SUMMARY OF OUR INDUSTRY

Global Entertainment & Media Sector Outlook:

For the entertainment and media industries, 2022 marked an important inflection point. Total global entertainment and media (E&M) revenue rose 5.4% in 2022, to US$2.32 trillion. That represents a sharp deceleration from the 10.6% growth rate in 2021, when economies and industries globally were starting to rebound from the upheaval caused by the covid-19 pandemic. And in each of the next five years, the rate of growth will decline sequentially, so that by 2027 revenue will grow just 2.8% from 2026. That’s slower than the 3.1% rate of overall economic growth that the International Monetary Fund (IMF) projects for that year. The slowdown, caused in large measure by sluggish consumer spending, is pushing companies to reset expectations, refocus inward and seek ways to recharge growth. They’re doing so by tapping into the many geographical and sectoral hotspots that offer opportunities and by harnessing emerging technology—in particular, by exploring the power of generative AI as an engine of productivity for the creative process.

OTT (over-the-top) streaming, a key driver of growth, is expanding most rapidly in emerging markets, where the combination of large, historically underserved rural populations, the spread of mobile broadband, and strong demand for local and sports content presents major opportunities. In 2022, when Indonesia switched off its analogue terrestrial broadcasting signal, it was estimated that the country had the highest consumption rate of OTT video in Southeast Asia, with nearly one in three Indonesians using streaming services and the number of hours watched growing at a 40% annual rate.

Global giants such as Netflix, Amazon Prime, Disney+ Hotstar and HBO Go compete in the Indonesian streaming market with a thriving community of local and regional players such as WeTV, GoPlay, Mola TV and Video. Long-term growth prospects are being boosted by the construction of a subsea cable to make high-speed broadband available across the entire archipelago nation.

Indian Entertainment and Media Sector:

The Indian Media and Entertainment (M&E) industry is a sunrise sector for the economy and is making significant strides. The increasing availability of fast and cheap internet, rising incomes, and increasing purchases of consumer durables have significantly aided the industry. India's media and entertainment industry are unique as compared to other markets. The industry is well known for its extremely high volumes and rising Average Revenue Per User (ARPU).

This significantly aided the country's industry and made India leading in terms of digital adoption and provided companies with uninterrupted rich data to understand their customers better. India has also experienced growing opportunities in the VFX sector as the focus shifted globally to India as a preferred content creator.

Proving its resilience to the world, Indian M&E industry is on the cusp of a strong phase of growth, backed by rising consumer demand and improving advertising revenue. According to a FICCI-EY report, the advertising to GDP ratio is expected to reach 0.4% by 2025 from 0.38% in 2019.

Road Ahead:

The Indian M&E industry is on an impressive growth path. The industry is expected to grow at a much faster rate than the global average rate. This can be majorly credited to rising incomes, increasing internet penetration and a growing push toward digital adoption.

In the long run, growth in the M&E industry is expected in retail advertisement on the back of several players entering the food and beverages segment, E-commerce gaining more popularity in the country, and domestic companies testing out the waters. India's rural regions are expected to be the next regions for growth. India has also gotten on board with 5G and is already planning for 6G well ahead of the future. This push towards digital adoption especially in the rural regions will provide advertisers and publishers with an immense opportunity to capture untapped markets and help grow India's media and entertainment industry forward.

The popularity and economic success of our TV series, web series and other digital content depends on many factors including general public tastes, key talent involved, the promotion and marketing of the serials, the quality and acceptance of other competing programs released into, general economic conditions, the genre and specific subject matter of the film and other tangible & intangible factors, all of which can change, are factors that we cannot predict with certainty and which may be beyond our control. Any loss of these individuals, or their unavailability, could have a significant negative impact on the business and its operations, potentially leading to increased costs, decreased revenue, and damage to the business's reputation.

The success of our business is largely dependent on the talents and expertise of a few key individuals, such as scriptwriters, artists, actors and technicians. These individuals are the backbone of the creative process, and their unique skills and creativity are not readily replaceable. Thereby, the entire success of a project or production depends on the abilities and contributions of these few people. Additionally, their availability and timely delivery of services are also crucial for the smooth execution of a project. In the event that a scriptwriter, artist, or technician is not available when needed, this could cause significant delays and disruption to the production timeline, potentially leading to increased costs and decreased revenue.

Further, loss of any of these key personnel due to any reason, such as disputes, illness, or other unforeseen circumstances, can have a significant negative impact on a project. The loss of a key scriptwriter, for example, could mean that the story development process comes to a halt, leading to a significant delay in production. This could impact the reputation of the business and its ability to attract and retain talent in the future.

Furthermore, our inability to attract additional skilled artists, particularly script writers and other technical personnel could have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition and results of operations. Further, our business strategy is to create and build a strong content library, with a focus on creating a diverse range of content, including TV shows, web series, and other forms of media. This strategy entails scaling up our content volume both with existing clients and new media ventures. Hence, increases the working capital requirement of the company. A liquidity crunch may also result in increased working capital borrowings and, consequently, higher finance costs which will adversely impact our profitability. Our inability to maintain sufficient cash flow, credit facility and other sourcing of funding, in a timely manner, or at all, to meet the requirement of working capital or pay out debts, could adversely affect our financial condition and our results of operations.

8. Intensified competition may result in content price escalation which may restrict our ability to access content and/or talent.

Our industry is highly competitive and we face intense competition from various players in the market. As competition intensifies, the price of content and talent may escalate, which may restrict our ability to access quality content and/or talent. We face intense competition from both Indian and foreign competitors, many of which are substantially larger and have greater financial resources than us. Growth in the entertainment industry in recent years has attracted new industry participants and competitors. The entry of such competitors may change the media and entertainment industry in ways that may not favour us. The ability to secure quality content and talent is a key driver of our business, and any inability to access them may adversely affect our operations and financial performance. We may not be able to compete effectively in the market, which may lead to a decline in our market share and revenues. Further, any significant increase in the price of content and talent may lead to a rise in our production costs, which may adversely impact our margins and profitability. We may also face difficulties in passing on such cost increases to our customers, which may further impact our financial performance. For further information on our peers, please refer to chapter titled “Our Business” on page no. 133 of this Red Herring Prospectus.

9. Our Corporate Promoter is engaged in the line of business similar to our Company. We cannot assure that our Promoter will not favor its own interests over the interest of our company.

Our Corporate Promoter, Beyond Dreams Entertainment Private Limited, is also engaged in producing TV serials, web series, and other digital content, which is similar to our business activities. Although, we have entered into a non-competence agreement with our Corporate Promoter. We cannot guarantee that our Corporate Promoter, who shares similar interests with us, will not prefer their own company’s interests over ours. As a result, conflicts of interests may arise in allocating business opportunities between our Company and our Promoter Company, especially in situations where our respective interests may diverge. In such cases of conflict, our Promoter may prioritize the interests of their company over ours. Furthermore, there is no assurance that our Promoter Company or members of the Promoter Group will not compete with our existing business or any future business ventures we undertake, which could lead to conflicts of interest. In the event of any such present or future conflicts could have a significant adverse effect on our reputation, business operations, financial condition, and results of operations. This, in turn, could adversely impact our profitability and financial results.

10. There may be a potential conflict of interest between our company and our directors or Key Managerial Personnel.

Although we enter into distribution agreements with the Broadcasters and we expect timely payment and advances and for meeting our business requirements.

Delays in payment from these entities can have a significant impact on our revenues and profitability. In such cases, we may face difficulties in meeting our financial obligations and funding future productions. In case of termination of agreement, we would require another distributor or Broadcaster on short notice. We might not be able to enter into new distribution agreements on favorable terms or at all, and there can be no assurance that any new distribution arrangements would be sufficient to effectively exploit our content in markets. We strive to maintain positive relationships with our Broadcasters or distributors and have implemented financial and contractual safeguards to minimize the risk of delayed payments. In case of expiry/ non- renewal/ cancellation/ breach of the agreements and any changes in the terms of the agreements, we may face damages which, could impact the company’s business operations or projected revenue.

One of the key risks associated in our Intellectual Property Right based Business model is the high investment made by our company in producing “original content” without any agreement or contract in place and without the involvement of client. This exposes us to the uncertainty of whether the content or series will be successful and generate a substantial amount of revenue. There is a risk that the content may not receive the anticipated level of consumer acceptance, leading to lower revenue than projected, or may not achieve the expected return on investment. This could result in significant losses for our company and adversely impact our financial performance. The E&M industry's revenue trajectory is showing signs of deceleration after a robust 5.4% rise in 2022, which is a marked contrast to the 10.6% surge experienced during the post-pandemic rebound in 2021. With forecasts projecting a continued sequential decline in growth rates over the next five years, the risk of revenue stagnation looms. This trend, trailing behind the overall economic growth rate predicted by the IMF, may reflect a maturing industry grappling with evolving consumer behaviors, evolving technologies, and heightened competition. Companies within the E&M sector must navigate this deceleration by fostering innovation, diversification, and strategic partnerships to sustain growth amidst an increasingly challenging landscape. Failing to take these actions could lead to financial losses for these companies. 34. Global growth is projected to fall from 3.5 percent in 2022 to 3.0 percent in both 2023 and 2024 on an annual average basis.

The projected decline in global growth, dropping from 3.5% in 2022 to 3.0% for both 2023 and 2024, underscores a potential risk of economic instability. While there is an upward revision of 0.2 percentage point for 2023 compared to earlier projections, the overall forecast remains below the historical average of 3.8% (2000–19). This projection is aggravated by divergent growth patterns across advanced economies and emerging markets. Advanced economies' decline, particularly due to manufacturing weakness and idiosyncratic factors, contributes to global growth challenges. Companies operating in the international arena must navigate this dynamic landscape, where uneven growth trajectories, trade disruptions, and changing demand patterns could impact profitability and overall financial health. For Further information on the Global Outlook, please refer to the chapter titled "Our Industry" on page 104 of this Red Herring Prospectus.

There can be no assurance that additional deficiencies or lacks in our internal controls will not arise in the future, or that we will be able to implement and continue to maintain adequate measures to rectify or mitigate any such deficiencies or lacks in our internal controls. As on March 31, 2023, our Company has a total outstanding secured borrowings from banks and financial institutions aggregating to Rs 522.19 lakhs and Unsecured Loan aggregating to Rs. 378.00 lakhs, as per the certificate issued by M/s JMT & Associates, Chartered Accountants, dated August 07, 2023.

For Further Information, please refer to the chapter titled “Financial Indebtedness” on page 259 of the Red Herring Prospectus.

39. Our Company is subject to foreign exchange control regulations which can pose a risk of currency fluctuations.

Our Company is involved in business transactions with international clients located globally. Our international operations make us susceptible to the risk of currency fluctuations, which may directly affect our operating results. In case we are unable to adhere to the timelines prescribed under the applicable laws or are unable to mitigate the risk of currency fluctuation, it may adversely affect our business, results of operations, financial conditions and cash flows.

40. Our Company has not paid any dividend in past 3 financials years and our ability to pay dividends in the future may be affected by any material adverse effect on our future earnings, financial condition or cash flows.

Our ability to pay dividends in future will depend on our earnings, financial condition and capital requirements. Our business is working capital intensive and declaration of dividend will depend upon financial performance of our Company at the time of declaration. We may be unable to pay dividends in the near or medium term, and our future dividend policy will depend on our capital requirements and financing arrangements (if any) in respect of our operations, financial condition and results of operations. Our Company has not declared dividends in the past and there can be no assurance that our Company will declare dividends in the future. For further details, please refer to the chapter titled “Dividend Policy” on pages 214 of this Red Herring Prospectus.

41. Industry information included in this Red Herring Prospectus has been derived from an industry report from various websites. The reliability on the forecasts of the reports could be incorrect and would significantly impact our operations.

We have relied on the reports of certain independent third party for purposes of inclusion of such information in this Red Herring Prospectus. These reports are subject to various limitations and based upon certain assumptions that are subjective in nature. We have not independently verified data from such industry reports and other sources. Although we believe that the data may be considered to be reliable, their accuracy, completeness and underlying assumptions are not guaranteed and their dependability cannot be assured. While we have taken reasonable care in the reproduction of the information, the information has not been prepared or independently verified by us or any of our respective affiliates or advisors and, therefore, we make no representation or warranty, express or implied, as to the accuracy or completeness of such facts and statistics. Due to possibly flawed or ineffective collection methods or discrepancies between published information and market practice and other problems, the statistics herein may be inaccurate or may not be comparable to statistics produced for other economies and should not be unduly relied upon. Further, there is no assurance that they are stated or compiled on the same basis or with the same degree of accuracy as may be the case elsewhere. Statements from third parties that involve estimates are subject to change, and actual amounts may differ materially from those included in this Red Herring Prospectus.

42. Our Company has issued Equity Shares during the last twelve months at a price which may be lower than the Offer Price.

We have, in the 12 months preceding the filing of this Red Herring Prospectus, issued Equity Shares at prices that may be lower than the Offer Price to Promoters and other shareholders. For details of issues, please refer, page 67 of the chapter “Capital Structure”.

The details of the allotment made during the preceding 12 months are as follows:

S.No.	Date of Allotment	Number of Equity Shares	Face value	Issue Price	Consideration	Type of Allotment
1	04-10-2022	639	10	15,666.67	Cash	Preferential Issue
2	07-08-2023	1,00,00,660	10	N.A.	Other than Cash	Bonus Issue

43. Our Company’s future funding requirements, in the form of further issue of capital or other securities and/or loans that might be availed by us, may turn out to be prejudicial to the interest of the shareholders depending upon the terms and conditions on which they are raised.

We may require additional capital from time to time depending on our business needs. Any further issue of Equity Shares or convertible securities would dilute the shareholding of the existing shareholders and such issuance may be done on terms and conditions, which may not be favourable to the then existing shareholders. If such funds are raised in the form of loans or debt or preference shares, then it may substantially increase our fixed interest/dividend burden and decrease our cash flows, thus adversely affecting our business, results of operations and financial condition.

RISK RELATED TO THE ISSUE

- 44. *There are certain restrictions on daily movements in the price of Equity Shares, which may adversely affect a shareholder's ability to sell, or the price at which it can sell, Equity Shares at a particular point in time.

Following the Issue, we will be subject to a daily circuit breaker imposed by NSE, which does not allow transactions beyond specified increases or decreases in the price of the Equity Shares. This circuit breaker operates independently of the index-based, market-wide circuit breakers generally imposed by SEBI on Indian stock exchanges. The percentage limit on our circuit breakers will be set by the stock exchange based on the historical volatility in the price and trading volume of the Equity Shares. This circuit breaker will limit the upward and downward movements in the price of the Equity Shares. As a result of this circuit breaker, no assurance can be given regarding your ability to sell your Equity Shares or the price at which you may be able to sell your Equity Shares at any particular time.

- 45. *After this Issue, the price of the Equity Shares may be highly volatile, or an active trading market for the Equity Shares may not develop.

The price of the Equity Shares on the Stock Exchanges may fluctuate as a result of the factors, including:

1. Volatility in the Indian and global capital market;
2. Company's results of operations and financial performance;
3. Performance of Company's competitors,
4. Adverse media reports on Company or pertaining to our Industry;
5. Changes in our estimates of performance or recommendations by financial analysts; and
6. Significant developments in India's economic and fiscal policies;

Current valuations may not be sustainable in the future and may also not be reflective of future valuations for our industry and our Company. There has been no public market for Equity Shares and the prices of the Equity Shares may fluctuate after this Issue. There can be no assurance that an active trading market for the Equity Shares will develop or be sustained after this Issue or that the price at which the Equity Shares are initially traded will correspond to the price at which the Equity Shares will trade in the market subsequent to this Issue.

