WELCOME TO THE NEIGHORHOOD!

- The only Power 5 coach to have 200+ career wins in first 10 years as being a head coach
- Has led the Razorbacks to four postseason appearances in six years (two NCAAT and two WNIT). The program was primed for an NCAA berth in 2020, but the COVID-19 outbreak cancelled the tournament. Arkansas is one of three SEC programs in last five years to qualify for the last five postseasons (including if one played out in 2020)
- Led Arkansas to four straight top 50 finishes in the NET/RPI, being just one of two schools in the SEC to do so
- Tallied five total NCAA Tournament bids with his teams as a head coach (six if 2020 tournament had not been cancelled), two Sweet Sixteen appearances, as well as one Elite 8 and Final Four appearance
- Holds 41 wins over AP Top 25 opponents, which is the most among coaches with 10 years or less of experience by a longshot
- Has coached 11 WNBA Draft picks, six of those as a head coach and two while at the helm at Arkansas. Chelsea Dungee was drafted as the fifth overall pick in 2021, which matched as the highest draft pick in program history
- His teams have brought in a top 27 attendance in the nation for the past four seasons, the best four-year run of attendance numbers in 20 years
- Holds the Arkansas head coaching record for best SEC winning percentage
- Boasts the best success rate at the SEC Tournament as the only coach to lead his team to the Finals (2019 vs. Mississippi State). Has always gotten his teams past the first round, made second-round appearances all six years, quarterfinals four times, semifinals twice and finals once
- Spent all 16 weeks of the 2020-21 season as a ranked team in the AP and WBCA polls with the highest being at No. 10
- Coached Kelsey Plum at Washington who is the NCAA all-time leading career scorer (3,527) and a 2022 WNBA champion with the Las Vegas Aces
- Was a 2017 Werner Ladder Naismith Women's College Coach of the Year National Semifinalist
- As a head coach, has tallied 14 All-Conference selections, two Conference Freshman of the Year recipients, five All-Freshman Team members, four WBCA All-Americans and the AP Player of the Year, among other accolades
- WBCA Board of Directors, WBCA Stewardship Committee and Chair of Wade Trophy/All-American Committee

WBB IN THE COMMUNITY

JERRY AND GENE JONES STUDENT-ATHLETE SUCESS CENTER

Opened in 2015, the Jerry & Gene Jones Family Student-Athlete Success Center was designed to address the academic, nutritional, personal and professional development of more than 460 student-athletes, creating an integrated academic support program focused on graduation of all student-athletes at the University of Arkansas.

The 55,000 square-foot facility dedicated to the development of more than 460 Razorback student-athletes was made possible by a $10.65 million gift from the Jones family.

The Student-Athlete Success Center is the home of the Bogle Academic Center and provides student-athletes with multiple learning environments including academic advising and course preparation, leadership training through the Razorback Leadership Academy and career planning and service learning. It also houses the Sports Nutrition Center, serving the fueling needs of student-athletes competing in 19 sports.

MARTY AND MARSHA MARTIN FAMILY BASKETBALL PERFORMANCE CENTER

The 66,000 square-foot University of Arkansas' Basketball Performance Center opened in the fall of 2015 and is the home of the Razorback men and women's basketball programs. On January 26, 2023, the Razorback Foundation announced the Marty and Marsha Martin Family of Little Rock gave a $5 million donation to secure the naming rights of the facility. The facility was officially renamed to the Marty and Marsha Martin Family Basketball Performance Center on March 4.

The Marty and Marsha Martin Family Basketball Performance Center includes two full-court gymnasiums, locker rooms, a weight room, an athletic training room, coaches' offices, team meeting rooms, a student-athlete lounge, study areas and an equipment room.

In the facility, the largest components are two identical practice gyms, which are approximately 12,280 square feet each. Both gyms have six wall-mounted goals and two portable goals that are identical to the goals used in Bud Walton Arena.

A state-of-the-art video coaching system is available in each gym with a large format video display for the team's use in reviewing video footage recorded during practice through the remotely operated cameras mounted on the ceiling.

The Marty and Marsha Martin Family Basketball Performance Center's training room is approximately 1,720 square feet and contains a large treadmill treatment pool, cold plunge pool, hot plunge pool and a dual extremity pool.

The weight room is 4,030 square feet with a dedicated plyometric training area, private massage rooms and strength coach offices.

MOUNT RUSHMORE OF ARKANSAS POINT GUARDS

During a media call before one of Arkansas' games last season, Mike Neighbors said this about Makayla Daniels: "She has to be in the conversation of Mount Rushmore point guards in Razorback history for what she has meant to our team and our program, and the state our program was when she stepped on campus." One could easily put Daniels alongside Christy Smith, Amber Nicholas Shirey and Amy Wright, all incredible Arkansas point guards. Back for her fifth season, Daniels is coming into her final year of collegiate ball having started in every game she has appeared in since her freshman year with 122, which is the second best among active NCAA players. Daniels has also averaged double digits nearly every season, including 13.2 points per game last year, as well as sits No. 10 in career points (1,463), No. 13 in career assists (314) and No. 7 in career 3-pointers made (179). Being the team's lone senior and veteran leader, Daniels leads the Hogs vocally and by example. Whenever the team need a spark or a clutch basket, Daniels is 'ole reliable. Let's just think back to her buzzer beater vs. Vanderbilt in 2023 that became the No. 1 play on Sportscenter and basically blew up the internet. In this new age of the transfer portal, Daniels could have spent her fifth season somewhere else as a graduate transfer, but she is #AllHog and on her way of becoming a double graduate from the U of A. If her performance in the Postseason WNIT is any prelude to the season she'll have in 2023-24, Hog fans will be in for a good time watching Daniels, who has the most SEC wins as an active starter in the league (37), cap one of the best careers a player has enjoyed in an Arkansas uniform.

In the SEC, finished sixth in 3-point percentage (.338), seventh in 3-pointers made per game (2.1) and minutes per game (32.4), eighth in free throw percentage (.768), 15th in steals (1.65) and 18th in scoring ... 35.7 FG%, 33.8 3FG%, 76.8 FT% ... Logged a near double-double of 19 points and nine rebounds against Tulsa ... Won Paradise Jam Reef Tournament MVP in the U.S.V.I. after averaging 17.3 points, 5.7 rebounds, 2.7 assists and 2.0 steals per game ... Logged 21 points against Clemson ... In return from injury, registered 12 points at No. 16 Creighton ... Recorded 20 points while playing over 41 minutes against USF at the San Diego Invitational ... Delivered the play of the year, the banked halfcourt shot at the buzzer vs. Vanderbilt to win the game, finishing that contest with 16 points ... In that game against Vandy, her buzzer beater was the No. 1 play on Sportscenter, the Good Morning America Play of the Day, as well as featured on several national publications ... Against Alabama, logged 13 points, six rebounds and five assists ... Was on a tear at Vanderbilt to log her third career 30-point game with a season-high 31 points off 11-of-23 shooting ... Finished with a season-high six assists at Georgia ... Delivered 17 points at Mississippi State ... Logged 17 points, three 3-pointers and three assists vs. Missouri in the SEC Tournament, following that up with 12 points against No. 1 South Carolina ... Averaged 14.5 points, 5.8 rebounds and 2.3 assists across the four Postseason WNIT games ... Finished the season with a bang, logging back-to-back 21-point game contests vs. Texas Tech and at Kansas.

AS A JUNIOR (2021-22)

Morphed into a vocal team leader in her third season, starting in all 28 games she appeared in ... Averaged 14.0 points, 5.3 rebounds, 2.9 assists, 1.8 steals and 30.1 minutes per game ... All of those marks were career-bests ... Led the team on the glass from the point guard spot ... 41.0 FG%, 29.6 3FG%, 79.2 FT% ... Had 18 double-figure scoring games and five contests scoring 20+ ... Joined Arkansas' 1,000 point club against Utah, the 31st Razorback to ever top the 1K mark ... Led the team in steals for the second straight season, nabbing 50 of them this season ... 13th in the SEC in steals per game ... Recorded her first-career double-double in Arkansas' win over Missouri in the SEC Tournament, going for 13 points and 14 rebounds ... Was crucial in Arkansas' upset of #12 LSU, filling up the stat sheet with 20 points, five rebounds, four assists and two steals ... Scored 17 points, pulled down eight rebounds and nabbed two steals in Arkansas' home win vs. Missouri ... Dropped 18 points and five assists in the Hogs' road win against Alabama ... Played arguably the best game of her career in a loss to Creighton, scoring 34 points on 11 of 17 shooting ... Hit five of six threes in that game ... Joined Shameka Christon, Alexis Tolefree and Chelsea Dungee as the only Hogs since 2000 with multiple 30-point games in a season, as she also had 32 against Cal ... Scored 18 points against Utah in the NCAA Tournament.

MAKAYLA DANIELS - GR. - 43 - G - FREDERICK, MARYLAND

AS A SOPHOMORE (2020-21)

Continued her ascent as a sophomore, starting all 28 games at the lead guard spot ... Averaged 11.6 points, 3.0 rebounds, 2.2 assists, 1.5 steals and 28.6 minutes per game ... 39.5 FG%, 36.7 3FG%, 80.4 FT% ... Logged 19 games in double figures, one game scoring 20+ ... Led the team in steals, nabbing 41 of them ... Had 25 steals in conference-only games, sixth-best in the SEC ... Finished 14th in the SEC in steals per game ... Tallied three or more steals in four games ... Dished four or more assists in four games ... Held UConn star Christyn Williams to just 16 points in her return to Arkansas ... Routinely guarded wings much bigger than her, including Rhyne Howard and Aijha Blackwell ... Brought the Hogs back on the road at Auburn, scoring nine straight in the fourth quarter ... Scored 16 points against Texas A&M at home ... Scored season-high 21 points against Maryland in the Gulf Coast Showcase ... Nearly double-doubled in the regular season finale, scoring 15 points and grabbing nine rebounds against Alabama ... Scored 11 points in Arkansas' historic win versus UConn ... Went for 11 points on 3-5 shooting in her NCAA Tournament debut against Wright State.

AS A FRESHMAN (2019-20)

Made an instant impact as a true freshman, starting all 32 games for the Razorbacks ... Averaged 9.3 points, 2.4 assists, 1.4 steals and 22.5 minutes per game ... 49.5 FG%, 44.6 3FG%, 77.9 FT% ... Finished with 12 games in double figures, two games with 20+ ... Went for 27 points against Oral Roberts, shooting 8-of-11 in that game, including 6-7 from 3-point ... That was the most points by an Arkansas freshman since 2014 ... Had 21 points in just 25 minutes two games later against Belmont ... Nabbed a career-high five steals in Arkansas' win over Kansas State ... Went for 19 points and four steals against Florida ... Played hero in Arkansas' dramatic win over Texas A&M in the SEC Tournament quarterfinal, leading the team in scoring (13 points) while guarding All SEC guard Chennedy Carter ... Averaged 7.9 points, 2.1 rebounds, 2.5 assists and 1.3 steals per game in SEC play... Her four games with 4+ steals is the most on the team ... Dished four or more assists seven times during her freshman season.

PRIOR TO ARKANSAS

Named Maryland's Miss Basketball following her senior season at Frederick High School, averaging 21.4 points per game ... All-time leading scorer (boy or girl) for the Cadets ... Earned Maryland Basketball Coaches Association All-State First-Team honors as a junior ... Paced the Cadets to the Class 3A state title as a sophomore and junior ... Scored 47 points in the championship game as a sophomore ... Dropped 29 points and grabbed 10 rebounds in the final game in 2018 ... Scout's Take: "Skilled floor-leader with combo-game ... Confident, handles in transition, reads pressure and executes ... Reads spacing in half-court game, delivers off the dribble in mid-range game to the arc ... Leadership qualities, toughness." ... Chose Arkansas over Iowa, Iowa State, Texas Tech, Marshall, Delaware, Richmond and Saint Joseph's.

SASHA GOFORTH - R-JR. - 13 - G - FAYETTEVILLE, ARKANSAS

TELL A FRIEND TO TELL A FRIEND... SHE'S BAAAAACKKKK!!!!!

Razorback women's basketball fans were overwhelmed with joy on Saturday, April 22 when Sasha Goforth announced on social media she would be making a return to the hardwood. After spending her Pac-12 All-Freshman Team year at Oregon State in 2020-21, Goforth transferred to Arkansas, making her return home to Fayetteville. During that 2021-22 season with the Hogs, Goforth made a statement, being the only Hog to start in 32 games and averaged 11.5 points, 4.8 rebounds and 2.1 blocks per game, while being given some of the toughest defensive assignments. Her 66 blocks is also the third best in a single season by a Hog, only trailing elite shot blockers in Delmonica DeHorney and Lauren Ervin. Amid the success on the court as a sophomore, Goforth was struggling internally, as the side effects of the gastroparesis she has been dealing with since her junior year of high school were intensifying with stress and anxiety. Deciding to step away from basketball last season was exactly what Goforth said she needed. She was able to see the game from a different perspective on the bench and was still one of the top film watchers on the team. After a year off from the game, Goforth is ready to come back stronger than ever both physically and mentally to help the Hogs on both sides of the ball.

Made an immediate impact in her first season home ... The only Hog to start all 32 games ... Averaged 11.5 points, 4.8 rebounds, 2.1 blocks, 1.4 assists and 29.3 minutes per game ... 43.6 FG%, 29.9 3FG%, 60.6 FT% ... Tallied 21 games in double figures, one game with 20+ ... Was a shot blocking machine during her first season on the Hill, rejecting a whopping 66 shots ... That mark is the third best mark in program history, trailing only legendary Hog post players Delmonica DeHorney and Lauren Ervin ... Her 2.1 BPG average was good for fourth in the SEC, trailing only Tamari Key, Aliyah Boston and Jenna Staiti, all post players ... Blocked 3+ shots in 11 games ... Helped Arkansas lock up its NCAA Tournament spot, dropping in a season-high 20 points at Mississippi State ... Had 11 points and five blocks in Arkansas' OT win over Mizzou in the SEC Tournament ... Hit the decisive three against Jackson State in Arkansas' 66-62 win ... Dropped in 18 in Arkansas' comeback win at Missouri ... Double-doubled against Mississippi State at home, going for 13 points and 12 boards ... Helped Arkansas hold off Auburn while missing three starters, scoring 16 points and grabbing five rebounds.

AT OREGON STATE (2020-21)
Started every game during her freshman season ... Averaged 11.6 points and 3.6 rebounds per game ... Was the Beavers' third-leading scorer ... Dished 34 assists ... Shot 36 percent from beyond the three-point arc ... Had 19 blocked shots and 15 steals on the defensive side of the ball ... Had two 20+ point games ... Notched her first-career double-double against Utah ... As a result of those numbers, Goforth earned Pac-12 All-Freshman honors following the 2020-21 season.

HIGH SCHOOL
A highly touted high school recruit, who played her high school ball at Fayetteville High School under Vic Rimmer and her club ball for Nate Sadler, Lee Shannon and Brian Morgan with the Arkansas Banshees ... Rated as the No. 7 player in the nation according to Blue Star Basketball at the time of her signing ... ESPN's No. 21 overall player in the class of 2020 ... Three-time All-Arkansas honoree and was the Arkansas Gatorade Player of the Year in 2019 ... McDonald's All-American and Jordan Brand Classic Invitee ... One of six girls in the nation to earn an invite to the exclusive Under Armour SC30 Select Camp.

SAMARA SPENCER - JR. - 2 - G - FORT LAUDERDALE, FLORIDA

SUNSHINE STATE STUD

After being named the 2022 SEC Freshman of the Year, Samara Spencer's second year on the court was far from being characterized as a sophomore slump. The Florida product led the team in assists with 154, seventh most in a single season in school history, as well as finished second on the team in scoring with 14.4 points per game. She logged 27 double-digit scoring games, eight 20+-point performances, a 30+-point game and two double-doubles in points and assists during her sophomore year. Spencer has enjoyed several memorable moments in a Hog uniform, which include 32 points against Oral Roberts on her birthday, an and-1 vs. Missouri in the SEC Tournament that gave the Hogs the lead for good with three minutes left in game, among several others. Undoubtedly one of the most fearless players you'll find on the court, Spencer will make you pay in a myriad of ways with tremendous speed to beat any defender to the rack, the ability to shoot from logo range, great court vision to feed her teammates and intensity on defense. Pacing the Hogs in postseason play, Spencer averaged 15.8 points and 4.0 assists per game during the Postseason WNIT. Expect more scoring, dime dropping, energy and leadership from Spencer in year No. 3 on the court.

EMRIE ELLIS - JR. - 55 - F - VANOSS, OKLAHOMA

SECRET WEAPON

Emrie Ellis will do whatever the team needs her to do with no complaints. Most of the year last season, Ellis was the ninth player in the rotation, a tough place to be in a lineup. But Ellis, never complained and always made the most of her time on the court, logging more minutes late in the season with 14.2 minutes per game across the last 13 contests. Ellis rose up to the occasion when she had more time on the court, as she played a lot as a true freshman with over 10 minutes per game and 22 total blocks. A versatile post player, Ellis can shoot the 3-pointer, block, rebound and make it tough for players to grab offensive boards. The Southeast Oklahoma product has shown all of what she is capable of since her high school playing days, and we can expect her to stuff the statsheet with every opportunity she has on the court.

SAYLOR POFFENBARGER - R-SO. - 14 - G - MIDDLETOWN, MARYLAND

SHE'S POFFEN OFF

Hog fans were highly anticipating the first step Saylor Poffenbarger would make on the court last season, and she did not disappoint. As a third-year freshman last year, Poffenbarger started in all 37 games and broke the single-season defensive rebound record and finished second in single-season rebounds. Poffenbarger was named to the SEC All-Freshman Team and broke a school record for SEC Freshman of the Week titles after acquiring five. With four double-doubles, once Poffenbarger gets going on the offensive end, she has the potential to put up triple-double type numbers every game. Poffenbarger is as versatile as they come and play and defend all five positions on the court. An underrated part to her game, Poffenbarger was one of the best defensive players in the league, often being assigned to guard the opposing team's best scorer and excelling each time. In a press conference, Mike Neighbors noted how Poffenbarger was one of the most freshman-ready players he's ever coached, putting her alongside Kelsey Plum. Poffenbarger's athleticism and work ethic will take her far, as she continues to be one of the key pieces to the team going into her redshirt sophomore year.

MARYAM DAUDA - R-SO. - 30 - F - BENTONVILLE, ARKANSAS

NEVER A DAUDA

The potential Maryam Dauda has is outrageous. We saw glimpses of that during her redshirt freshman season and the year post surgery from her ACL injury she suffered during her senior year of high school. Dauda's confidence has now started to grow, and you can see that clearly in practice. With great size and athletic ability, Dauda has a killer turnaround jump shot. Once she continues to knock those down consistently in games, it's over for the opposing teams. Dauda also has great shot blocking ability, is hard to beat off the glass and can drain shots from beyond the arc. Last season, Dauda finished with four double-digit scoring games, 22 total blocks and the second most offensive rebounds on the team. Dauda will be relied on more down low, and with her confidence continuing to rise, she has the ability to be regarded as a top post player in the SEC.

KARLEY JOHNSON - SO. - 20 - G - MUSTANG, OKALHOMA

20/20 VISION

Karley Johnson was the lone signee in her class and came into Fayetteville just wanting to do whatever she could to help her team. Johnson was recruited by Arkansas since she was in eighth grade, and the trust and confidence the coaches put in her since that time was a big reason why she made Fayetteville home. Playing a big role on the scout team and bench last season, Johnson made 10 game appearances, showing great court vision by feeding her teammates the ball and locking in on defense with three steals. Another great role player on the team, Johnson is also known for taking charges, finishing No. 2 in that category in the State of Oklahoma as a senior in high school.

LOREN LINDSEY - SO. - 21 - G - FAYETTEVILLE, ARKANSAS

CAN I GET A HOG YEAH?!

