SCHULER NORTH AMERICA

JUSTINE FONTEYNE

AREA SALES MANAGER

As Area Sales Manager of the Americas at Schuler Group GmbH, Germany, Justine Fonteyne is responsible for new equipment sales of conventional and laser blanking technology, along with automation and digital solutions of such. Justine has worked closely with the metal working industry, including world-renowned automotive OEMs and tier suppliers, for over five years. Through the combination of her technical background, international network, and specialized market expertise, she provides the Americas with a customized outlook to smart factory solutions. Justine's dynamic consulting approach has framed the groundwork for American companies to achieve long-term, cost-efficient success. With Justine's support, Schuler sold three laser blanking lines in the U.S. alone last year—enabling competitive high-speed and high-output results for American manufacturers.
