Product introduction

The product is a 2000mAh wireless watch charger. It adopts high polymer cell and is designed with a digital battery level display for you to know the remaining power in real time. Its compact size and built-in keyring made it super easy to carry, so that you can charge your watch anywhere and anytime. It is perfect to be used at home, in office and on-the-go. Its highly fire-retardant material and 6-point safety protection system (including over-current protection, over-voltage protection, over-temperature protection, etc.) ensure a safe charging.
