Milton College, owes a debt which will grow with the years and only respect, love, and lasting memory shall ever pay.

Willis P. Clarke

Who was born the fifteenth day of May, A.D. 1842, in Unadilla Forks, County of Otsego, State of New York.

Entered the service 7th day of Oct. 1861 at Milton, Wis., as private in Co. K., 13th Wis. Vol. Infantry. Was promoted to Corporal in Nov., 1861, to Sergeant Aug. 1st, 1862, to 1st Sergeant, Feb. 15th, 1865, and to 1st Lieutenant, April 3rd, 1865, which rank I held when mustered out. Was first discharged Jan. 18th, 1864 at Nashville, Tenn. for re-enlistment; again April 3d, 1865 to accept a commission, and was finally discharged Nov. 24th, 1865 at San Antonio, Texas, by reason of the close of the war.

The first battle in which I took any part was at Fort Donelson in Feb. 1863, afterwards in skirmishes at Rickets Hill, Tenn. and Garrelsburg, KY.

Geo. W. Steele, H.C. Curtis and W.A. Wyse were some of my most intimate comrades.

The most noticeable events in my army service were the long marches which the Regiment made and the trip to Texas in 1865.

Milton Today Nov. 1965

President C. W. "Bill" Banta told the audience gathered at the building dedication ceremonies November 9, that young men on the campus today could "do well to emulate the spirit of Nathan C. Twining and others of Milton's famous graduates."

He was speaking at the dedication of the new Nathan C. Twining Hall, dormitory for men, named after Milton College's first graduate, who completed his education in 1867 and then joined the college faculty to teach mathematics.

At that time the school had an enrollment of 380 students and a salary schedule of $300 per year. The first Nathan Twining was the grandfather of General Nathan F. Twining, USAF (ret.) former chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff. General Twining, a native of Monroe, Wis., was the guest of honor at the Dedication ceremonies, along with his sister, Mrs. Phoebe Chadwick of Monroe, and Mrs. Twining.

The principle address was delivered by Judge Sverre Roang, a trustee of the college, who traced the history of the Twining family from Nathan C. to the general. The judge remarked that "fifteen members of the Twining family have served their country in the military service, including the first Nathan C., who was a captain in the Civil War and recruited his own company in Milton and Rock County. His son, Admiral Nathan C. Twining, served in World War I.

Master of Ceremonies was Dean of the College, Dr. Kenneth E. Smith. Three jet aircraft from Truax Field in Madison, Wis., flew in tight formation over the campus at the time of the ceremony in salute to General Twining and the dedication.
