MESSAGE FROM THE PRESIDENT

Dear AKPS members,

Nearly a year has passed since I had the privilege of stepping in to serve as President of the AKPS for the remainder of Professor Jungmin Seo's term. I am pleased and honored to announce that the Governing Board has recently voted for Professor Jae-Jung Suh (SAIS-Johns Hopkins University) and me to continue serving the AKPS as vice president and president for two more years. I am grateful for their confidence in our leadership and am honored to continue serving the AKPS. For the past year, I enjoyed working with an excellent team of AKPS officers and Governing Board members and wish to express my sincere gratitude for their assistance and excellent service to AKPS.

I am very happy to report that in March of 2011 the AKPS had three successful ISA panels in Montreal, Canada. We also had a very pleasant business-dinner meeting with great food and good conversation with nearly 50 members in attendance. Many thanks to our ISA program chair Professor Tae-Hyung Kim (Daemen College) whose diligence and dedication ensured that we had high-quality panels. He continues to serve the AKPS as he prepares for the next ISA meeting in San Diego in April, 2012 where we will again host three panels.

This year's APSA meeting will be held in September in Seattle. Our APSA program chair Professor HeeMin Kim (Florida State University) has been hard at work putting together an excellent roundtable discussion panel. I look forward to attending the panel and hope to see all of you there.

I am also pleased to report that Professor Kyung-Ae Park (University of British Columbia) and Professor David Kang (University of Southern California) have agreed to join the AKPS special committee for the North Korean Review co-editorship. As announced in the last newsletter, the committee, chaired by Professor Jae-Jung Suh, will assist Professor Mikyoung Kim (Hiroshima City University) in her co-editorship of NKR and will evaluate our relationship with the journal at the end of our trial period in December, 2012.

The officers, Governing Board members and I look forward to working with you all in our efforts to strengthen our organization and advance Korean studies scholarship. We always welcome your suggestions and ideas to help achieve those goals.

All the best,
Haesook Chae
President, AKPS
Associate Professor, Baldwin-Wallace College

CALL FOR MANUSCRIPTS

On October 12, 2009, Thomson Reuters announced the selection of North Korean Review (NKR) for inclusion in the Social Sciences Citation Index (SSCI). Many fine journals have been in existence for decades but have yet to be chosen for indexing in the prestigious SSCI. NKR made it in just five short years. Library Journal recommends that most public and university libraries subscribe to NKR in order to provide relevant information and analysis about the strategic role of North Korea in Northeast Asia. The mission of NKR, the only English-language journal in the world that focuses on North Korea, is to provide a forum for greater understanding of North Korean internal affairs and external relations with the United States and other countries. NKR addresses these issues in a new and unique way, through the lens of focused research, analysis, and dissemination of information. North Korean Review provides academic subscribers and policymakers with a more complex look at North Korea's culture, history, economics, politics, religion, and international relations than is otherwise available to them through mainstream sources. And now, NKR is indexed in the Social Sciences Citation Index making it even more important to subscribe and contribute to this cutting edge journal.

For the articles in the fields of economics and management, send them to Suk H. Kim at ink@udmercy.edu. And for the works in the fields of political science, international relations and sociology, send them to Mikyoung Kim at mkkim@peace.hiroshima-cu.ac.jp. Questions? Visit <http://www.northkoreanreview.com> and <http://business.udmercy.edu/ink/index.htm>

The Journal of Peace and Unification Studies (JPUS), a new referred journal, is published twice annually by the Institute for Peace and Unification Studies (IPUS) in Seoul National University, Seoul, Korea. This interdisciplinary journal welcomes scholarly articles, research papers (less than 6,000 words), book reviews (less than 3,000 words) on all aspects of inter-Korean relations, Unification and North Korean issues and international relations on Korean peninsula. If you wish to submit an article for possible publication in JPUS, please submit your paper as an email attachment in Microsoft Word or HWP(Hangul Word Program) to the editor. Either English or Korean is accepted. As for general instructions of writing style, please refer to the Institute's homepage at <http://tongil.snu.ac.kr> and/or http://tongil.snu.ac.kr/tboard/view.php?id=e02\_04\_1&page=1&sn1=&divpage=1&sn=off&ss=on&sc=on&sp=off&select\_arrange=headnum&desc=asc&no=3.

