* The details in the format are provided for the transactions undertaken during reporting period. However, opening and closing balances, including commitments, to be disclosed for existing related party transactions even if there is no new related party transaction during the reporting period.

2. Where a transaction is undertaken between members of the consolidated entity (between the listed entity and its subsidiary or between subsidiaries), it may be reported once.

3. Listed entities need not be required to provide the disclosures with respect to related party transactions involving banks, inter-company deposits, advances or investments made or given by the listed banks.

4. For companies with financial year ending March 31, this information has to be provided for six months ended September 30 and six months ended March 31. Companies with financial year ending other months, the six months period shall apply accordingly.

5. Each type of related party transaction (e.g. a sale of goods, purchases of goods/services or other services, bank deposits, advances or investments) with a single party shall be disclosed separately and there should be no bundling of related transactions of same type. However, transactions with the same type may be aggregated for the reporting period. For instance, sales transactions with the same party may be aggregated for the reporting period as purchases of goods/services may be disclosed in a common column. There should be no bundling of all sales and purchases transactions. Further, advances made and received from the same counterparty should be disclosed separately, without any netting off.

6. In case of a multi-year related party transaction:

a. The value of the related party transaction as approved by the audit committee shall be disclosed in the column 'Value of the related party transaction as approved by the audit committee'.

b. The value of the related party transaction undertaken in the reporting period shall be reported in the column 'Value of related party transaction during the reporting period'.

7. The value in the last column is to be listed only for the listed entity.

8. Fill up 'not to be disclosed' on the website of the Stock Exchange (SE).

9. Transactions on an acceptance of bond deposits by banks/NBFCs, undertaken with related parties, at the same uniform applicable interest rate to all shareholders/public shall also be reported.