Born and raised in Fayetteville and being that her father, grandfather, uncle and cousins all played football at Arkansas, Loren Lindsey always knew she was going to be a Hog. Leading into her freshman year, Lindsey was offered a spot on the team as a walk–on. It was always her dream to play college basketball, yet alone for the Hogs, so she didn't flinch at the opportunity. Playing in nine games last season, Lindsey played a big contributor on the scout team as a freshman. Lindsey was a talented player out of Fayetteville High School, being tabbed to the All–Conference 6A West All–Defensive Team and leading her team to the state semifinals as a sophomore.

CARLY KEATS - SO. - 23 - G - CHOCTAW, MISSISSIPPI

THE ULTIMATE COMPETITOR

When you see Carly Keats on the court (or on the field playing stickball for her tribe), just know she will do whatever it takes for her team to win. She's quick, can shoot the ball extremely well and her competitive spirit is shown in how aggressive she is on both sides of the ball. When watching Keats, Hog fans can see a mix of Amber Ramirez and Alexis Tolefree in her game. Keats has a year of collegiate basketball under her belt after spending her freshman year at the junior college level at Jones College, where she was named to the All–Region 23 Team, averaging 9.7 points, 3.7 rebounds and 3.5 assists per game with 55 total 3–pointers. As a senior in high school, Keats led Neshoba Central High School to an unblemished 33–0 record and 5A State Championship in Mississippi, averaging 14.2 points and 4.0 assists per game. Keats got a groove with the Arkansas system in just her first week of summer practices and will make an impact on the court for the Hogs from the jump at the point guard spot and off the ball.

CARLY KEATS - SO. - 23 - G - CHOCTAW, MISSISSIPPI

AT JONES COLLEGE (2022-23)
Named to the All-Region 23 Team ... Started in 28 of 30 games for the Bobcats as a freshman, playing 27.6 minutes per game ... Made 55 triples for a 34.8 percentage from beyond the arc ... Averaged 9.7 points, 3.7 rebounds and 3.5 assists per game ... Logged a season-high 21 points off 8-of-15 shooting from the field, 4-of-9 from beyond the arc, vs. Gulf Coast ... Recorded a near double-double vs. Copiah-Lincoln with 16 points and nine assists ... Pulled down eight boards vs. Chipola ... Logged double digits in scoring in 15 games ... Dished out 5+ assists in six contests ... Led Jones to its seventh straight region crown and punched a ticket to the NJCAA Division I Tournament, logging 11 points in the win vs. Pearl River ... Finished the year with a 26-4 record and a trip to the Elite 8 ... Played for head coach Missy Bilderback.

AT NESHOBA CENTRAL HS
Played for head coach Jason Broom, leading the Rockets to a perfect 33-0 record and a 5A State Championship in Mississippi ... As a senior, averaged 14.2 points and 4.0 assists per game ... Logged 13.9 points per game on 54 percent shooting with 3.0 assists per game as a junior ... All-Region 3-5A selection ... A 2021 Clarion-Ledger Dandy Dozen choice ... MVP of the Mississippi/Alabama All-Star Game ... Holds MS/AL record in 3-pointers made ... Qualified for the NABI Finals with her team the Native Soldiers.

- Favorite WNBA and NBA teams: Phoenix Mercury and Phoenix Suns
- Loves action and horror movies

MARYN ARCHER - FR. - 44 - G - DERBY, KANSAS

THE ARCHER

When Mike Neighbors described the kind of player Maryn Archer is when she signed, he brought up her highlight video, in how it was filmed on her driveway against her brother with no music. It was different, just like the type of player she is. Archer is a student of the game and enrolled early in January to get fully immersed into the system. Often tasked with being the opposing team's best point guard on scout team, Archer did everything she could to help the team as soon as she stepped foot on campus. Now ready to take the floor, Archer can drive the ball and has a strong mid-range game. At the Run 4 Roses Tournament, she dropped 31 points on national TV and was regarded as the No. 29 player in the country at the time of her signing, according to Prep Girls. As a junior at Derby High School, Archer logged 10.0 points, 4.6 assists and 2.8 steals per game.

MARYN ARCHER - FR. - 44 - G - DERBY, KANSAS

AS A FRESHMAN (2022-23)
Enrolled early in January.

PRIOR TO ARKANSAS
Prep Girls listed her as the 29th-ranked player in the nation ... Blue Star ranked her as the No. 75th-ranked player nationally ... Voted to the Run 4 Roses All-Tournament First Team, dropping 31 points on just 11 shots to lead her AAU team, SW Elite, to the championship game in Louisville ... Also won the Run 4 Roses Championship game in 2022 ... Played on two different high school teams, leading those squads to state during her freshman and junior seasons ... Paced Derby High School in assists and steals amid her junior year, logging 10.0 points, 3.5 rebounds, 4.6 assists and 2.8 steals per game ... Awarded the DerbyInformer.com Female Comeback Player of the Year in March 2022 ... Took Derby HS to the 6A Semifinals before the COVID-19 pandemic cancelled the season ... Was a force during her freshman year, averaging 13.2 points and 3.8 boards per game.

- Favorite player is Kelsey Plum and she loves the Las Vegas Aces

JENNA LAWRENCE - FR. - 34 - F - FARMINGTON, ARKANSAS

JENNA FROM THE BLOCK

The Hogs picked up a winner out of local Farmington product Jenna Lawrence. With over 100 wins compared to six losses and coming off winning the 4A girls state championship MVP with Farmington High School, Lawrence knows a thing or two about winning. She can flat out play, too. Her biggest strength is her shooting, knocking down 99 triples for 41 percent as a senior. We saw more of a glimpse of her shooting ability in Europe when she led the team in 3-pointers. But really, Lawrence can do it all: defend, rebound and dribble up the court when needed. Lawrence is coming into her freshman year having been ranked a four-star and No. 61 player in the country, according to ESPNW HoopGulrz Recruiting Rankings. A McDonald's All-American nominee, Lawrence averaged 18.7 points, 7.0 rebounds and 1.5 blocks per game to earn the Arkansas Democrat Gazette Player of the Year. Lawrence eclipsed 2,000 points and 1,000 rebounds as well, and will bring her winning ways to the floor for the Hogs.

The Razorbacks have added some international flavor to its roster with the addition of Cristina Sanchez Cerqueira. She is just the seventh international player and second ever Spaniard to rock a Hog uniform and brings all the qualities the team looks for in a player. Sanchez Cerqueira shows great length and athleticism and has accumulated a high level of international experience playing with the Spanish National Team. She is coming off playing in the FIBA U18 3x3 World Cup in Hungary and European Youth Olympic Festival 3x3 in Slovenia. An overall player, Sanchez Cerqueira can stuff the stat sheet, playing 26 games with Segle XXI this past year, averaging 6.4 points, 5.4 rebounds and 1.3 steals per game. A terrific rebounder, Sanchez Cerqueira was the best at pulling down the boards with the U14 nationals club cup and won gold and silver medals at the Andalucians Cup U14.

BURGER GIRL

A walking bucket is on the loose in Fayetteville, and her name is Taliah Scott. Leading the country in scoring most of her senior season, Scott averaged 36.2 points, 9.2 rebounds, 4.8 assists and 3.0 steals per game for St. Johns Country Day. She also dropped a casual 47 points in her final high school game at the state semifinals. Scott was the 11th-ranked recruit in the country, according to the HoopGurlz Recruiting Rankings, a McDonald's All-American, the fourth current Hog to do so, and the Florida Gatorade Player of the Year. Awards and accolades aside, Coach Mike Neighbors' system and how Scott likes to play is a perfect fit. She plays fast and likes to create for herself and her teammates. Scott will be as freshman ready as they come and bring that elite scoring, ability to defend and the willingness to take charges. Once she sees one basket fall in, it's good night for her defender. Hog fans will love what they see out of No. 0.

586 overall wins. 504 NCAA Division I wins. 218 wins as an NCAA Head Coach. In his 25th season as a collegiate basketball coach, Mike Neighbors has made, and continues to make, a positive impact on the game, while winning a lot of games in the process. Thanks to Neighbors' leadership, Arkansas women's basketball has been transformed into a nationally recognized program in just six short years. During his time back home at his alma mater, Neighbors has guided his Hogs to the best six-year period of sustained success in program history with 120 wins and five postseason qualifications. The proof of his success, and the success of his system, lies in the numbers, as his accumulated 218 wins during his 10 seasons as a head coach, the most of any Power 5 head coaches in 10 or fewer seasons, as well as one of only two NCAA Division I Head Coaches.

Entering his seventh season on the bench for Arkansas, the program is coming off its fifth consecutive winning season, four straight postseason appearance (would be five had the 2020 NCAA Tournament not been cancelled due to the COVID-19 pandemic) and third 20+ win season in the Neighbors' era.

In 2022-23, the Hogs started out the season 13-0, which was tied for the second-best start in program history. Going into Mid-December, the Hogs were ranked as high at No. 17 in the AP Poll. The Hogs won another SEC Tournament game in comeback fashion versus Missouri to make it to the quarterfinals and hold the best winning percentage in the SEC Tournament among all coaches in Arkansas history with an 8-6 record. Continuing into postseason, Arkansas became the automatic bid out of the SEC to the Postseason WNIT, making it to the Great 8, while being able to host three of its four games at Bud Walton Arena. Neighbors led the Hogs to two All-SEC selections, including Second Team choice Erynn Barnum, who was also on the Midseason Top 10 List for the Katrina McClain Award, as well as All-Freshman selection Saylor Poffenbarger, who broke a school record for five SEC Freshman of the Week accolades. The Hogs finished the season with 24 wins, which tied for the most in the Neighbors' era and matched the fourth most in a single season in program history. Four Hogs averaged double digits in scoring, the most in the Southeastern Conference, led by Barnum (15.0), Samara Spencer (14.4), Makayla Daniels (13.2) and Chrissy Carr (11.8).

The Hogs' NCAA Tournament appearance in 2022 marked the first time since 2003 the program had played in back-to-back NCAA Tournaments (2002 and 2003). Arkansas finished yet another season with one of the most prolific offenses in the SEC, leading the league in 3-pointers per game (8.1) and 3-point attempts (810), while finishing second in scoring offense (73.6 PPG). Neighbors' 2021-22 team was efficient at taking care of the basketball, leading the league in assist/turnover ratio (1.12) and fewest turnovers per game (11.1), which was fourth in the country. The Hogs were just one of six teams in the nation to commit two turnovers in a game (vs. Missouri on Jan. 9, 2022), which led the country. Under Neighbors' leadership, Spencer became the first Hog to win SEC Freshman of the Year since 2009, while Amber Ramirez was named an All-SEC Second Team choice and Jersey Wolfenbarger was tabbed to the SEC All-Freshman Team with Spencer.

The Hogs have been transformed into a winner in the SEC thanks to Neighbors' watchful eye. His 2020-21 team helped cement that, as the Razorbacks finished 9-6 in the league, the first time in program history with back-to-back winning seasons in the league since joining the SEC in 1991. Neighbors' 2020-21 squad was also at its best when the competition was at its most fierce - becoming the first Razorback squad to beat two top-five teams in the same season, as Arkansas defeated both No. 4 Baylor and No. 3 UConn. Their win against Baylor was the first top-five win for the program since 2003, and its first win against a defending national champion since 1996. Neighbors' Hogs accomplished all this in the midst of the COVID-19 pandemic, and during the regular season, played in 26 games, the most in the NCAA. That was not by accident - Neighbors and his staff went the extra mile in how they traveled, practiced and managed their team on gameday. The season culminated with the program's first trip to the NCAA Tournament since 2015, and if not for the COVID-19 pandemic, it would have been the first back-to-back appearances for the program since the 2002 and 2003 NCAA Tournaments.

Neighbors' functionally fast offensive system continued to hum along during the 2020-21 campaign, as Arkansas finished fourth in the NCAA in scoring offense, pouring in 82.3 points per game. The Razorback attack was powered by its three main principles - getting to the free throw line, hitting 3-pointers and not turning the ball over. The Hogs were elite in all three areas, as Neighbors' 2020-21 squad was second in the nation in free throws made (468) and seventh in 3-pointers made (267), while finishing third in fewest turnovers per game (10.8). There was perhaps no better example of the knockout power of an offense designed to give Arkansas a puncher's chance than the Hogs' 90-87 upset over UConn. Arkansas' 90-point outburst was the most points surrendered by a UConn team since 2001, while the Hogs' 52 percent mark from the field in the game was the best by a team who played the Huskies since 2011.

The Hog offense was piloted by a three-headed monster at the guard position, as Neighbors got the most out of Chelsea Dungee, Ramirez and grad transfer Destiny Slocum. For Dungee, the 2020-21 season is among the greatest ever put to hardwood by a Razorback women's basketball player. She flourished as the "Dragon" in Neighbors' system, averaging 22.3 points per game, the second best single-season mark in program history, while also finishing her career with 2,147 points, the highest collegiate total by any Arkansas women's basketball player ever (includes her points from her freshman year at Oklahoma). Dungee was showered with accolades following the season, including a spot on the WBCA's 10-person All-America Team and both the AP All-American Team (Third Team) and the U.S. Basketball Writers Association All-American Team (Third Team). She also earned a spot on the All-SEC First Team. Ramirez, meanwhile, continued her rise during her second season on the Hill, leading the squad in both 3-pointers made (77) and 3-point percentage (43.5). The sharpshooter averaged 13.5 points per game during her second season on the Hill. As for Slocum, she fit right in during her lone season at Arkansas, playing both lead guard and off the ball. She finished 14th in the SEC in scoring (15.0) while also leading the Hogs in assists (106). Slocum, despite playing in a completely new system, was named a WBCA All-American Honorable Mention and Second Team All-SEC.

Neighbors is no stranger to elite talent, though, and has developed a reputation as a coach that prepares players for the next level as a head coach. The Head Hog had three players he coached drafted in the 2021 WNBA Draft – Dungee, who went fifth to the Dallas Wings, matching the highest Razorback selection in program history; Slocum, who went 14th to the Las Vegas Aces; and Arizona guard and NCAA Tournament star Aari McDonald – a player Neighbors recruited and coached at the University of Washington – who was drafted third overall to the Atlanta Dream. He also had three of his players at Washington drafted into the WNBA over a four-year period, highlighted by Kelsey Plum, who was the No. 1 Overall Pick in the 2017 WNBA Draft. Plum's college resume is one of the greatest in the history of the sport, as she became the NCAA's all-time leading scorer and swept all 10 of College Basketball's National Player of the Year awards in 2017. Former Hog assistant coach Chantel Osahor (21st overall in 2017) and Talia Walton (29th overall in 2016) were also drafted into the league following their collegiate playing days under Neighbors. Coach Neighbors' six players drafted in his 10 years as a head coach is the most by any NCAA Division I head coach that has headed a program for 10 or fewer years.

Amber Harris and Ta'Shia Phillips, who Neighbors helped coach during his time at Xavier, were both also drafted into the WNBA. Harris was selected fourth overall by the Minnesota Lynx back in 2011, while Phillips was picked eighth in that same draft. Six of those eight players were WBCA All-Americans: Phillips in 2009, 2010 and 2011, Harris in 2010 and 2011, Plum in 2016 and 2017, Osahor in 2017, McDonald in 2019 and 2020 and Dungee in 2020.

During his third season as the head coach at Arkansas, Neighbors put together the best year for the Hogs ever in the SEC, as his 2019-20 Hogs became the only squad to ever win 12 games in the SEC between the regular season and the conference tournament. The 2019-20 team was also one of just two teams to ever win 10 games in the league, while also becoming one of just four Razorback teams in the SEC era to finish above .500 in conference play. With their 10-6 record in 2020, the Hogs finished tied for third place in the conference, the best-ever conference finish for the program. If not for the shortened season, Neighbors would have guided his Hogs back to the NCAA Tournament. The Hogs would instead finish their season at the SEC Tournament, where they would once again make history. In their first game, the Hogs matched their own program record, and broke the SEC Tournament record, for 3-pointers in a game, hitting 17 of them against Auburn. They would then stun No. 15 Texas A&M for the second year in a row, storming back from 17 down to beat the Aggies, 67-66. That year, the squad was led by All-SEC First Team and WBCA All-American Honorable Mention choice, All-SEC Second Team selection Dungee (16.9 PPG), as well as Ramirez (14.7 PPG).

Neighbors' second season at the helm was one of the most dynamic seasons in program history, as his 2018-19 Hogs became one of just four Razorback squads at the time since the turn of the century to win at least 22 games. The group capped off the season with an unprecedented run through the SEC Tournament, advancing to the Championship Game after reeling off wins against Georgia, No. 12 South Carolina and No. 15 Texas A&M. Their win against A&M was one of the most shocking in the history of the women's basketball program, as the Hogs went on a 17-0 over the final 6:30 of the game to complete the 16-point comeback. Although the 2018-19 team would narrowly miss the NCAA Tournament following the program's first-ever appearance in the SEC Title Game, Neighbors' team earned a bid in the 2019 WNIT, where they would beat Houston and UAB before falling to TCU in round three.

Prior to his homecoming, Neighbors guided Washington to four seasons of unprecedented success, highlighted by the 2016 NCAA Final Four and two NCAA Sweet 16 appearances. Named the program's head coach after two years as an assistant, Neighbors led the Huskies to a 98-41 record that was fueled by three consecutive 23-plus win seasons and included four postseason tournament appearances (3 NCAA and 1 WNIT). His stellar work with the Huskies didn't go unnoticed, as Neighbors was a Werner Ladder Naismith National Coach of the Year Semifinalist in 2017.

Before his time in Seattle, Neighbors was hired by then head coach Kevin McGuff at Xavier in time for the 2007-08 season, using his time with the Musketeers to learn from McGuff about being the head coach. During his tenure at Xavier, Neighbors was a part of a staff that compiled a 108-22 record, captured three A-10 Tournament Championships, earned three A-10 Regular Season Championships and competed in four straight NCAA Tournaments. For his efforts, Neighbors was selected as one of the best assistant coaches in the country, becoming one of five recipients for the BasketballScoop.com and ONS Performance Rising Star award in 2009. In what was the pair's best season together in 2009, Neighbors' and McGuff's Musketeers posted a 30-4 record, including a flawless 14-0 season in A-10 Conference play before advancing to the Elite Eight and narrowly falling to national runner-up Stanford. Xavier ended that season ranked No. 5 in the polls, the best final ranking in program history and the best finish by a mid-major team in the polls that century.

A big part of the reason for Xavier's success was due to the program's ability to recruit – an effort that was greatly aided by Neighbors' presence. While in Cincinnati, Neighbors landed four McDonald's All-Americans – Harris, Phillips, Amber Gray and Dee Dee Jernigan.

Following his graduation from the University of Arkansas, Neighbors went on to coach in the high school ranks as he coached at both Cabot and Bentonville High School. His Bentonville team completed a historic turnaround under his watchful eye: his first team finished 1-24, but by year three, the team reached the state finals.

Following his run as a high school coach, Neighbors became the director of basketball operations for the Razorbacks, serving under legendary coach Gary Blair, who won the NCAA Championship in 2011 with Texas A&M. Neighbors also spent time as an assistant coach on Kathy McConnell-Miller's staff at Tulsa and Colorado, before returning to Arkansas as an assistant under Susie Gardner.

A native of Greenwood, Arkansas, Neighbors received his associate degree at the University of Arkansas - Fort Smith and his bachelor's degree from the UofA in 1993.

Neighbors is married to Jayci Stone. He has four children, a daughter, Abby and three sons, Alec, Bowen and Barrett, as well as a grandaughter Emzey.

TODD SCHAEFER

Associate Head Coach

Seventh Season; Thomas More College, 1995

Todd Schaefer, and all he brings to the table for the Razorbacks, continues to lead to team success as he approaches his seventh year on staff in 2023-24. His impact on the Arkansas women's basketball program has been felt from the moment he was hired and was rewarded with his promotion to associate head coach on July 30, 2019.

