Texas A&M-Corpus Christi Notes

- The Islanders will be going for their fourth win over a Power Five program in school history and the first since 2009-10 when they beat Alabama 96-90. A&M-Corpus Christi also defeated both Indiana and West Virginia in 2004-05.

- The Islanders will look to knock off a ranked opponent for the first time in program history. They're going for their first-ever win against Texas A&M as the two teams have played five times previously, most recently in 2019-20.

- A&M-Corpus Christi will begin its 23rd season of basketball Tuesday. The Islanders were the 2020 Southland Conference champions, finishing the year 23-7 overall and 17-3 SLC. The conference tournament was canceled due to COVID-19, but the Islanders were the top seed. The 17-3 SLC record was the best-ever in program history.

- Royce Chadwick begins his 10th season at the helm and 37th year overall as a head coach. Chadwick, the 2020 SLC Coach of the Year winner, spent 11 seasons as head coach at Marshall, seven seasons at Stephen F. AUstin, five seasons at Howard JC, three seasons at Sam Houston and two seasons at Panhandle State.

- Chadwick is 11 wins away from becoming the winningest coach in an SLC career. He's chasing James Smith's mark of 339 wins at Northwestern State from 1987-04. Chadwick has 328 wins including 31 from SHSU, 173 from SFA and 124 as an Islander.

- Junior Alecia Westbrook was named to the SLC Preseason All-Conference Second-Team. She led the league in rebounding last season with 8.8 per game. Westbrook was the team's leader in scoring, rebounding and assists with 12.1 points, 8.8 rebounds and 2.4 assist per game, and was second in steals. She was the only student-athlete on the roster to start in all 19 games and registered 15 double-figure scoring games and eight double-doubles.

- The Islanders return four starters from last year's squad and their top seven leading

ROYCE CHADWICK

Head Coach · 10th Season · 2020 SLC Coach of the Year

2020 Southland Conference Coach of the Year Royce Chadwick recently completed his eighth season at the helm of the Texas A&M University-Corpus Christi Women's Basketball program and his 36th overall year as a head coach. Chadwick sports a career record of 688-258 (.727). After the Islanders won the 2020 regular season SLC Championship, Chadwick became the only women's basketball coach in conference history to win a regular season championship at two SLC different institutions. Spanning over four decades with stops at Sam Houston State, SFA and now A&M-Corpus Christi, Coach Chadwick has compiled a 204-105 overall mark in SLC play. He is one of only two coaches in conference history to reach 200 wins, trailing only James Smith of Northwestern State (210-80).

The 2019-20 season proved to best in program history for Texas A&M-Corpus Christi, as the Blue and Green finished the regular season with a 23-7 overall record and a program best 17-3 mark in SLC play. The Islanders claimed their first regular season conference title in program history and earned the No. 1 seed in the Southland Conference tournament in Katy, Texas. Chadwick was named the Southland Coach of the Year for the second time with the Islanders following his 2013-14 selection while senior forward Alexes Bryant was named the Defensive Player of the Year. Coach Chadwick became the first coach in program history to win 100 games on the Island, as he collected his 100th win against UTRGV on Nov. 23, 2019.

The Islanders finished the 2018-19 campaign with a remarkable run in the Southland Conference tournament. A&M-Corpus Christi entered the tournament as the No. 6 seed and upset the No. 3 and No. 2 seed before falling to eventual champion ACU, 69-68 in the finals.

The 2017-18 season proved another positive year for the Islanders as Chadwick guided the squad to a 19-12 (11-7 Southland) mark, falling to eventual champion Nicholls State in the second round of the conference tournament.

Chadwick led the Islanders to a memorable semifinal run at the Southland Conference Tournament in 2016-17, earning a pair of victories over Northwestern State and New Orleans before narrowly missing out on an upset of eventual champion Central Arkansas.

On Nov. 18, 2015, Chadwick became the 44th coach in women's college basketball history to reach 600 career wins, topping Rice 60-55 at the Dugan Wellness Center. The Islanders wrapped up the remainder of the 2015-16 season with a 9-20 overall record.

In his first three seasons at Texas A&M-Corpus Christi, Chadwick output a 38-51 record, including an 18-win season in 2013-14. The Islander head coach picked up his second Southland Conference Coach of the Year honor (first came during tenure at Stephen F. Austin) and set the record for longest duration between awards.

