Theological Questions

Last week's question:

What was the purpose of the six stone water jars at the Wedding at Cana?

Answer:

The Gospel of St. John (Jn 2:1-11) tells us that there were six stone water jars “for Jewish ceremonial washings, each one holding two or three measures (about twenty to thirty gallons)”. In the Old Testament, there are numerous reference to rituals of cleansing and washing. There was a practical purpose, as well as a spiritual meaning, in keeping oneself pure and clean, when eating, cooking, touching sick people, burying the dead, offering sacrifices, and coming into a house after a long journey. Bodily cleanliness was associated with purity of soul.

Sometimes, a bath by full immersion in a pool (mikvah) was required. A priest was required to bathe before and after offering sacrifices at the temple (keep in mind that sacrifices included slaughtering the sacrificial animals, and burning them in a large fire), and a woman had to bathe after childbirth. Also, hands were to be washed on numerous occasions, as detailed in the book of Leviticus. The baptisms of John the Baptist were within this Jewish tradition of ceremonial cleansing. Abraham washed the feet of his visitors (Genesis 18:4), and Jesus washed the feet of his disciples at the Last Supper (John 13:4-15).

There were numerous requirements in Jewish “tradition” that are not specifically required by the Old Testament, and Jesus criticized the hypocrisy of the Pharisees for their lack of justice and mercy, despite their strict observance of such human traditions: “For the Pharisees and, in fact, all Jews, do not eat without carefully washing their hands, keeping the tradition of the elders. And on coming from the marketplace they do not eat without purifying themselves. And there are many other things that they have traditionally observed, the purification of cups and jugs and kettles and beds (Mark 7:3-4).

We can see that the six water jars at Cana were symbolic of the Old Testament and its rituals. Jesus did not destroy them, nor empty them, but changed the water into something new and more excellent. Jesus said, “Do not think that I have come to abolish the law or the prophets. I have come not to abolish but to fulfill them (Matthew 5:17).

New Question: If Christmas Day falls on a Monday, and Christmas Eve is on Sunday, may I fulfill both obligations (to go to Mass on Sunday, and to go to Mass on the Holy Day of Christmas) by attending just one Mass on Sunday evening (i.e., Christmas Eve)? Or must I attend two different Masses, one for Sunday and one for Christmas?

See next week's bulletin for the Answer.

Please prayerfully consider coming to Eucharistic Adoration. Every Thursday evening from 8-9 p.m., and every Friday after the 8:45 a.m. Mass until 5:00 p.m. Every First Friday Adoration is extended until 7:00 p.m. For more information, contact Sharon Sheehy at 703-803-0308 or at roseofsharon325@gmail.com.
