Energy Management – Automation – Building Technology

SmartCon Solutions - Easier, Smarter...Better

SmartCon Solutions founders, Thomas Mirante and Dominick Calciano, answered the calling that was getting louder and louder from the hospitality industry. This calling was to take the established energy management space and present it through the lens of a commercial integrator -- an integrator specializing in energy management and guest room automation.

At SmartCon Solutions we work with our customers throughout the process. We represent the customer, not the manufacturer, and offer unbiased recommendations tailored to your needs -- always. We'll gather the best solution providers, where our offerings range from creating the design, managing the project, sourcing the devices, handling the installation and commissioning, and delivering post-installation support. We work within your timetable and budget, and we'll assist with attaining rebates for a faster ROI. Our goal is to make things much easier. And our mission is to always remain agnostic to the solutions we represent, and to ensure our clients receive the best and most objective recommendation from us every time.

We welcome the opportunity to share our more than 70 collective years of industry experience to make your property better.
