Welcome

Dear Conference Attendee,

On behalf of the New Mexico Head Start Association, it is my great pleasure to welcome you to the 2016 New Mexico Head Start Association Training Conference in Albuquerque, NM; The city is a blend of unique attractions, culture, historical sites and superb year-round weather with 320 days of sunshine per year! I hope you enjoy your time at the training, learn good information and explore this wonderful city!

We are proud to be Head Start: Leading the way for 50 years. We are committed to providing opportunities to children and families to experience success in school and life, breaking the cycle of poverty. As we celebrate the 50th anniversary of Head Start, many people have shared their memories and stories on how the program has influenced their lives. Former Head Start children tell such sweet memories of their first experience meeting a teacher or a home visitor, and how they were welcomed into a world of books and painting and circle times with friends. Parents also describe their first encounters with Head Start. They share stories about how the program not only supported their child's development but helped the whole family grow and develop as well. I want to say thank you to all Head Start & Early Head Start staff for all the hard work and dedication you have to the communities you serve in and the families you support. Whether you are a new staff member or a long time staff member, you have touched children and families lives in the most meaningful way!

It is with great pride that I thank the New Mexico Head Start Association Planning Committee, Volunteers, and Local Business for all the hard work and efforts to make this conference a positive learning experience for all that attend.

I encourage each of you to take advantage of the learning opportunities the conference has to offer you, that you gain new knowledge, make new friends and enjoy your professional development experiences. We hope this conference provides you the opportunity to grow as a professional and that you take this information back to your programs and continue to make and impact on the communities, families and children that you serve.

Sincerely,

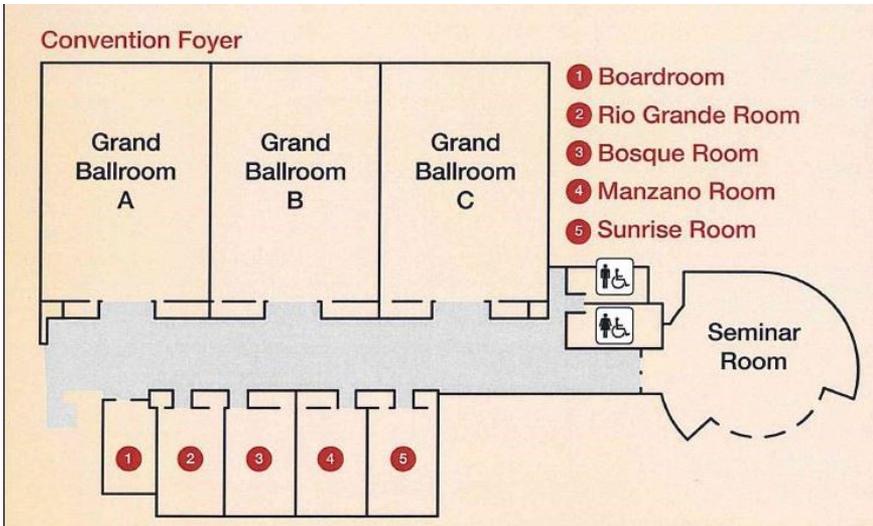

Amanda Gibson-Smith

Closing Speaker

My life as a Head Start Parent –My name is Maria Cabral, the daughter of two immigrant parents. I was born in Juarez Chihuahua and later in 1982 my family and I migrated to the United States. I am a high school graduate from El Paso and I moved to Denver at age 19 which then started working at US bank for two years. I am happily married to my husband for 14 years and have three children. In January 2010 my oldest child Angel was born. Angel was the light of my happiness, he gave me strength and a reason to be the parent I am today. I want to provide the best for my children with the education, and their basic needs met. My husband and I bought an acre of land in Chaparral, NM, and this is when the journey began with the Head Start family. I decided go back to work and needed childcare for my son. I searched for a center in my community and had learned about a Head Start program available. My Angel was shy and it worried me about how he would do once he entered kindergarten, and then realized how much of an impact Head Start was to my son.

My second miracle was May 2011 when Samuel was born. He is extremely shy and keeps to himself, but with the help of Head Start I was able to identify his delay in speech. He is now in kindergarten and in partnership with my son's school and resources available in the community he had an opportunity to grow and do well in school. My third and last miracle is Abigail she's a current Head Start child and because of her brothers she has learned her ABCs, colors and shapes. I have no way to express my gratitude to Head Start with tangible gifts so in return I have become an advocate to represent all the children and families in my community. I became president of policy council and now serving my third year, I am an active board member with HELP-NM Board of Directors and recently accepted to be on Region 6 board. Head Start has not only taught my children confidence but has gave me courage to empower other children and families. I have had the opportunity to meet a lot of people which has built my confidence to be the voice of our children. I share and spread the word about our Head Start program and how it has impacted my family.

Training #2

NM NOPREN: Nutrition and Obesity Prevention Policies in New Mexico Head Start Programs.

