

ART ADAMSON INVITATIONAL

HOSTED BY TEXAS A&M
AT MANSFIELD ISD NATATORIUM
NOVEMBER 17-19, 2016

SATURDAY PRELIMS

Arthur "Art" Adamson

Swimmer...Coach...Professor...Mentor

Arthur "Art" Douglas Adamson was the longest serving coach in the history of Texas A&M athletics. He was not only a long-time coach but a legendary aquatics advocate who was known nation wide.

Born in England in 1905, he began his aquatic career after a family move to New Zealand. He set several long-standing records, was the New Zealand 100-meter free national champion, and a champion open water swimmer. While in New Zealand, he qualified for the 1928 Olympic Games but was not able to compete because the country did not send a team. In his free time, he played for local water polo teams and was a renowned deep sea diver.

Adamson attended the Agricultural and Mechanical College of Texas, now known as Texas A&M University. Adamson graduated from the college in 1939 and stayed with the school to coach the swimming and water polo teams.

Adamson was known as a gruff, demanding coach who was ethical and caring, often visiting swimmers in their dorm if they missed a practice due to illness. Adamson's passion for competition was evident every time he stepped on the deck. Even into his old age, he often roamed the pool deck in his swimsuit and robe ready to challenge his swimmers to an occasional sprint race.

Adamson was a major promoter of aquatics and was always willing to teach anyone how to swim. In the Brazos Valley area, he started numerous public swimming programs. Under his instruction, over 15,000 children learned to swim. He even initiated a swim test graduation requirement for Texas A&M students which transformed into a required swimming course for students.

Adamson was instrumental in the creation of the College Station Parks & Recreation Department which led to his creation of summer league swim teams. His summer leagues, in turn, grew into the A.A.U. year-round swim team. In 1942, he was voted the Texas High School Coach of the Year and was selected for the Texas Interscholastic Swimming Coaches Award in 1964.

Under Adamson's tutelage, Texas A&M was a force to be reckoned with in the pool. Texas A&M won several Southwest Conference championships and led the conference in numerous individual events. Adamson also contributed to the former Texas A&M Water Polo team's dominance at the national level. Adamson coached the Texas A&M "Tankers" from 1934-1969 and was named Professor Emeritus by Texas A&M in 1970. At the end of his career, the swim team had a 95-62 record and the water polo team had a 59-8-1 record. Adamson was elected into the Helms Hall of Fame in 1956 and the Texas Pool of Fame in 1967.

In 1972 the legendary coach passed away much to the dismay of the aquatic community. He was cited by the American Red Cross for his devotion to aquatics and water safety as well as inducted into the USA Water Polo Hall of Fame in 1994 and the Texas Swimming Hall of Fame in 2004.

Adamson is survived by his son, Van Adamson (Texas A&M '52).
