

The windows for the Nursery at Jessie's Centre in Toronto were commissioned by June Callwood.

She was an early supporter of my work and it meant the world to me.

The windows were made of bits and pieces of optical glass, prisms, lenses and etched images. Rainbows of coloured light transform the space. The windows were made to delight the children and young mothers using the Nursery.