A 34-year veteran of the women's college basketball coaching ranks, Royce Chadwick, was named the fourth head women's basketball coach in Texas A&M University-Corpus Christi history on April 11, 2012.

The Floydada, Texas, native crafted a strong career record of 561-301 (.650) prior to accepting his current position with the Island University, making stops at Marshall, Stephen F. Austin, Sam Houston State, Oklahoma Panhandle State and Howard Junior College. In 29 years at the Division I level, Chadwick holds a 372-254 (.594) record with seven NCAA Tournament appearances.

Much of Chadwick's success came at Southland foe Stephen F. Austin, where he led the Ladyjacks for seven seasons. Throughout his tenure at SFA, the team went 173-44 (.797) and advanced to the NCAA Tournament each season. The 1996 team reached the Sweet Sixteen, and Chadwick was named the Southland Coach of the Year one season later in 1997.

On his career, Chadwick owns a 4-7 NCAA Tournament mark with five of those losses coming to top-four seeds and all of them to programs seeded eighth or better. Throughout his time in Nacogdoches, Texas, he secured the Southland Conference Tournament title six times and compiled a sparkling 111-13 (.894) mark in league play. Further, Chadwick's teams won five Southland regular-season championships.

Chadwick led Marshall to seven winning seasons during his time in West Virginia, the most of any coach in program history. He compiled 161 victories for the Thundering Herd, including a 19-win season in 2004-05 that saw the team go 12-4 in Mid-American Conference play and win the MAC East for the first time in school history. From his third year at Marshall on, Chadwick managed 14 wins or more every season with the exception of one (when his team was decimated by injuries).

He also played a major role in the upswing of attendance at Marshall games. Chadwick saw a school-record 7,017 fans come through the turnstiles for a matchup with SEC foe Kentucky in 2004, marking the fourth consecutive season that the Herd had the highest-attended game in the conference. In his first season at Marshall, the team saw a 251 percent increase in attendance.

His first collegiate head coaching assignment came with Panhandle (Okla.) State, where he led his Aggie teams to 19 and 20 wins, respectively, across two seasons. At Sam Houston State, his next stop, Chadwick guided a school that had never posted a winning season to an 18-9 mark during the 1987-88 campaign, just one year removed from a 9-18 season.

In his five seasons at Howard Junior College, Chadwick compiled a record of 148-21, won four Western Conference titles, advanced to the NJCAA Tournament twice and was named National Coach of the Year in 1992. A multifaceted talent, Chadwick also served as Howard's athletic director. In 1983, Chadwick broke into the coaching ranks at Olton High School in Texas where he led the Mustangs to a 21-5 record and their first district championship in nine years.

Chadwick earned a bachelor's degree in accounting from Southwestern Oklahoma State in 1980 before returning for his master's degree in business education two years later.

Chadwick is the proud father of two daughters, Kasi and Kelsi.

In A&M-Corpus Christi's Last Outing...

Islanders' Fourth-Quarter Surge Not Enough at HBU

HOUSTON – A tremendous 31-point fourth-quarter Texas A&M-Corpus Christi women's basketball comeback effort fell just shy as Houston Baptist escaped with a 78-70 victory and Southland tournament bid Saturday afternoon at Sharp Gym.

Heading into the final stanza trailing 58-41, the Islanders mounted its best quarter offense all season in a last-ditch effort at a postseason bid as Makinna Serrata and Nabaweeyah McGill combined for 18 pivotal points over the final 10 minutes. The Islanders managed to trim the deficit to single digits for the first time since the first quarter after an Olivia Dowden steal resulted in a Serrata fast break making it 67-58 with 3:26 on the clock.

The Islanders continued its offensive barrage, as McGill hit her most important shot of the night with a long-range three to draw the visitors within five, 73-68, with a minute left. The difference proved to much as HBU sank three back-breaking free throws to put the victory just out of reach.

A&M-Corpus Christi had four players – Serrata (17), Paige Allen (16), Alecia Westbrook (10), and McGill (11) – enter the double-figure scoring column in the season finale while Giana Wright chipped in a team-high seven rebounds. McGill's 11-point production was good for a career best, with nine of those coming in the fourth-quarter explosion.