- 46. *Equity Shares of our Company have never been publicly traded, and after the Issue, the Equity Shares may be subject to price and volume fluctuations, and an active trading market for the Equity Shares may or may not develop. Further, the Issue Price may not be indicative of the market price of the Equity Shares after the Issue.

Prior to this Issue of our Company, no public market existed for the Equity Shares, and an active trading market on the Stock Exchanges may not develop or be sustained after the Issue. Listing and quotation of Equity Shares does not guarantee that a market for the same will develop, or if developed, the liquidity of such market for the Equity Shares cannot be guaranteed. The Issue Price of the Equity Shares is proposed to be determined through a book building process in compliance with Schedule XIII of the SEBI ICDR and the same may not be indicative of the market price of the Equity Shares at the time of commencement of trading of the Equity Shares or at any time thereafter. The Issue Price will be based on numerous factors, as described in the section "Basis for Issue Price" beginning on page 93. This price may not necessarily be indicative of the market price of our Equity Shares after the Issue is completed. The market price of the Equity Shares may be subject to significant fluctuations in response to, among other factors, variations in our operating results, market conditions specific to the industry we operate in.

Our Equity Shares are likely to trade on NSE after the Issue, but there can be no assurance that active trading in our Equity Shares will develop after the Issue, or if such trading develops, that it will continue. Investors may not be able to sell our Equity Shares at the quoted price if there is no active trading in our Equity Shares.

47. Investors may be subject to Indian taxes arising out of income arising on the sale of the Equity Shares.

Under the present Indian tax laws and regulations, unless specifically exempted, capital gains that arise from the sale of equity shares in an Indian company are generally taxable in India. A securities transaction tax (“STT”) is levied on and collected by an Indian stock exchange on which equity shares are sold. Any gain realised on the sale of listed equity shares held for more than 12 months, which are sold using any other platform other than on a recognised stock exchange and on which no STT has been paid, are subject to long-term capital gains tax in India at the specified rates depending on certain factors, such as whether the sale is undertaken on or off the Stock Exchanges, the quantum of gains and any available treaty relief. Accordingly, you may be subject to payment of long-term capital gains tax in India, in addition to payment of Securities Transaction Tax (“STT”), on the sale of any Equity Shares held for more than 12 months immediately preceding the date of transfer. STT will be levied on and collected by a domestic stock exchange on which the Equity Shares are sold. Further, any capital gains realised on the sale of listed equity shares held for a period of 12 months or less immediately preceding the date of transfer will be subject to short term capital gains tax in India. In cases where the seller is a non-resident, capital gains arising from the sale of the equity shares will be partially or wholly exempt from taxation in India in cases where the exemption from taxation in India is provided under a treaty between India and the country of which the seller is resident and the seller is entitled to avail benefits thereunder, subject to certain conditions.

Capital gains arising from the sale of the Equity Shares will not be chargeable to tax in India in cases where relief from such taxation in India is provided under a treaty between India and the country of which the seller is resident and the seller is entitled to avail benefits thereunder, subject to certain conditions. Generally, Indian tax treaties do not limit India’s ability to impose tax on capital gains. As a result, residents of other countries may be liable for tax in India as well as in their own jurisdiction on a gain upon the sale of the Equity Shares.

48. QIBs and Non-Institutional Investors are not permitted to withdraw or lower their Bids (in terms of quantity of Equity Shares or the Bid Amount) at any stage after the submission of their Bid, and Retail Individual Investors are not permitted to withdraw their Bids after closure of the Bid/ Issue Closing Date.

Pursuant to the SEBI ICDR Regulations, QIBs and Non-Institutional Investors are required to pay the Bid Amount on submission of the Bid and are not permitted to withdraw or lower their Bids (in terms of quantity of Equity Shares or the Bid Amount) at any stage after submitting a Bid. Retail Individual Investors can revise their Bids during the Bid/ Issue Period and withdraw their Bids until the Bid/ Issue Closing Date. While we are required to complete all necessary formalities for listing and commencement of trading of the Equity Shares on all Stock Exchanges where such Equity Shares are proposed to be listed, including Allotment, within six Working Days from the Bid/ Issue Closing Date or such other period as may be prescribed by the SEBI, events affecting the investors’ decision to invest in the Equity Shares, including adverse changes in international or national monetary policy, financial, political or economic conditions, our business, results of operations, cash flows or financial condition may arise between the date of submission of the Bid and Allotment. We may complete the Allotment of the Equity Shares even if such events occur, and such events may limit the Investors' ability to sell the Equity Shares Allotted pursuant to the Issue or cause the trading price of the Equity Shares to decline on listing.

49. Sale of Equity Shares by our Promoters or other significant shareholder(s) or any future issue of Equity Shares may dilute your shareholding and adversely affect the trading price of the Equity Shares.

Any future equity issues by us, including in a primary offering, or any instance of disinvestments of equity shares by our Promoters or by other significant shareholder(s) may significantly affect the trading price of our Equity Shares. Further, our market price may also be adversely affected even if there is a perception or belief that such sales of Equity Shares might occur.

50. Investors will not be able to sell immediately on an Indian stock exchange any of the Equity Shares they purchase in the Issue.

The Equity Shares will be listed on the Stock Exchanges. Pursuant to applicable Indian laws, certain actions must be completed before the Equity Shares can be listed and trading in the Equity Shares may commence. Investors' book entry, or 'demat' accounts with depository participants in India, are expected to be credited within one working day of the date on which the Basis of Allotment is approved by the Stock Exchanges. The Allotment of Equity Shares in the Issue and the credit of such Equity Shares to the applicant's demat account with depository participant could take approximately five Working Days from the Bid/ Issue Closing Date and trading in the Equity Shares upon receipt of final listing and trading approvals from the Stock Exchanges is expected to commence within six Working Days of the Bid/ Issue Closing Date. There could be a failure or delay in listing of the Equity Shares on the Stock Exchanges. Any failure or delay in obtaining the approval or otherwise commence trading in the Equity Shares would restrict investors' ability to dispose of their Equity Shares. There can be no assurance that the Equity Shares will be credited to investors' demat accounts, or that trading in the Equity Shares will commence, within the time periods specified in this risk factor. We could also be required to pay interest at the applicable rates if allotment is not made, refund orders are not dispatched or demat credits are not made to investors within the prescribed time periods.

51. Holder of Equity Shares may be restricted in their ability to exercise pre-emptive rights under Indian law and thereby may suffer future dilution of their ownership position.

Under the Companies Act, a company having share capital and incorporated in India must offer its holders of equity shares pre-emptive rights to subscribe and pay for a proportionate number of equity shares to maintain their existing ownership percentages before the issuance of any new equity shares, unless the pre-emptive rights have been waived by adoption of a special resolution. However, if the laws of the jurisdiction the investors are located in does not permit them to exercise their pre-emptive rights without our filing an offering document or registration statement with the applicable authority in such jurisdiction, the investors will be unable to exercise their pre-emptive rights unless we make such a filing. If we elect not to file a registration statement, the new securities may be issued to a custodian, who may sell the securities for the investor's benefit. The value the custodian receives on the sale of such securities and the related transaction costs cannot be predicted. In addition, to the extent that the investors are unable to exercise pre-emption rights granted in respect of the Equity Shares held by them, their proportional interest in us would be reduced.

52. A third-party could be prevented from acquiring control of us post this Issue, because of anti-takeover provisions under Indian law.

As a listed Indian company, there are provisions in Indian legal regime that may delay, deter or prevent a future takeover or change in control of our Company. Under the Takeover Regulations, an acquirer has been defined as any person who, directly or indirectly, acquires or agrees to acquire shares or voting rights or control over a company, whether individually or acting in concert with others. Although these provisions have been formulated to ensure that interests of investors/shareholders are protected, these provisions may also discourage a third party from attempting to take control of our Company subsequent to completion of the Issue. Consequently, even if a potential takeover of our Company would result in the purchase of the Equity Shares at a premium to their market price or would otherwise be beneficial to our shareholders, such a takeover may not be attempted or consummated because of Takeover Regulations.

This space has been left blank intentionally.

EXTERNAL RISK FACTORS

53. The outbreak and after-effects of COVID-19, or outbreak of any other severe communicable disease could have a potential impact on our business, financial condition, cash flows and results of operations.

The outbreak, of any severe communicable disease, as seen in the recent outbreak and aftermath of COVID-19, could materially and adversely affect business sentiment and environment across industries. In addition, our revenue and profitability could be impacted to the extent that a natural disaster, health epidemic or other outbreak harms the Indian and global economy in general. The outbreak of COVID-19 has resulted in authorities implementing several measures such as travel bans and restrictions, quarantines, shelter in place orders, and lockdowns. These measures have impacted and may further impact our workforce and operations and also the operations of our clients. A rapid increase in severe cases and deaths where measures taken by governments fail or are lifted prematurely, may cause significant economic disruption in India and in the rest of the world. The scope, duration and frequency of such measures and the adverse effects of COVID-19 remain uncertain and could be severe.

During the lockdown period in response to the COVID-19 pandemic, our Company had certain interim measures in place to ensure business and operational continuity. Our employees worked remotely. However, certain of our operations are dependent on various information technology systems and applications which may not be adequately supported by a robust business continuity plan, which could impact our business in the event of a disaster of any nature. Although we continue to devote resources and management focus, there can be no assurance that these programs will operate effectively.

54. The Terrorist attacks, communal disturbances and regional conflicts in South Asia may have a material adverse effect on our business and on the market for securities in India.

Terrorist attacks, whether in India or another country may adversely affect Indian and worldwide financial markets. These acts may also result in a loss of business confidence and have other consequences that could adversely affect our business, results of operations and financial condition. Some parts of India have experienced communal disturbances and riots during recent years. If such events recur, our business and financial condition may be adversely affected.

South Asia has, from time to time, experienced instances of civil unrest. Military activity or terrorist attacks in the future could adversely affect the Indian economy, and the financial condition and results of operations of Indian companies, including us, which would have an adverse effect on the trading price of our Equity Shares.

55. Under Indian legal regime, foreign investors are subject to investment restrictions that limit our Company's ability to attract foreign investors, which may adversely affect the trading price of the Equity Shares. Accordingly, our ability to raise foreign capital may be constrained.

As a company incorporated in India, we are subject to exchange controls that govern the borrowings in foreign currencies. Further, under applicable foreign exchange regulations in India, transfer of shares between non-residents and residents are freely permitted (subject to compliance with sectoral norms and certain other restrictions), if they comply with the pricing guidelines and reporting requirements specified under applicable laws. If share transfer is not in compliance with such requirements and does not fall under any of the permissible exceptions, then prior approval of the relevant regulatory authority is required. Such regulatory restrictions limit our financing sources and could constrain our ability to obtain financings on competitive terms and refinance existing indebtedness.

56. The requirements of being a listed company may strain our resources.

We are not a listed company and have not been subjected to the increased scrutiny of our affairs by shareholders, regulators and the public at large that is associated by the virtue of being a listed company. As a listed company, we will incur considerable legal, accounting, corporate governance and other expenses that we did not incur as an unlisted company. We will be subject to the listing compliances and reporting requirements to the Stock Exchanges on which equity shares of our Company will be listed, which require us to file audited annual and unaudited quarterly reports with respect to our business and financial condition. If we experience any delays, we may fail to satisfy our reporting obligations and/or we may not be able to readily determine and accordingly report any changes in our results of operations as timely as other listed companies.

57. Any adverse change or downgrading in ratings of India may adversely affect our business, results of operations and cash flows.

Any adverse revisions to India's credit ratings international debt by international rating agencies may adversely affect our ability to raise additional overseas financing and the interest rates and other commercial terms at which such additional financing is available. This could have an adverse effect on our ability to fund our growth on favourable terms or at all, and consequently adversely affect our business and financial performance and the price of our Equity Shares.

58. Investors outside India subscribing to this Issue may not be able to enforce any judgment of a foreign court against us, except by way of a suit in India.

Our Company is a limited liability company incorporated under the laws of India. Our Company's assets are located in India. As a result, it may be difficult for investors to effect service of process upon us or such persons in India or to enforce judgments obtained against our Company or such parties outside India. India is not a party to any international treaty in relation to the recognition or enforcement of foreign judgments. India has reciprocal recognition and enforcement of judgments in civil and commercial matters with a limited number of jurisdictions, including the United Kingdom, Singapore, UAE, and Hong Kong. A judgment from certain specified courts located in a jurisdiction with reciprocity must meet certain requirements of the Code of Civil Procedure, 1908, as amended ("Civil Procedure Code"). The United States has not been notified as a reciprocating territory.

In addition, any person seeking to enforce a foreign judgment in India is required to obtain the prior approval of the RBI to repatriate any amount recovered, and we cannot assure that such approval will be forthcoming within a reasonable period of time, or at all, or that conditions of such approvals would be acceptable. Such amount may also be subject to income tax in accordance with applicable law. Consequently, it may not be possible to enforce in an Indian court any judgment obtained in a foreign court, or effect service of process outside of India, against Indian companies, entities, their directors and executive officers and any other parties resident in India. Additionally, there is no assurance that a suit brought in an Indian court in relation to a foreign judgment will be disposed of in a timely manner.

59. Changing laws, rules and regulations and legal uncertainties in India and other countries may adversely affect our business and financial performance.

The regulatory and policy environment in which we operate is evolving and subject to change. Such changes may adversely affect our business, results of operations and prospects, to the extent that we are unable to suitably respond to and comply with any such changes in applicable law and policy. For example, the Government of India implemented a comprehensive national goods and services tax (“GST”) regime with effect from July 1, 2017, that combined multiple taxes and levies by the Central and State Governments into unified tax structure. Our business and financial performance could be adversely affected by any unexpected or onerous requirements or regulations resulting from the introduction of GST or any changes in laws or interpretation of existing laws, or the promulgation of new laws, rules and regulations relating to GST, as it is implemented. The Government has enacted the GAAR which have come into effect from April 1, 2017.

Uncertainty in the applicability, interpretation or implementation of any amendment to, or change in, governing law, regulation or policy, including by reason of an absence, or a limited body, of administrative or judicial precedent may be time consuming as well as costly for us to resolve and may impact the viability of our current businesses or restrict our ability to grow our businesses in the future.

60. Regulatory, economic, political scenarios or other factors that are beyond our control may have an adverse effect on our business and financial performance.

Our economy and its securities markets are influenced by economic developments, any adverse economic developments or rising of fiscal or trade deficit may also affect investor confidence and cause increased volatility in securities markets and indirectly affect our economy in general. Any of these factors could depress economic activity and restrict our access to capital, which could have an adverse effect on our business, financial condition, and results of operations. Further financial disruption could also have an adverse effect on our business, future financial performance, shareholders’ equity and the price of our Equity Shares

Also, a change in the government or change in deregulation policies could adversely affect economic conditions prevalent in the areas in which we operate in general and our business and high rates of inflation could increase our costs without proportionately increasing our revenues

61. Financial instability in other countries may cause increased volatility in Indian and other financial markets.

The Indian financial market and the Indian economy are influenced by economic and market conditions in other countries, particularly in emerging market in Asian countries. Financial turmoil in Asia, Europe, the United States and elsewhere in the world in recent years has affected the Indian economy. Although economic conditions are different in each country, investors’ reactions to developments in one country can have an adverse effect on the securities of companies in other countries, including India. A loss in investor confidence in the financial systems of other emerging markets may cause increased volatility in Indian financial market and, indirectly, in the Indian economy in general. Any global financial instability, including further deterioration of credit conditions in the U.S. market, could also have a negative impact on the Indian economy.