"None of our success would have been possible without Todd Schaefer being with us," head coach Mike Neighbors said. "Coach Todd has helped shape our identity on the court and has reinforced our culture off of it. He has had a major impact on every aspect of our program. The title associate head coach implies various things from program to program, but in ours, it displays the highest level of trust and talent. It is evidence that he has earned the confidence of coaches and players alike. The title here has been earned and is well deserved. He has been, and will continue to be, a highly sought-after head coach. We are thankful he, Lisa, Landon, Will and Jake have made Northwest Arkansas their home to help us build pride around our women's basketball program. Todd and I have successfully busted the myth that you can't hire friends in this profession. After being friends for 19 years before working together, we continue to challenge each other daily to make sure we are getting it right, rather than focusing on who is right."

The promotion of Schaefer came after two seasons at Arkansas and three seasons serving as Neighbors' right hand. Since his promotion, Schaefer has helped Neighbors guide the Hogs to unprecedented heights. Arkansas is coming off its fifth straight postseason qualification with the team's trip to the Postseason WNIT Great 8, which was also a season that ended in 24 wins to tie for the most in the Neighbors' era and fourth most in school history. Before that, the 2021-22 and 2020-21 squads earned back-to-back NCAA Tournament appearances for the first time since the 2002 and 2003 teams (would be three consecutive if it weren't for the COVID-19 pandemic in 2020). Additionally, the 2019-20 and 2020-21 teams became the first Arkansas squads to produce back-to-back winning seasons in the best women's basketball conference in the country, the Southeastern Conference.

"I strongly believe in what we are doing here," Schaefer said. "I believe in our on-court philosophy. But more than that, I believe in the culture of trust between coaches and players we have built here at Arkansas. It's really unique in this day and age, and it's something I embrace. I love working in this office and for this program."

Schaefer has become the go-to guy on Neighbors' staff, helping with any and all aspects of the program, including scouting, recruiting, scheduling and administration. However, Schaefer is most well-known for his ability to develop talent, and the ways he uses player feedback and creative workouts to get the most out of those he coaches. Schaefer, who grew up playing football, had to learn to play the game of basketball at a different level than more natural athletes in order to compete with them on the hardwood. That ability to learn in his playing days, along with his longevity in the sport, has translated into an unparalleled ability to teach the game that he loves.

"Todd is unbelievable at developing talent," assistant coach Pauline Love said. "He knows every mechanical detail, every drill, by heart. He is a genius in this game. He is smart to the point where he seems to have an answer for everything. And, if he doesn't, you know he will do whatever it takes to figure it out."

Schaefer combines his intellect and the trust players have in him into results. All you have to do to see those results is look at some of the players he has helped mold during his time at Arkansas, Washington and Ole Miss. During his tenure at Arkansas, the player development guru helped unlock Chelsea Dungee's game – the high-scoring guard became a legend during her three years on campus, culminating with a spot on the AP's All-American Team, the WBCA All-American Team and her selection by the Dallas Wings at fifth overall in the 2021 WNBA Draft, matching the highest Razorback draft pick in program history. Schaefer was also key in the development of Alexis Tolefree, who came as a JUCO project and left Arkansas as an All-SEC First Team player. While at Washington, Schaefer helped shape Kelsey Plum, who would go on to become the NCAA's all-time leading scorer during Schaefer's one-year tenure with the school. Before that, the Cincinnati, Ohio, native helped build up Ole Miss guard Shandricka Sessom, improving her scoring output from 5.3 points per game as a freshman to 15.6 points per game the following year.

Other coaching stops for Schaefer during his illustrious career include Arkansas State, Cincinnati, Arkansas Tech, Christian Brothers University, Allen County Community College, Western Illinois and Greenbrier High School.

A native of Cincinnati, Schaefer earned his Bachelor of Arts degree in English at Thomas More College in 1995 while working as a student assistant basketball coach and playing on the football team. He and his wife, Lisa, have three sons, Landon, Will and Jake.

PAULINE LOVE

Assistant Coach

Seventh Season; Southern Miss, 2010

In assistant coach Pauline Love, the Hogs have one of the best recruiting coordinators in the country. After her promotion three years ago, the results of her relentless work on the recruiting trail have shown in the turnaround of the Arkansas women's basketball program. In 2023-24, Love is in her seventh year at Arkansas, serving on Mike Neighbors' staff since he took the helm in 2017-18.

"After a two-year long interview and a 10 second negotiation, it was obvious to me that the best candidate for our open position wasn't in the stack of resumes, pages of emailed portfolios or a phone full of text messages," head coach Neighbors said. "She was down the hall and already had keys to the facility. Trust, talent and time are three major pillars of our program, and coincidentally, they happen to be Pauline's three best qualities. She is trusted implicitly by players and coaches. She is uniquely talented in relationship-building and maintaining. She utilizes her time to help better the lives of everyone around her. Her succeeding in her new role will be vital in our program's continued climb toward the top of the SEC."

"The proudest moment of my life is when Mike Neighbors called and offered me the job here," Love said. "I never thought I would get an opportunity to coach at home. I will forever be grateful to Coach Neighbors. He gave me the opportunity of a lifetime."

Love joined Neighbors' staff back when he was initially hired at Arkansas in 2017, coming on as an assistant coach. Her ability to connect with players was the reason she was hired, and her ability to do so successfully has played a key role in developing Neighbors' program on the Hill. Her move to recruiting coordinator has been a stroke of genius from Neighbors, as Love has helped the Razorbacks reel in some of the best recruits in the state of Arkansas during her two-year tenure at the position. These players include current Hogs Maryam Dauda and Taliah Scott, all five-star recruits and McDonald's All-American recipients, as well as in-state prodigy, four-star Jenna Lawrence. Love also plays a key role in post player development and has played a role in Arkansas becoming postseason eligible for five straight years.

"She is valuable because of her knowledge," associate head coach Todd Schaefer said. "Although our student-athletes get more resources than any other student-athletes in any generation, it's still not easy. What I love about Pauline is that nothing has been easy for her, either. So when our players reach out to her, and they are going through something hard, she can speak to them through her own experiences. When she talks to them, it is coming from the heart. And it wasn't that long ago for her, so they know it's real. She's just got an infectious personality. She can talk to and get along with anybody. She's got what Coach calls a 'chameleon personality': she can morph to fit into any situation. She can relate to anyone anywhere. It is truly amazing."

Love has always been magnetic. During her coaching days, she has used her background as a self-made player to connect with players on a deeper level. Prior to returning to her home state seven years ago, Love has made coaching stops at McNeese State and her alma mater, Southern Miss. In four seasons with the Golden Eagles, Love's duties included all aspects of recruiting, assisting in basketball camps, on-the-floor coaching, scouting opponents and film breakdown. While working at McNeese State, Love handled on-campus and off-campus recruiting, social media, marketing, coordination of camps and clinics, scouting, skill development and working with both the guards and post players.

Even during her playing days, Love's magnetism was frequently on display. Her combination of play and personality while in high school was so prominent, it led to her own holiday, as her hometown of Luxora, Arkansas, declared July 15, 2016, as Pauline Love Day. More than that though, Love's magnetism was at work in a simpler way: the ball always found her. And she knew what do to with it once she had it, whether that be at Rivercrest High School, as Jones County Junior College's first NJCAA All-American in nearly a decade or as a star at Southern Miss.

While at Southern Miss, Love was a double-double machine, finishing her career averaging 16.1 points per game and 11.1 rebounds per game. The three-time All-Conference USA First Team performer was especially dominant during her senior season, averaging 18.3 points per game and 12.8 rebounds per game. During that season, Love ranked second in the nation in both rebounds per game and double-doubles (21), while also ranking 33rd in scoring.

Love completely rewrote the Southern Miss record books during her time in school, finishing in the Top-10 in program history in nine different categories, including second in rebounding average (11.1), third in rebounding (1,051), fourth in scoring average (16.6), fifth in field goals made (648) and field goals attempted (1,436), sixth in scoring (1,576), seventh in 3-point goals made (94) and attempted (307) and 10th in minutes played (3,188).

LACEY GOLDWIRE

Assistant Coach

Fifth Season; Oklahoma State, 2010

Head coach Mike Neighbors filled Arkansas' assistant coach vacancy with a familiar face in 2021, as Lacey Goldwire was named to the position on Monday, May 17. This marks Goldwire's second stint on the Hill, as she also served on Neighbors' staff for the first two seasons of his tenure as the head coach at Arkansas (2017-19). The 2023-24 season is Goldwire's fifth year on staff.

"Lacey Goldwire's fingerprints are all over everything successful we've done with this program," Neighbors said. "She impacted our roster, our locker room and our community for two years, and it started from day one. Having her back reunites our original crew that put our blueprint into action. She will seamlessly return and help us knock down the next domino that's in front of us. Lacey will assist me on the defensive side and in opponent scouting. She will team with recruiting coordinator Pauline Love to make sure our story is shared with future prospects. Lacey has touched virtually every aspect inside an SEC program and will be huge in helping us remain relevant among the game's elite."

For Goldwire, the 2022-23 campaign marked her 11th season full-time and her 15th year overall in the coaching profession. Aside from Arkansas, she has also had stops at Oklahoma State, Morehead State, Iowa and Tennessee. She has been part of programs that have earned postseason berths in 12 of those 15 seasons, and would have a 13th if the 2020 NCAA Tournament hadn't been canceled due to the coronavirus (COVID-19) pandemic.

With Arkansas, Goldwire has helped lead the Hogs to three postseason tournament berths and two 20+-win seasons, including in 2022-23, in which Arkansas posted a 24-13 record and made it to the Postseason WNIT Great 8.

During Goldwire's two seasons on Rocky Top, UT forged a combined 38-18 overall mark and 19-10 record in SEC play, notching a pair of third-place league finishes and advancing to the SEC Tournament semifinals in 2021 for the first time since 2016. UT defeated four ranked opponents in 2020-21, including No. 2/3 South Carolina, and earned a No. 3 seed in the NCAA Tournament. The Lady Vols finished 17-8 overall and 9-4 in SEC games, ending the year ranked No. 14 in the AP Poll and 16th in the USA TODAY Coaches Poll.

As previously mentioned, Goldwire came to Knoxville via Fayetteville after two seasons of coaching the Hogs. She played an important role in the Razorback rebuild, as the Hogs went from 13-18 in Neighbors' first season in 2017-18 to 22-15 in 2018-19, including a trip to the SEC Tournament championship game and the WNIT's third round.

Prior to joining Neighbors in Fayetteville, Goldwire contributed to four postseason appearances in as many years at the University of Iowa. She worked with the wing players, helping set the table for a run to the 2019 NCAA Elite Eight.

Her initial season in Iowa City was the team's first back-to-back trips to the NCAA Tournament. A 27-win season included a second-round appearance in the Big Dance in 2013-14. Iowa returned to the NCAA Tournament in 2014-15 and defeated 14th-seeded American (75-67) in the first round and 11th-seeded Miami (88-70) in the second round. The victory secured a Sweet Sixteen berth at home on Mediacom Court in Carver-Hawkeye Arena.

Goldwire spent the 2012-13 season as an assistant coach at Morehead State. Prior to joining the Eagles' staff, Goldwire served on the Oklahoma State staff for four seasons – two as a student assistant (2008-10) and two as a graduate assistant (2010-12).

Following Oklahoma State's tragic loss of its head and assistant coach during a plane crash in November of 2011, Goldwire was elevated to interim assistant coach, where she took on added recruiting duties. During her time with the program, the Cowgirls won 80 games and advanced to the postseason all four years, winning the 2012 WNIT championship.

A native of Oklahoma City, Goldwire played collegiately at East Central (Okla.) University, where she ranks fifth in career scoring with 1,340 points. She averaged 21.1 points and 5.9 rebounds as a senior and was tabbed Lone Star Conference North Co-Player of the Year and Second-Team All-South Central Region. She also earned ECU's Athlete of the Year honor in 2007-08. She was named honorable mention All-LSC following her sophomore and junior campaigns.

Goldwire, an all-state and all-city player at Del City (Okla.) High School, graduated from Oklahoma State with a bachelor of science in education and a master's degree in teaching, learning and leadership in 2010.

AMBER SHIREY

Director of Operations

36th Season; Arkansas, 1992

Head coaches may come and go but Amber Shirey remains a fixture in Arkansas women's basketball.

Shirey has had many roles, from student assistant, graduate assistant, assistant coach and director of operations over the years. In 2014-15, Shirey returned to the role of director of basketball operations for the Razorbacks and has held that position since. She approaches her 31st year on staff, 36th overall with the program.

In her position as director of operations, Shirey handles a variety of duties including travel, budgets and recruiting.

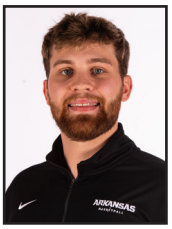

Shirey began her career at Arkansas as a player for the Razorbacks (1989-92) becoming the first women's student-athlete selected to receive a NCAA Postgraduate Scholarship. She closed her career as one of two players in school history to rank on four career total lists (points, 6th; rebounds, 10th; steals, 2nd; assists, 1st). Twice named All-Southwest Conference, she was the MVP of the 1991 SWC tournament, leading Arkansas to the first non-Texas title.

She also equaled her court performance in the classroom. A kinesiology major, she had over a 3.9 GPA, and twice was voted to the College Sports Information Directors of America's Academic All-America Team. Shirey was a three-time conference academic team member.

Shirey graduated and went on to a student coaching role for one season before being named assistant coach, a position she held for 14 seasons with two different head coaches, including the 1997-98 season when Gary Blair's Hogs danced their way to the NCAA Final Four as a No. 9 seed.

In 2007, Shirey redefined herself in a new role as executive director of operations, a position she held until returning to the sidelines as the Razorback assistant.

The former Amber Nicholas is married to Jason Shirey. The Shireys have three children, a son, Ross, and daughters, Reese and Rheid.

EVAN JOHNSTON

SPECIAL ASSISTANT TO THE HEAD COACH/DIRECTOR OF VIDEO

First Season; Arkansas, 2022

Evan Johnston returned back to his alma mater in the summer of 2023 as the newly appointed Special Assistant to the Head Coach/Director of Video for the Arkansas women's basketball team. Having recently completed a season as a graduate assistant with the University of Missouri women's basketball team, Johnston's return to Arkansas is a homecoming filled with promise.

Prior to Johnston's stint at Mizzou, he spent four years working closely with Coach Mike Neighbors as a student assistant/manager. Johnston's contributions to the Razorbacks were invaluable, as he managed various aspects of the team's operations. Johnston's hands-on involvement extended to facilitating drills and scout team activities, managing essential equipment and providing analysis of shot quality and play call metrics. He also shares expertise in video editing and film package production.

Johnston was recognized as the AECT Outstanding Freshman Scholar in May 2019 and later, the AECT Outstanding Senior Scholar in May 2022. Hailing from Charleston, Arkansas, Johnston graduated with a Bachelor of Science in Agricultural Education, complemented by double minors in Agricultural Business and Leadership in 2022.

JAYCI STONE

Director of SA Development

Second Season; Kansas State, 2008

A standout collegiate basketball player turned coach Jayci Stone was hired at Arkansas in the fall of 2022 to help enrich the student-athlete experience. Stone joined the Arkansas women's basketball staff as the director of student-athlete development, and following change of NCAA rules to add a fourth assistant coach to the staff, Stone can coach on the floor starting the 2023-24 season.

Mentorship plays an important role in the student-athlete experience, and the player development piece is key in helping Razorback women's basketball players transition into lives after basketball.

After her collegiate basketball career, Stone transitioned into a coaching role. Prior to her time on the Hill, Stone was an assistant coach at her alma matter, Kansas State, for two seasons. She was responsible for player development, recruiting evaluation and game preparation. During her stint, the Wildcats compiled a 39-28 winning record across two seasons with two postseason appearances.

During the 2018-19 season, the Wildcats finished 21-12, while earning a trip to the NCAA Tournament in the Albany region. K-State tied for fourth in the Big 12 and advanced at least one round in the Big 12 Women's Basketball Championships for the 17th time in program history in 2019. Stone also assisted in the development of All-Big 12 First Team selections, Kayla Goth and Peyton Williams.

Prior to the time spent in her home state, Stone was an assistant coach and recruiting coordinator at Stephen F. Austin. In those two seasons, Stone guided the program to a 43-20 record and an appearance in the 2017 WNIT.

Stone spent the 2014-15 season at Southern Utah. As an assistant coach and recruiting coordinator, she played a huge role in organizing the signings of eight players in the 2015 class.

Before her time out west, Stone wore a lot of hats at TCU during her three seasons, serving as the video coordinator, director of operations and interim assistant coach. During her time in Fort Worth, the Horned Frogs also experienced a nine-win turnaround (18-14) in the program's second season as a member of the Big 12.

Stone also gained coaching experience as an assistant coach at Hutchinson Community College (2009-11), Frank Phillips College (2008-09) and Alaska-Anchorage (2007).

As a player, Stone's career included stops at Colby Community College, New Mexico State and Alaska-Anchorage. Stone wrapped up her playing career at UAA with a stellar senior season averaging 11.2 points, 6.1 rebounds and 2.0 assists per game on a 23-6 team. She was named Great Northwest Athletic Conference Newcomer of the Year and was a Second Team All-Conference choice.

Stone is a graduate of Kansas State, class of 2008, after majoring in social sciences with an emphasis in physical education and history. She attained her master's in liberal arts from TCU in 2013.

Married to Mike Neighbors, the two have two sons, Bowen and Barrett.

WENDI WILLITS

Three–Pointers

Since the introduction of the bonus basketball for women's basketball in 1986, Arkansas has been home for some excellent 3–point shooters throughout the program's history. The pioneer of the 3–ball at Arkansas is Fort Cobb, Oklahoma native, Wendi Willits (1997–01). Willits broke the Arkansas career records of Kimberly Wilson early in her senior year, finishing her career just shy of the old SEC's all–time record held by LSU's Cornelia Gayden (now held by Alexis Rock of Mississippi State). In the SEC, Willits currently ranks tied for fourth in 3–pointers in a game (9), sixth for 3–pointers made in a season (104), fourth for career 3–pointers made (316) and ninth for career 3–point field goal attempts (771). Both prolific and accurate, she is the record holder in career 3–point field goals, as well as No. 3 in attempts and percentage for a career at Arkansas. In 1999, she was top five in the NCAA in both 3–pointers per game and percentage, earning her the Ed Steitz Award as the nation's top female 3–point shooter. Since Willits, Arkansas has had lethal outside shooters, such as Amber Ramirez, Chelsea Dungee, Alexis Tolefree, Chrissy Carr and Jessica Jackson, among others.

AMY WRIGHT

Career Assists and Consecutive Games Played

Recruited from Williamsburg, Indiana to become the next great point guard in Arkansas history, Amy Wright did not disappoint. A starter at the point from her first day at Arkansas, she broke the freshman assist record of her immediate predecessor, Christy Smith, and never looked back. Assists became her passion, and Wright rewrote the Arkansas record books in her four seasons, removing both her coach and Hall of Honor member Amber Nicholas Shirey and Smith from almost all the major records. Her 172 assists as a freshman led Arkansas to the WNIT Championship and was the closest anyone had come to Donna Wilson's 1988 season record. Her junior season, Wright crushed Wilson's mark with 198 to take Arkansas to the second round of the NCAA tournament. By the end of her career, the only assist records Wright was breaking were her own, including 205 her senior season. Closing her career with 717, she has almost 200 more assists than the former career leader Nicholas Shirey. Wright had more double–digit assist games than any other player and became the first player in recorded Razorback history to get the hard double of 10 assists and 10 rebounds (versus Mississippi State as a junior). In her four seasons, she never missed a game, playing 131 consecutive to break Sytia Messer's mark of 128. Of all her statistics, the one that is impressive is being the first point guard at Arkansas to lead her team to four consecutive postseason berths, something current point guard Makayla Daniels has now also accomplished. After closing her playing career with WNBA draft camp, Wright spent one season with Arkansas in marketing before becoming an assistant coach for the 2003–04 season at South Florida and then 10 seasons as an assistant coach at Texas A&M. Wright is currently in her first season at the head coach at Long Beach State.

