Salt of the Earth

Reflections by Bob Schrimpf pastoral associate

Today's Gospel talks about us being salt to the world and a light on a hill for all to see. We know a light being covered becomes extinguished, but what about salt? How does it lose its taste? The only way is for it to become diluted so that it no longer has flavor. The Gospel today warns us not to become diluted because we are literally the flavor of Christ. Do people taste His goodness in you? Are you always prayerful, patient, loving, and kind to those around you? Even when no one is around, are your thoughts holy and pure?

If you continue reading in the bible past today's verse Matthew writes: "You have heard it said you shall not commit adultery, yet I say anyone who looks lustfully at a woman has already committed adultery in his heart." (Mt 5:28) The truth is pretty black and white. Yet, we can compromise and justify things so as to not have to live and act as Christ implores us to live and act. We become diluted. And when that happens, will anyone be able to taste 'Christ' in how you live life?

For many years I had a career playing pick-up basketball at our local recreation center and I made many acquaintances. Generally, people played their games and went home without much interaction. However, I got to know an older man named Jerry. He had a mental illness. It caused him to leave a teaching career, his wife and family, and drift to California from the Midwest only to live alone and on welfare. His only interaction with the outside world was to come to the rec center and hang out with 'the guys'.

One Thanksgiving I asked what he was doing to celebrate. I was secretly hoping a family member might have reached out to him. He said he had no plans and before I could stop myself I asked if I could bring Thanksgiving to him? He eagerly accepted and when the day arrived I brought my 10-year-old son with me and my wife packed a full Thanksgiving meal to share with him. Later, he had severe dental needs that impaired his speech. I called a dentist friend who treated him for free. Another time he had lost his lease and we found a new place for him to live. I never said why I was doing it, but he often teared up and hugged me each time I saw him at the rec. Jerry could taste the salt.

Put a little salt in your life and be Christ to those around you. Then you will be a light on the hill for all to see. A shining example. And when you are feeling diluted? Pray and get to confession to experience the cleansing power of forgiveness so you may continue to be the Light and the Salt of life to all those around you.

The Catechism calls us to love, proclaim, and serve as Jesus did. This is how the world will know about Christ. 897-913

Dream Window

Our Dynamic Catholic I-Team has created a space at the entrance of the Church where you can post your Dreams.

Choose from any of the categories Tony went over with us in our books (if you missed it, please pick up a book from an usher or at the back of the church). Feel free to post your dream onto the Window. Let's continue to DREAM.

Project Updates

Church Sound and Video

Systems: Installation has begun on our major revamping of our sound system as well as integrating a video system throughout the Church and Parish Hall. You will be able to see new speakers in the Window Room, Borrromeo Room, and outside in the Breeze Way leading to the bathrooms as well as above our main entrance doors so you will be able to take children outside and not miss the homily. The project will take another 3 weeks to complete.

Adoration Chapel: Fr John is currently waiting for a response from Bishop Mcllroy. A request has been sent on request of the diocese to get final approval. In the mean time, a termite problem has been treated as well as a sink being removed, shelving being added, lighting improved, as well as new pews and an altar are being custom built.

Borrromeo Room: A new painting of our patron saint has arrived and will be hung shortly to enhance the newly created space. We are also upgrading the lighting and adding LED bulbs to replace the old florescent bulbs.

Railings: We recently contracted work to be done one the interior as well as exterior railings leading up to the Choir Loft. The spacing is out of code and additional rails will be added to narrow the gaps.

Widow Room: A number of glass panels are being repaired in our stained glass window due to vandalism.

Thank You to our newly formed Buildings and grounds committee!