Financial disruptions may occur again and could harm our results of operations and financial condition. The Indian economy is also influenced by economic and market conditions in other countries. This includes, but is not limited to, the conditions in the United States, Europe and certain economies in Asia. Financial turmoil in Asia and elsewhere in the world in recent years has affected the Indian economy. Any worldwide financial instability may cause increased volatility in the Indian financial markets and, directly or indirectly, adversely affect the Indian economy and financial sector and its business.

Although economic conditions vary across markets, loss of investor confidence in one emerging economy may cause increased volatility across other economies, including India. Financial instability in other parts of the world could have a global influence and thereby impact the Indian economy. Financial disruptions in the future could adversely affect our business, prospects, financial condition and results of operations. The global credit and equity markets have experienced substantial dislocations, liquidity disruptions and market corrections.

62. Natural disasters, epidemics, pandemics, acts of war, terrorist attacks and other events could materially and adversely affect our business and profitability.

Natural disasters (such as earthquakes, fire, typhoons, cyclones, hurricanes and floods), pandemics, epidemics, strikes, civil unrest, terrorist attacks and other events, which are beyond our control, may lead to global or regional economic instability, which may in turn materially and adversely affect our business, financial condition, cash flows and results of operations. Any of these occurrences could cause severe disruptions to our daily operations and may warrant a temporary closure of our facilities. Such closures may disrupt our business operations and adversely affect our results of operations. Our operation could also be disrupted if our clients are affected by such natural disasters or epidemics. An outbreak or epidemic, such as SARS, the H1N1 and H5N1 viruses or COVID-19 could cause general consumption or the demand for various products to decline, which could result in reduced demand for our services. Such an outbreak or epidemic may significantly interrupt our business operations as health or governmental authorities may impose quarantine and inspection measures on us or our clients.

Moreover, certain regions in India have witnessed terrorist attacks and civil disturbances and it is possible that future terrorist attacks or civil unrest, as well as other adverse social, economic and political events in India could have a negative effect on us. Transportation facilities, including vehicles, can be targets of terrorist attacks, which could lead to, among other things, increased insurance and security costs. Regional and global political or military tensions or conflicts strained or altered foreign relations, protectionism and acts of war or the potential for war could also cause damage and disruption to our business, which could materially and adversely affect our business, financial condition, cash flows and results of operations. Such incidents could create the perception that investments in Indian companies involve a higher degree of risk and such perception could adversely affect our business and the price of the Equity Shares.

Justification for increase/ decrease in working capital requirement:

For The Financial Year 2021-2022:

S.No.	Name of Project in FY 2020-21	Name of Project in FY 2021-2022
1	Ishq Main Marjawan 2 (Colors & Voot Select)	Raksha Bandhan (Dangal)
2	-	Kuchh Rang Pyar Ke Aise Bhi Season 3 (Sony)
3	-	Ishq Main Marjawan 2 (Colors & Voot Select)
4	-	Channa Mereya

During the fiscal year 2020-21, the total working capital requirement was Rs. 455.32 lakhs. However, this amount decreased to Rs. 380.32 lakhs subsequently. Considering this the substantial increase in Revenue from operations, which rose from Rs. 1,938.39 lakhs to Rs. 3,814.77 lakhs.

This reduction in working capital can be attributed to a couple of factors. Firstly, the company allocated a significant portion of its development costs for the projects showcased in FY 2021-22 during the preceding fiscal year, i.e., FY 2020-21. Secondly, timely payments were received for several projects, resulting in a decrease in debtor days compared to the previous year.

This growth in revenue can be linked to the company's involvement in a higher number of projects. Notably, the company transitioned from undertaking just one project in the fiscal year 2020-21 to engaging in four projects during the fiscal year 2022-23, as indicated in the provided data.

The decrease in the working capital requirement can be attributed to the impact of the COVID-19 pandemic. The operational continuity of the business was severely disrupted due to recurring lockdowns. A significant number of our debtors and clients encountered difficulties in meeting their payment obligations within the usual timeframes, primarily due to the economic challenges imposed by the lockdowns.

For The Financial year 2022-2023:

S.No.	Name of Project in FY 2021-2022	Name of Project in FY 2022-23

The substantial rise in the working capital requirement, increasing from Rs. 380.32 lakhs in the fiscal year 2021-22 to Rs. 1,299.95 lakhs in the fiscal year 2022-23, can be attributed to a significant expansion in the company's undertaken projects during this period. The shift is evident in the comparison of project numbers, which went from 4 in 2021-22 to 9 in 2022-23, accompanied by a corresponding boost in turnover from Rs. 3,814.77 lakhs to Rs. 4,883.16 lakhs. This surge in turnover had direct impacts on the company's working capital requirements due to specific changes in the following areas:

- Work in Progress for Projects: The increased number of projects undertaken by the company required larger investments in work in progress as more resources were allocated to complete these projects. Consequently, a larger portion of capital was tied up in unfinished projects.
- Outstanding Receivables: The rise in turnover led to a higher volume of sales, which in turn necessitated an increase in outstanding receivables. As the company offered credit to its clients, funds became locked in pending invoices, resulting in an expansion of the working capital needed.
- Payables to Suppliers: To support the expanded operations, the company likely engaged with a broader range of suppliers and vendors. This led to an elevation in payables to these entities, indicating a heightened requirement for working capital to meet these financial obligations.

Justification for increase in working capital requirement for the estimated period:

The working capital requirements are based on estimation of the future requirements in the financial year 2023-24 and FY 2024-25. The working Capital requirement is estimated to be increased from Rs. 1,299.95 lakhs in the FY 2022-23 to Rs. 2,051.88 lakhs in the FY 2023-24.

Reason:

As mentioned in the chapter “Our Business” on page 133 of this Red Herring Prospectus.

Our business strategy revolves around the development of a robust content library, with a focus on creating a diverse range of content, including TV shows, web series, and other forms of media. This strategy entails scaling up our content volume both with existing clients and new media ventures. Alongside our ongoing projects, we have plans to introduce multiple new projects in the fiscal year 2023-24: one TV series and one Web Series/OTT. This expansion is anticipated to lead to higher revenue compared to the previous fiscal year.

The typical revenue cycle of our business spans 90 days from the date of telecast for a show or web series. Upon approval of a TV project, we assemble a sizable team of around 60-70 individuals, comprising Creative, Production, Casting, and Writing Teams. Upon finalizing the script and cast, additional teams such as Direction, Post-production, Costume, Art, Production Audit, and Studio Staff are recruited. Subsequently, the procurement of essential resources comes into play. This phase involves securing studios and shooting equipment, usually facilitated through security deposits.

In preparation for telecast, the company initiates production of an initial 20 episodes. This is followed by the creation of an additional 78 episodes within a 90-day credit period extended to Broadcasters. In some instances, our Broadcast partners provide advances for set construction (ranging from 1 to 1.75 Crores), and we also secure up to 40% of the project cost on credit from select vendors and talented professionals. As a result, the commencement of each project requires an initial investment ranging from 4 to 5 Crores, contingent on the project's scope and complexity.

Presently, we have ongoing projects airing which is expected to continue in the fiscal year 2023-24. Additionally, we have two upcoming projects slated for broadcast in FY 2023-24 and four more projects in FY 2024-25. In the scenario where we produce five projects in the FY 2023-24, the requisite working capital would range from 25 Crores to 30 Crores annually.

Our Each project's life cycle is bifurcated into 4 major stages:

- Pre-Production & Development Stage: During this phase, we conceptualize ideas and engage in discussions with various broadcasters and OTT platforms. Once we receive interest from select partners, we proceed with further development, including scripting and scene planning. This typically spans a duration of 1 to 6 months.
- Production & Post-production: Following the finalization of development, the production phase commences. This involves activities such as renting studios, constructing sets, hiring professionals or contractors, assembling the cast, and conducting indoor and outdoor shoots. Post-production activities like editing, background music, sound designing, VFX, graphics, etc. This phase typically spans 2 to 4 months. Broadcasting dates are determined once a certain number of episodes are ready, and production may continue even after the first episode airs.
- Broadcasting/On Air: Once the show is aired, and new episodes are released in accordance with the predefined schedule agreed upon with the broadcasters and OTT platforms.
- Invoicing and Receipts: Invoices are generated after each episode is broadcast, and payment is typically received within an average period of 75 to 90 days. Any remaining balances are settled upon the airing of the final episode.

Considering such time and duration from initial stage to closure of a single project, the working capital is required at all such stages.

For the FY 2023-24, following shows produced by us are on air and generating revenue. The reference of these shows is given on Page 145 & 147 of Draft Red Herring Prospectus.

Project Name	Series	Platform	Status

The reference of these projects is given on page 147 of Draft Red Herring Prospectus.

It should be noted that the company's work in progress and receivables have increased from FY 2022-23 on to 2023-24 and 2024-25. The reason for such an increase is increasing the number of shows and developing the content for new shows which includes developing scripts, acquiring rights, signing key talents & artists and completing pre-production work on new projects under development.

We have projected the working capital requirement for the upcoming fiscal years as follows: Rs. 2,051.88 lakhs for 2023-24 and Rs. 2,078.31 lakhs for 2024-25. These requirements will be met through a combination of Internal Sources and IPO Proceeds.

For the fiscal year 2023-24, Rs. 700.00* lakhs will be sourced from Net Proceeds, while the remaining balance will be covered through internal accruals, amounting to Rs. 1,351.88 lakhs. In the fiscal year 2024-25, Rs. 598.00* lakhs will be drawn from Net Proceeds, with the remaining balance of Rs. 1,480.31 lakhs covered through internal accruals.

Key Assumptions and Justification for holding levels:

Particulars	2020-21	2021-22	2022-23	2023-24	2024-25
No. of Days for Trade Payables	163	97	105	110	110
No. of Days for Trade Receivables	146	101	129	120	115
No. of Days for Work In progress	284	111	127	125	115

Trade Payables	The payable days for the company during the fiscal years 2022 and 2023 were 97 days and 105 days, respectively. Looking ahead, the company anticipates that payable days will increase to 110 days for both the fiscal years 2024 and 2025. This projection is based on the company's expectation that its creditors will extend credit for an average period of 3-4 months due to the company's expansion and consistent engagement of services from these vendors.
Trade Receivables	The receivable days during the fiscal years 2022 and 2023 were 101 and 129, respectively. Looking ahead to the fiscal years 2024 and 2025, the projected receivable days are 120 and 115. This estimation is based on the industry standards, as the company anticipates that its vendors will follow a similar timeline of approximately 4 months for repaying the company after the delivery of its products.
Work In progress	The work in capital days during the fiscal years 2022 and 2023 were 111 and 127, respectively. Looking ahead to the fiscal years 2024 and 2025, the projected Work in progress days are 125 and 115. This estimation is based on the company expectations, as the company anticipates that its ongoing efforts to optimize operational efficiency and refine production workflows will result in a more streamlined content creation process. By doing so, the company aims to reduce the time it takes to move content from inception to completion. Additionally, market insights and audience feedback play a crucial role in shaping these projections, ensuring that the content produced remains both timely and of high quality, aligning with viewer preferences and industry trends.

GLOBAL OUTLOOK

The global recovery from the COVID-19 pandemic and Russia’s invasion of Ukraine is slowing amid widening divergences among economic sectors and regions. The World Health Organization (WHO) announced in May that it no longer considers COVID-19 to be a “global health emergency.” Supply chains have largely recovered, and shipping costs and suppliers’ delivery times are back to pre-pandemic levels. But forces that hindered growth in 2022 persist. Inflation remains high and continues to erode household purchasing power. Policy tightening by central banks in response to inflation has raised the cost of borrowing, constraining economic activity. Immediate concerns about the health of the banking sector have subsided, but high interest rates are filtering through the financial system, and banks in advanced economies have significantly tightened lending standards, curtailing the supply of credit. The impact of higher interest rates extends to public finances, especially in poorer countries grappling with elevated debt costs, constraining room for priority investments. As a result, output losses compared with pre-pandemic forecasts remain large, especially for the world’s poorest nations.

Despite these headwinds, global economic activity was resilient in the first quarter of 2023, with that resilience driven mainly by the services sector. The post-pandemic rotation of consumption back toward services is approaching completion in advanced economies and it accelerated in a number of emerging market and developing economies in the first quarter. However, as mobility returns to pre-pandemic levels, the scope for further acceleration appears more limited.

At the same time, the nonservices sectors, including manufacturing, have shown weakness, and high-frequency indicators for the second quarter point to a broader slowdown in activity. Amid softening consumption of goods, heightened uncertainties regarding the future geoeconomic landscape, weak productivity growth, and a more challenging financial environment, firms have scaled back investment in productive capacity. Gross fixed capital formation and industrial production have slowed sharply or contracted in major advanced economies, dragging international trade and manufacturing in emerging markets with them. International trade and indicators of demand and production in manufacturing all point to further weakness. Excess savings built up during the pandemic are declining in advanced economies, especially in the United States, implying a slimmer buffer to protect against shocks, including those to the cost of living and those from more restricted credit availability.

Economy list uses International Organization for Standardization (ISO) country codes. AEs = advanced economies; EMDEs = emerging market and developing economies.

The fight against inflation continues. Inflation is easing in most countries but remains high, with divergences across economies and inflation measures. Following the buildup of gas inventories in Europe and weaker-than-expected demand in China, energy and food prices have dropped substantially from their 2022 peaks, although food prices remain elevated. Together with the normalization of supply chains, these developments have contributed to a rapid decline in headline inflation in most countries. Core inflation, however, has on average declined more gradually and remains well above most central banks' targets. Its persistence reflects, depending on the particular economy considered, pass-through of past shocks to headline inflation into core inflation, corporate profits remaining high, and tight labor markets with strong wage growth, especially in the context of weak productivity growth that lifts unit labor costs. However, to date, wage-price spirals—wherein prices and wages accelerate together for a sustained period—do not appear to have taken hold in the average advanced economy, and longer-term inflation expectations remain anchored. In response to the persistence of core inflation, major central banks have communicated that they will need to tighten monetary policy further. The Federal Reserve paused rate hikes at its June meeting but signaled further ones ahead, and the Reserve Bank of Australia, Bank of Canada, Bank of England, and European Central Bank have continued to raise rates. At the same time, in some other economies, particularly in East Asia, where mobility curbs during the pandemic restricted demand for services longer than elsewhere, core inflation has remained low. In China, where inflation is well below target, the central bank recently cut policy interest rates. The Bank of Japan has kept interest rates near zero under the quantitative and qualitative monetary easing with yield curve control policy.

Acute stress in the banking sector has receded, but credit availability is tight. Thanks to the authorities' swift reaction, the March 2023 banking scare remained contained and limited to problematic regional banks in the United States and Credit Suisse in Switzerland. Accordingly, since the April 2023 WEO, global financial conditions have eased (Box 1), a sign that financial markets may have become less concerned about risks to financial stability coming from the banking sector. But tight monetary policy continues to put some banks under pressure, both directly (through higher costs of funding) and indirectly (by increasing credit risk). Bank lending surveys in the United States and Europe suggest that banks restricted access to credit considerably in the first quarter of 2023, and they are expected to continue to do so in coming months. Corporate loans have been declining lately, as has commercial real estate lending.

