August 2022 FA/rs

Public announcement:

Gotham Audio (est. 1958) and APS Sp.z o.o. (est. 2006) have entered a business partnership to market and support APS active loudspeaker systems and subwoofers in the global market place.

APS products will be sold in parallel by Gotham Audio export organization and APS factory for same terms and prices while the client has the liberty to request delivery, service and after sales support either by Gotham Audio or APS factory direct, while possibly Gotham Audio will have eventually faster delivery option from current stock on hand for immediate delivery of stocked products.

The 2 organization shall remain independent and continue to function autonomous but run 2 logistics solutions. So the possible client has the opportunity to either purchase and get delivery from Swiss warehouse (non EC) or from Poland factory warehouse (inside EC).

We are sure to be able to give a preferred win-win solution to all APS clients. APS and Gotham will support all present dealer and reseller terms and conditions if already established. We all will continue to market the products and we are excited that with this partnership APS has now the freedom to develop and manufacture new and exciting products in the nearest future, while Gotham Audio will work to strengthen the global marketing and sales achievements also through the Gotham Audio established global sales partners. All products as seen on www.gotham.swiss global headquarters web appearance.
