POLICY ON HEAD LICE

Thank you all for diligently checking your students for head lice. We have had an up cropping of these critters in Building One. If you do see nits (they look like dandruff, but don't easily rub off of the hair follicle), or black eggs (black eggs are ready to hatch), please keep your student at home. The internet has lots of resources for lice removal. Although lice is a huge pain, it is not the end of the world, and can be taken care of with a lot of combing, laundry, and cleaning!

We have been checking students at school, rest assured that if we find a suspicious scalp, we will send them home for treatment.

Thank you for watching your speed in the Hiawatha Park, and in the parking lot!

We love our students, and want them to remain whole!

1000 Minutes of Reading!

The kindergarten—third grade students have embarked on a 1000 minutes of reading challenge. Stop by the office and check out their progress! Reading logs are going home each week, and need to be signed and returned. We will celebrate the students who are able to meet this goal with a special party.