DELMONICA DEHORNEY

Career Blocked Shots, Field Goal Percentage & Free Throw Attempts

While her mark in the career record book is for blocked shots, Delmonica DeHorney is one of the greatest inside players in Razorback history. She was second only to Bettye Fiscus in points until 2004, and she was the first, and to date the only, Razorback to earn Kodak All–America honors. DeHorney also is the most accurate shooter in school history for a season or career. In fact, she set the season shooting record in three of her four years. A back–to–back SWC Player of the Year, she led the SWC in scoring and Arkansas to consecutive league titles. The SWC Newcomer as a freshman, she was the only player in SWC history to earn three league awards. She shattered the previous blocked shot records and became the career leader after her junior year. In one season, 1989–90, DeHorney had more blocks (83) than all but two players in school history had for their careers. DeHorney went on to play professionally in Japan after completing her four–year career at Arkansas.

Of her 235 career blocks, the three most important in DeHorney's career came in the first half of the Feb. 23, 1990, game at Texas. All three came against UT's star forward Susan Anderson, shutting down the Lady Longhorns' inside game and allowing Arkansas to take a 38–31 halftime lead. UA went on to break UT's 183–game SWC winning streak with the 82–77 win.

TEAM SEC SEASON RECORDS

(Before 1998, the SEC regular season was less than 14 games. The brackets indicate records that were achieved during seasons in which the SEC played less than 14 games [11, 12 or 14]. There were only 15 games played during the 2021 SEC slate.)

SHELLY WALLACE

Career Rebounds

Shelly Wallace's career parallels Arkansas' rise to national prominence, leading the Razorbacks to their first NCAA playoff berth and the 1987 Women's NIT title. Wallace made her biggest record impact with rebounding. She is the only Arkansas women's basketball player to go over the 1,000 mark in rebounds and one of only two in Southwest Conference history. She has gone down as Arkansas' greatest double threat. Wallace was the first -- and one of two all-time -- player to average in double figures in points and rebounds for a season (16.5 PPG, 11.8 RPG in 1987-88). She also is one of only three players to score over 40 points in a game, setting the school record with 44. She left Arkansas having the most 30-plus games (seven) of any player until Chelsea Dungee (2018-21) broke that with 14. Wallace was an honorable mention Kodak All-American as a senior.

BUD WALTON ARENA RECORDS

THE BASKETBALL PALACE OF MID-AMERICA

Arkansas has played in Bud Walton Arena - The Basketball Palace of Mid-America - for 30 years and has defended its home court well with a 325-132 (.711) record since the doors opened.

When Arkansas joined the Southeastern Conference in August of 1990, then-Razorback Athletic Director Frank Broyles knew the athletic facilities had to be upgraded to contend in America's most nationally competitive league. His attention turned immediately to basketball. One day, Bud Walton, co-founder of Walmart, visited Broyles and asked him what Arkansas needed most to be competitive in the SEC.

Broyles mentioned the need for additional basketball seats and was asked by Walton what a new arena would cost. The figure $30 million was discussed and Walton offered to pay half. From that visit, Bud Walton Arena was born. Groundbreaking to grand opening was accomplished in a remarkable 18 months.

Eye-catching displays that were recently updated on the concourse level salute Razorback highlights. Enhancements prior to the 2009 season included the addition of courtside seating, electronic signage at the scorer's table, new retractable seats in the lower level, electronic ribbon boards along the bottom of the upper deck, replacing the Razorback on the court with the classic Razorback logo and opening up the student section by converting it from chairback seats to benches. Eight suites were added prior the 2008 season, raising the total to 47.

A crowd of 8,292 came to support the Razorbacks and Amber Ramirez's Senior Day against Kentucky on Feb. 20, 2022.

The Razorbacks received an expanded locker room in 2013 and includes a lounge with a spacious meeting area. In the summer of 2015, a $4 million investment was made to the arena to maximize fan experience. Fans enjoy a updated center hung video board with four LED displays that gave Bud Walton Arena the largest video display of any basketball facility in the country at the time.

To go along with the visual enhancements, a new sound system was also installed to enhance volume and clarity for every seat in the arena. As captivating as the displays, museum and championship banners are, the aspect of the facility demanding the most attention is spirit. Every game still produces an NCAA Tournament-type atmosphere with the exception of the crowd, which is anything but neutral. According to Rosser International in Atlanta, when the arena was built, there were more seats in less space than in any such facility in the world. It's no wonder the noise level can be absolutely ear-splitting. From pregame to postgame, Bud Walton Arena is perfectly choreographed with the band, the spirit groups, the lighting system, the public address, the scoreboard and the team. Each game at Bud Walton Arena is a rich experience, leaving Razorback fans hungry for more.

Arkansas hosted the 1994 NCAA Midwest Regional during Walton Arena's inaugural season. In 1995, the Razorback women's basketball team hosted all four rounds of the Preseason Women's NIT -- thanks in large part to the excellent accommodations provided by Bud Walton Arena. It all paled in comparison to the 1999 Women's NIT as Arkansas hosted all five rounds of the postseason event, including an all-time UA and then WNIT record 14,163 fans for the championship game versus Wisconsin. The 1999 WNIT semifinals and finals alone saw over 23,000 fans attend the two games, helping the Razorbacks to a new all-time attendance record of 77,001 total fans. Arkansas also hosted four rounds of the 2000 WNIT at Walton, while hosting three during the 2019 and 2023 WNITs.

BARNHILL ARENA RECORDS

A TOUGH PLACE TO PLAY

It seemed appropriate the final basketball event at John Barnhill Arena was a women's basketball game and a women's basketball banquet.

As fate would have it, it was a girls' basketball game back in 1977 that was the first hoops contest played in the newly renovated and expanded home court for Razorback men's and women's basketball.

Betsy Broyles' Fayetteville High team played days before the first men's or women's college game in what would become known as one of the most feared home courts in modern collegiate basketball.

The next year, Betsy would become the first high school recruit to accept a scholarship to play women's basketball at the University.

On Dec. 7, 1993, Betsy and over 30 former letterwinners returned for A Moment in Time, a banquet to honor women's basketball in Barnhill. It was the evening prior to the women's opener in Bud Walton Arena against DePaul.

During the 17 years between her first and most recent appearances in Barnhill, The Barn was the site of many great moments of women's basketball history.
Arkansas was undefeated in its first home season (6–0) and in three subsequent years (1981–82, 1982–83 and 1990–91).

The women's basketball team set its home consecutive win streak at 21 games from 1981 to 1984. That streak was broken with 23 in the early 1990s, and for a brief period of time, Barnhill Arena was the home of the longest active women's home winning streak.

Since the start of the NCAA era in 1982–83, only eight unranked teams managed wins in Barnhill (out of 118 who tried). Some 194 women's varsity collegiate basketball games were played in Barnhill Arena, with the last game a 96–60 win over Oral Roberts on March 1, 1993. The last varsity basketball game played at Barnhill was a women's contest as Arkansas won an exhibition game over the Bulgarian team of Levski Total, 83–81, on Nov. 16, 1993.

The Spirit of Barnhill lives on both at Bud Walton Arena, and at Barnhill. "The Barn" received a new tenant in 1994 with the start of varsity volleyball at Arkansas. Thanks in large part to its home court advantage, the inaugural Razorback volleyball team won the SEC Western Division title providing a new banner for the old rafters. Gymnastics enjoyed a similar Barnhill boost in 2006. With the inaugural senior class, Arkansas upset national powerhouse UCLA to advance to the NCAA Championship at the Barnhill–hosted NCAA South Central Regional.

RAZORBACK HISTORY

EARLY ORIGINS

Women's basketball has been a part of the fabric of the University of Arkansas for almost a century. Teams of female students took to outdoor courts and peach baskets just after the turn of the century. While the women waited until 1976 for the first varsity team to officially represent the University, these early photos show how the game captured what was then deemed "the fairer sex" in action.

THE FIRST TEAM

As the photo at right illustrates, almost since the turn of the century, women have banded together to play basketball at the University of Arkansas. In fact, yearbook references to women's basketball predate men's basketball at Arkansas. There are photographs of at least three teams of women's basketball players prior to 1910. From the 1930s until the late 1950s, some of the nation's best AAU players and teams came from the state of Arkansas. After years of "extramural" women's basketball in the late 1960s and early 1970s at the University, the first varsity Razorback basketball team took the court in Barnhill Arena in 1976–77. Under Coach Sharon Ogle, these Razorbacks established the winning tradition at Arkansas with a 10–6 season. Composed of walk–ons, the 1976–77 team was undefeated in Barnhill Arena (6–0) and set a school record for largest margin of victory that may never be broken – 79 points – with a 108–29 win over Bartlesville Wesleyan. Three walk–ons received aid to become the first scholarship women at Arkansas: Camille Yancey of Marvel, Pat Keck from Rogers and Carol Ann Riggs of Fayetteville.

IN THE BROYLES TRADITION

The next season, the University of Arkansas awarded its first women's athletic scholarship to a freshman recruit. A local basketball star at Fayetteville High, Betsy Broyles, became the first Razorback high school recruit, one of 10 women recruited during the 1977–78 season. Wearing No. 30 for Arkansas, Betsy, daughter of former athletic director Frank Broyles, had her playing career cut short by an injury, but she did letter two seasons at Arkansas.

ARKANSAS' FIRST SUPERSTAR

Wynne, Arkansas' Bettye Fiscus arrived at the University in 1981, and Razorback basketball was never the same in the most positive way possible. Fiscus set the University record for scoring – man or woman – at 2,073 as Arkansas' first All–American. While NBA star Todd Day finally broke Fiscus' scoring mark, she still holds almost all the women's basketball career scoring records. Wearing No. 5, her jersey was the first retired by the University, receiving that honor in 1986.

FIRST NATIONAL CHAMPIONS

A senior–laden Razorback club that had advanced to the NCAA Tournament in 1986 received the snub of the committee in 1987. Behind co–captain guard Tracy Webb, the 1986–87 team wrecked its vengeance on the National Women's Invitational Tournament, sweeping through the postseason tournament to bring home the first team national title for a women's squad at Arkansas. The Razorbacks averaged over 100 points per game for the tournament, crushing California, 112–80, in the championship game.

"DIALING" FOR TROPHIES

Arkansas and the Dial Soap Women's Basketball Classic series had a long, distinguished history. The Dial Classics were the longest–running series in women's hoops. Arkansas had the unofficial distinction of winning more Dial trophies than any team starting in Minnesota. In fact, the Razorbacks played in eight different Dial tournaments in eight seasons, winning trophies in six. This past record combined with increasing promotions led to Arkansas receiving the right to host one of the coveted tournaments, bringing the Dial series to Fayetteville in 1991 (photo below) until the series was disbanded in 1997.

THE SHOTS HEARD 'ROUND THE WORLD

On Feb. 23, 1990, Arkansas ended the longest conference winning streak in NCAA history by defeating the Texas Lady Longhorns, 82–77. The win broke UT's 183–game streak against Southwest Conference foes and cleared the way for the first non–Texas SWC women's basketball titlist. It also ended the nation's longest active home win streak at 47 games. Senior guard Juliet Jackson, who hit six free throws in the closing minute to clinch the game, summed it up best: "We messed up all their streaks." The next week junior center Delmonica DeHorney was named Sports Illustrated Women's College Basketball Player of the Week.

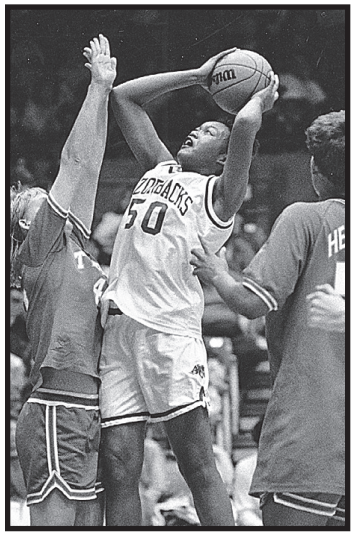

RAZORBACK HISTORY

ONLY SWC WOMEN'S TROPHIES OUTSIDE THE LONE STAR STATE

Arkansas was the first team to beat Texas and the first team to win a share, then later an outright, Southwest Conference Championship besides the Lady Longhorns. In 1991, Arkansas also ended the Lone Star state's dominance of the SWC tournament by defeating Texas Tech for the title. These three trophies–the 1990 and 1991 SWC Championship and 1991 SWC Classic–are the only women's basketball trophies in captivity outside the state of Texas.

DELMONICA DEHORNEY, ALL-AMERICAN

While Delmonica DeHorney may have several notable seconds in her resume – second Razorback player to have her jersey (50) retired, second Razorback to play professional basketball and second all–time leading scorer (1,785) – she claims one of the most significant firsts: the first Kodak All–American at the University of Arkansas. DeHorney also is in the record books as the all–time leader in field goal percentage and blocked shots for a career. Her domination in the paint carried Arkansas to the 1990 NCAA West Regional Finals and to the 1991 NCAA Sweet 16. A two–time SWC Player of the Year, Delmonica is the only women's basketball player in SWC history to earn three all–conference honors and was tabbed SWC Newcomer of the Year as a freshman. DeHorney was inducted into the UA Hall of Honor in 2000.

BARNHILL CROWDS TO REMEMBER

Beginning with the 1989–90 season, the Razorbacks declared W.A.R. (Women's Attendance Record) on a select opponent. The first two W.A.R.s were against Texas and resulted in the two largest crowds at Barnhill for a women's basketball game. Upon entering the SEC, Arkansas had a Border W.A.R. with LSU. W.A.R. IV featured the 24th–ranked Kentucky Lady Kats. Arkansas' feared home crowd worked its Barnhill magic in the last three W.A.R.s. The last two years were particularly dramatic as the Razorback fans rallied Arkansas from halftime deficits.

AN ALL-AMERICAN BY EVERY MEASURE

No other point guard in Arkansas history had a career that can match Newark's Amber Nicholas. In her four years, she never missed a game, playing 117 consecutive games, and she set the record for the most consecutive games started: 87. Nicholas set the school record for career assists, and her steady hand guided Arkansas to the best record of any four–year period in school history. Named the MVP of the 1991 SWC Tournament, Nicholas also earned three Dial MVP awards in consecutive seasons. One of the most beloved Razorbacks, Nicholas also was a two–time selection to the highly prestigious CoSIDA Academic All–America team and received an NCAA Postgraduate Scholarship. She was inducted into the Hall of Honor in 2002 and has served as a member of the basketball staff for 31 years, currently as the Director of Basketball Operations.

THE NATION COMES TO FAYETTEVILLE

At the end of the 1993–94 season, the University of Arkansas Women's Athletics Department hosted the first major NCAA championship event held in the state of Arkansas. The 1994 NCAA Division I Women's Basketball Mideast Regional set marks for regional attendance and hospitality. A true community project, one of the highlights was a street party and battle of the bands on the downtown square called Fayetteville Friday Night for the two teams in Saturday's championship game. Louisiana Tech advanced from Fayetteville to the Final Four with upsets of No. 1–ranked Tennessee and Lisa Leslie's USC Trojans.

A MOMENT IN TIME

As the Razorbacks prepared to move to Bud Walton Arena in December 1993, the Women's Athletics Department held a celebration of 17 years of women's hoops in Barnhill Arena with "A Moment in Time." The banquet held in Barnhill was attended by dozens of former Razorbacks, including three of the four career leaders. A special retrospective video tracing the Razorbacks and their winning tradition in Barnhill was screened as a part of the festivities.

THE CARDIAC KIDS

The 1994–95 season saw the Razorbacks return to the Associated Press Top 25 and the NCAA tournament, posting a 23–7 record. Arkansas did it by winning nine games in the closing minute and three games on last shots, with a team composed mostly of freshmen and sophomores.

A STREAK UNEQUALED

The first freshman recruit to start opening day at point guard for Arkansas, Christy Smith, earned attention for her free throw shooting, 89.9 percent to lead the nation, as well as her tenacious defense in which she led the SEC in steals with 3.0 per game. But on Dec. 6, 1995, Smith took her first step toward a mark that might stand for all time. The 5–6 West Lafayette, Indiana, point guard started that night against Alabama, and did not leave the court against a SEC opponent for the rest of the season. For all 11 regular season games and two SEC tournament games, Smith played 525 consecutive minutes – a feat unequaled by man or woman in the league. The 1995 SEC Freshman of the Year, Smith also became Arkansas' first woman named to the Associated Press All–America team as an honorable mention.

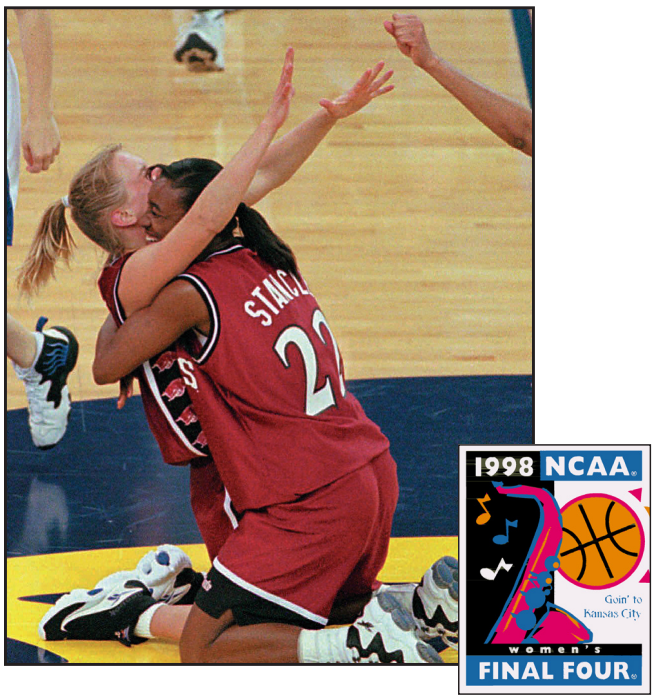

A PRESIDENTIAL VISIT

Usually, the national champion visits the President of the United States in the White House. On Dec. 9, 1996, President Bill Clinton visited the women's basketball team in their locker room during halftime of the men's game against Cincinnati. It may be the first time a sitting President has dropped in to the locker room of a collegiate women's basketball team, and as luck would have it, it was not the last time the Razorbacks posed with the President.

DREAMS DO COME TRUE

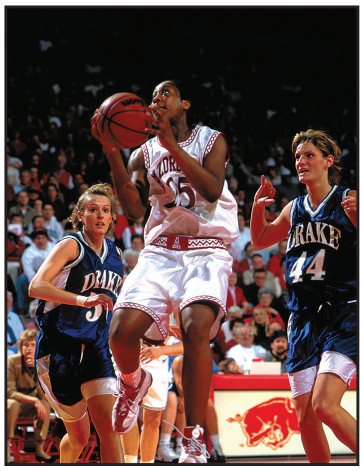

On March 9, 1998, the Razorbacks wanted to get back into the NCAA Tournament. By March 27, 1998, they were in the NCAA Final Four, living the dream they had wished for years. Arkansas made NCAA Tournament history as the lowest seed -- #9 in the West -- to advance to the Final Four. The Razorbacks were the first unranked team in women's basketball history during the modern era to reach the Final Four. Additionally, they were the lowest finishing team in conference play -- tied for sixth in the SEC -- to reach the Final Four. Arkansas did it all on the west coast, spending two whole weeks in the Bay Area. Along the way, the Razorbacks beat four conference champions coming from the WAC, Pacific, Ivy and ACC, as well as three ranked teams in Hawai'i, Kansas and Duke. This all set up Arkansas to face conference rival Tennessee in Kansas City.