Following a reopening boost, China's recovery is losing steam. Manufacturing activity and consumption of services in China rebounded at the beginning of the year when Chinese authorities abandoned their strict lockdown policies; net exports contributed strongly to sequential growth in February and March as supply chains normalized and firms swiftly put backlogs of orders into production. Nonetheless, continued weakness in the real estate sector is weighing on investment, foreign demand remains weak, and rising and elevated youth unemployment (at 20.8 percent in May 2023) indicates labor market weakness. High-frequency data through June confirm a softening in momentum into the second quarter of 2023.

Growth Slowing, with Shifting Composition

Global growth is projected to fall from 3.5 percent in 2022 to 3.0 percent in both 2023 and 2024 on an annual average basis (Table 1). Compared with projections in the April 2023 WEO, growth has been upgraded by 0.2 percentage point for 2023, with no change for 2024. The forecast for 2023–24 remains well below the historical (2000–19) annual average of 3.8 percent. It is also below the historical average across broad income groups, in overall GDP as well as per capita GDP terms. Advanced economies continue to drive the decline in growth from 2022 to 2023, with weaker manufacturing, as well as idiosyncratic factors, offsetting stronger services activity. In emerging markets and developing economies, the growth outlook is broadly stable for 2023 and 2024, although with notable shifts across regions. On a year-over-year basis, global growth bottomed out in the fourth quarter of 2022. However, in some major economies, it is not expected to bottom out before the second half of 2023.

World trade growth is expected to decline from 5.2 percent in 2022 to 2.0 percent in 2023, before rising to 3.7 percent in 2024, well below the 2000–19 average of 4.9 percent. The decline in 2023 reflects not only the path of global demand, but also shifts in its composition toward domestic services, lagged effects of US dollar appreciation—which slows trade owing to the widespread invoicing of products in US dollars—and rising trade barriers.

7/ Simple average of prices of UK Brent, Dubai Fateh, and West Texas Intermediate crude oil. The average assumed price of oil in US dollars a barrel, based on futures markets (as of June 1, 2023), is $76.43 in 2023 and $71.68 in 2024.

8/ Excludes Venezuela.

9/ The inflation rate for the euro area is 5.2% in 2023 and 2.8% in 2024, that for Japan is 3.4% in 2023 and 2.7% in 2024, and that for the United States is 4.4% in 2023 and 2.8% in 2024.

These forecasts are based on a number of assumptions, including those regarding fuel and nonfuel commodity prices and interest rates. Oil prices rose by 39 percent in 2022 and are projected to fall by about 21 percent in 2023, reflecting the slowdown in global economic activity. Assumptions regarding global interest rates have been revised upward, reflecting actual and signaled policy tightening by major central banks since April. The Federal Reserve and Bank of England are now expected to raise rates by more than assumed in the April 2023 WEO—to a peak of about 5.6 percent in the case of the Federal Reserve—before reducing them in 2024. The European Central Bank is assumed to raise its policy rate to a peak of 3¾ percent in 2023 and to ease gradually in 2024. Moreover, with near-term inflation expectations falling, real interest rates are likely to stay up even after nominal rates start to fall.

For advanced economies, the growth slowdown projected for 2023 remains significant: from 2.7 percent in 2022 to 1.5 percent in 2023, with a 0.2 percentage point upward revision from the April 2023 WEO. About 93 percent of advanced economies are projected to have lower growth in 2023, and growth in 2024 among this group of economies is projected to remain at 1.4 percent.

1. In the United States, growth is projected to slow from 2.1 percent in 2022 to 1.8 percent in 2023, then slow further to 1.0 percent in 2024. For 2023, the forecast has been revised upward by 0.2 percentage point, on account of resilient consumption growth in the first quarter, a reflection of a still-tight labor market that has supported gains in real income and a rebound in vehicle purchases. However, this consumption growth momentum is not expected to last: Consumers have largely depleted excess savings accumulated during the pandemic, and the Federal Reserve is expected to raise rates further.
2. Growth in the euro area is projected to fall from 3.5 percent in 2022 to 0.9 percent in 2023, before rising to 1.5 percent in 2024. The forecast is broadly unchanged, but with a change in composition for 2023. Given stronger services and tourism, growth has been revised upward by 0.4 percentage point for Italy and by 1.0 percentage point for Spain. However, for Germany, weakness in manufacturing output and economic contraction in the first quarter of 2023 means that growth has been revised downward by 0.2 percentage point, to -0.3 percent.
3. Growth in the United Kingdom is projected to decline from 4.1 percent in 2022 to 0.4 percent in 2023, then to rise to 1.0 percent in 2024. This is an upward revision of 0.7 percentage point for 2023, reflecting stronger-than-expected consumption and investment from the confidence effects of falling energy prices, lower post-Brexit uncertainty (following the Windsor Framework agreement), and a resilient financial sector as the March global banking stress dissipates.
4. Growth in Japan is projected to rise from 1.0 percent in 2022 to 1.4 percent in 2023, reflecting a modest upward revision, buoyed by pent-up demand and accommodative policies, then slow to 1.0 percent in 2024, as the effects of past stimuli dissipate.

For emerging markets and developing economies, growth is projected to be broadly stable at 4.0 percent in 2023 and 4.1 percent 2024, with modest revisions of 0.1 percentage point for 2023 and -0.1 percentage point for 2024. However, this stable average masks divergences, with about 61 percent of the economies in this group growing faster in 2023 and the rest—including low-income countries and three of the five geographic regions described in what follows—growing more slowly.

Core Inflation Declining More Gradually Than Headline Inflation

Global headline inflation is set to fall from an annual average of 8.7 percent in 2022 to 6.8 percent in 2023 and 5.2 percent in 2024, broadly as projected in April, but above pre-pandemic (2017–19) levels of about 3.5 percent. About three-quarters of the world’s economies are expected to see lower annual average headline inflation in 2023. Monetary policy tightening is expected to gradually dampen inflation, but a central driver of the disinflation projected for 2023 is declining international commodity prices. Differences in the pace of disinflation across countries reflect such factors as different exposures to movements in commodity prices and currencies and different degrees of economic overheating. The forecast for 2023 is revised down by 0.2 percentage point, largely on account of subdued inflation in China. The forecast for 2024 has been revised upward by 0.3 percentage point, with the upgrade reflecting higher-than-expected core inflation.

Core inflation is generally declining more gradually. Globally, it is set to decline from an annual average of 6.5 percent in 2022 to 6.0 percent in 2023 and 4.7 percent in 2024. It is proving more persistent than projected, mainly for advanced economies, for which forecasts have been revised upward by 0.3 percentage point for 2023 and by 0.4 percentage point for 2024 compared with the April 2023 WEO. Global core inflation is revised down by 0.2 percentage point in 2023, reflecting lower-than-expected core inflation in China, and up by 0.4 percentage point in 2024. On an annual average basis, about half of economies are expected to see no decline in core inflation in 2023, although on a fourth-quarter-over-fourth-quarter basis, about 88 percent of economies for which quarterly data are available are projected to see a decline. Overall, inflation is projected to remain above target in 2023 in 96 percent of economies with inflation targets and in 89 percent of those economies in 2024.

Risks to the Outlook

The balance of risks to global growth remains tilted downward, but adverse risks have receded since the publication of the April 2023 WEO. The resolution of US debt ceiling tensions has reduced the risk of disruptive rises in interest rates for sovereign debt, which would have increased pressure on countries already struggling with increased borrowing costs. The quick and strong action authorities took to contain banking sector turbulence in the United States and Switzerland succeeded in reducing the risk of an immediate and broader crisis.

Upside risks. More favorable outcomes for global growth than in the baseline forecast have become increasingly plausible. Core inflation could fall faster than expected—from greater-than-expected pass-through of lower energy prices and a compression of profit margins to absorb cost increases, among other possible causes—and declining job vacancies could play a strong role in easing labor markets, which would reduce the likelihood of unemployment having to rise to curb inflation. Developments along these lines would then reduce the need for monetary policy tightening and allow a softer landing. Scope exists for more favorable surprises to domestic demand around the world, as in the first quarter of 2023. In numerous economies, consumers have not yet drained the stock of excess savings they accumulated during the pandemic; this could further sustain the recent strength in consumption. Stronger policy support in China than currently envisaged—particularly through means-tested transfers to households—could further sustain recovery and generate positive global spillovers. Such developments, however, would increase inflation pressure and necessitate a tighter monetary policy stance.

Downside risks. Despite the recent positive growth surprises, plausible risks continue to be skewed to the downside:

- Inflation persists: Tight labor markets and pass-through from past exchange rate depreciation could push up inflation and risk de-anchoring longer-term inflation expectations in a number of economies. The institutional setup of wage setting in some countries could amplify inflation pressures on wages. Moreover, El Niño could bring more extreme temperature increases than expected, exacerbate drought conditions, and raise commodity prices. The war in Ukraine could intensify, further raising food, fuel, and fertilizer prices. The recent suspension of the Black Sea Grain Initiative is a concern in this regard. Such adverse supply shocks might affect countries asymmetrically, implying different dynamics for core inflation and inflation expectations, a divergence in policy responses, and further currency movements.
- Financial markets reprice: Financial markets have adjusted their expectations of monetary policy tightening upward since April but still expect less tightening than policymakers have signaled, raising the risk that unfavorable inflation data releases could—as in the first quarter of 2023—trigger a sudden rise in expectations regarding interest rates and falling asset prices. Such movements could further tighten financial conditions and put stress on banks and nonbank financial institutions whose balance sheets remain vulnerable to interest rate risk, especially those highly exposed to commercial real estate. Contagion effects are possible, and a flight to safety, with an attendant appreciation of reserve currencies, would trigger negative ripple effects for global trade and growth.
- China’s recovery underperforms: Recent developments shift to the downside the distribution of risks surrounding China’s growth forecast, with negative potential implications for trading partners in the region and beyond. The principal risks include a deeper-than-expected contraction in the real estate sector in the absence of swift action to restructure property developers, weaker-than-expected consumption in the context of subdued confidence, and unintended fiscal tightening in response to lower tax revenues for local governments.
- Debt distress increases: Global financial conditions have generally eased since the March 2023 episode of banking stress (Box 1), but borrowing costs for emerging market and developing economies remain high, constraining room for priority spending and raising the risk of debt distress. The share of emerging market and developing economies with sovereign credit spreads above 1,000 basis points remained at 25 percent as of June (compared with only 6.8 percent two years ago).
- Geoeconomic fragmentation deepens: The ongoing risk that the world economy will separate into blocs amid the war in Ukraine and other geopolitical tensions could intensify, with more restrictions on trade (in particular that in strategic goods, such as critical minerals); cross-border movements of capital, technology, and workers; and international payments. Such developments could contribute to additional volatility in commodity prices and hamper multilateral cooperation on providing global public goods.

INDIAN ECONOMY OVERVIEW

India’s GDP Growth in FY23

The provisional GDP estimates for FY23 released in May were higher than the consensus estimate. A strong final quarter performance pushed the GDP growth for the full year to 7.2 per cent, higher than the 7 per cent estimated in February. This upside to the growth estimate takes the growth momentum deep into the current year. Several forecasting agencies also share optimism as they revise their growth estimates for FY24 upwards. The latest evidence also does not indicate any slowing of activity in the first two months of the current year. India is the fastest-growing major economy, is now no longer only a statistical fact. The country’s impressive growth experience in FY23, when the world economy was rocked by inflation and restrained by monetary tightening, is a narrative on what works or does not work for the Indian economy.

Resilient growth path amidst rising global uncertainties.

- 1) The global economy was on the path of recovery after the waning of the COVID-19 pandemic until the Russia-Ukraine conflict broke out in February 2022. The conflict led to disruption in global supply chains, financial tightening, and a spike in the prices of critical commodities. The impact of these disruptions was witnessed in multiple leading indicators of global economic activity, such as global composite PMI entering the contractionary zone, capital outflow from most of the EMEs to traditionally safe havens, currency depreciation, and widening of current account deficit (CAD), among others. The global GDP projections for 2022 were revised downwards by the IMF. Though inflationary pressures have begun to ease, the impact of monetary tightening is slowing economic activity, especially in the advanced 7 economies. In its latest April update on World Economic Outlook (WEO), the IMF forecasted global growth to fall from 3.4 per cent in 2022 to 2.8 per cent in 2023, then rebound to 3 per cent in 2024.

- 2) Amidst these global spillovers, India’s economy has sustained its growth momentum in FY23 on account of its strong macroeconomic fundamentals and the prompt policy action by the Government and the RBI. India’s real GDP expanded by 7.2 per cent in FY23, the highest among major economies. The latest estimate of real GDP turned out to be higher than the second advance estimate released in February 2023. The higher annual growth was driven mainly by better-than-expected growth in the fourth quarter of the fiscal year.

The performance of India's real GDP in Q4 of FY23 stood out compared to other countries. The year on-year (YoY) growth in real GDP in Q4 of FY23 is estimated at 6.1 per cent, compared to 4 per cent growth in Q4 of FY22 and 4.5 per cent growth in Q3 of FY23. On a sequential basis, the growth in Q4 of FY23 at 8.4 per cent is higher compared to 3.7 per cent in the previous quarter, reflecting the sustenance of growth momentum in Q4.

- The performance of GDP growth in Q4 of FY23 was broad-based and addressed all concerns about the recovery of consumption and investment demand to the pre-pandemic growth trajectory. Enabled by the release of pent-up demand, real Private Final Consumption Expenditure (PFCE) has surpassed the pre-pandemic trend trajectory. Similarly, a large stepup in public sector capex over the last three years and a favourable credit situation in the country have contributed to real Gross Fixed Capital Formation (GFCF), also surpassing the pre-pandemic trend trajectory.

- 4) However, the faster growth in post-pandemic economic activity in the Indian economy and high import prices have kept the import demand elevated. As a result, the negative net exports in real terms have shown a sharp post-pandemic downward trend trajectory as compared to a slightly upward pre-pandemic trend trajectory. This has prevented the post-pandemic real GDP trend line from crossing the pre-pandemic trend trajectory, although it is very near to doing so. Given the decline in prices of India’s import basket and a sustained surge in service exports, the net exports gap is expected to become smaller sooner than earlier expected. This will enable real GDP to surpass its pre-pandemic trend trajectory in the near future.

On an annual basis, private consumption (PFCE) as a proportion of GDP (at Constant Prices) for FY23 reached the highest in 17 years, and the gross fixed capital formation (GFCF) (at Constant Prices) recorded the highest proportion of GDP in 10 years. However, the quarterly data shows a moderation in the share of private consumption in GDP for Q4 of FY23. Its share in GDP declined from 61.6 per cent in Q3 of FY23 to 55 per cent in Q4 of FY23, partly because capital formation growth spurted in the fourth quarter.

Gross Fixed Capital Formation (GFCF) has been a major growth driver in Q4 of FY23, with its share in GDP at a 10-year high of 35.3 per cent. This has been propelled by the crowding-in of private sector investment by a significant ramp-up in public sector investment over the years. The share of total exports in GDP moderated to 22.8 per cent in Q4 of FY23, compared to 24.4 per cent in Q1 of FY23, as synchronised monetary tightening by major economies led to a decline in consumer spending in advanced nations and moderation in international trade.

