

STUDENT-ATHLETE FEE FOR LESSON DOCUMENTATION

NCAA rules stipulate that student-athlete employment earnings must comply with the following restrictions:

- (a) Your compensation does not include any remuneration for value or utility that you may have for the employer because of the publicity, reputation, fame or personal following that you have obtained because of athletics ability;
- (b) You will be compensated only for work actually performed; and
- (c) You will be compensated at a rate commensurate with the going rate in that locality for similar services.

You may receive compensation for teaching or coaching sports skills or techniques in your sport on a fee-for-lesson basis, provided:

- (a) You may not use Texas A&M facilities (athletics or otherwise) to teach the lessons;
- (b) You may not be paid for "playing lessons" (in other words, it's not permissible to be paid for playing someone, as opposed to teaching them);
- (c) You document the recipient of the lesson(s) and the fee for the lesson(s) and provide the documentation to Athletic Compliance;
- (d) Your compensation is paid by the lesson recipient (or the recipient's family) and not another individual or entity;
- (e) When you teach lessons for multiple individuals, your instruction to each individual is comparable to the instruction that would be provided during a private lesson; AND
- (f) You do not use your name, picture or appearance to promote or advertise the availability of fee-for-lesson sessions