Arkansas played all four of its pre–Final Four games on late night TV, earning the nickname of Good Morning America's team. Every member of the team contributed to the run, starting with a 24–point effort by Karyn Karlin in the opening round win over #20 Hawai'i, 76–70. Then it was freshman Wendi Willits' turn with a near–NCAA record six three–pointers to blow open Arkansas' second round contest with Harvard, 82–64. In the opening round games held in Stanford, California, Christy Smith had zero turnovers and 16 assists over those two contests.

At the West Regionals in Oakland, junior Sytia Messer stepped to the front as Arkansas' leading scorer in both wins, earning herself the honor as the most outstanding player at the West Regional. Messer had 23 points as Arkansas used an impressive 54–point second half to dispatch Kansas, 79–63, in the Sweet 16. Fellow junior Treva Christensen announced herself with 14 points off the bench against Duke to earn all–tournament selection. Junior Tennille Adams was 6–of–9 with 14 off the bench including the go–ahead bucket in the closing minutes against Duke. The defining moment belonged to Smith, as she calmly sank four free throws in the final seconds to send Arkansas to the Final Four for the first time in school history with a 77–72 win over ACC champion Duke. "Do you believe in fairy tales? Christy Smith sure does."

FIVE GAMES TO GLORY

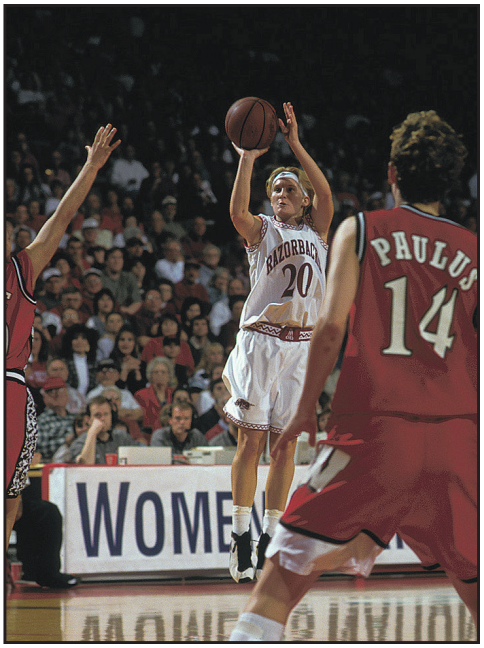

When the 1999 season ended, Arkansas was 15–14 and 11th in the SEC. Leading scorer Karyn Karlin was out for the year with a torn ACL. Not the ending Cinderella hoped for after the Final Four. But Arkansas got a second chance with the WNIT, and by virtue of its season attendance, was chosen to host the opener with SLC champion Northwestern State. Sophomore Lonniya Bragg, quiet most of the season, tore into NSU for a career–tying 22 points. Arena conflicts helped Arkansas host round two, and a late–season snowstorm led to the small– est crowd (at the time) at Bud Walton for women's basketball (890). Those that braved the weather saw a sophomore class record 35 points as Okie Wendi Willits busted the Sooners in an overtime thriller, 97–93. The crowds began to pour back into Bud Walton, and Arkansas survived Rice, 76–70, in the quarterfinals thanks to 18 points from Bragg. The WNIT picked Arkansas to host again, and the crowd and the Razorbacks did not disappoint as 9,041 saw 5–11 Bragg rack up a career–high 23 against the 6–5 and 6–4 posts of MVC runner–up Drake in a 80–56 rout. It set the stage for a titanic showdown at Walton with Wisconsin. An all–time record 14,163 paid to see Arkansas win the WNIT title behind an inspired senior performance from Kamara Stancle with 15 points and 13 rebounds. The victory was marred by the sudden illness and death of Sytia Messer's mother on the eve of the game.

AMERICA'S BEST THREE-POINT SHOOTER

Wendi Willits shattered all of Arkansas' three–point records during the 1998–99 season. More impressive, the 5–8 Fort Cobb, Oklahoma sophomore came within a single trey of breaking a previously thought unbreakable SEC record –– Cornelia Gayden's single season mark. Willits finished with 104, shooting 35.7 from the arc. Ranking top five in the nation in both percentage and production, Willits was chosen by the Basketball Hall of Fame as its Ed Steitz Award winner. Her uniform, complete with her trademark headband, was displayed for the 1999–2000 season at the Basketball Hall of Fame in Springfield, Massachusetts. Her senior year, she became the No. 2 three–point scorer in SEC history as well as the all–time leader at Arkansas. Willits closed her career at the ESPN College Three–Point Shooting Contest, where she reached the Final Four.

DROPPING DIMES

Point guard Amy Wright started the second century of Razorback basketball by shattering a once–thought–untouchable record of 186 assists in a season set by Donna Wilson in 1989. Wright's 198 led Arkansas back into the NCAA Tournament second round in 2001 and left her in striking distance for her senior season of the all–time leader, Amber Nicholas Shirey. For her final season, Wright not only took the career record early on, but she broke her own season mark to become the first woman to go over 200 in a season with 205 and closed her career with 717.

SECOND TO ONE, BUT SECOND TO NONE

Hot Springs, Arkansas native Shameka Christon finished her four–year career at Arkansas as the first woman to threaten the all–time scoring mark of Bettye Fiscus and ended up second all–time with 1,951 points. However, in many ways Christon was second to none in her Arkansas career with many firsts. Early in her career Christon became the first Razorback women's basketball player to represent the United States at the World Championships and the first to win a gold medal on the world stage. As a senior, she was the first Razorback named Associated Press All–America with her selection to the third team, surpassing Christy Smith's four times on the AP team, but as an honorable mention. Christon also became the first voted SEC Player of the Year (both coaches and AP), making her the second Razorback to take player of the year (Delmonica DeHorney in the SWC days). She closed out her time in Fayetteville by becoming the first Razorback taken as a first–round draft pick of the WNBA, going fifth overall to the New York Liberty. Christon added another first as the first Razorback to make an all–pro team as she was on the WNBA's Rookie Team in 2004.

IT WAS THE BEST OF TIMES... IT WAS THE WORST OF TIMES

Tom Collen returned as the head coach for the Arkansas women's basketball team in April 2007. Inheriting a team that had set the standard for best start to the first loss with a 15–1 run before setting the standard for futility with a 10–game losing streak, Collen had no expectations of another streak against a schedule including key road contests. After the first win in several years at Missouri, Arkansas came home to face Clemson –– the first ACC team in Walton Arena. Downing the Tigers, the Razorbacks faced the toughest test with NCAA participant Marquette in the finals of the Dartmouth tournament. Trailing by eight, Arkansas rallied for a two–point win. Riding a 14–game streak, the Razorbacks pummeled former SWC rival Texas Tech to close out the pre–conference schedule perfect.

The 15–0 start broke the in–season winning streak of the 1990–91 SWC Championship team that set the school record for wins and percentage with a 28–4 finish. The 15 straight games also bested the 11–game run to close the 1998–99 and start the 1999–00 season. Behind senior double–double averaging post player Lauren Ervin, Arkansas looked ready to vault its top 25 AP ranking back into the NCAA Tournament. Fate had different plans as Ervin tore her ACL in the SEC opener, ending her career as the second all–time double–double points–rebound player. The Razorbacks suffered several other injuries and stumbled to a 2–13 close.

HISTORIC CHANGES

On Jan. 1, 2008, the University of Arkansas brought together the men's and women's athletic departments. Starting with the new fiscal year on July 1, 2008, the women's sports teams dropped the usage of "Lady" and "Lady'Back" nicknames.

MORE CHANGES

The Razorbacks returned to the NCAA Tournament reaching the second round before elimination in 2011–12. The team that bumped them? New SEC member Texas A&M. Arkansas and the 12–member SEC began preparation for the addition of the Aggies and Missouri moving the SEC to 14 teams for the 2012–13 season.

A NEW ERA

In April 2014, Arkansas welcomed its eighth head coach in program history with the hiring of former, and now current, ESPN analyst Jimmy Dykes. In his first year, Dykes faced the task of playing one of the nation's toughest (ranked sixth) schedules. What did the first–year coach and the Razorbacks do? That team won 18 games, defeated three ranked opponents and reached the second round of the NCAA Tournament. Along the way, sophomore Jessica Jackson picked up All–SEC Second–Team honors and Dykes earned the respect of his peers, being named one of two finalists for the Spalding Maggie Dixon Division I Rookie Coach of the Year.

In Dykes' second season, the Razorbacks started the conference schedule facing four ranked teams in its first five opponents – the only team in the Power Five conferences to do so. Arkansas picked up three wins in home games against No. 13 Texas A&M, No. 13 Tennessee and No. 24 Missouri during that run. The Razorbacks finished with seven SEC wins, improving from six league wins in the previous season.

A NEW CHAPTER -- WELCOME TO THE NEIGHBORHOOD!

The University of Arkansas welcomed home Mike Neighbors as the ninth coach in Arkansas women's basketball history on April 3, 2017. Neighbors returned to his alma mater after four seasons as the head coach at the University of Washington where he led the Huskies to their first–ever Final Four with three NCAA Tournament appearances and a WNIT Quarterfinals showing.

Neighbors guided Washington to four seasons of unprecedented success, highlighted by the 2016 NCAA Final Four and two NCAA Sweet 16 appearances. Named the program's head coach after two years as an assistant, Neighbors led the Huskies to a 98–41 record that was fueled by three consecutive 23–plus win seasons and included four postseason appearances (3 NCAA, 1 WNIT).

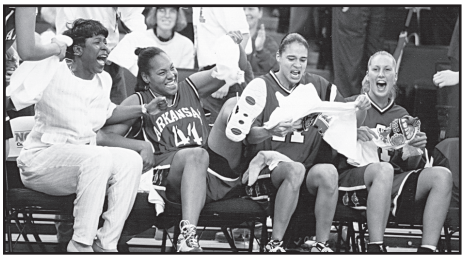

In just six years after his return to his alma mater, Mike Neighbors has transformed Arkansas into a nationally recognized women's basketball program. During his time back home, Neighbors has guided his Hogs to the best six–year period of sustained success in program history. The proof of his success, and the success of his system, lies in the numbers - Neighbors has accumulated 218 wins during his 10 seasons as a head coach, the most of any NCAA Division I Head Coach of a Power 5 program. The Hogs have qualified for five straight postseason berths (if including 2020), one of three SEC programs to do so, as well as earned back–to–back NCAA Tournament appearances in 2021 and 2022, marking the first back–to–back appearances in 20 years (2001 and 2002). Had the 2019–20 postseason have not been cancelled due to the COVID–19 pandemic, that 24–8 squad was well on its way to a deep run at the NCAA Tournament, which would had made it three straight NCAA Tournament trips for the Hogs. With a postseason appearance by Arkansas in 2023–24, Neighbors will tie Gary Blair for most consecutive postseason appearances with six.

With a 120–77 mark as the Razorbacks' head coach and best winning percentage in league play among the program's head coaches, Neighbors has coached seven All–SEC recipients, the 2022 SEC Freshman of the Year in Samara Spencer and three SEC All–Freshman selections. Boasting the best success rate of any Arkansas coach at the SEC Tournament, Coach Neighbors' 2019 team made it to the program's first SEC Tournament final. Not to mention, Neighbors has guided his Arkansas teams to 41 wins over AP–ranked teams. Under Coach Neighbors' leadership, he has guided the Hogs to becoming the first Arkansas team to beat two top–five teams in the same season with victories over No. 4 Baylor and No. 3 UConn in 2020–21. Additionally, at Arkansas, Neighbors has coached two WNBA draft picks (Chelsea Dungee, first round, fifth pick [tied for highest draft pick in school history]; and Destiny Slocum, second round, 14th pick in the 2021 draft).

30 GREATEST GAMES

#1A | ARKANSAS 77, #8 DUKE 72
March 23, 1998

A total team effort. Christy Smith fulfills the dream of every little girl– she must make the free throws to send Arkansas to the Final Four. Smith does not get to the line without Tennille Adams' offensive stick–back to put Arkansas ahead. Treva Christensen and Sytia Messer solidify their picks as All–West and West Region MVP. The game gives rise to two of the greatest moments in women's basketball history. The first came before the game. After a silent ride through the Oakland twilight, Gary Blair rose as the team bus halted. "Don't get off the bus if you don't expect to win," he said, then turned and left the bus. The second came after as Smith and Stancle fell to the floor at the end of the game. ESPN commentator Beth Mowins declared, "Do you believe in fairy tales?"

Texas coach Jody Conradt appears somber as Arkansas' Juliet Jackson exults Friday after the Lady Razorbacks snapped UT's 183-game winning streak against Southwest Conference opponents with an 82-77 victory in Austin. Jackson made six free throws down the stretch to seal the victory.

#1B | ARKANSAS 82, #6 TEXAS 77
February 23, 1990

The clipping above from the Dallas Morning News says it all. Senior Juliet Jackson's clutch free throws ice the first loss by UT to a SWC member –183 consecutive games. Delmonica DeHorney led Arkansas with 26 points, eight boards and four blocks. Jackson had 19 points and seven assists, and of course, was 7–of–8 at the line–4–of–4 in the closing minute. DeHorney was national player of the week after the game, but those that were there will tell you the best part was seeing The Drum bathed in white–not victory burnt orange–lights.

#3 | #19 ARKANSAS 90, #3 UCONN 87
January 28, 2021

Hard to believe that a game that wasn't on the schedule until late January could be the third greatest game in program history, but beating WBB's gold standard will do that. In front of a 4,400 COVID sell–out crowd at BWA, the Hogs torched the Huskies, led by Chelsea Dungee's legendary 37–point performance. That was the most points scored by an individual on the Huskies since the turn of the century. With the win, Arkansas became just the ninth team to take down UConn since 2012.

#4A | ARKANSAS 58, #15 TEXAS A&M 51
March 9, 2019

Arkansas punched its ticket to its first–ever SEC Championship game with one of the greatest comebacks in the history of the program, using a 17–0 burst to top No. 15 Texas A&M in the SEC Tournament Semifinal. Chelsea Dungee (17 points), Jailyn Mason (15 points) and Alexis Tolefree (11 points) led the way out of what was once a 16–point hole, while nine fourth–quarter turnovers forced was enough to get the Hogs into the SEC Final.

#4B | ARKANSAS 67, #15 TEXAS A&M 66
March 6, 2020

It happened again. The Razorbacks, who had just beaten A&M the season before in dramatic fashion in Greenville, came back from 17 down to eliminate the Aggies for the second straight season in the SEC Tournament. Senior forward Kiara Williams, a 57 percent FT shooter, knocked in two from the stripe to seal the historic win. Freshman Makayla Daniels led the Hogs with 13 points, while also guarding future pro Chennedy Carter.

#6 | #10 ARKANSAS 82, #2 LSU 72
January 19, 2003

The largest regular season crowd in school history (11,486) and ESPN watched as Arkansas won the first top 10 vs. top 10 game in school history. Arkansas' "Big Three" of Shameka Christon (25 points, 7 boards), India Lewis (19 points) and Dana Cherry (13 points, 12 rebounds) were joined with SEC all–freshman Ruby Vaden (13 points, 7 boards) as the Razorbacks dominated the second–ranked Tigers. LSU threatened late, but the comeback only served to add to the instant classic status of the game. Along with mark the best start in SEC play to date, LSU became the highest–ranked team to lose to Arkansas.

#7 | ARKANSAS 72, #9 TENNESSEE 71 (OT)
February 23, 2012

Sarah Watkins hit a layup with eight seconds on the clock forcing overtime with the game tied at 62, and Lyndsay Harris hit two in overtime giving Arkansas a 72–71 win in overtime over No. 9/11 Tennessee in Knoxville, Tennessee. The Razorbacks hit the final four points and held Tennessee scoreless late for the win. Harris paced Arkansas with 20 points and Watkins had 18. Senior C'eira Ricketts added 16 in the win.

#8 | #16 ARKANSAS 83, #4 BAYLOR 78
December 6, 2020

Drawing the team no one else wanted in the 2020 SEC/Big 12 Challenge, the Hogs secured the first of two top–five wins during the 20–21 season against the Lady Bears. It was the Hogs' first win over a top–five team in 17 years, and it was their first win over a defending national champion since 1996. Amber Ramirez and Chelsea Dungee led the way, scoring 23 and 22, respectively. The Hogs got to the free throw line at will, which changed the game – they made 30 of their 39 FTA.

#9 | #22 ARKANSAS 81, #7 GEORGIA 70
March 18, 1990

Considered for years one of the top 10 upsets in NCAA women's tournament history, Arkansas goes to Athens, Georgia, to stun the Lady Bulldogs behind 30 points from Juliet Jackson. Georgia's strategy was to shut down Delmonica DeHorney and Blair Savage inside and isolate Amber Nicholas outside. They dared Jackson to beat them, and she did by raining down 12–of–19 from the perimeter.

30 GREATEST GAMES

#10 | ARKANSAS 67, WISCONSIN 64
March 23, 1999

Don't try to tell the then-WNIT record crowd of 14,163 fans at Walton Arena that this was the game for 65th in the country. The back-and-forth battle with the Badgers was befitting any championship. Seniors Kamara Stancle and sophomore Wendi Willits score 15 each as the team wins one for Sytia Messer's mom who passed away 24 hours before the game.

#11 | #22 ARKANSAS 77, #6 TENNESSEE 75
December 29, 1996

The Razorbacks make national headlines with their first-ever win over Tennessee. Sytia Messer holds Chamique Holdsclaw to a single field goal and only 7 points while Christy Smith and Kimberly Wilson go off for 21 points each. Wilson jumped on UT early, hitting her first three treys and giving Arkansas a 19-11 advantage. Defense was the difference as four turnovers keyed a 13-0 run by Arkansas, capped by a three-pointer by Sytia Messer for a 48-36 lead. Tennessee did not go away, rallying to within a point, 76-75, with 0:56 to play. The Lady Vols had one last chance to win the game but missed an inside shot. Karen Jones pulled down the rebound of her life and was fouled by Tennessee. Jones' free throw in the final seconds gave Arkansas its final margin of victory.

#12A | ARKANSAS 74, #7 SOUTH CAROLINA 46
January 27, 2002

Arkansas accomplished one of the most profound reversals in Lady Razorback history with this win over the Gamecocks. The Razorbacks lost to South Carolina on the road, 91-66, earlier in the month of January prior to defeating the Gamecocks at home in dominating fashion, 74-46. This marked a 53-point turnaround in the same season. In the Razorbacks' big win, Arkansas forced 26 turnovers compared to UA's 12, while shooting 42 percent as opposed to 26.3 percent for South Carolina. Arkansas also held South Carolina's best player, Jocelyn Penn, to 1-for-8 shooting for four points.

#12B | ARKANSAS 67 - #8 VANDERBILT 57
January 31, 2002

A combination entry because they are the first time that Arkansas defeated consecutive top 10 teams at Fayetteville, and because of the circumstances around the games. The Razorbacks stumbled at USC only three weeks earlier, 91-66, and thanks to some humbling early games were 1-6 to open SEC play. Not only did Arkansas turn the season around but did so in convincing fashion. Forcing 26 turnovers, India Lewis and Dana Cherry had 17 each as UA meted out its worst beating of a ranked team during the regular season on USC. Four days later, Shameka Christon poured in 21 to lead Arkansas past Vanderbilt as the Razorbacks controlled the game start to finish.

#14 | #1 TEXAS 71, ARKANSAS 70
February 18, 1984

The Texas win that wasn't. Arkansas scrapped with the top team in the nation and got the opportunity of a lifetime with the ball and the clock running out at Barnhill Arena. Senior Amanda Holley's baseline jumper hangs in the air, hits the bucket, rolls around the rim and falls out as the horn sounds. The Razorbacks will have three more close calls with their arch-rivals, but a basketball generation will pass before Texas falls in 1990.

