

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Hudson, FL – 2gH Solutions, LLC announced today that it has secured an exclusive agreement with Veolia Water Technologies Canada, Inc. to represent its Hydrovex line of flow control products for all stormwater applications in the continental USA. With over 10,000 installations across the USA and Canada, Veolia Water Technologies Canada is the leading manufacturer and supplier of flow control products to the stormwater industry in North America.

"With the U.S. market in need of a greater variety of flow control solutions that have wider availability and a proven track record, the Hydrovex line was the answer. Our clients and customers have been asking for choices. They want cost effective options to solve their increasingly difficult storm water design challenges. This is something the market has been asking us for, so you have to give the customer what they want.", said Jon Moody, co-founder of 2gH Solutions, LLC.

Gianfranco Maragno, Business Development Manager, USA at Veolia Water Technologies Canada commented, "2gH Solutions is uniquely qualified to represent and promote our products across the USA. With their unrivaled expertise in the stormwater industry, they are the "go to" guys when you have a flow control problem to solve."