On its own, privation consumption is showing strong enough growth, as evidenced by several high-frequency indicators. Some of these HFIs include personal loan growth, which continues to be impressive, notwithstanding the environment of higher interest rates. Increased spending by credit cards in Q4 of FY23 can be attributed to a surge in e-commerce and point-of-sale transactions. The outlook for consumption growth remains positive, with the Current Situation Index and Future Expectations Index of the RBI undergoing substantial improvement.

Rise and Fall of Inflation in India

1. The year 2022 will be remembered for the high inflation afflicting most of the economies, advanced as well as emerging markets, soon after the relenting pandemic had allowed growth to resume. A localised geopolitical conflict assumed the proportions of a mighty global headwind disrupting supply chains the world over, causing an indiscriminate spike in commodity prices. And as a result, inflation soared to decadal highs and, for some nations, higher than the levels attained in the new millennium. Efforts to rein in inflation immediately commenced with the national governments implementing specific supply-side measures while their central banks undertook monetary tightening to restrain demand. These efforts have started to bear fruits. With the softening of commodity prices, the headline inflation weakened in most of the economies in the early months of 2023. Encouraged by this development, the IMF, in its April update of the World Economic Outlook, projected global inflation to decline in 2023. Core inflation, however, is still persistent as some input costs remain high owing to local reasons, while those that have declined have more ground to cover.

2. The inflation narrative in India is broadly similar. In the first half of FY23, it reflected high imported inflation. Subsequently, the easing of global supply chains, specific government interventions, and monetary tightening have led to softening of headline inflation in the second half. A few domestic factors, like unseasonal rainfall, continue to keep upward pressure on the prices of some vegetables, such as tomatoes. However, these are more than counterbalanced by declining inflation in other food items leading to a moderation in food inflation in the second half of FY23. CPI-Core inflation remained downward sticky before it started to decline from March 2023.

CPI-Core inflation in India hovered around 6 per cent from May 2022 to February 2023 before declining to a 23-month low of 5.7 per cent in March 2023. This was driven by a decline in the ‘transport and communication’ component of miscellaneous inflation and the pass-through of rapidly declining inputs costs associated with the drastic fall of wholesale inflation. Wholesale price inflation started declining in June 2022 and kept falling steeply enough to a low of 1.3 per cent in March 2023. The decline has been very prominent since October 2022, with inflation in manufactured products shrinking steadily and fuel & power inflation also declining at a much faster pace. Even as core-inflation somewhat relented, food inflation also started to come down significantly from the third quarter of FY23. A perceptible decline in food inflation overbore the sticky core inflation and brought about a 100 basis points (bps) decline in headline inflation in Q4 of FY23 compared to Q1.

Government interventions to control inflation post Russia-Ukraine conflict.

- Fuel: Excise duty on diesel and petrol was cut in May 2022 to bring down their retail prices. Additionally, over 90 million beneficiaries of the Pradhan Mantri Ujjwala Yojana were covered by a subsidy of Rs 200 per LPG cylinder for up to 12 refills in a year. The price for a commercial LPG cylinder was also reduced with effect from 1st June 2022.
- Rice: With effect from 9th September 2022, an export duty of 20 per cent was imposed on rice, brown rice, and semi-milled as well as wholly milled rice, except parboiled rice.
- Onion: A buffer stock of 2.5 lakh metric tonnes of onion was built in FY23 for calibrated release during the lean season. This helped to keep a check on onion prices, with onion inflation remaining in the negative range throughout FY23.
- Oilseeds: Custom duty and Agriculture Infrastructure and Development Cess (AIDC) were exempted on yearly import of 20 lakh metric tonnes in respect of crude soya bean and sunflower oil. Stock limits on all edible oils and oilseeds were imposed to prevent hoarding. Leading Edible Oil Associations were directed to ensure a reduction in the maximum retail price of edible oils to pass on the benefits of a fall in global edible oil prices to consumers. Owing to these measures, inflation in oils & fats declined from 8.6 per cent in H1:FY23 to (-)1.6 per cent in H2:FY23.
- Pulses: A buffer stock of pulses has been maintained for price stabilisation, and its calibrated release in the market helped restrain its inflation rate to 5.3 per cent in FY23. Also, measures like provisions to procure chana by States at discounted prices, the import of tur and urad under the free category, and zero per cent AIDC on masur contributed to keeping pulses price under control.
- Wheat: The lower production of wheat in FY22 led to reduced availability in the market, which resulted in its double-digit inflation since June 2022. To check the inflationary trend, the government decided to sell wheat in the open market. About 34 lakh MT of wheat was sold in the open market between February and March 2023. As a result, retail inflation in wheat slowed down from a peak of 25.4 per cent in February 2023 to 15.5 per cent in April 2023.

Strong Services sector performance

The growth in the services sector also remained strong in FY23, largely driven by the contact-intensive services sectors. This sector completely recovered to the pre-pandemic level in FY23, driven by the removal of mobility restrictions, the release of pent-up demand, and near-universal vaccination coverage. PMI Services remained in the expansionary zone throughout the year, supported by improvement in new business intakes, increased orders placed, and flagged price pressures of inputs and raw materials post-October 2022. Trade, Hotels, Transport, Communication and Services related to Broadcasting and Financial Real Estate & Professional Services are major drivers of the growth in this sector.

The Hotel Industry began a strong recovery in FY23, with the hotel occupancy rate surpassing the average pre-pandemic level of FY20 in Q4, accompanied by a rise in Average Daily Rate (ADR) and Revenue per Available Room (RPAR). The growth in the hospitality sector was driven by domestic leisure travel growth, the resumption of business travel in the country, as well as wedding and social events. Small-to-medium-sized domestic MICE (Meetings, Incentives, Conference, Exhibitions) events also made a comeback, fuelling demand for hotels. The tourism sector also showed signs of revival, with Foreign Tourist Arrivals (FTA) in India close to the average pre-pandemic level in Q4 of FY23, supported by the resumption of scheduled international flights. With the removal of pandemic-related restrictions, a surge in corporate travel and a rebound in MICE tourism and Bleisure1 travel, domestic air passenger traffic surpassed the pre-pandemic level in Q4 of FY23.

Monetary Policy Tightening

In FY23, the RBI kept up the pressure on monetary tightening, whose transmission was first seen in the lending rates. However, as the lower rate in most savings avenues amidst the low-interest rate regime from 2020 to H1:2022 incentivised individuals to move their financial savings into stock markets, banks faced competitive pressures and were forced to raise deposit rates. The increase in deposit rates thus went past the increase in lending rates from December 2022, about seven months after the initial increase in the repo rate. A simultaneous increase in the lending and deposit rates makes the monetary policy doubly effective. On the one hand, it restrains growth in spending by increasing the lending rate, and on the other, it curtails spending by attracting savings induced by an increase in the deposit rates.

Various monetary policy measures were undertaken by RBI to contain inflation post the Russia-Ukraine conflict. Between May 2022 and February 2023, RBI hiked the repo rate six times, taking the policy rate from 4 per cent in April 2022 to 6.5 per cent in February 2023. RBI also introduced Standing Deposit Facility in April 2022 at 25 basis points (bps) below the repo rate as the new floor of the liquidity adjustment facility (LAF) corridor, thereby allowing effective liquidity management in a collateral-free manner. The width of the corridor was thus restored to its pre-pandemic configuration of 50 bps. In May 2022, the RBI also increased the cash reserve ratio (CRR) by 50 bps to 4.5 per cent, withdrawing excess liquidity from the banking system. Acknowledging the same, in June 2022 meeting, Monetary Policy Committee (MPC) dropped the word “accommodative” from the forward guidance, signalling the start of the monetary tightening cycle.

Lending and deposit rates of Scheduled Commercial Banks (SCBs) have increased in consonance with policy rate changes, reflecting moderation in surplus liquidity in the banking system and improved transmission of the monetary policy. During FY23, the Weighted Average Domestic Term Deposit Rate (WADTDR) of SCBs on Outstanding Rupee Term Deposits increased by 113 bps compared to a 100 bps rise in Weighted Average Lending Rate (WALR) on Outstanding Rupee Loans. This means that for every percentage increase in repo rate, deposit rates have increased by 45 bps, more than the 40 bps increase in lending rates. Until December 2022, the transmission of a hike in the policy rate to lending rates exceeded the transmission to deposit rates. Post that, the trajectory changed, and deposit rates started increasing at a faster pace.

Unpredictable Impact of FPI on Monetary Policy

The movement of FPI in India’s equity and debt markets has been volatile. The volatility had much to do with the increase in Fed rates. With an increase in Fed rates, FPI flows out, squeezing rupee liquidity in the economy, which in turn reinforces monetary tightening. When Fed pauses the increase in rates, FPI flows back, increasing rupee liquidity, thereby easing monetary tightening. The calibrated increase in the repo rates by RBI, however, absorbed the tightening impact of outflowing FPI on rupee liquidity. Expectedly, the increase in the repo rate by RBI since the outbreak of the pandemic is less than the repo rate hikes of the US Fed, as also the average hike for the advanced economies. It is even lesser than the average hike of emerging market economies, which indicates that India was able to better handle the impact of FPI outflows this time.

India’s Resilient External Sector

Global merchandise trade in 2021 grew 9.4 per cent on the back of global growth of 5.9 per cent as the world economy recovered from the pandemic shock of 2020. The year 2022 was expected to take this process forward, but the fledgling growth recovery was thwarted by the outbreak of the Russian-Ukraine war. The war disrupted the global supply chains and sharply drove up commodity prices to stoke inflation. Growth suffered, and so did trade and even more so when central banks undertook significant monetary tightening to rein in inflation. Considering these developments, the WTO, in October 2022, projected a global trade volume growth of 3.5 per cent for the year 2022. The latest data, however, shows that trade volumes grew even slower at 2.7 per cent. The lower-than-expected growth was on account of a slump in trade following global demand showing the first signs of tepidness in the quarter ending December 2022. In this quarter, monetary tightening began to depress demand and is likely to continue doing so in subsequent quarters as further hikes in the policy rates are expected to bring down still high global inflation. Consequently, the growth in trade volumes may be even slower in 2023 and is projected at 1.7 per cent by the WTO.

Outlook for the external sector

1. The impending downside risks to India’s exports include the European Union’s introduction of the Carbon Border Adjustment Mechanism (CBAM), for which reporting of carbon content in exports to the EU would be required beginning 1st October 2023; continued uncertainty about the Russia-Ukraine conflict; and polarisation risks arising out of the prevailing geopolitical situation reflected in the possible adoption of trade-restrictive measures. Further, foreign direct investment flows may also be impacted by political distance more than geographical distance, as IMF research points out.

2. Counterbalancing the downside risk is the easing of supply chain disruptions, as seen in the upward trend in globalised container trade monitored by the Kiel Trade Indicator. Further, moderating inflation across countries is expected to provide some room for policymakers to halt their monetary policy tightening or slow the pace and magnitude of tightening.
3. Trade agreements presently under negotiation with the advanced economies, the new foreign trade policy, the digital revolution in payments and trade facilitation, trade promotion activities, improved trade credit, and the promotion of districts as export hubs are expected to increase the global market share of India's exports.
4. Prices of commodities, particularly those of energy commodities, are expected to remain at their relatively lower levels in the remaining months of 2023. This will aid in keeping India's merchandise trade deficit narrow. While the effects of an exacerbation of recessionary tendencies on services trade and remittance growth are yet to be seen, their levels are expected to hold broadly steady. In this context, India's current account deficit is expected to remain narrow through FY24.

Fiscal policy is closely aligned to delivering macroeconomic stability in an environment of geopolitical uncertainty.

Fiscal policy across economies has undergone major swings in the recent past, with the governments addressing the growth and price outcomes of the pandemic and geopolitical shocks. The pandemic, in general, had caused the fiscal deficits to expand as governments, attempting to recover the lost output, reinforced the spending power in the economy to give growth a demand push. As the pandemic waned in 2021 enabling the recovery of the global economy, governments, particularly those constrained for fiscal room, took steps towards fiscal consolidation. The consolidation efforts, however paused no sooner than they had started as the new challenge of price spirals following the outbreak of the Russian-Ukraine conflict necessitated additional spending on welfare measures and cuts in the tax rates. These measures constricted the fiscal room even further than caused by the pandemic as several economies were yet to fully complete the recovery process, further challenged by monetary tightening undertaken by central banks to rein in inflationary pressures.

Increased revenue expenditure to cushion impact on vulnerable sections arising from external exogenous shocks.

On the expenditure side, geopolitical shocks stretched the revenue expenditure requirements of the government in FY23, mainly led by the jump in the subsidy expenditure as international prices of food, fertilisers and fuel shot up. However, as supply chain disruptions are expected to ease, the government has budgeted lower subsidy expenditure for FY24.

The total subsidy expenditure shot up to 15.4 per cent of revenue expenditure in FY23, higher than 13.9 per cent registered in the previous year. However, as per budget estimates, subsidy expenditure is projected to decline to 10.7 per cent in FY24 on the back of an expected decline in the international prices of food, fertilisers and fuel.

The Central Government also continued to incentivise states for complementary policy actions to spur investment in infrastructure. The grants for capital works and 50-year interest-free capex loans were made available to the state governments in FY23. The focus of the government on capex also pushed its departmental arms and Central Public Sector Enterprises to accelerate their capital expenditure. CPSEs were able to achieve more than 100 per cent of their full-year revised target of Rs 6.5 lakh crore for capex in FY23.

To incentivise states to increase capex, the union government has provided 50-year interest-free loans to state governments under the 'Scheme for Special Assistance to States for Capital Investment'. During the year FY24, the allocation under the Scheme has been raised to ₹1.3 lakh crore to give further impetus to State Capex plans. This amount includes an unconditional component and smaller components linked to specific reforms/initiatives.

GLOBAL ENTERTAINMENT & MEDIA SECTOR OUTLOOK

For the entertainment and media industries, 2022 marked an important inflection point. Total global entertainment and media (E&M) revenue rose 5.4% in 2022, to US$2.32 trillion. That represents a sharp deceleration from the 10.6% growth rate in 2021, when economies and industries globally were starting to rebound from the upheaval caused by the covid-19 pandemic. And in each of the next five years, the rate of growth will decline sequentially, so that by 2027 revenue will grow just 2.8% from 2026. That’s slower than the 3.1% rate of overall economic growth that the International Monetary Fund (IMF) projects for that year.

The slowdown, caused in large measure by sluggish consumer spending, is pushing companies to reset expectations, refocus inward and seek ways to recharge growth. They’re doing so by tapping into the many geographical and sectoral hotspots that offer opportunities and by harnessing emerging technology—in particular, by exploring the power of generative AI as an engine of productivity for the creative process.

The causes of the slowdown are many. For some key sectors, the surge in revenue and attention that they experienced early in the pandemic ran out of steam. The creation of podcasts, which was among the industry’s major success stories during the pandemic, fell by an estimated 80% between 2020 and 2022.

But the main challenge—in 2022 and in the future—is consumer spending. Taxed by inflation, weary from the lingering effects of the pandemic, and facing the uncertainties of war and geopolitical instability, consumers are pulling back. Consumer spending historically has been the largest of the three broad categories the Outlook tracks. But consumer spending on E&M will grow at just a 2.4% CAGR between 2022 and 2027, when it will total US$903.2 billion.