#15 | #22 ARKANSAS 90, UCLA 80 (OT)
March 14, 1990

Perhaps the most exciting overtime game in Arkansas history, the Razorbacks come back from a 10-point deficit late in the game to tie the contest and send it into overtime. Led by All-America candidate Rehema Stephens, UCLA had five players in double figures, but the Bruins ran out of gas in the extra five minutes as Amber Nicholas (22 points) and Blair Savage (21 points) lead a 15-5 overtime run. Not only a memorable game, but it was also the first-ever win by Arkansas in the NCAA tournament and the first-ever NCAA tournament game hosted by Arkansas.

#16 | ARKANSAS 79, KANSAS 63
March 21, 1998

The Cinderella story comes to life as Arkansas holds All-American Lynn Pride of Kansas scoreless to rally from a 32-28 halftime deficit. Sytia Messer leads the charge with a 17-point second half effort as Arkansas dominates KU, 51-31, in the final 20 minutes. After shooting only 36 in the first half, UA blisters the Jayhawks for 63 in the second.

#17 | #6 TEXAS 101, ARKANSAS 99
March 11, 1989

Quite simply, Southwest Conference fans say this may be the greatest championship game ever played- men or women- at the SWC Classic. The first-ever women's basketball game at Reunion Arena did not disappoint as the two teams produced near-flawless games. Each committed a season-low eight turnovers, and the 200 points scored were school records for combined score for both. Trailing 51-46 at halftime, Arkansas responded with 52.8 percent from the field led by a career game by Lisa Martin with 31 points. Four of Arkansas' starters were in double digits as Shelly Wallace added 20 points and 15 boards. Clarissa Davis saved the day with 36 for Texas.

March 2, 2001

Arkansas rode a 10-game losing streak to the Gators into the second round of the SEC Tournament, but freshman Shameka Christon had 22 points, 11 rebounds and four stitches as the Lady'Backs jumped on Florida early. Arkansas led by as many as 20 before Christon departed the game with a busted lip. She returned, but not before Florida closed to within seven. Behind 22 from Wendi Willits and 10 from Lonniya Bragg, Arkansas went on a 7-0 run late to advance to the SEC Tournament semifinals for the first time in school history.

Kelly Johnson said she had never hit a game-winner at the buzzer in her life. She didn't get the chance to do so again in her career, but when Christy Smith laced the pass down low to Johnson, she buried the 15-foot baseline jumper as time expired to give Arkansas its first-ever win over Vandy. The photo, above, of Johnson's shot has become one of the most requested classic images in women's basketball history.

#20 | ARKANSAS 80, MISSISSIPPI STATE 73
March 4, 2005

Midway through the first half of Arkansas' opening game at the SEC Tournament, Susie Gardner's team looked headed for a blowout trailing by 17 points with 4:01 left in the first. Trimming the deficit to 11 at half, Arkansas held MSU scoreless almost four minutes to start the second and soon pulled within striking distance. A trio of sophomores led by Sarah Pfeifer were in double-digits to give Arkansas an eight-point lead with just under four minutes to play, a 25-point swing from the same point in the first half.

#21 | ARKANSAS 66, #23 SOUTHWEST MISSOURI STATE 63
December 29, 1993

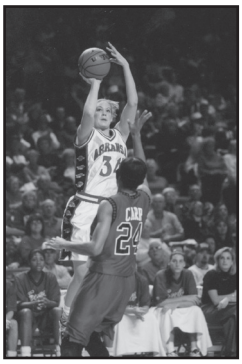

There are few things better than beating a rival, and even better when it comes unexpectedly. First-year head coach Gary Blair drew up the play for his freshman three-point sharpshooter Kimberly Wilson. With seconds left, Wilson calmly stroked the winning shot, breaking an unprecedented two-year losing streak to SMS. Wilson posted a 4-0 career mark with SMS.

#22 | CALIFORNIA 66, ARKANSAS 62
March 21, 1982

Arkansas' first appearance at a national tournament almost became its first win. The host Golden Bears hold off a pesky Arkansas team in the opening round of the 1982 AIAW Championships. Tied 29-29 at halftime, turnovers and fouls are the undoing of Arkansas. The Razorbacks had 31 turnovers- 11 more than Cal- and leading scorer Bettye Fiscus fouls out with 17 points. Kim Bunge also has 17 points, but with four fouls.

30 GREATEST GAMES

#23 | ARKANSAS 73, OLE MISS 72

January 2, 1993

The first major victory in the SEC as the former SWC Champion defeats the defending SEC Champion Lady Rebels. Shea Henderson is the star of the day as the Star City guard drives down the lane in the closing seconds to hit the game winner.

#24 | ARKANSAS 97, OKLAHOMA 93 (OT)

March 14, 1999

Fort Cobb, Oklahoma product Wendi Willits takes over the Border War between UA and OU. The second round Women's NIT match-up is a toe-to-toe physical battle. In the midst of a record-setting season of three-point shooting, Willits scores a career-high 35 points to lead Arkansas into the quarterfinals.

#25 | #6 VANDERBILT 81, ARKANSAS 78

March 9, 2002

Shameka Christon had the greatest game at the University of Arkansas in over a generation, but her 40 points in 37 minutes played was not enough to overcome Vanderbilt at the Gaylord Entertainment Center in Nashville for the SEC Tournament semifinals. At the start of the second half, it looked like there wouldn't be much drama as Vandy extended its 44-26 halftime lead to 22-points, 52-30, with 17 minutes left. Then Christon took over, scoring a school record 28 points for a half. Arkansas cut the lead to one, 79-78, with 22 seconds left. Missed VU free throws gave Arkansas the last shot, but with nine seconds to play Christon was called for a charge that allowed Vandy to shoot free throws for the final score.

#26 | ARKANSAS 52, #20 VANDERBILT 51 (OT)

January 8, 2006

Another Commodore OT heartache, but this one came in one of the most dramatic fashions as sophomore Brittney Vaughn sank the longest buzzer-beating shot in Walton Arena history to send this contest into OT. One of only three known end of the period half-court shots, Vaughn's 47-footer is the only one to close regulation. Vaughn was scoreless for 39:30, but her driving reverse layup trimmed the Vandy lead to three, 46-43, to set the stage for her game-tying heave. The night proved "vaughn-derful" as her sister Rochelle scored a career-high tying 22 points, including a pair of free throws with 13 seconds left in the overtime period to ice the victory for Arkansas.

#27 | ARKANSAS 82, #17 PENN STATE 78

January 9, 1999

In its first appearance on CBS, Arkansas does not disappoint. Karyn Karlin dominated the Lady Lions in the paint, scoring 18 points almost at will as Arkansas built a 15-point lead with eight minutes to play. Penn State rallied, and with two minutes left led by two points. Wendi Willits to the rescue with a 21-footer to put Arkansas back up by one, then a steal on the ensuing PSU possession that led to a pair of free throws. The 5-0 Willits run put Arkansas up by three with 50 seconds to play.

#28 | ARKANSAS 45, #24 KENTUCKY 43

January 23, 1993

Undoubtedly the quirkiest win in Arkansas history. The Wildcats were returning to the top 25 for the first time in years, but the Razorbacks made sure the stay was short. It was an improbable win as Arkansas rode a five-game losing streak and was in jeopardy of losing three straight at home for the first time in school history. Defense was the key as Arkansas not only got the win but did it in record-setting fashion. This was only the second game in Arkansas history in which no one was in double figures and remains the only time Arkansas has won without a double-digit scorer. Shea Henderson led the team with nine points. Barnhill Arena and one of the Women's Athletics Department's W.A.R. (women's attendance record) promotions share credit for the win. At 5,391, it ranked as the fourth largest crowd to watch the Razorbacks in Barnhill Arena.

#29 | ARKANSAS 71, #16 GEORGIA 63

February 8, 2004

Arkansas rode a three-game home losing streak for only the second time in school history into an ESPN game with #16 Georgia, but Susie Gardner continued her coaching mojo against her alma mater as the Razorbacks controlled the close game from start to finish. With only eight players on the bench due to injuries, UA was led by Shameka Christon with 28 points, a double-double from Rochelle Vaughn with 11 points and 12 assists and a near-double of 14 points and 9 rebounds from Kristin Moore.

#30 | ARKANSAS 59, ALABAMA 58

February 2, 2003

India Lewis was known for her 3-point shooting, but in her career at Arkansas she had not hit a game-winner until this afternoon in Tuscaloosa. Arkansas struggled most of the game, no player more than Lewis who entered the final seconds 0-for-7 from the field. Down by two, Lewis took the ball to her right, feinted a drive then stepped back for a fall-away 22-footer as the horn sounded. The win proved a turning point for the conference season, ending a three-game losing streak.

#31 | ARKANSAS 79, OKLAHOMA STATE 70

February 16, 1982

Coach Matilda Willis called it her "Champagne Game" in the pregame press, but Oklahoma State was not so willing to give up Arkansas' first-ever 20-win season easily. It looked easy with a 43-29 lead at half, but the Cowgirls cut the spread to three, 69-66, with 3:17 to play. In turn, Bettye Fiscus, Connie Fitzgerald and Erma Greer stepped up with key buckets to pull away from OSU. For the game, Fiscus had 27, followed by Kim Bunge with 14 and Amanda Holley with 12 points and 10 rebounds.

#32 | ARKANSAS 68, KSU 53

January 2, 1982

This 15-point victory marked the first win for Arkansas over a top 20 ranked team. Bettye Fiscus and Amanda Holley turned in double-double games-Fiscus an amazing 20 points with 18 rebounds and Holley 12 points with 11 rebounds. Cheryl Orcholski shared top scoring honors with 20 points of her own.

EXHIBITION GAMES

During the 1980s, teams were allowed to practice away from campus, and Arkansas took full advantage of the rule to play numerous Red–White games across the state. Most of these were played in the former gyms of star Razorbacks, or near hometowns of players like Tracy Webb (Batesville) or Bettye Fiscus (Wynne).

The Razorbacks played their first exhibition game in 1984 at the start of the NCAA era against a Korean touring team sponsored by Kolon.

Arkansas stepped up the quality of its exhibition opponent with national teams during the late 1980s and went on the road to Central Arkansas with a pair of games at the former high schools of current Razorbacks. The NCAA changed rules regarding off–campus games in the early 1990s, and all exhibition games returned to Fayetteville.

Twice Arkansas faced Olympic teams. The Razorbacks defeated the Spanish Olympians in 1990, but the most memorable game was against USA Basketball's National Team in 1995. The core of the gold medal 1996 Atlanta Games team thumped the Razorbacks, but it was a once–in–a–lifetime chance to be a part of the special collegiate tour. Among the notables taking the floor were Lisa Leslie, Rebecca Lobo, Sheryl Swoops, Dawn Staley and Jennifer Azzi. It also is the only exhibition game ever played during the regular season –– Dec. 12 –– and made 1995 the only season with three exhibition games.

Until the late 1990s, most of the teams Arkansas faced were high–quality semi–pro teams from around the world, with the exception of the U.S.–based Athletes in Action. AIA made Fayetteville a regular stop on its women's collegiate tour, and the Crusaders remain the team with the most games against Arkansas (8).

The quality of competition from overseas declined at the end of the 1990s, with some teams traveling junior squads filled with high school–aged players. The resulting blowouts, combined with the emergence of regional teams of American former collegians such as Everyone's Internet, saw a decline of the foreign exhibition games that hit bottom with the events of 9/11 in 2001.

However, the greatest change in the exhibition game came in 2004 as the NCAA allowed Division I members to schedule non–Division I college teams as exhibition opponents. While a regular practice during the AIAW era, Arkansas played a non–Division I college with its two exhibition games scheduled for November 2005, taking on nearby Division II members Missouri Southern of Joplin and Cameron University from Lawton, Oklahoma. This marked the first game against a lower division U.S. collegiate team in over two decades (School of the Ozarks on Dec. 11, 2004).

Arkansas has existing series records with the new exhibition opponents, but new games against non–Division I teams will not count against those series marks.

SEC TOURNAMENT RECORDS

SEC TOURNAMENT HISTORY

Beginning with its inception on Feb. 7, 1980, and through 1986, the tournament was held at campus sites. The tournament was then sent to Albany, Georgia, which served as the site for six years from 1987–92. The tournament then moved to Chattanooga, Tennessee, where it was held from 1993–00, with the exception of 1998 when the tournament moved to Columbus, Georgia.

Since 2001, the tournament has enjoyed many new sites, including Memphis, Nashville, North Little Rock, Arkansas, Greenville, South Carolina and Duluth, Georgia.

SEC TOURNAMENT FACT

The SEC was the first conference ever to televise every game of its post-season Women's Basketball Tournament.

SEC TOURNAMENT CHANGES

The 2012–13 season marked the second time in SEC history the Women's Basketball Tournament underwent a format change. The tournament, which had been a four-day event featuring 12 teams since 1992, expanded to 14 teams, adding an extra day of competition. The addition of a day to the tournament has featured two additional contests played on Wednesday. Seeds 11 through 14 compete in the opening games of the bracket, with the rest of the event continuing on Thursday.

PREVIOUS SEC WOMEN'S BASKETBALL TOURNAMENT SITES:

Fourteen cities have hosted: Albany, Ga. (1987–1992); Athens, Ga. (1984, 1986); Baton Rouge, La. (1981); Chattanooga, Tenn. (1993–1997, 1999–2000); Columbus, Ga. (1998); Duluth, Ga. (2007, 2010, 2013, 2014); Greenville, S.C. (2005, 2017–2020, 2023–25); Jacksonville, Fla. (2016); Knoxville, Tenn. (1980, 1983); Lexington, Ky. (1982); Memphis, Tenn. (2001); Nashville, Tenn. (2002, 2004, 2008, 2011, 2012, 2018, 2022); North Little Rock, Ark. (2003, 2006, 2009, 2015); and Oxford, Miss. (1985).

2022 NCAA TOURNAMENT

March 18, 2022 | Frank Erwin Center
Austin, Texas | First Round

Utah 92, Arkansas 69

Arkansas women's basketball had its season end at Frank Erwin Center, as the Hogs fell to Utah (21–11), 92–69. The Utes shot the ball exceptionally well, making 52 percent of their field goals in the game, while also hitting 48 percent of their triples with a blistering 15. Utah also dominated the Hogs on the boards, 52–35. Amber Ramirez led the way in her final collegiate game, scoring 24 points in the loss. The point guard duo of Makayla Daniels and Samara Spencer had 18 points each. With her four points early, Daniels surpassed the 1,000–point mark, becoming the 31st Hog to ever do so. Arkansas battled back in the second half after trailing by 17 at the break, cutting the lead to 10 with 5:46 left in the third quarter. Utah would respond to end the frame, though, pushing the lead back up to 19 by the close of the period. The Razorbacks ended the season with back–to–back tournament appearances for the first time since the 2002–03 season.

2021 NCAA TOURNAMENT

March 22, 2021 | Frank Erwin Center
Austin, Texas | First Round

Wright State 66, #15 Arkansas 62

A slow start for Arkansas created an early hole for the Razorbacks that proved too deep to climb out of in the team's 66–62 loss to Wright State in the opening round of the NCAA Tournament. The Razorbacks struggled in the first half shooting the basketball, going 9–of–24 (37.5 percent) from the field and just 2–of–12 from 3–point range. The opening quarter saw the Hogs go 4–for–12 from the field and produce just 12 points, which led to a season–low 26 points in the first half. Arkansas battled back in the second half, scoring 21 points in the fourth quarter, and briefly taking the lead late. A costly turnover up one with under a minute to play led to Wright State scoring the final five points of the game to knock off the Razorbacks. Chelsea Dungee led all scorers with 27 points, including 18 in the second half. Overall, Arkansas shot 34 percent from the field for the game and was outrebounded 44–30. The Razorbacks ended the season 19–9 with the program's first trip to the NCAA Tournament since 2015.

2015 NCAA TOURNAMENT

March 20, 2015 | Ferrell Center
Waco, Texas | First Round

Arkansas 57, #22 Northwestern 55

Junior Melissa Wolff scored 13 points and grabbed 15 rebounds leading the University of Arkansas to a 57–55 win over Northwestern in the first round of the NCAA Tournament in Waco, Texas. Arkansas closed the game on a 22–7 run and held the Wildcats without a basket for almost four minutes at the end of the contest. Sophomore Kelsey Brooks paced Arkansas with 15 points and six boards while Jessica Jackson added 14 points and eight rebounds. Jhasmin Bowen also scored in double figures with 12 points. Wolff's double–double was the eighth of her career and Arkansas was 7–1 when she recorded a double–double. Northwestern jumped out to a 13–point lead late in the second half and Arkansas seemed to be struggling from the floor. The Razorbacks used their defense to make the comeback, slowing down the Wildcats' scoring while chipping away at the lead. NU was up four, 51–55, at the 3:59 mark and Arkansas shutdown their offense from that point on. Brooks got a steal and a layup cutting the lead to two and Wolff followed with a steal and Bowen converted on the jumper to tie the game at 55 with 1:14 to play. It was the seventh tie of the contest. NU missed its next opportunity and Jackson grabbed the rebound. She was fouled with 29 seconds to play and hit one of the two bonus shots giving the Razorbacks the lead. Wolff came down with the biggest rebound of the game and was pinned along the sideline but wisely called the timeout to save the possession. Arkansas shot 31.8 percent from the floor and went 11–for–19 from the line. The Wildcats shot 44.9 percent and committed 19 turnovers in the loss.

2015 NCAA TOURNAMENT

March 22, 2015 | Ferrell Center
Waco, Texas | Second Round

#5 Baylor 73, Arkansas 44

Seniors Calli Berna and Jhasmin Bowen ended their Razorback careers after leading the University of Arkansas women's basketball team to an 18–win season and the second round of the NCAA Tournament. Arkansas fell to No.5/6 Baylor (34–3) on the Bears' home court, 73–44, to close the season. Jessica Jackson led the Arkansas scorers with 15 points while junior Melissa Wolff had 13 in the loss. Bowen finished her night with seven points and eight rebounds while Berna had five points, six rebounds and eight assists in their final games. It was as physical and fast–paced as an SEC game the Razorbacks have played all year and Arkansas battled tough in the opening 10 minutes. Baylor's defense came to life and shut down the Razorbacks, holding Arkansas without a field goal from the 12:38 mark through 3:39. The Bears went on a 9–0 run and opened up a 31–16 lead at the under four timeout. The lead continued to grow as the Razorback offense struggled to find the basket. Arkansas finished the first 20 minutes shooting 25.7 percent on 9–for–25 from the floor. Wolff paced the Razorbacks in the opening half with eight points. Baylor opened the second half on an 8–0 run as the Razorback offense never got on track. Arkansas finished the game shooting just 24.6 percent on 15–for–61 from the floor. The Razorbacks were 2–for–16 from distance, 12–for–19 from the free throw line and grabbed 32 rebounds Sunday.

2012 NCAA TOURNAMENT

March 17, 2012 | Reed Arena
College Station, Texas | First Round

Arkansas 72, Dayton 55

Arkansas overcame a 14–point first half deficit and beat Dayton, 72–55 on Saturday in the first round of the NCAA Women's Basketball Tournament in College Station, Texas. The Razorbacks (24–8) ended the game on a 20–2 run and won their first NCAA Tournament game since 2003, while making their first appearance in the tournament since the same season. Quistelle Williams led four Arkansas players in double–figures with 15 points. Keira Peak and Lyndsay Harris each scored 14 points, while C'eira Ricketts added 13. Andrea Hoover scored 16 points and Justine Raterman added 14 for Dayton (23–7).