Come to this 1.5-hour session to learn about current best practices in nutrition and obesity prevention policy in early care and education (ECE) settings, and to learn more about NM NOPREN: NOPREN in Early Childcare Serving Southwest American Indian and Hispanic Populations. NM NOPREN is a pilot project to help build the evidence for effective food and beverage policies in ECE settings. NM NOPREN is being conducted with Head Start programs across New Mexico, and encourages all New Mexico Head Start centers to participate. NM NOPREN aims to identify existing policies and practices, and to identify the barriers and facilitators to effective food and beverage policy implementation, so that New Mexico Head Start programs are well supported in their efforts to prevent obesity and chronic disease in their communities. Learn how you can participate in this exciting work.

Patty Keane, MS, RD: University of New Mexico Prevention Research Center

Patty is a registered dietitian nutritionist, Associate Scientist and Lecturer at the University of New Mexico Prevention Research Center, where she oversees multiple nutrition research projects and programs, primarily in rural New Mexico communities. Most of her work centers on child nutrition, food security, and federal nutrition programs. Current projects include the USDA's Supplemental Nutrition Assistance Program Education (SNAP-Ed)-funded Child Health Initiative for Lifelong Eating and Exercise (CHILE) Plus, an evidence-based nutrition and physical activity education intervention carried out in Head Start and other licensed child care centers in tribal and non-tribal communities across New Mexico, and a Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC)-funded statewide evaluation of food and nutrition policies in New Mexico Head Start programs.

Training #3

Early Learn Guidelines—Aligning with Curriculum: This training will discuss how to align your curriculum to the New Mexico Early Learning Guidelines.

Ali Ray: Ali began working with Head Start in August 2013. She holds a BS in Child Development and an MS in Special Education. She is currently working on a PhD in Early Childhood Education from Kansas State University. Ali is originally from Kansas, moving to New Mexico three years ago with her husband who was stationed at White Sands Missile Range. She was a teacher of young children for 15 years before moving to New Mexico. She now enjoys sharing her knowledge and experience with others in the field.

Training # 4

High Quality Services for Children who are Dual Language Learners & Culturally and Linguistically Responsive Practices for All: This training will provide research-based information, practices, tools, resources and strategies to ensure optimal academic and social progress for linguistically and culturally diverse children and their families.

Selestte Sanchez holds a Bachelors Degree in Psychology from Loyola University of Chicago and a Master's Degree in Social Work from New Mexico State University. She is Licensed Masters Social Worker (LMSW) and has a combined 13 years of experience in Case Management (7 years), Clinical Social Work/Child, Adolescent and Family Therapist (5 years), Early Childhood Services (5 years), Social Service Program Development and Administration (3 years).

Training #9

Teaching Art-Fully: Art making activities are common in most early childhood programs, but talking about adult artwork is not. Using works of art with young children provides an open-ended avenue for exploring ideas and sharing stories, personal experiences, ideas and events. Children learn from one another, they learn about themselves, the teachers learn about the children. It is a social activity that influences cognitive development. In this workshop we'll take participants through a process that begins with looking at and talking about a piece of artwork before we embark upon our own creative artistic exercise. You don't have to be an artist to enjoy and appreciate this workshop!

Paula Gadoury Steele & Janelle Garcia Cole:

Paula has been with the UNM Family Development Program since 2002. She is Associate Director and also facilitates experiential workshops about the growth, development, and learning of young children around the state. Her work also entails early childhood coalition and leadership building in Early Childhood Investment Zones. Paula is a member of the NM Pyramid Cadre. She has a master's degree in Educational Leadership from the College of Education, UNM.

Janelle is one of Family Development Program's newest Training & Development Consultants, having joined FDP in May 2015. Previously, Janelle was an educator for twelve years in the Even Start Family Literacy Program for Albuquerque Public Schools. She has a passion for working and advocating for young children and their families. Janelle holds a Bachelor's degree in Elementary Education from New Mexico State University and is planning to pursue her Master's degree in Early Childhood Education from UNM.

Training #10

CHILE Plus for Beginners: The Child Health Initiative for Lifelong Eating and Exercise (CHILE) Plus is a NM-grown, multi-component, evidence-based nutrition and physical activity education program designed specifically for New Mexico Head Start programs. In this 2-hour interactive session, participants will learn about CHILE Plus program components, how CHILE Plus activities fit into the Head Start Early Learning Framework and meet current CACFP requirements, and how your center could become a CHILE Plus partner. This session is for those who are not from CHILE Plus participating centers, or for those who are at CHILE Plus participating centers, but have not attended CHILE Plus training.

Renee Conklin: Renee Conklin is a Nutrition Educator for the CHILE Plus Project. Prior to joining the Prevention Research Center (PRC), she received a Bachelor of Science in Nutrition and completed a dietetic internship at the University of New Mexico. She is a registered dietitian with an interest in pediatric health and eliminating hunger in New Mexico. Renee had roles as an outpatient dietitian with the VA Healthcare System and served as a nutrition coordinator with the non-profit organization, Kids Cook!, before joining the PRC. She recently completed a Master of Science in Nutrition at the University of New Mexico and also serves as the Public Policy Coordinator for the New Mexico Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics.