As e-commerce and time spent on digital platforms grow, companies around the world will be spending significantly more in an effort to reach consumers at the point of purchase and at the point of decision. In 2025, advertising will surpass consumer spending as the largest category; internet ad spending, which grew 8.1% in 2022, is a powerful catalyst for growth. Between 2022 and 2027, global advertising revenue will rise from US$763.7 billion to US$952.6 billion, representing a 4.5% CAGR. This trajectory puts advertising on a path toward becoming the first of the three major E&M categories to reach US$1 trillion in annual revenue. Internet access, the third major category, will surpass consumer spending in 2026.

As E&M products become more digital and less analogue, the costs of production and distribution are declining. Meanwhile, in a world where content already abounds, competition among providers of digital content and services is increasing. These two trends have brought us to another inflection point. People may be spending more time in digital entertainment and media environments, but it won't cost them more. As a result, consumer spending per capita on E&M will decrease as a share of overall spending, falling from 0.53% of average personal income in 2023 to 0.45% in 2027.

Resetting expectations leads to retrenchment.

The declining influence of consumer spending on E&M products and services and the rising influence of advertising are among the key forces changing the imperatives for industry leaders and forcing a broad reassessment and reinvention. In PwC's 26th Annual Global CEO Survey, 40% of E&M CEOs said their current business model would not be viable in ten years. Our data suggests that a sense of urgency for incumbents is warranted.

In 2022, the double whammy of higher interest rates and a sharp decline in stock markets spurred investors—and the executives who respond to the pressure the markets exert—to ask tough questions about business models. Competition for consumers' attention, and the revenue that follows, is heightening, thanks in part to the steady stream of new entrants. In China, the dominant long-form video streaming platforms—iQIYI, Tencent Video and Youku—are facing a growing challenge from the massive popularity of short-form video content accessed on phones, which is pushing traffic to video providers such as Douyin (owned by TikTok owner ByteDance) and Kuaishou.

Around the world, although digital advertising dollars are growing, they're getting spread more thinly, as an ever-wider range of players—including e-commerce sites, video games and streaming platforms—take market share. The estimated share of total global digital advertising revenue claimed by the duopoly of Meta and Alphabet fell for the fifth consecutive year in 2022, dipping below 50% for the first time in recent memory.

In recent years, many leaders in digital companies that grew rapidly during the pandemic pursued aggressive growth strategies. Fuelled by cheap money, they focused on the potential inherent in total addressable markets, hired at will, and spent to acquire as much content and as many customers as possible. Now, amid a broad-based resetting of expectations and a refocus on profitability, margins and capital discipline, the bulls are pulling in their horns.

Meta termed 2023 ‘the year of efficiency.’ With virtually every major player shedding jobs, layoffs in the tech sector topped 168,000 in the first four months of 2023. Netflix has cracked down on password sharing by subscribers. After jumping by 45% between 2021 and 2022 to reach US$23.2 billion, aggregate content spending by the global streamers—Netflix, Apple TV+, Amazon Prime, Paramount+, Disney+ and Max—is projected to rise to US$26.5 billion in 2023, an increase of only 14%. Warner Bros. Discovery has cancelled films such as Batgirl, and it shut down CNN+ just a few weeks after its launch.

Recharging for growth

Even as they look inward for rationalization, companies must scan the horizon for growth. In every year of the Outlook’s forecast period, revenues are expected to rise. As is always the case, the increase will be distributed unevenly, with some sectors stagnating while others skyrocket. The Outlook provides a road map to the many hotspots where growth opportunities are compelling. Several are explored in detail below.

Growth hotspot: Advertising

Advertising is in the ascendancy. As noted, advertising is on track to be the first category to approach US$1 trillion. In the US, the largest traditional TV market, a key inflection point will be reached in 2023, with advertising spending surpassing revenue from cable and other subscriptions. In Australia and the UK, these two lines have already crossed.

Digital dollars

As TV advertising stagnates, digital components drive the growth of the advertising market.

Global revenue (US$ billion)

A closer look reveals which components are growing most rapidly. Over the next five years, revenue from ad-supported video on demand is set to nearly double. Indeed, the streaming industry has switched from one that promised to liberate its paying subscribers from watching advertising to one that relies on advertising as a core revenue stream. And consumers are increasingly accepting of advertising within streaming products.

Free, ad-supported streaming TV (FAST) services are digital networks of curated channels that are fully addressable, and therefore perfectly suited to targeted advertising. Pluto TV, now owned by Paramount, was one of the early movers. Device manufacturers such as Roku, Samsung and LG are tapping into the growing market for connected televisions and exploiting streaming channels as a new revenue source alongside their core business. Japanese conglomerate Rakuten operates its own platforms and offers third-party channels. The FAST audience skews younger than those of other online and pay-tv services. According to Omdia, 45% of respondents in a 2022 survey who said they used FAST services in the US were under 35.

Netflix, which eschewed advertising for its first 25 years, in 2022 launched its ad-supported tier at a lower price in certain territories, even as it ratcheted up the price of the ad-free version. In May 2023, Netflix said its ad-tier service had nearly 5 million subscribers. In the UK, free-to-air commercial broadcaster ITV launched its new ITVX streaming service in December 2022, offering viewers a choice between free access to recent and archived shows plus US box sets with advertisements, and a subscription model in which the ad-free stream is supplemented with content from StudioCanal Presents and BritBox.

Growth hotspot: Asia

OTT (over-the-top) streaming, a key driver of growth, is expanding most rapidly in emerging markets, where the combination of large, historically underserved rural populations, the spread of mobile broadband, and strong demand for local and sports content presents major opportunities. In 2022, when Indonesia switched off its analogue terrestrial broadcasting signal, it was estimated that the country had the highest consumption rate of OTT video in Southeast Asia, with nearly one in three Indonesians using streaming services and the number of hours watched growing at a 40% annual rate.

Global giants such as Netflix, Amazon Prime, Disney+ Hotstar and HBO Go compete in the Indonesian streaming market with a thriving community of local and regional players such as WeTV, GoPlay, Mola TV and Vidio. Long-term growth prospects are being boosted by the construction of a subsea cable to make high-speed broadband available across the entire archipelago nation.

Global scale and scope

The markets with the best combination of current size and expected growth are in Asia.

As the chart below shows, Indonesia is one of the three Asian countries, along with China and India, that offer the highly desirable combination of existing size and scale, and rapid expected growth in consumer spending and advertising. (The largest market throughout the forecast period will continue to be the US, where revenue will grow from US$609 billion in 2022 to US$692 billion in 2027. However, that growth represents a CAGR of only 2.6%.) In China, the second-largest E&M market, total revenue is expected to grow from US$226 billion to US$305 billion over the forecast period, an increase at a 6.1% CAGR—more than twice that of the US. China’s growth will be fuelled by a sizeable 9.1% CAGR for internet advertising revenue.

With US$13 billion in revenue, Indonesia is now the 15th largest market, already rivalling Brazil, Mexico and Spain. Overall revenue is expected to grow at a 7.7% CAGR through 2027.

The new growth engine: Technology

Entertainment and media is the ultimate human-led, tech-powered industry. For years, the discussion on technology in the industry focused on the shift from analogue to digital, and from fixed to wireless. The metaverse, last year’s hot topic, has passed through the hype cycle and is entering a new phase. Representing the unflattening of the internet, as PwC specialist Alexandra Rühl puts it, the metaverse is gaining strength not as a new social network but as a richer, more immersive digital platform for gaming, entertainment, work and commerce. The story now, and the potential for growth, lies in the convergence of existing and emerging technologies—most notably AI, and specifically generative AI. We’re all familiar with personalised recommendation algorithms on platforms such as Spotify and Netflix, and the use of AI in internet search and advertising delivery. But looking ahead, the future is arriving very quickly. Generative AI refers to the use of neural networks, advanced deep-learning models and other AI technologies to produce, or generate, novel synthetic outputs—including limericks, screenplays and memos. The new wave of generative AI was driven by an upstart. OpenAI’s ChatGPT, backed by Microsoft and launched in November 2022, brought generative AI to the masses and rocketed to 100 million users globally within two months. It was quickly joined in the market by Google’s Bard. And big tech companies like Meta, Nvidia and Baidu are helping to drive growth in the AI sector.

Scaling faster than ever before

Generative AI is seemingly tailor-made for the increasingly digital E&M industry. It can boost productivity by automating tasks and workflows, particularly for more mundane or labour-intensive routines (such as editing), giving people more time to spend on higher-value activities. Use cases include automated generation of many types of content, virtual production with cloud support, and intelligent chatbots acting as frontline customer service representatives for consumer-facing businesses such as cable companies. Generative AI is already enabling companies and individuals to think differently about how to create content. Experience shows that generative AI can dramatically increase the capability, speed and volume of content production—for example, by simultaneously creating scripts, voiceover, translations and images to create a video, or entire gaming worlds, at a fraction of the cost and time taken in the past. The explosion in AI-powered songwriting—the sheer scale of which has prompted action from Spotify—or the rapid emergence of AI-generated artworks further highlight the potential.

Companies are increasingly looking to harness AI in digital advertising. Recent examples include Nike's 50th anniversary 'Never Done Evolving' campaign, featuring Serena Williams playing against herself throughout her career. In India, AI is enabling brands to reach across the country's many languages and regions with generic templates that can be adapted and customised to different geographies with local messaging.

E&M will be on the front line as the usage and sophistication of generative AI grow in the years ahead. Because of the speed at which it iterates and develops, generative AI poses fundamental challenges to business models but also raises issues surrounding privacy, intellectual property, security and data privacy, environmental harm, and ethics. The high-quality text and visual outputs produced by generative AI could undermine the role and livelihood of traditional artists and writers—concerns raised by Hollywood writers, who went out on strike in the spring of 2023—or tap into original content without acknowledging sources or copyright. Generative AI outputs can also be inconsistent or inaccurate, or compromise data privacy, which highlights the importance of having a Responsible AI framework.

Deals activity dips

The past year has been a relatively subdued period for deals in entertainment and media globally. In 2021 and 2022, several special-purpose acquisition companies, which raise cash via initial public offerings and use the money to acquire private companies, brought media players such as BuzzFeed and Anghami into the public markets. That bubble has burst, and venture capital activity has shrunk as deflated public markets tank private-market valuations. Higher interest rates have also reduced companies' ability to complete leveraged transactions. One deal punctuates this dynamic: Vice, the high-flying, venture-backed multimedia start-up that was once valued at US$5.7 billion, filed for bankruptcy and was sold at a knockdown price of US$225 million in May 2023.

Contrast that with one of the larger deals of 2023: Microsoft's follow-on investment in ChatGPT developer OpenAI in January. An extension of the partnership between the companies, the deal, reported to be worth US$10 billion, underlines the importance of AI as a driver of future growth.

The need to build efficiency and scale continues to be a powerful motivator for deals. The US$43 billion Warner Bros.–Discovery merger, completed in April 2022, has been followed by a series of efforts to restructure, reposition and refocus for growth. The combined company has rebranded its core streaming offering as Max. In May 2023, Warner Bros. Discovery announced that its streaming business will reach profitability a year ahead of schedule.

Deals continue to be a means of gaining scale. In February 2023, the Competition Commission of India conditionally approved the US$10 billion merger between Zee Entertainment and Sony Pictures Entertainment, opening the way to the creation of one of India’s largest conglomerates, spanning television channels, digital platforms and content production. In Japan, the biggest entertainment and media deal of the past year was the merger of video streaming company U-Next and Premium Platform Japan, operator of OTT platform Paravi. Announced in February 2023, the deal will create a combined business with more than 3.7 million paying subscribers, representing a stronger base to compete with the global OTT giants.

There’s one megadeal still pending, which also highlights the vector of growth that gaming represents. Microsoft’s proposed US$68.7 billion acquisition of Activision Blizzard, announced in January 2022, would unite a software company and a gaming company and represent Microsoft’s play to create a metaverse using Activision Blizzard’s capabilities. At the time of writing, competition regulators in the EU have cleared the transaction, while their counterparts in the UK and the US are still blocking it; in the UK, the primary concern is the implications for the cloud gaming market, and in the US, the focus is on consoles.

Reconciling personalisation and privacy, regulation and geopolitics

As governments worldwide grapple with the implications of new and powerful technologies whose impacts are uncertain and evolving, we’ve seen efforts to contain, constrain and even ban new products and services. The efforts to regulate—and self-regulate—digital businesses and algorithms take on a greater importance as the E&M industry grows ever more reliant on digital products and services.

The tracking changes introduced by Apple in 2021, which gave users the ability to opt out of data collection by apps, had an impact on the ad revenue of major players such as Facebook. But the much-anticipated death of the cookie has been delayed once again, with Google announcing in July 2022 that its Chrome browser would continue to support third-party cookies until 2024.

In a world where tracking is more difficult, the key will be to reach people at the point of decision rather than the point of purchase. And so the race is on to find ways to offer consumers personalised and targeted advertising, messaging and content while allowing them to remain anonymous. Much of the activity has focused on setting up clean rooms: secure data-storage and processing environments where users' personally identifiable information is effectively anonymised. The result is a cookie-free way of personalising advertising while still meeting the EU's General Data Protection Regulation (GDPR) requirement that consumers' data can't be shared without their consent.

A number of other techniques to anonymise users are also being employed, especially by direct-to-consumer businesses that have access to a deep pool of first-party data. These techniques include data masking, which involves hiding or altering some data elements so they can't be reverse-engineered; data generalisation, which takes a higherlevel view of datasets; and data pseudonymisation, which replaces some elements— email addresses, say—with different identifiers.

Regulatory escalation

With GDPR continuing to influence data privacy regimes worldwide, the EU has updated its rules on digital services with the new Digital Services Act and Digital Markets Act. Both acts came into force in late 2022, aiming to foster the EU's digital sovereignty and ensure safe, fair and open digital services. Meanwhile, the US is continuing to move towards its own version of GDPR, the American Data Privacy and Protection Act. If enacted, it will be the first comprehensive federal privacy law in the US, granting consumers more control over their personal data and its commercial use. In Australia, the Government is proposing a modernisation of the country's Privacy Act, including giving people the right to opt out of targeted ads, sue for privacy breaches and have their personal data erased.

AI has quickly emerged as the next frontier for digital regulation. Italy's data protection authority imposed a temporary ban on ChatGPT in April 2023. And the EU Parliament is currently working on the AI Act, which represents the EU's first significant effort to place guard rails around the rapidly growing technology.

Geopolitics is also shaping regulatory interventions. Proposed clampdowns on TikTok have gained momentum in the US and some other Western territories, prompted by security fears over the Chinese Government having access to users' data. In May 2023, Montana became the first US state to announce an outright ban on TikTok use.

The relatively restrictive regulatory environment in China has generally been moving the other way in several respects over the past year. In March 2023, the Government appeared to soften the effective ban on Korean artists, including K-pop stars, performing in the country, saying it would once again start to accept applications for foreign commercial performances. The Government, having banned new game licences between July 2021 and April 2022, issued more than 200 licence approvals for game developers in December 2022 and January 2023, including some for market leader Tencent. Also in January 2023, the Government signalled the lifting of an effective four-year ban on Marvel movies, when it allowed Black Panther: Wakanda Forever to be launched at the box office in early February.

Conclusion: The creative imperative

As we look ahead, it's important to keep an eye on the big picture. In the coming years, there will be more inflection points beyond the continued rise of advertising and the growth of digital. A tipping point will be reached in 2025, when global 5G penetration will surpass that of 4G.

