Inspiring the YES! Circuit

What?

The YES! Circuit is a mini layer-like track enclosed with tough membranes. It is located inside the soul layer in the underside of the edge. It is between the base of the receptor sites and the exit of the Template villi and the inner-outer-edge membrane containing the swirling soul layer. Here, the YES! Circuit receives the universal Source energies directly from the Template villi. The receptor sites call in a specific Source energy the structure wants and needs, the villi deliver the personalized invitation, attract the energy and then immediately transfers the energy to the YES! Circuit. This is where the first personalization of a universal energy occurs.

The mini layer-like track contains little tracks that are essentially circuits with specific energies entering constantly. The space these energies take up is miniscule and so millions of them can travel through the Circuit at the same time. The energies enter all over the edge and move in all directions making continuous circuits increasing or decreasing in speed as they make their way around the circuit. The universal energy is sacrosanct and as such is shielded from disintegrating. The Yes! Circuit is flooded with the harmonizing energy: Harmonizing the Blended Energies System which forces the universal energies to stay in their place as they travel in the Circuit.

This Yes! Circuit is where extra sensory awareness is stimulated within the structure and it is related to multiple systems. The BES, Layers, the Harmonizing Network, BOL, and the Template all interact with this anatomy. Both the Elimination System and the HEMF release through it.

It is the first personalization of the universal energies because the Yes! Circuit sets the frequency that the subtle universal energies must be moving at to travel down the Template strands to the e-stomach. It both decreases and increases the energies, dialing them up or down in speed to bring them to compatible resonance with individuated energies that have split off from the core and are moving in the soul layer. This way it determines the ability of the Blended Energies System to mix the individuated energies with the universal energies and when they eventually arrive back in the soul layer after the journey through the e-stomach the personalized universal Source energies can be assimilated and used by the energy structure as fuel.

A specific universal Source energy traveling on it's part of the Yes! Circuit enters the Circuit from the base of the Template villi that attracted it and then moves around the course of its particular Circuit until it achieves the correct velocity. When it does, it comes back to the mother villi turns to face the Template hook and quantum leaps across the soul layer into the first neural net fiber of the Template strand located at the mouth of the strand.

WHY?

Issues arise when different obstacles occur but the most powerful obstacle is a frozen Yes! Circuit. This means the universal energy is useless to the structure. Eventually, it will disperse and, in this condition, as it is un-received, there is no attachment and the energy returns to the universal unfulfilled. However, if there is an attachment to NOT RECEIVING- in other words saying: No! the energy cannot return to the universal and it fulfills its directive to do exactly the opposite. In other words, Universal Love and Light experiencing a no becomes NO Universal Love and Light, which is a totally different energy! No wonder things haven't been working out like you expected!

The Yes! Circuit is built to say: Yes. To receive and to appreciate the abundance of the universal creative flow. But at the same time, we humans have free will and are the only ones who can also stop our own benefit from coming to us.

If we can do that, we can reverse it. Saying: No, to the flow of universal Source is pretty much always based in a contraction of some kind. Trauma occurs and we contract, honesty, it's just a part of the experience of living, a natural and flowing part of the life of the structure, really a function of the Sacred Anatomy.

In a healthy structure, the contraction is inevitably followed by an expansion. But when you say: No to a specific energy you have frozen the Yes! Circuit devoted to this energy in a contracted state and the inspiration from the specific universal energy fails to materialize. We in fact, get the exact opposite.

How?

This means the need to return the Yes! Circuit to a flowing: Yes! This is done by thawing the frozen section of the circuit and releasing the trapped inspiration. Stopped movement in the YES! Circuit is like screaming NO at the universe. The universal expression of life, which has no agenda or attachment and functions to only to give provide what you are requesting. A single energy is the same as the next; to the Source. But to you it can be life changing!

Sacred Anatomy Energy Medicine Procedure
Inspiring the YES! Circuit

1. With permission apply the Edge Practice assess for need by dowsing.

2. Ask the client to share with you what strand of their life fabric is stuck in a pattern giving them exactly NOT what they want to have happen. The opposite of what they desire is happening all the time. There is a pattern, but that isn't the important thing. They also may have reactively created a pattern out of NEVER having the correct energy. The idea is to help them state what is NOT happening and then state what they WANT to have happen. Asking questions like: Is there an area in your life where you always seem to get the exact opposite result of what you have worked for and tried to have happen? You don't need a lot of story and drama although tears may be inevitable. What you want is the exact energy that is NOT coming in by defining what IS.

3. Extend your light fingers into the Yes! Circuit- telegraph right into the part of the circuit that is frozen. Tell your light fingers: Go to the frozen part of the Yes! Circuit that is dedicated to: _____ energy of (client's name) ____.

4. When you find the frozen part and are touching it with both sets of fingers to the left and right- witness the frozen circuit and simply thank it for doing a great job being frozen. Say: Thank you Yes! Circuit for doing the very best possible job you could do! You have done exactly what I asked you to do and you have been so good at your job. I really appreciate you.

5. Ask the client to breath and to focus on the specific energy- to make it crystal clear. Witness the Yes! Circuit as it relaxes and release. It may take a little while if it is frozen from a past life contraction and trauma. But don't worry it will release and there will be an expansion.

6. When the release occurs move your fingers to top and bottom. Repeat: Say: Thank you Yes! Circuit for doing the very best possible job you could do! You have done exactly what I asked you to do and you have been so good at your job. I really appreciate you.

7. Ask your client to breath and to focus on the "NO" specific energy- to make it crystal clear. Witness them as they release again.

8. Now, go to the front and back position with your light fingers and repeat:

Say: Thank you Yes! Circuit for doing the very best possible job you could do! You have done exactly what I asked you to do and you have been so good at your job. I really appreciate you.

9. Ask your client to breath and to focus on the "NO" specific energy- to make it crystal clear. Witness them as they go into the final release again. Combined with the client's breath and focus, the witnessed releases turning the NO to a YES and the originally desired specific energy replaces the old energy. That's great but there is one more step.

10. The client needs to state their commitment to receiving the YES energy. Say: I, (their name) accept and receive the support of the Source. I allow this beautiful Source energy to fulfill my needs and life. I am willing to let in all the universal love and care I need to shift completely allowing my YES! Circuit to succeed. I say YES! to: (state their exact desired result).

11. Witness the inspiration filling the entire structure!

12. ULL throughout the structure.

13. Harmonizing: the BES, the Layers, the Template, the BOL, and the Harmonizing Network.

14. IBWSIB