Korean Studies is a scholarly journal published by the Center for Korean Studies at the University of Hawaii at Manoa. Korean Studies is an annual peer-reviewed journal that seeks to further scholarship on Korea on a variety of topics in the humanities and social sciences with an emphasis on interdisciplinary and multicultural articles. Korean Studies: Journal of the Center for Korean Studies was established in 1977.

Korean Studies is an annual peer-reviewed journal that seeks to further scholarship on Korea by providing a forum for discourse on a variety of scholarly topics through interdisciplinary and multicultural articles, book reviews, and essays in the humanities and social sciences.

All scholarly articles on Korea and the Korean community abroad are welcome, including topics of interest to the specialist and nonspecialist alike. The journal is invaluable for Korea specialists as well as those whose interests touch on Korea, the Korean community abroad, or Asian, ethnic, and comparative studies.

Guidelines for Submission of Manuscripts

Korean Studies is a multidisciplinary journal and encourages the submission of manuscripts with appeal across disciplines and a strong comparative component as well as manuscripts treating specialized topics. Authors are encouraged to consult recent issues of the journal for examples of style and formatting.

Manuscripts submitted to Korean Studies should be original articles not previously published elsewhere and should not be under review for publication by other journals.

Completed manuscripts submitted for consideration for publication should be sent by e-mail to:

Min-Sun Kim
Editor, Korean Studies
Center for Korean Studies
University of Hawaii at Manoa

File Formats. Electronic text files should be in Microsoft Word format; include a PDF file if using non-standard or non-roman characters such as han'gul or Sino-Korean characters. Low-resolution images and illustrations may be submitted for review purposes but must be replaced by images suitable for printing if accepted for publication. All images, tables, and figures must include titles or captions.

Permissions. Any necessary permissions or fees for the use of illustrations or other material subject to copyright are the responsibility of the author.

Length. Article manuscripts, including notes and references, should be no more than approximately thirty-five pages in length and generally no shorter than twenty pages.

Typing. Manuscripts must be double-spaced throughout, prepared with Times or New Times Roman 12-point font and one-inch margins for all components, including extracts, notes, and references. Tables and illustrations should be prepared separately. Any necessary explanations or credits should appear in the illustration legends or as notes to the table. Notes to tables and illustrations should not be included in the numbering of the end notes to the text.

Transliteration. For the romanization of Korean, use the McCune-Reischauer system. For Chinese, use Pinyin; for Japanese, use Hepburn. Specialized articles in linguistics may alternatively use the Yale romanization system.

End Notes. Notes should be minimized to the extent possible and should appear at the end of the text, formatted as regular text rather than as embedded footnotes/endnotes.

Style. Korean Studies follows the Chicago Manual of Style (15th edition).

Title Page. Include title of manuscript, name, and institutional affiliation of each author, address for correspondence, and date of submission. The first page of the manuscript should not include the author's name and should instead show only the title of the paper. Also, to ensure anonymity, the name of the author should not appear in the headers or footers of the manuscript.

Abstract. Include an abstract of approximately one hundred words at the beginning of the text.

Pacific Focus invites the submission of original manuscripts. The journal's remit is to represent the wide range of research interests covering security, regionalism, environment, migration, civil society, and multi-culturalism in the Asia-Pacific region. Pacific Focus is a peer-reviewed journal published three times a year (April, August & December) by the Center for International Studies, Inha University, Korea and the Wiley-Blackwell Publishing, USA. Also include in your submission an author's Bio-data (less than 100 words), an abstract (150-250 words), Keywords (5-10 words), and References.