But in a period of muted top-line growth, companies have to continue to reassess and refocus if they're to avoid further retrenchment. While participants in these markets have always had to be nimble and resilient to changes, the stakes are rising. As we look ahead, evolving consumer behaviour, a shifting regulatory environment and disruptions posed by new technologies will create new tensions and open up new possibilities. Will data protection efforts put a brake on the efforts to use AI to personalise advertising? Will new virtual reality (VR) developments set the stage for rapid growth in that sector? Will highly wired smart stadiums provide a new platform for combining the potential of in-person events and digital services?

Whatever pathways open up, the imperative will be to lean into innovative thinking. The entertainment and media industry has always been, at root, a creative endeavour. But now, that creativity must be extended into multiple dimensions, and must be harnessed to a purpose. In the coming years, armed with powerful technology, leaders will have to be more creative about how they create, distribute and monetise products and services. They'll have to think hard about how to generate and measure returns on the substantial investments they are making. And they'll have to be creative about how they pursue and generate growth.

INDIAN ENTERTAINMENT & MEDIA SECTOR

Introduction

The Indian Media and Entertainment (M&E) industry is a sunrise sector for the economy and is making significant strides. The increasing availability of fast and cheap internet, rising incomes, and increasing purchases of consumer durables have significantly aided the industry. India’s media and entertainment industry are unique as compared to other markets. The industry is well known for its extremely high volumes and rising Average Revenue Per User (ARPU).

This significantly aided the country’s industry and made India leading in terms of digital adoption and provided companies with uninterrupted rich data to understand their customers better. India has also experienced growing opportunities in the VFX sector as the focus shifted globally to India as a preferred content creator.

Proving its resilience to the world, Indian M&E industry is on the cusp of a strong phase of growth, backed by rising consumer demand and improving advertising revenue. According to a FICCI-EY report, the advertising to GDP ratio is expected to reach 0.4% by 2025 from 0.38% in 2019.

Market Size

As per the latest report by the PwC, India’s Media and entertainment Industry is expected to reach Rs. 4,30,401 crores (US$ 53.99 billion) by 2026. Advertising revenue in India is projected to reach Rs. 394 billion (US$ 5.42 billion) by 2024.

Television would account for 40% of the Indian media market in 2024, followed by print media (13%), digital advertising (12%), cinema (9%), and the OTT and gaming industries (8%).

Within the M&E sector, Animation, Visual Effects, Gaming and Comic (AVGC) sector is growing at a rate of ~29%, while the audio-visual sector and services is rising at the rate ~25%; is recognised as of one of the champion sectors by the Government of India. The AVGC sector is estimated to grow at ~9% to reach ~Rs. 3 lakh crore (US$ 43.93 billion) by 2024, stated Union Minister of Commerce & Industry, Consumer Affairs & Food & Public Distribution and Textiles, Mr. Piyush Goyal.

This significantly aided the country's industry and made India leading in terms of digital adoption and provided companies with uninterrupted rich data to understand their customers better. India has also experienced growing opportunities in the VFX sector as the focus shifted globally to India as a preferred content creator.

The Indian mobile gaming market is growing at a pace in tandem with the global trend and is expected to reach US$ 7 billion in 2025. The online gaming market in India is projected to reach Rs. 155 billion (US$ 2.12 billion) by 2023, from Rs. 76 billion (US$ 1.08 billion) in 2020, due to rapid increase in consumption.

The music industry is expected to reach US$ 366 million by 2024 from US$ 199 million in 2019. According to a study conducted by Kantar and VTION, an audience measurement and analytics company, Gaana, the streaming service owned by Times Internet Ltd., had 30% market share, followed by JioSaavn (24%), Wynk Music (15%), Spotify (15%), Google Play Music (10%), and others (6%) in 2020.

Growth of the sector is attributable to the trend of platform such as YouTube that continues to offer recent and video content-linked music for free, which is expected to drive the paid OTT music sector reaching ~5 million end-users by 2023, generating revenue of ~Rs. 2 billion (US$ 27 million).

By 2025, the number of connected smart televisions are expected to reach ~40-50 million. 30% of the content viewed on these screens will be gaming, social media, short video and content items produced exclusively for this audience by television, print and radio brands. In the second quarter of 2021, smart TV shipments from India increased by 65% YoY, due to rising expansion activities adopted by original equipment manufacturers (OEMs) for their smart TV portfolios. By 2025, ~600-650 million Indians, will consume short-form videos, with active users spending up to 55 to 60 minutes per day.

According to the FICCI-EY media and entertainment industry survey, those who watch online videos through bundled packages (online video services bundled with mobile and broadband connections) will account for half of all online video viewers (399 million) by 2023, up from 284 million in 2020.

As of 2020, India registered ~803 million online video viewers, including streaming services and videos on free platforms such as YouTube. Mobile video viewers stood at 356 million in 2020, driven by rising number of users preferring video content over the last few years.

OTT video services market (video-on-demand and live) in India is likely to post a CAGR of 29.52% to reach US$ 5.12 billion by FY26, driven by rapid developments in online platforms and increased demand for quality content among users.

Recent Development/Investments

Recent Developments in the Media and Entertainment Industry are:

1. In June 2022, the exclusive rights for the television broadcast of the Indian Premier League (IPL) from 2023-2027 was acquired by Disney Star.
2. In March 2022, Pocket FM in India raised US$ 65 million and has plans to expand in new regional languages.

3. In March 2022, Krafton infused US$ 19.5 million in Indian audio content platform Kuku FM.
4. In November 2021, media consulting firm Ormax Media, launched an OTT Brand Health Tracking Tool called Ormax Brand Monitor (OBM). The tool is based on syndicated research conducted every month among SVOD & AVOD audiences across India, to track the performance of 16 OTT platforms on key brand measures.

Government Initiatives

The Telecom Regulatory Authority of India (TRAI) is set to approach the Ministry of Information and Broadcasting, Government of India, with a request to Fastrack the recommendations on broadcasting, in an attempt to boost reforms in the broadcasting sector. The Government of India has agreed to set up National Centre of Excellence for Animation, Gaming, Visual Effects and Comics industry in Mumbai. The Indian and Canadian Government have signed an audio-visual co-production deal to enable producers from both the countries exchange and explore their culture and creativity, respectively.

In October 2021, Prasar Bharati decided to auction its archives with the hope of monetising the content through sale to television and OTT platforms.

In June 2021, the Union Ministry of Information and Broadcasting notified the Cable Television Network (Amendment) Rules, 2021, which aims to establish a three-layer statutory mechanism for citizens to raise grievances with respect to broadcasted content.

As part of the expansion to include all digital platforms and digital (OTT) players under a single roof, in May 2021, the Indian Broadcasting Foundation (IBF) announced the move to be renamed as the Indian Broadcasting and Digital Foundation (IBDF).

As per the Information Technology (Intermediary Guidelines and Digital Media Ethics Code) Rules, 2021, IBDF would also form a self-regulatory body (SRB) soon.

To ease filming in railways, the Film Facilitation Office (FFO) set up in the National Film Development Corporation (NFDC) collaborated with the Ministry of Railways to develop an integrated single window filming mechanism to streamline the permission process for filming across railway premises.

In November 2021, the government announced that it is working towards creating a National Centre of Excellence for AVGC (animation, visual effects, gaming and comics).

On February 25, 2021, the government outlined the Information Technology (Intermediary Guidelines and Digital Media Ethics Code) Rules 2021 to establish a progressive institutional mechanism and a three-tier grievance redressal framework for news publishers and OTT platforms on the digital media.

In February 2021, the digital entertainment committee of the Internet and Mobile Association of India (IAMAI) finalised a code of conduct to form the basis for self-regulation code for OTT content. The code has been endorsed by 17 OTT platforms including Netflix, Amazon Prime Video, Disney+ Hotstar, ZEE5 and Voot.

In February 2021, Prasar Bharati (India) and PSM (the official State Media of Maldives) inked an agreement to facilitate collaboration and capacity building in the field of broadcasting.

Digital audio–visual content including films and web shows on over-the-top (OTT) streaming platforms, as well as news and current affairs on online platforms, have been brought under the Ministry of Information and Broadcasting in November 2020.

Road Ahead

The Indian M&E industry is on an impressive growth path. The industry is expected to grow at a much faster rate than the global average rate. This can be majorly credited to rising incomes, increasing internet penetration and a growing push toward digital adoption.

In the long run, growth in the M&E industry is expected in retail advertisement on the back of several players entering the food and beverages segment, E-commerce gaining more popularity in the country, and domestic companies testing out the waters. India’s rural regions are expected to be the next regions for growth. India has also gotten on board with 5G and is already planning for 6G well ahead of the future. This push towards digital adoption especially in the rural regions will provide advertisers and publishers with an immense opportunity to capture untapped markets and help grow India’s media and entertainment industry forward.

Our Company operates on Two (2) Business Models:

Our company employs two distinct business models to generate revenue, which are:

01. COMMISSIONED CONTENT

Our company offers commissioned content production services. This means that we are contracted by clients to produce shows in the business verticals that we specialize in. Under this model we provide bespoke content creation services to clients in exchange for a commission. This model positions our company as a service provider that delivers tailored content solutions.

To ensure that we have a diverse range of concepts to offer our clients, we have a pool of talented creative directors and writers who are constantly working on developing new ideas for shows. The broadcasters / platforms give us a contract to produce the show based on a budget that we present to them once they approve the concept.

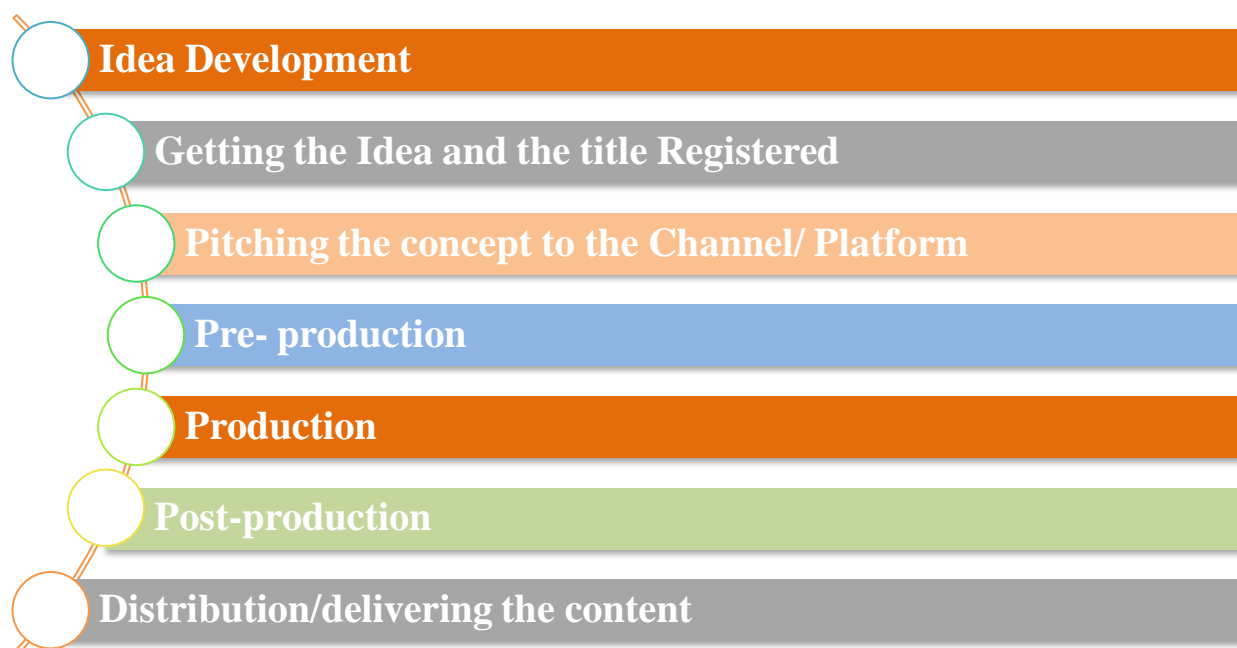

02. ORIGINAL CONTENT

“Beyond Originals”

Apart from the commissioned content, our company has been engaged in the co-production of original shows with Beyond Entertainment Private Limited (Our Corporate Promoter) through the “Intellectual Property Rights Model”. This model entails investing in our own content without necessarily securing a contract from clients, such as broadcasters or OTT platforms. This model positions us as a content creator that generates valuable intellectual property, including television shows, documentaries, docu-features, etc. The produced content is subsequently licensed to various clients. By owning and controlling the rights to our original content, we are able to monetize it through licensing or sales, potentially yielding significant profits for our company. However, this model necessitates a more substantial investment. We have produced many scripted and unscripted content including series like Black Coffee (web series), Kaalo, Bridge in The Red Corridor (documentary), Yoga Plus, Travel Plus, Fashion Plus, Dream Merchant, etc.

OUR BUSINESS PROCESS UNDER THE COMMISSIONED CONTENT BUSINESS MODEL:

Under the commissioned content model, our business procedures are segmented into distinct phases, comprising several discernible stages:

- 1. Idea Development: Finding the initial idea is the core of the whole process. Inspiration is often elusive, not only to the producers but to artists as well. This activity comprises both story discussion and script development. Story discussion involves developing the storyline for a potential show between the writers, director and producer, while script development involves detailed work on the script between director and the script writer. Along with this our research team analyses the market demand, understands the need of the platform, get idea about the opening slots on the channels.
- 2. Getting the Idea and the title Registered: The next step in the process is to get the idea or concept registered on SWA (“Screenwriters Association”) in the name of the company and the title of the story registered on IFTPC (“The Indian Film and TV Producers Council”) portal.
- 3. Pitching the concept to the Channel or Platform: After the conceptual/ Idea stage or after analyzing the demand of the market, need of the platform, our team develop a proposal that outlines the scope of the project, concept note, broad story, deliverables, and costs. Afterwards, we approach the Channel, Broadcasters, Digital Platforms (client) and pitch the idea to them. The production process starts only after the idea is accepted by the Channel, Broadcaster or any Digital Platform. After the proposal is accepted by the client, we enter into an official contract with our clients for executing and delivering the project to them. Our company’s business model operates on a pre-sales basis, meaning that we do not commence the production process unless the client approves the proposed idea or concept and releases advance payments for the project.
- 4. Pre- production: Only after the idea or proposal is accepted by the client and the advance is received from the clients, we start our Pre- production process which includes activities such as casting (i.e., selecting the actors for the roles), location scouting (i.e., search and selection of indoor and outdoor locations to shoot the scenes), studio premise for sets, costume design (i.e., the preparation of the set required and selection and production of costume to be worn by the actors), production planning (i.e., preparation of a detailed shooting schedule) and music composition (i.e., writing of lyrics and music for the show).