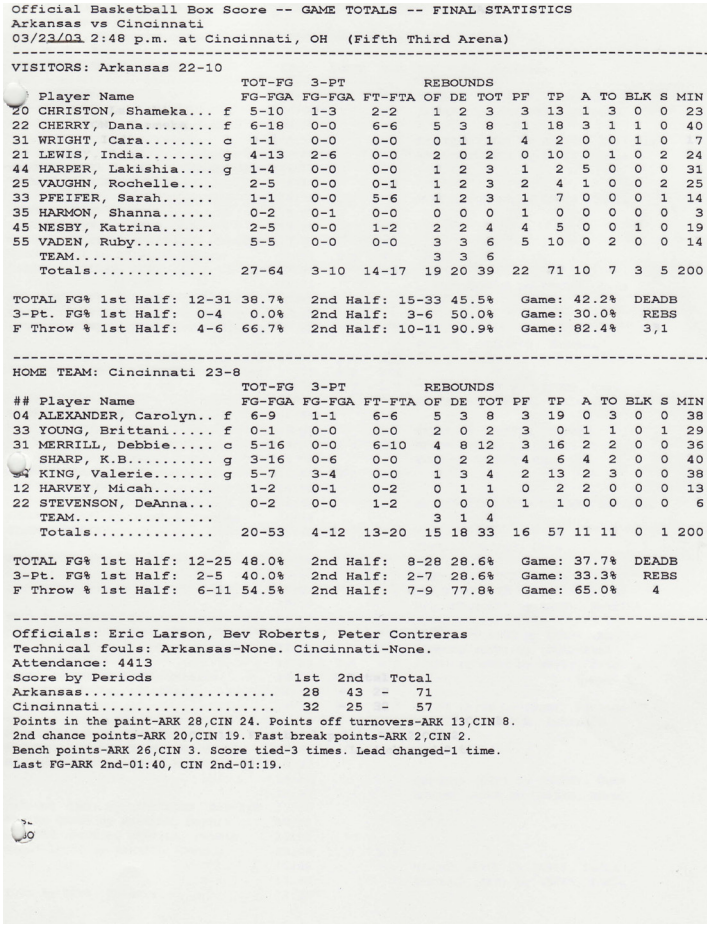

2012 NCAA TOURNAMENT

March 19, 2012 | Reed Arena
College Station, Texas | Second Round

#22 Texas A&M 61, Arkansas 59

Arkansas did its best to rally from 14 points down again, but in the end, it couldn't close out Texas A&M. The third–seeded Aggies, the reigning national champions, avoided an upset bid by sixth–seeded Arkansas to take a 61–59 victory in the second round of the Women's NCAA Tournament. No. 22 Texas A&M (24–10) had a 14–point lead early in the second half and still led by 13 points, 53–40, with 7:55 left. The Razorbacks (24–9) rallied with a 19–5 run to take a 59–58 lead with 1:21 left. After each team missed short shots, Texas A&M's Sydney Carter was fouled by Ashley Daniels with 23.5 seconds left. Carter made both free throws to give the Aggies a 60–59 lead. The Razorbacks played for the last shot. When Texas A&M denied C'eira Ricketts a clear path to the basket on a drive, she passed to Quistelle Williams, who missed short on a jumper from just inside the free–throw line with 4.5 seconds left. The Aggies' Tyra White rebounded the miss and was fouled with 1.2 seconds left. White made one free throw for the final margin. The game was a matchup between Aggies Coach Gary Blair and Collen, his former Arkansas assistant. Williams, a junior reserve forward, led Arkansas' almost comeback with 14 points and eight rebounds. She had provided the offensive spark in the Razorbacks' first–round victory against Dayton, when the Flyers had led by 14 points in the first half. A 3–pointer by Ricketts started an 8–0 run that pulled Arkansas to within 53–48.

2003 NCAA TOURNAMENT

March 23, 2003 | Fifth Third Arena
Cincinnati, Ohio | First Round

#24 Arkansas 71, Cincinnati 51

Dana Cherry stepped up with one of her most complete games of the season, scoring 18 points to lead the 24th-ranked Arkansas to a 71-51 win over Cincinnati in the first round. The margin of victory is not indicative of the close nature of the game as the Lady'Backs trailed most of the first half as Shameka Christon played only three minutes due to foul trouble and India Lewis faltered from the field. The duo was scoreless in the first half for the first time this year, but one of Cherry's best opening periods kept Arkansas close, 32-28 at halftime. Cherry scored 10 in the first half, over a third of Arkansas early scoring. Arkansas shot 45 in the second half with Christon getting all 13 of her points in the second half along with 10 from Lewis late. Lewis went on an eight-point run to hold Cincinnati at bay before the Bearcats' fouling in the last minute inflated the score. While the focus was on the top three scorers, Arkansas' bench outscored Cincinnati, 26-3, with freshman Ruby Vaden scoring 10 points on 5-of-5 from the field before fouling out of the game.

2003 NCAA TOURNAMENT

March 25, 2003 | Fifth Third Arena
Cincinnati, Ohio | Second Round

#5 Texas 67, #24 Arkansas 50

Shameka Christon scored 16 points, but the Lady Razorbacks weren't able to overcome the inside strength of Texas. Christon and senior India Lewis came out blazing from behind the arc as the Lady'Backs hit their first five 3-pointers on the way to a 6-of-9 first half. Arkansas led the game midway through the first half, but the slow wearing down by Texas' inside game led by Stacy Stephens gave the Longhorns a 38-29 halftime lead. Arkansas cut the Texas halftime lead to eight, 41-33, off a layup from senior Lakishia Harper, but UT went on a 13-3 run to take control. The Lady'Backs tied their record low for points in a NCAA tournament game.

2002 NCAA TOURNAMENT

March 15, 2002 | Ahearn Field House
Manhattan, Kansas | First Round

Arkansas 78, Clemson 68

Arkansas rarely wins without at least two of its top shooters in double digits, but behind one of the greatest NCAA Tournament performances in school history from Shameka Christon, the Lady Razorbacks defeated Clemson, 78–68, to advance to the tournament's second round. Arkansas got 36 points from an injured Christon, who was able to put up those numbers in 33 minutes thanks to a first–degree ankle sprain in the first half. When she went down, Arkansas was trailing an aggressive Clemson team. Christon returned and took over the game, hitting eight of Arkansas next 10 to push the Lady'Backs to a 56–46 lead. The Lady'Backs extended the lead to 15, 68–53, with four minutes to play. Amy Wright had eight points with 11 assists. Wright's 11 assists pushed her over the 700 mark for her career. Along with Wright, Arkansas got eight points from Dana Cherry and seven each from India Lewis and Lakishia Harper.

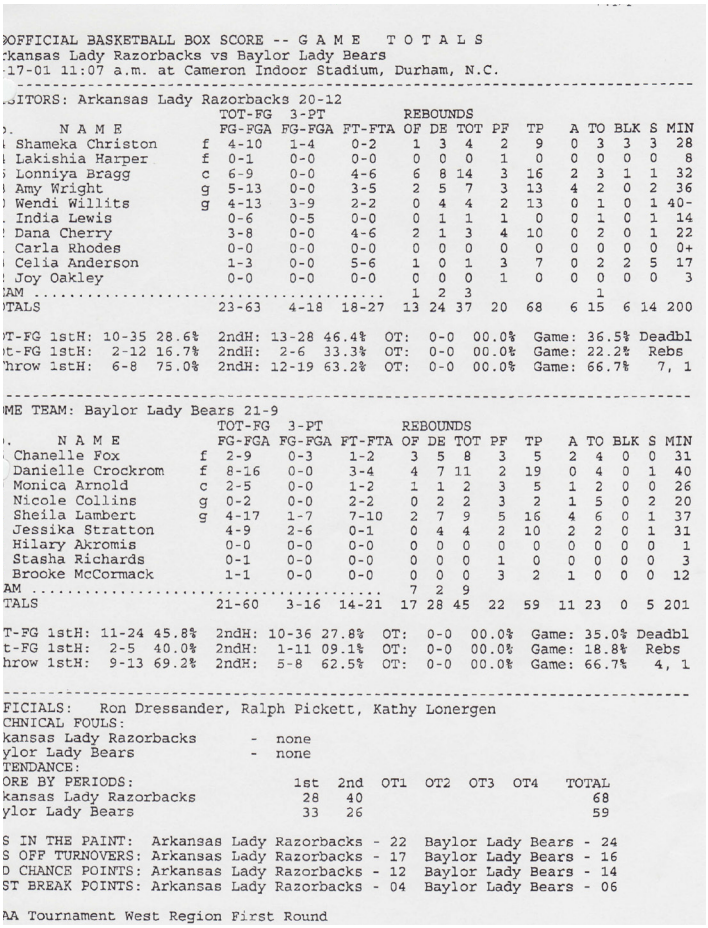

2002 NCAA TOURNAMENT

March 17, 2002 | Ahearn Field House
Manhattan, Kansas | Second Round

#11 Kansas State 82, Arkansas 68

On a night plagued by a power outage at Bramlage Coliseum, the Arkansas Lady Razorbacks experienced an offensive outage in the crucial final minutes to allow the 11th–ranked Kansas State Wildcats to defeat the Lady Razorbacks, 82–68. Shameka Christon led with 19 points and eight rebounds. India Lewis scored 15, but only two in the second half. Amy Wright had a season–high 14 points and nine assists. The nine assists pushed her to 205 for the season, breaking her own single season record of 198. Arkansas stayed with the Wildcats through the opening seven minutes despite a huge shooting advantage, 71.4 percent to 36.4 percent. After losing post player Kiesha Baird due to an elbow to the eye, the Lady'Backs were unable to mount a comeback.

A Tournament West Region Second Round

2001 NCAA TOURNAMENT

March 17, 2001 | Cameron Indoor Stadium
Durham, N.C. | First Round

Arkansas 68, #24 Baylor 59

Lonniya Bragg led four Lady Razorbacks in double digits with 16 points and picked up a career–tying 14 rebounds. The Lady'Backs struggled from the field in the first half, hitting only 28.6 percent and missing their last 11 shots of the half to trail 33–28 at halftime. Then Bragg and fellow seniors Wendi Willits and Celia Anderson took over the game. Bragg outrebounded Baylor's All–Big 12 center Danielle Crockrom, and with Anderson controlled the lane in the second half. Arkansas held Baylor to only 27.8 percent from the field in the second half, including eight straight missed shots by the Lady Bears' leading scorer, Sheila Lambert.

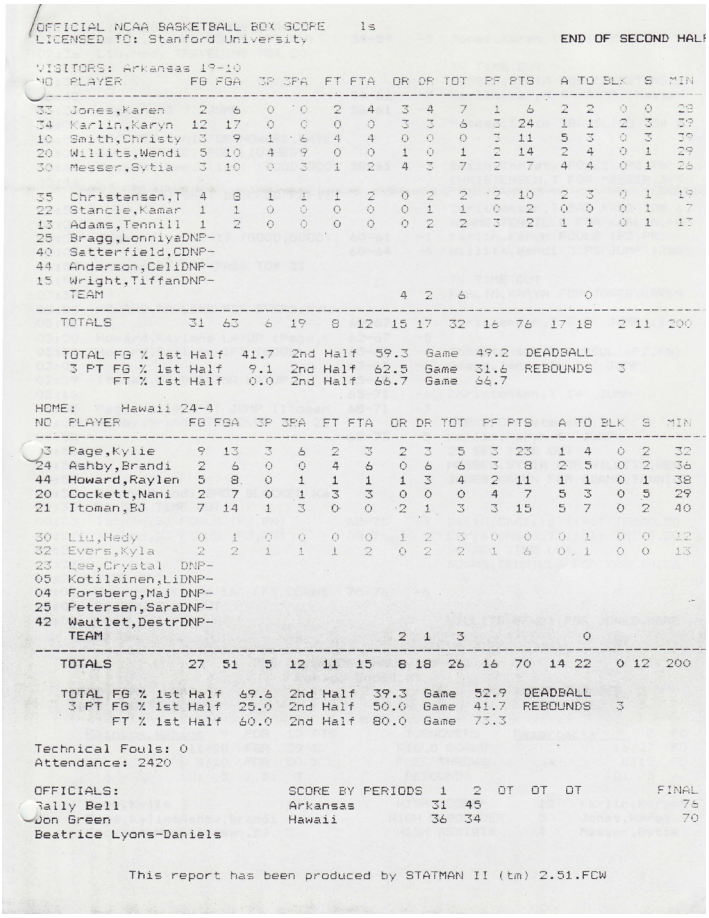

2001 NCAA TOURNAMENT

March 19, 2001 | Cameron Indoor Stadium
Durham, N.C. | Second Round

#5/5 Duke 75, Arkansas 54

Amy Wright and Dana Cherry led Arkansas with 11 points each. Wright opened the game with a 3–point flurry and took UA out to a quick lead. Poor shooting after the first three minutes of the game crippled the Arkansas offense. The Lady'Backs finished with only 33 percent from the field compared to 48 percent for Duke. Trailing by seven at half, Arkansas made a final run at Duke with back–to–back jumpers from Bragg and Christon to cut the lead to three, 36–33. A 10–0 run by Duke put the game away.

1998 NCAA TOURNAMENT

March 13, 1998 | Maples Pavilion
Stanford, Calif. | First Round

Arkansas 76, #20 Hawai'i 70

After a 69 percent first half for Hawai'i, Arkansas began to wonder about its NCAA tournament fate. The 20th-ranked Wahine got a dose of SEC defense in the second half as Arkansas shut down the WAC's leading scorer, UH senior Nani Cockett. Meanwhile, Wendi Willits dropped three straight rainbow treys on the Wahine to help Arkansas gain the lead mid-way through the second half. Inside the lane, Hawai'i had no solution for Karyn Karlin, who hit her first five shots from the field and closed the game with 24 points on 12-of-17 from the field.

1998 NCAA TOURNAMENT

March 15, 1998 | Maples Pavilion
Stanford, Calif. | Second Round

Arkansas 82, Harvard 64

Christy Smith proved why she was an all-American by leading Arkansas back into the Sweet 16 for the first time since 1991. Smith had 19 points, 11 assists and zero turnovers in 35 minutes against the Crimson. Harvard trailed 45-32 by halftime as Arkansas never looked back. Karyn Karlin had 16 points and Sytia Messer followed with 15. The second half, however, belonged to Wendi Willits who hit six 3-pointers to break her two-day-old Arkansas record for treys in a tournament game and came within one of breaking the NCAA tournament mark. She finished with 18.

1998 NCAA TOURNAMENT

March 21, 1998 | The New Arena
Oakland, Calif. | Sweet 16

Arkansas 79, Kansas 63

The Lady Razorbacks' season was in trouble by halftime. Trailing Kansas 32–28 and shooting poorly, Arkansas needed a revival. They got it in the locker room and came out to set a NCAA West Regional record with 51 second–half points to cruise past the Jayhawks. Sytia Messer led the way with 23 points. Messer controlled the floor on both ends by shooting 60 percent and holding KU's leading scorer Lynn Pride to only three points. Messer also led Arkansas on the glass with eight rebounds. Karyn Karlin had 16 and Christy Smith followed with 14. Smith managed her second straight game without a turnover.

1998 NCAA TOURNAMENT

March 23, 1998 | The New Arena
Oakland, Calif. | Elite Eight

Arkansas 77, #8 Duke 72

The Lady'Backs fought foul trouble and the Duke Blue Devils' size for 39 minutes. In the end, it was Arkansas' ability to control the glass and hit free throws when fouled that sent the Lady'Backs to the Final Four. Tennille Adams' stickback with under two minutes to play gave Arkansas its final lead of the game, 73–72. After its own misses and turnovers, Duke fouled Christy Smith twice in the final 31 seconds. She hit all four to ice the win. In the first half, it was another Adams rebound and bucket that gave the Lady'Backs the halftime lead, 32–31. Adams finished with 14 off 6–of–9 from the field. Treva Christensen came off the bench to spark Arkansas midway through the second half, hitting 6–of–11 for 14 points of her own. Sytia Messer led Arkansas with 20 points.

1998 NCAA TOURNAMENT

March 27, 1998 | Kemper Arena
Kansas City, Mo. | Final Four

#1 Tennessee 86, Arkansas 58

Arkansas hung with Tennessee in the first half and looked to go into the locker room down by eight until a missed assignment left Kelly Jolly wide open for the only 3–pointer the Lady Vols made in the NCAA semifinal game. As a result, UT took a 39–28 spread to intermission, and Arkansas was sent reeling by a Tennessee run to start the second half. Teva Chris–tensen led with 14 points and Kamara Stancle came off the bench with 12.

1995 NCAA TOURNAMENT

March 16, 1995 | Alaska Airlines Arena
Seattle, Wash. | First Round

#15 Arkansas 67, San Francisco 58

Karen Jones' jumper capped a 15–0 run midway through the second half to advance Arkansas into the second round of the NCAA Tournament. Arkansas trailed 28–27 at halftime after committing 13 first half turnovers. The turnovers continued in the early second half as the Lady'Backs stumbled to a 43–35 deficit with 13:02 to play. From that point, Arkansas shut down USF's offense for nearly six minutes. Jones finished with a new career–high 17 points. Stephanie Bloomer led Arkansas with 19 points, followed by Kelly Johnson's 14 (12 in the second half). Kimberly Wilson had 11.

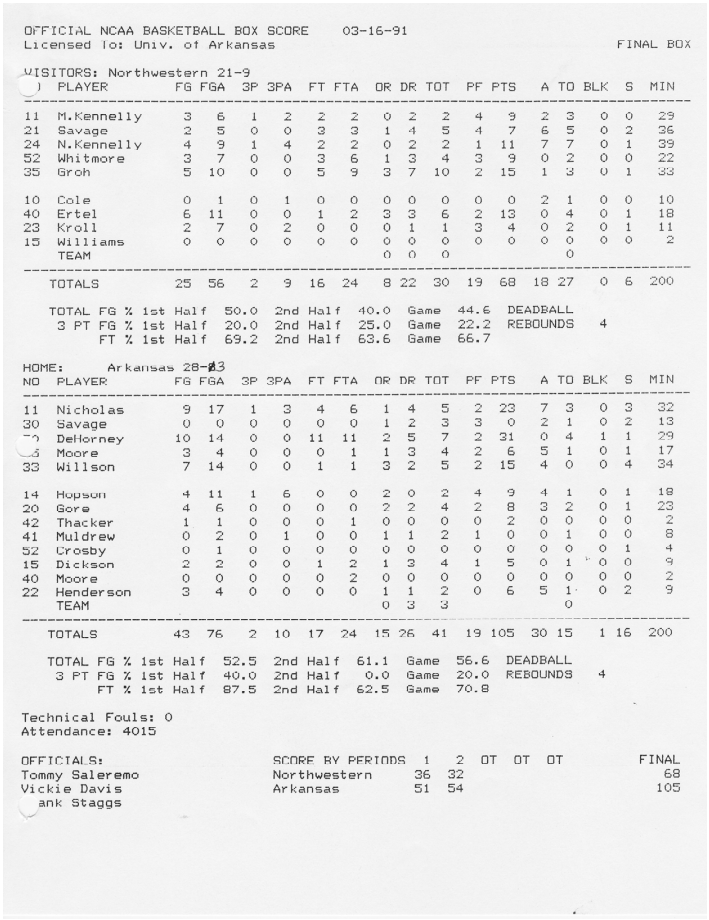

1995 NCAA TOURNAMENT

March 18, 1995 | Alaska Airlines Arena
Seattle, Wash. | Second Round

#14 Washington 54, #15 Arkansas 50

The cardiac kids came up just one shot short of the Sweet 16, losing to Washington on the Huskies' home court. Trailing most of the game, Kimberly Wilson and Christy Smith teamed for back–to–back 3–pointers in the closing seconds to make it a two–point game. This time, however, Washington had the young guard with ice water in her veins as Laure Savasta stepped to the line to hit six–of–six in the last 20 seconds of the game to advance the Huskies. Arkansas trailed by five, 23–18, at halftime in a low scoring defensive battle. In fact, 15 of the game's 104 points came in the last 45 seconds. Smith had 14 points and Stephanie Bloomer and Karen Jones each had 12.

