- 5. Simple Karmic Wound
- The stop showed a KW affecting the spiritual aspect. It was lodged in the spiritual layer in the intuition strata. Her awareness sores to 75% when the location was determined- The issue of the wound was not trusting herself and others. Feeling abandoned and alone- The wound held:

Date: 8/15/1854

Involves her ex-husband – father in 1854

The emotions are: abandonment/ loneliness/ anger-

The story that evolves as a surprising waking vision for Gemma is around her ex who was her father in this KW abandoning her as a little girl in a vast and scary forest. She bursts into tears and says I always knew I was unnecessary for his happiness- like I was an irritation and an afterthought that he just wanted to get rid of..."

Gemma is still feeling positive effects from the session. She is excited and wants to move up our next session so she can move more quickly. I counsel we keep the October appointment and that she plan on a monthly session for at least 6 months. I offer to book those now and we do. She feels more alive more engaged than she has in years. She started looking at extension classes in Garden Design and is thinking about committing to getting her Masters in her favorite subject and dream job. She says: " I realized nothing was going to change, or get better if I didn't take my life by the hand and dive into my own dreams!" WOW!