5. Production: This is the stage at which all the shooting starts and carried out. All scenes planned out in pre-production are filmed at the relevant locations, sets and studios. Each scene is filmed as many times as the director deems fit, to ensure the best quality scenes will be used to construct the show. This is where the strength of the pre-production work is put to the test. Great care is taken to make sure that all the shooting is done correctly, and all necessary shots are taken, as it is sometimes difficult or impossible to go back and repeat certain events if the shooting is incomplete when it comes to the post-production stage.
6. Post-Production: This is the stage in which the recorded content is assembled by the editor. The first job of the editor is to build a rough cut taken from sequences (or scenes) based on individual “takes” (shots) as per the final shooting script. The purpose of the rough cut is to select and order the best shots. The next step is to create a fine cut by getting all the shots to flow smoothly in a seamless story. Trimming - the process of shortening scenes by a few minutes, seconds, or even frames - is done during this phase. As well as the editing of footage, all music, VFX, graphics, sound designing, foley, grading, subtitling, etc. are added in this stage.
7. Delivering the content: Once the requisite revisions are completed, we deliver the number of episodes stipulated in the contract to the client before the show goes on- air, while simultaneously continuing with the production and shooting of subsequent episodes or future seasons, if applicable. This ensures to provide our clients with a consistent and uninterrupted stream of content, while remaining fully engaged with the production process throughout.
8. Follow- up and Exhibition: Upon the delivery of the final content by our company, the client assumes responsibility for all marketing and other associated expenses, ensuring that the show can effectively reach its intended audience. Following this, the show is broadcast and distributed, culminating in its final presentation to the audience.

OUR BUSINESS PROCESS UNDER INTELLECTUAL PROPERTY MODEL:

1. Concept or Idea Development: The first step is to find or develop a concept or idea. We hunt for a story which we believe our youth or audience will connect to. Our writers develop or write the script/content keeping in mind audience taste, like, dislike and trend. The story is then drafted as a script for the purpose of shooting.
2. Registering the concept or Idea: After the development of concept or idea, we register our idea or story under the SWA (“Screenwriters Association”) and the register the title under IFTPC (“The Indian Film and TV Producers Council”).
3. Talent Acquisition and Pre- Production: After registering the idea, the pre- production process starts which includes talent acquisition, location scouting, costume design, production planning and music composition. Under this model we do not get financing or advances from any client and this model requires substantially more investment from our company.
4. Completion of production process: The actual filming or production of the entertainment content takes place during this phase.
5. Post- Production: After all the scenes are shot, the recorded content is assembled by the editor and he creates a fine cut by getting all the shots to flow smoothly in a seamless story. Further, the sound and visual effects are added, and any necessary final touches are made.
6. Distribution and Marketing: The completed content is ready for uploading on the online digital platform including social media, which include portals like YouTube. We can also license our content on exclusive or non- exclusive basis to various channels or broadcasters, who in turn publish the same, thus spreading the reach of our content.
7. Uploading on Online Digital Platform: Once the videos are complete, they are uploaded on our YouTube Channel “Beyond Originals” and OTT platforms, with which we have licensed our content.

Branded Content:

We are planning to offer Branded content in the future to our viewers. Branded content is the practice of marketing via the creation of content that is funded or outright produced by an advertiser. Branded contents are designed to build awareness by associating (the brand) with content that shares its values. In contrast to content marketing (in which content is presented first and foremost as a marketing ploy for a brand) and product placement (where advertisers pay to have references to their brands incorporated into outside creative works, such as films and television series), branded content is designed to build awareness for a brand by associating it with content that shares its values. The content does not necessarily need to be a promotion for the brand, although it may still include product placement. Unlike conventional forms of editorial content, branded content is generally funded entirely by a brand or corporation rather than a studio or a group of solely artistic producers. Examples of branded content have appeared in television, film, online content, video games, events, and other installations. Modern branded marketing strategies are intended primarily to counter market trends, such as the decreasing acceptance of traditional commercials or low-quality advertorials.

Developing a strong content library

We intend to focus on creating a large and diverse content library that includes TV shows, web series, and other types of content. Our focus is to scale up the content volume with existing clients as well as with new media. Our aim is to increase our share in the wallet of our clients. The key elements of our business strategy is to adopt a de-risking expansion strategy to expand in multiple segments of the business and scale up the business significantly. This can provide a steady stream of revenue and help us gain more recognition in the industry.

Embracing new technologies

As a production house, we are committed to staying ahead of the curve and embracing new technologies and emerging new platforms. Our goal is to become a technology-based entertainment company, leveraging the latest tools and innovations to create even more engaging content for our audiences. To achieve this, we are actively investing in new technologies and exploring different platforms that have the potential to transform the entertainment industry. We recognize that photos, music, VFX, videos licensing, and others are key growth areas, and we are committed to expanding our business in these areas.

Expanding our reach to sports

Our pursuit of growth and expansion is at the forefront of our objectives. We have set our hands on the dynamic and ever evolving segment of sports. Our strategy is to diversify our content offerings by providing comprehensive coverage of a wide range of sports and martial arts events. To achieve this goal, we are collaborating with major participants in the sports industry. Our vision is to create a sports segment that not only captures the excitement and passion of the sports world but also delivers unique insights and perspectives on the games and events. We will dedicate our resources to sourcing and creating engaging content that resonates with our audience.

Creating a strong marketing and promotion strategy

A strong marketing and promotion strategy is crucial for the success of a production house. Our company recognizes this and plans to invest in creating a robust marketing plan that will ensure our content reaches its target audience. Our marketing team will develop a comprehensive strategy that utilizes a combination of traditional and digital marketing techniques to create brand awareness and drive engagement with our audience. By investing in marketing and promotion, we can build brand awareness, increase audience engagement.

To develop own IP

We will also focus on creating our own intellectual property (IP) which can give us an opportunity to scale up the business significantly by selling format rights globally.

Provisions are not discounted to their present value and are determined based on the best estimate required to settle the obligation at the reporting date. These estimates are reviewed at each reporting date and adjusted to reflect the current best estimates.

l. Valuation of Work-in-Progress

m. Contingent liabilities

A contingent liability is a possible obligation that arises from past events whose existence will be confirmed by the occurrence or non-occurrence of one or more uncertain future events beyond the control of the company or a present obligation that is not recognized because it is not probable that an outflow of resources will be required to settle the obligation. A contingent liability also arises in extremely rare cases where there is a liability that cannot be recognized because it cannot be measured reliably. The company does not recognize a contingent liability but discloses its existence in the financial statements.

Dy. Commissioner of Income-tax (TDS) v. Inspire Films Limited

Current statue of the case: The next date of hearing is December 05, 2023, for appearance.

There were delays by Inspire Films Limited, in depositing the Tax Deducted at Source (“TDS”) with the Central Government for the three relevant financial years viz. FY. 2013-2014, 2014-2015 and 2015-2016. The amounts which were paid after a delay were as under:

- AY 2014-2015: INR 1,78,94,531/- along with an outstanding interest of INR 16,94,634/-;
- AY 2015-2016: INR 3,48,17,476 along with an outstanding interest of INR 26,71,503/-; and
- AY 2016-2017: INR 3,10,33,020/- along with an outstanding interest of INR 31,58,416/-.

For the fiscal year 2013-14, the final amount was paid by the 13th of September 2014, while for the fiscal year 2014-15, it was settled by the 6th July 2015. In the case of the fiscal year 2015-16, the remaining dues were cleared by the 4th of October 2016.

On the 17th of November 2016, the company received notices requesting detailed information regarding the TDS payments for the fiscal years 2013-14, 2014-15, and 2015-16. In response to these notices, the company formally filed its replies on the 25th of January 2017 explaining the reason for delay in payment i.e. due to reasonable cause of strangulating financial conditions and non-availability of cash flow for payment of TDS regularly as per on or before the respective due dates.

The above reasons were discarded by the department & show cause notice under Section 279(1) of the Income Tax Act was issued on the 12th of June 2017 demanding presence of promoters to advice on reason for delay. In response to the notice, an adjournment request was formally submitted on the 18th of July 2017. Another show cause notice was subsequently received on the 31st of July 2017, and the company submitted its formal reply on 11th August 2017 requesting for extension.

It is pertinent to note that the Commissioner of Income Tax (CIT) issued an order on the 27th of November 2017, initiating the prosecution against the Company and its directors. Following this, the Income Tax Department also filed a formal complaint before the Magistrate on the 12th of February 2018. These formal proceedings mark the progression of this tax-related matter.

During the pendency of these criminal proceedings, the Company, along with its directors filed a Compounding Application dated 27th June 2020 before the Competent Authority. On June 30, 2020 to settle the issue.

The TDS delay was thereafter compounded, and the Company was directed on February 3, 2021 to pay the Compounding Charges within a period of 3 months. Responding formally to this notice, on March 1, 2021, the company articulated its financial constraints for payment, attributing them to the adverse impact of the COVID-19 pandemic on its business, operational aspects and cash flow constraints faced by the industry including TV channels and broadcasters. In a further series of formal actions, the tax department issued opportunities for the company to provide explanations pertaining to the case, specifically on December 2 and December 13, 2022. Following these proceedings, the CCIT formally rejected the compounding application on December 28, 2022.

While the Company and its Directors were making requisite efforts to compound the offence, the Ld. Magistrate of the CMM 38th Court, by an Order dated May 6, 2023 convicted the Company and its Directors for offences committed under Section 276B and 278B of the IT Act.

Aggrieved by the Order dated May 6, 2023, separate Appeals (three from each of the three Criminal Complaint(s) on behalf of the Company, Mr. Yash Patnaik and Ms. Mamta Patnaik) were preferred before the Hon'ble Sessions Court. Appeals being Appeal Nos. 380, 383, 386, 378, 381, 384, 379, 382 and 385 of 2023) on May 22, 2023, contesting the conviction order.

In the afore mentioned Appeals, Bail Application(s) were also filed on behalf of Mr. Yash Patnaik and Ms. Mamta Patnaik. The Bail Application(s) have been heard and bail has been granted on June 5, 2023. The sentence as per the May 6, 2023, has also been suspended by the Hon'ble Sessions Court. The appeals are now pending for appearance dated December 05, 2023.

While the Criminal Appeals continue to remain pending before the Hon'ble Sessions Court, Mumbai, a fresh compounding application dated May 29, 2023, has been filed before the Competent Authority i.e. the Chief Commissioner of Income Tax (TDS). The said Competent Authority has issued a letter dated May 31, 2023 to the Company and its Directors indicating that the Compounding Application for all the fiscal years i.e. FY 2013-14, FY 2014-15, FY 2015-16 & FY 2016-17 is under consideration.

Notably, a significant development arose from a comparable case involving "Sofitel Realty LLP", wherein the Bombay High Court, in a formal ruling on July 18, 2023, has set aside CBDT guidelines that had previously imposed formal limitations on the timeline for compounding applications by taxpayers. The court's formal judgment underscored that such limitations were not explicitly prescribed under the Income Tax Act, 1961, emphasizing the subordinate nature of departmental rules and guidelines to the Act itself.

It is also pertinent to formally note that, in a separate compounding case, Footcandles Films Pvt. Ltd. vs. Income Tax Officer – TDS - 1, the Bombay High Court had previously reaffirmed that the CBDT lacks the formal authority to curtail the powers of the Commissioner of Income Tax (CCIT) as granted under Section 279(2) of the Act through the issuance of formal guidelines for time limits. This formal reaffirmation confirmed that compounding applications may be submitted at any time, even when legal proceedings are pending before the Magistrate or the Sessions Court.

The Company maintains a formal sense of optimism that their compounding application will receive due formal consideration from the tax department. The company has formally expressed its willingness to promptly discharge any compounding demand upon receiving the formal compounding order from the department.

Thus, this compounding application came to be rejected.
- vi. While the Criminal Complaint continues to remain pending before the CMM 38th Court, a fresh compounding application dated May 29, 2023 has been filed before the Competent Authority. PHASED IMPLEMENTATION OF UNIFIED PAYMENTS INTERFACE

SEBI has issued UPI Circulars in relation to streamlining the process of public issue of equity shares and convertibles. Pursuant to the UPI Circulars, UPI will be introduced in a phased manner as a payment mechanism (in addition to mechanism of blocking funds in the account maintained with SCSBs under the ASBA) for applications by RIIs through intermediaries with the objective to reduce the time duration from public issue closure to listing from six Working Days to up to three Working Days. Considering the time required for making necessary changes to the systems and to ensure complete and smooth transition to the UPI Mechanism, the UPI Circulars proposes to introduce and implement the UPI Mechanism in three phases in the following manner:

- a. Phase I: This phase was applicable from January 01, 2019 and lasted till June 30, 2019. Under this phase, a Retail Individual applicant, besides the modes of Bidding available prior to the UPI Circulars, also had the option to submit the Bid cum Application Form with any of the intermediary and use his / her UPI ID for the purpose of blocking of funds. The time duration from public issue closure to listing continued to be six Working Days.

- b. Phase II: This phase commenced on completion of Phase I i.e. with effect from July 1, 2019 and was to be continued for a period of three months or launch of five main board public issues, whichever is later. Further, as per the SEBI circular SEBI/HO/CFD/DCR2/CIR/P/2019/133 dated November 8, 2019, the UPI Phase II has been extended until March 31, 2020. Further still, as per SEBI circular SEBI/HO/CFD/DIL2/CIR/P/2020/50 dated March 30, 2020, the current Phase II of Unified Payments Interface with Application Supported by Blocked Amount be continued till further notice. Under this phase, submission of the Application Form by a Retail Individual Applicant through intermediaries to SCSBs for blocking of funds will be discontinued and will be replaced by the UPI Mechanism. However, the time duration from public issue closure to listing would continue to be six Working Days during this phase.
- c. Phase III: The commencement period of Phase III is yet to be notified. In this phase, the time duration from public issue closure to listing would be reduced to be three Working Days. Accordingly, upon commencement of Phase III, the reduced time duration shall be applicable for the Issue.

All SCSBs offering the facility of making applications in public issues are required to provide a facility to make applications using the UPI Mechanism. Further, in accordance with the UPI Circulars, our Company has appointed Yes Bank Limited as the Sponsor Bank to act as a conduit between the Stock Exchanges and NPCI in order to facilitate collection of requests and / or payment instructions of the Retail Individual Investors into the UPI mechanism.

Pursuant to the UPI Circular, SEBI has set out specific requirements for redressal of investor grievances for applications that have been made through the UPI Mechanism. The requirements of the UPI Circular include, appointment of a nodal officer by the SCSB and submission of their details to SEBI, the requirement for SCSBs to send SMS alerts for the blocking and unblocking of UPI mandates, the requirement for the Registrar to submit details of cancelled, withdrawn or deleted applications, and the requirement for the bank accounts of unsuccessful Bidders to be unblocked no later than one day from the date on which the Basis of Allotment is finalised. Failure to unblock the accounts within the timeline would result in the SCSBs being penalised under the relevant securities law. Additionally, if there is any delay in the redressal of investors' complaints in this regard, the relevant SCSB as well as the post – Offer BRLM will be required to compensate the concerned investor.

SEBI through its circular (SEBI/HO/CFD/DIL2/CIR/P/2022/45) dated April 5, 2022, has prescribed that all individual investors applying in initial public offerings opening on or after May 1, 2022, where the application amount is up to Rs. 5,00,000, shall use UPI. Individual investors bidding under the Non-Institutional Portion bidding for more than Rs. 200,000 and up to Rs. 5,00,000, using the UPI Mechanism, shall provide their UPI ID in the Bid-cum-Application Form for Bidding through Syndicate, sub-syndicate members, Registered Brokers, RTAs or CDPs, or online using the facility of linked online trading, demat and bank account (3 in 1 type accounts), provided by certain brokers.

The processing fees for applications made by Retail Individual Bidders using the UPI Mechanism may be released to the remitter banks (SCSBs) only after such banks provide a written confirmation on compliance with SEBI Circular No: SEBI/HO/CFD/DIL2/P/CIR/2021/570 dated June 2, 2021 read with SEBI Circular No: SEBI/HO/CFD/DIL2/CIR/P/2021/2480/1/M dated March 16, 2021.
