

VISTACELL

Vistacell is a live yeast product that improves performance and productivity when fed to dairy cows. Developed specifically to maximise rumen efficiency and boost animal performance.

Vistacell allows more milk to be extracted from the same amount of feed.

Potential benefits when feeding Vistacell:

- More milk/cow/day in dairy cows
- Better dung consistency and quality
- Optimises rumen function
- Animals visibly more content
- Improved digestibility
- Increased body weight

Vistacell is one of the most cost-effective yeast products on the market and delivers a significant return on investment.

Vistacell works by:

- Supplying more live yeast cells than other yeast products
- Removing oxygen to improve the rumen environment and increase microbial growth
- Increasing fibre digesting bacteria to improve fibre break-down
- Increasing lactic acid utilising bacteria to reduce the incidence of acidosis and protect the rumen

Vistacell is one of the most cost-effective yeast products on the market delivering a significant return on investment.
