TEXAS A&M/TEXAS SERIES NOTABLES

The Longhorns own the edge in the all-time series, 237-124-5. The last time the squads met was 2014 when Texas won two of three games as part of the Houston Regional with the Longhorns claiming the crown with a 4-1 victory.

The Aggies won the last series the teams played as Big 12 brethren. Texas A&M won the first two games 6-5 and 12-4 and Texas claimed the finale, 2-1.

MORE ON TEXAS

The Longhorns have stumbled a bit out of the gate, starting 7-9 on the year. Texas started the year with a series win against UNLV (2-2) and a four-game split with Stanford. The going has been rougher the last two weekends, getting swept in four games in Austin against Cal and dropping two of three last weekend at UCLA.

Texas is hitting .264 as a team with 82 runs, 31 doubles, four triples, nine home runs, 75 RBI and 14 stolen bases in 16 games. Travis Jones leads the team with a .412 batting average, one double, one triple, one home run and five RBI. Patrick Mathis is hitting .357 with one double, three home runs and four RBI.

The pitching staff is the strength of the squad, posting a 3.61 ERA and .240 opponent batting average. Tuesday night's starter will be Morgan Cooper. He is 1-0 with a 1.50 ERA, a .132 opponent batting average and 16 strikeouts in 12.0 innings.

The Longhorns are six-time national champions, claiming titles in 1949, '50, '75, '83, 2002 and '05.

Texas had 12 players appear in Major League games last year, highlighted by 11-year veteran and two-time Huston Street.

Banks made a clean sweep of the preseason All-America circuit, earning first-team recognition from Collegiate Baseball and NCBWA and second-team accolades from D1Baseball.com and Baseball America. The other three players each found their way onto one of the four teams.

The Aggies finished the 2015 regular-season with a 13-0 record in midweek action this season, outscoring opponents 92-31. The A&M offense was highlighted by NICK BANKS, batting .500 (22-for-44) with 11 runs, three doubles and eight RBI, and Mitchell, hitting .487 (19-for-39) with 11 RBI. RONNIE GIDEON had four home runs and 12 RBI. RED, WHITE, AND BLUE

Two Aggies were blessed with the experience of traveling with the USA Baseball Collegiate National Team last summer. Junior outfielder NICK BANKS and junior pitcher RYAN HENDRIX were selected to the team with Banks spending his second summer with the squad. It marked the second consecutive summer that Banks suited up for USA Baseball.

Banks appeared in 17 games with USA Baseball, batting .386 (22-of-57) with three doubles, one home run, 11 RBI and four stolen bases. Hendrix combined on a no-hitter against the Cuban National Team, the first-ever no-no against Cuba in international competition. USA Baseball recognized Hendrix and the two other pitchers for the "International Performance of the Year." He finished the stint with three saves in seven appearances.

PITCHER WEDGE

KYLE SIMONDS is the only player on the squad to not play high school baseball. Simonds spent his springs at Grand Island (Neb.) Central Catholic High School playing golf. Skilled on the links, Simonds qualified for the Nebraska Class C state tournament all four years, finishing 11th at the championship as a junior. He got his share of baseball in the summers starring for American Legion squad Home Federal. He went 2-for-2 with one double, one home run and three RBI at the Cornhusker League All-Star Game in July 2012.

Simonds honed his pitching skills at Hutchinson Community College. As a sophomore, he was named the National Junior College Athletic Association Division I Pitcher of the Year, posting a 13-0 record (13 wins led the nation) and a 2.30 ERA. He broke single season school records for wins (13), complete-games (nine), shutouts (three) and strikeouts (103) in 2014.

HEAD COACH ROB CHILDRESS

One of the top pitching coaches and recruiters in the country, Rob Childress enters his 11th season as the head coach of the Texas A&M baseball program.

With a steady stream of success, Childress has led A&M to a school-record nine consecutive NCAA Championship appearances, four NCAA Regional titles, two conference regular-season crowns, three league tournament titles and the 2011 College World Series. He owns a career record of 409-222-2, trailing only Mark Johnson (876) and Tom Chandler (660) in coaching victories at Texas A&M.

The 2015 squad started the season with an SEC-record 24-game win streak en route to a 50-14 campaign, the highest victory tally for the Aggies since 1999. A&M finished third in the SEC with an 18-10 league ledger and won their seventh NCAA Regional title. The Aggies came up one run shy of the College World Series, dropping game three of a Super Regional against TCU, 5-4, in 16 innings.

The 2015 campaign was one of the best coaching performances Childress has put in, as his pitching staff posted a 3.04 ERA (22nd in the nation) despite losing two weekend starters for most of the season. Matt Kent and Grayson Long, who both posted 9-1 records on the year, went on to get drafted, along with A.J. Minter, who went 2-0 with a 0.43 ERA in four starts before succumbing to a season-ending injury. The Aggies had four different players earn All-America honors on the year, including Grayson Long, Logan Taylor, Nick Banks and Blake Allemand.

In 2014, Childress guided the Aggies through their second season in the SEC, securing a spot in the SEC Tournament for the second consecutive year and earning a bid to a school-record eighth consecutive NCAA Championship.

In Texas A&M's first run through the SEC in 2013, Childress led A&M to the final six of the SEC Tournament and a seventh straight NCAA Championship. The Gilmer, Texas, native's expertise as a pitching coach is evident and has made an immediate impact. A&M's pitching staff ranked first or second in the rugged Big 12 in earned run average in each of his seven seasons in the league, including a Big 12-best 2.92 team ERA in 2012.

In 2011, Childress captured Co-Big 12 Coach of the Year honors as he led the Aggies to another milestone campaign as he guided the squad back to college baseball's promised land of Omaha, Nebraska, and the College World Series. The trip to Omaha was the fifth in program history and capped off another successful run in the NCAA Tournament.

The 2011 team also claimed the 23rd conference championship in program history as it brought home both the Big 12 regular season and tournament titles before emerging victorious in both the College Station Regional and Tallahassee Super Regional.

A trio of Aggies (Tyler Naquin, Ross Stripling and Michael Wacha) garnered All-America honors in 2011 as Naquin was also named Big 12 Player of the Year while both Stripling and Wacha excelled on the mound under Childress' tutelage. Stripling blossomed during his third year in the A&M program as he led the nation in wins by turning in a 14-2 campaign with a 2.29 ERA.

Named the Big 12's Coach of the Year by his peers in 2008, he guided the Aggies to 46 wins, their first regular-season title in nine years and the first back-to-back NCAA regional championships in school history. Along the way A&M set a new school and Big 12 record by winning 16 straight conference games.

After just one season at the helm, Childress orchestrated the biggest turnaround in NCAA Division I baseball. His 2007 team finished 48-19, winning 23 more games than in 2006, in addition to claiming the NCAA College Station Regional championship, a berth in the Super Regionals and the school's first Big 12 title since 1999.

Childress was named the 19th head baseball coach in school history on June 21, 2005, after spending the previous eight seasons at Nebraska—the first five as an assistant under current Arkansas Head Coach Dave Van Horn and the last three as an assistant to Mike Anderson. In those eight seasons, the Huskers made the NCAA Tournament five times, advanced to the Super Regionals four times and made three appearances in the College World Series (2001, 2002 and 2005).

Childress was a collegiate assistant coach for 14 seasons, including 10 years at the Division I level. He spent seven seasons at Nebraska overseeing the pitching staff and the Husker recruiting efforts after serving with Van Horn at Northwest-ern State from 1995 to 1997.