#2 Stanford 114, Arkansas 87

Delmonica DeHorney's 39 points was not enough to lift the Razorbacks over Stanford in the Regional Final on the Cardinal's home court. De–Horney's point total stands as Arkansas' NCAA Tournament player point record and was just five points shy of the school record for points in a single game. Amber Nicholas set an Arkansas NCAA Tournament single game record with 13 assists. The 114 points allowed is the most points a Razorback team has ever given up in the NCAA Tournament.

SEC/BIG 12 CHALLENGE

Arkansas is 3–3 in the SEC/Big 12 Challenge game that began in the 2014–15 season. The event expanded from four teams who played at the SEC and Big 12 Conference Tournament sites the first two seasons to include the Big 12's full membership versus 10 SEC teams beginning in December 2016. The inaugural challenge was held in 2014 in Little Rock, Arkansas, and featured a top 5 match–up with No. 3 Texas squaring off against No. 4 Texas A&M. Oklahoma and Arkansas, who were both receiving votes in the Associated Press Poll, played in the second game. The conferences split the Challenge with the two games decided by a total of nine points.

2014	Oklahoma	W, 71–64	North Little Rock

BACK IN THE DAY -- SEC SCHEDULING

Starting with the 2010 SEC championship season, women's basketball began a 16-game schedule. The league maintained the 16-game schedule in 2012–13 after the addition of Missouri and Texas A&M to league. This schedule format continues today.

Each team's 16-game schedule will feature home-and-home games against divisional opponents, while featuring one permanent opponent and two rotating opponents from the opposite division. Arkansas' permanent opponent is Missouri.

When Arkansas joined the SEC in 1991, the league played a single round-robin schedule. To promote women's basketball, the conference required each team to play home-and-home with a fixed "rival" partner in 1996 with the 12th game that did not count. For Arkansas, this became LSU. Several SEC teams (UT-Vandy, Ole Miss-MSU, Auburn-Bama) had home-and-home series in previous years and simply designated one game as the league counter. The next season, 1997, both games counted for a 12-game season.

An NCAA mandated minimum 14 regular-season games against conference opponents brought about a 14-game format in 1998. The formula started with round-robin against the entire league, then added home-and-home with the rival partner and a rotating home-and-home with one team from the Eastern Division and one team from the Western Division. The schedule operated on a two-year cycle.

ONE OF A KIND

These are the only Southwest Conference women's basketball trophies located outside the state of Texas. Arkansas was the first team to defeat the University of Texas in SWC play, capturing a share of the 1990 regular season title. Arkansas took the 1991 title outright, then defeated Texas Tech for the 1991 SWC Classic title to become the first non-Texas team to win the league's postseason tournament. Arkansas departed the SWC the next season, and the fact that the Razorbacks were the team to end the Longhorn dynasty is sometimes overlooked in women's basketball history.

BACK IN THE DAY - SWC SCHEDULING

The Southwest Conference started championships for women during the 1981–82 academic year. As was the custom of many conferences, there was no regular season play in 1982, and only a conference championship tournament. Not all of the SWC members participated in the event hosted by Texas A&M, and it took place midseason rather than at the end of the year.

In 1982–83, the league played single round robin and hosted its first true postseason tournament at Austin. The following year, the regular season format of double–round robin was established. The 16–game schedule remained unchanged for the rest of SWC history, and featured a looping schedule that reversed the order of play during the year. The primary game days followed the men's schedule –– Thursdays and Saturdays –– and several institutions played doubleheaders.

The top teams in the league both in attendance and performance, Arkansas and Texas, did not play doubleheaders.

BEHIND THE NUMBERS

2 numbers are retired at Arkansas, both in the year following the end of the careers of the only players to wear those numbers in school history: #5 (Bettye Fiscus) and #50 (Delmonica DeHorney).

18 student–athletes have worn 23, the most worn number in Razorback history

19 players have worn two (or more) different numbers during their career: Saylor Poffenbarger (14, 0 & 4), Amber Ramirez (23 & 51), Erynn Barnum (4 &11), Sarah Pfeifer (33 & 40), Melissa Hobbs (22 & 23), Rochelle Vaughn (21 & 25), Cara Wright (14 & 31), Shameka Christon (24 & 20), Celia Anderson (44 & 33), Debbie Roe (15 & 30), Debbie Olivas (14 & 30), Connie Fitzgerald (15 & 24), DeAnn Henry (20 & 23), Tammy Siefkes (22 & 32), Lita Stricklin (25 & 44), Tamara Mathis (33 & 52), Paula Phillips (42 & 52), Quistelle Williams (42 & 24) and Carol Ann Riggs (33 & 35). Interestingly, Pfeifer becomes the first player ever to switch back, going from 40 to 33 in 2007–08.

ARE YOU MISSING FROM OUR LISTS?

The records for the first three varsity teams at the University of Arkansas are not complete, but we believe we have identified all the modern–era Razorbacks. If you find a mistake in our letterwinner or all–time jersey listings, please contact us to let us know. Also, if you played basketball for Arkansas in the pre–varsity era –– prior to 1976 –– we are looking for your information. Please contact Kylie Magar in communications at kmagar@uark.edu.

LETTERWINNERS

Sarah Pfeifer

Letters Won and Years Played

One of the most unique careers at Arkansas belonged to one of its most loyal players. Two season–ending injuries and an extension of her eligibility clock resulted in Pfeifer becoming the first player in school history to participate in six season and earn five varsity letters. She is also the only player to have played for three different coaches. Pfeifer may also have the title for most surgeries during a career –– five –– including three on her two shoulders. Along with her devotion to the team, she also earned her bachelor's and master's degrees.

ALL-SOUTHEASTERN CONFERENCE HONORS

The All-Southeastern Conference Team is selected by the league coaches and has changed twice in the recent seasons. Since the league's inception, the team was composed of a first and second team of 10 players each. In 2003, only 10 players -- five first, five second -- were selected. In 2004, 16 players -- eight first and eight second -- were chosen, the format which continues today. Five freshmen are chosen to the all-freshman team (with the exception of 1999). In addition, the academic team for the SEC, the SEC Academic Honor Roll, is chosen each season. After 2001, the honor roll is one year out of sequence to allow seniors to earn fourth-year honors. Recent additions to the team structure were made in 2003 with the community service team, as well as 2004 with scholar athlete of the year and defensive player of the year. They year 2006 saw the first freshmen of the week accolades and 2008 added a five-player all-defensive team.

SWC HALL OF FAME

The Texas Sports Hall of Fame (TSHOF), in conjunction with the Arkansas Sports Hall of Fame and the Little Rock Touchdown Club, announced the selection of Bettye Fiscus into its 2015 class of inductees for the Southwest Conference Hall of Fame.

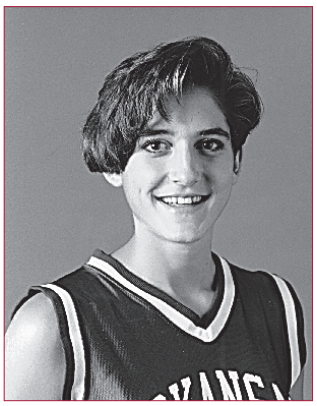

As the first female athlete inducted into the Arkansas Sports Hall of Honor in 1994, Bettye Fiscus set the definition by which all other Arkansas women's basketball players are judged. She was the first player to score over 1,000 points in a career and broke the school record in only two seasons. She went on to become the only Razorback women's basketball player with over 2,000 points, and until Razorback All–American Todd Day in the early 1990s, Fiscus was the University's all–time leading scorer. She averaged 18.5 points per game during her career and was a Wade Trophy Award finalist, an award given to the nation's top women's player. Her jersey number – No. 5 – was the first to be retired by the University of Arkansas – male or female – and was placed in the trophy case and the rafters of Barnhill Arena. In 2015 during a special ceremony, a banner was raised in her honor in Bud Walton Arena, the current home of Razorback Basketball. She still holds 12 Arkansas overall individual records including total points, career scoring average, field goals and free throws and eight class records. When she completed her career, she not only was the all–time leading scorer, but the leader in rebounds as well with 785.

Administrator Bev Lewis was inducted in 2016 followed by player Amber Nicholas Shirey, the current director of basketball operations, in 2017.

NCAA WOMAN OF THE YEAR

AMBER NICHOLAS
1992 STATE WINNER

BLAIR SAVAGE
1993 STATE WINNER

CHRISTY SMITH
1998 STATE WINNER

Started in 1991 to recognize female athletes, the NCAA Woman of the Year program showcases individuals who have been standouts in athletics, academics and community service.

The Razorback women's basketball team has three university and statewide selections in the NCAA Woman of the Year program.

The University of Arkansas has produced 10 of the first 11 Women of the Year for the state, including the first top 10 national finalist for the state of Arkansas –– track and field All–American Jessica Dailey.

Each NCAA member institution selects its university–wide Woman of the Year. Those nominations are forwarded to the state level where a panel of journalists and NCAA officials vote to select a representative for the state at the national level. These 51 state Women of the Year are hon–ored at the NCAA Woman of the Year banquet where a top 10 and a single National Woman of the Year are chosen.

HALLS OF FAME/HONOR

ARKANSAS SPORTS HALL OF FAME

(Established in January 1959 to honor individuals who have made a special contribution to athletics in Arkansas.)

2006 Bettye Fiscus

A native of Wynne, Bettye Fiscus is listed as the first "great" women's basketball player for the modern-day Lady Razorbacks. Having guided Wynne to the 1981 state championship (scoring 18 points in the final 2:30 minutes of the title game), she also became a legend at the University of Arkansas. The first Lady Razorback to score more than 1,000 points in her career, Fiscus took the U of A to the Sweet 16 as a freshman. She's a member of the Southwest Conference's All-Decade team and had her number 5 jersey retired. Fiscus continues to hold a number of U of A records to this day. She is the program-leading scorer with 2,073 points, was the first player in program history to score 1,000 points and the only one to reach the 2,000-point plateau. Fiscus still holds program career records for points, field goals made (794) and free throws made (485). She is a member of the Arkansas Hall of Honor and named an SEC Great in 2006.

2008 Tracy Webb Rice

Tracy Webb Rice was a standout basketball player at Batesville High and was named "Player of the Year" by the Arkansas Democrat and the Associated Press. Playing on two state championship teams, she was named to the Gazette's Super Team, averaging 22.5 points, 8.6 rebounds and 6 assists her senior season. She scored a career 1,691 points and was named state tournament MVP. Webb was also a member of the state championship tennis doubles tennis team her sophomore and senior years. As a Lady Razorback true point guard, she gained All-SWC status, guiding Arkansas to four consecutive 20-win seasons and the NCAA tournament for the first time. She also guided the Lady'Backs to an NWIT title, grabbing MVP honors. Upon leaving the U of A, she held most of the steal and assist records

2014 Gary Blair, women's basketball coach

Gary Blair is a former head women's basketball coach at the University of Arkansas and recently retired from being the head women's basketball coach at Texas A&M University for 19 seasons. Blair led Arkansas to five NCAA appearances including the 1998 Final Four and four second-round appearances including his last three seasons with the Razorbacks. During his tenure (1993-03), the Razorbacks made eight postseason appearances in 10 years including earning a WNIT championship in 1999. Blair's overall record at Arkansas was 198-120 (.623). He is one of only three NCAA Division I women's basketball coaches to lead two schools to the NCAA Women's Final Four and led Texas A&M to the 2011 national championship. Blair finished his career with a 444-185 (.706) record at Texas A&M and an 852-348 (.710) overall record. He was the head coach at Stephen F. Austin from 1985-93, compiling a 210-43 record at the Texas school. During his final season in 2021-22, he ranked third in career victories among active head coaches and ended his career at No. 12 for the most wins in NCAA women's basketball. Blair has been inducted into 10 Halls of Fame, including most recently the prestigious Naismith Memorial Basketball Hall of Fame in 2023, along with the Arkansas Hall of Honor, Texas High School Basketball Hall of Fame in 2002, Stephen F. Austin University Ladyjack Hall of Fame in 2008 and Southland Conference Hall of Honor in 2009.

2015 Christy Smith

Christy Smith graduated from Arkansas with a bachelor's degree in exercise science in 1998 and a master's degree in biomechanics in 2001. She was a four-year starter at point guard from 1995-98. Smith's honors include being a four-time honorable mention All-American, All-SEC First Team in 1998, All-SEC Second team in 1996 and 1997 and SEC Freshman of the Year in 1995. Smith led Arkansas to the 1998 Final Four and was a UA Sports Hall of Honor inductee in 2005. The Razorbacks were 84-41 overall in her four seasons with two NCAA Tournament appearances and a WNIT appearance. She is Arkansas' 10th all-time leading scorer with 1,459 career points, ranks fourth in career assists with 507, third in steals with 239 and third in minutes with 3,960. She played two seasons in the WNBA with the Charlotte Sting after being a first-round draft pick, No. 17 overall, in 1998. Smith is married to Tommy Cook and has three kids: daughter Dayton and sons Tyson and Crew.

UNIVERSITY OF ARKANSAS SPORTS HALL OF HONOR

The University of Arkansas Sports Hall of Honor was established in 1988 as a means of honoring the all-time great athletes and coaches that have done so much in establishing a tradition of excellence in University of Arkansas athletics. Only former Razorback letterwinners are allowed to vote. Bios from their induction release are posted if they were available.

1994 Bettye Fiscus

The first of the true greats in Lady Razorback history, Bettye Fiscus Dickey set the definition by which all other Arkansas women's basketball players are judged. In a career of firsts, Fiscus received perhaps her final and most unique honor in 1994 when she became the first female athlete inducted into the Arkansas Sports Hall of Honor. Fiscus was the first player to score over 1,000 points in a career and broke the school record in only two seasons. She went on to become the only Lady'Back to score over 2,000 points, and until Razorback all-American and NBA standout Todd Day in the early 1990s, Fiscus was the University's all-time leading scorer. Also, one in a long line of Arkansas prep legends to play for the Lady Razorbacks, she led her hometown of Wynne, Arkansas to the AAA state title and was named player of the year by the Arkansas Democrat-Gazette. Her jersey number – No. 5 – was the first to be retired by the University of Arkansas – male or female – and hangs in the Lady'Back trophy case, as well as in Barnhill Arena. Even though her career ended in 1985, she still holds 12 Arkansas overall individual records including total points, career scoring average, field goals and free throws, as well as eight class records. When she completed her career, she not only was the all-time leading scorer, but the leader in rebounds as well with 785. She is married to former Razorback assistant, James Dickey, who spent 40 years coaching collegiate men's basketball.

1998 Bev Lewis

Bev Lewis spent 19 years (1989-07) as the director of Arkansas Women's Athletics. During her tenure, the University of Arkansas has moved to increase athletic participation for women with the addition of volleyball, golf, gymnastics and softball. All four sports competed in NCAA postseason competition by each inaugural recruiting class' senior season and have established themselves as nationally competitive programs. Lewis received one of her greatest personal honors as Bob and Marilyn Bogle requested that Arkansas' new facility be named the Bev Lewis Center for Women's Athletics. Lewis' leadership was also key to the construction of Bogle Park and Razorback Field, the home to Razorback softball and soccer, respectively. Lewis served collegiate athletics at the highest level as an administrator, as a member of the NCAA Management Council, the NCAA Championship Cabinet and the Southeastern Conference Executive Committee. In 1998, she was voted into the University of Arkansas Hall of Honor for her contributions as a coach and administrator.

2000 Delmonica DeHorney

Delmonica DeHorney, who played for Arkansas from 1987-91, still remains as one of the best bigs to have ever dressed in a Hog uniform. She was named a Kodak All-American in 1990, two-time Southwest Conference Player of the Year and the league's Newcomer of the Year. To this day, she holds program records for field goal percentage (.609), free throw attempts (648) and blocks (235). DeHorney led Arkansas in scoring in the program's record-setting win over Texas that snapped a 183-game SWC win streak for the Longhorns and led Arkansas to a conference title.

2002 Amber Nicholas Shirey

The 1990 Southwest Conference Tournament MVP, Amber Nicholas Shirey lettered from 1989-92 and was a two-time All-SWC selection. The career leader in assists at Arkansas prior to the 2002 season, no point guard has matched her team's run of back-to-back conference titles and three consecutive NCAA appearances. The only 1,000 point-500 assist Lady'Back, she was a two-time CoSIDA Academic All-American, was NCAA Woman of the Year for the state of Arkansas and received an NCAA Postgraduate Scholarship. Becoming an assistant coach in 1993, she was an assistant for the 1998 NCAA Final Four team. Nicholas Shirey is a constant fixture in the Arkansas women's basketball program, currently serving as the Director of Basketball Operations, going on year 36 as a player or coach for the program this upcoming season, 2023-24.

2004 Tracy Webb Rice

The fourth Lady Razorback basketball player inducted into the Arkansas Sports Hall of Honor, Tracy Webb Rice was the fiery leader of the basketball team during its climb to power in the Southwest Conference era. Webb's scrappy play resulted in four consecutive 20–win seasons, the Lady'Backs' first NCAA tournament appearance and first major title with the 1987 National Women's Invitational Tournament. The leader of a recruiting class that put Arkansas on the map, the Batesville, Arkansas native stole more than the basketball during her four–year career. Aside from 293 basketballs, Webb stole the show and the hearts of Lady'Back fans as one of the most popular on–the–court personalities of the mid–1980s. The first true point guard star, Webb finished her career holding almost all the Lady Razorback assist and steal records. She was the first Lady'Back player to earn All–Southwest Conference First Team honors, as well as one of the first three Lady'Backs named conference player of the week. Her junior season team was the first in school history to earn an NCAA berth, losing by a point at Missouri in the opening round, 66–65. Her senior season was exciting, as the Lady'Backs missed beating #1–ranked UT by a bucket in Fayetteville (59–56) and at the SWC Tournament (72–70). Fueled to prove they belonged in the NCAA Tournament after narrowly missing the dance, Webb's team crushed the NWIT field by a 16–point average and was named the tournament MVP.

2005 Christy Smith

The fifth Razorback basketball player inducted into the Arkansas Sports Hall of Honor, Christy Smith Flowers lives forever in the memories of women's basketball fans for her heroic leadership of the 1998 NCAA Final Four team. A point guard's point guard, Smith exemplified the toughness and leadership expected on the court from her first days at Arkansas. Playing every minute of every SEC game as a freshman – an astounding 445 consecutive minutes played – Smith was voted the SEC Freshman of the Year and paced Arkansas into the NCAA Tournament for the first time since the SWC glory days. While her personal achievements caught the attention of the nation, it was her ability to rally – both personally and through the team – that endears her to Arkansas fans to this day. She became the first Lady'Back to lead the nation in a NCAA statistical category by shooting 89.9 percent at the free throw line as a freshman. Smith would not be denied and led Arkansas on a 6–1 finish to give the Lady'Backs their best SEC finish in school history, 7–4, tied for fourth overall. As a sophomore, Smith had the best single free throw shooting game in Division I for the 1995–96 season, a 15–of–15 effort to defeat Ohio State in the Preseason WNIT. Arkansas roared to a program– best start of 13–1, but the team faltered when Smith tore her ACL at Kentucky midway through conference play. Without Smith, the team accepted a NWIT berth. Upon her return, Arkansas opened 12–1 including Smith leading the Lady'Backs' first–ever win over Tennessee, but a tough close made Arkansas the bubble team left out of the NCAA Tournament. In her final season, Smith rallied Arkansas again into a NCAA bid, but with a ninth seed and the unenviable assignment to the Stanford–hosted subregional, it appeared Smith would end her career short of her dream. But two flawless games from the West Lafayette, Indiana guard – zero turnovers – put Arkansas into the West Regional at Oakland. Defeating Kansas in the Sweet 16, but struggling from behind against eight–ranked Duke, Smith fulfilled her destiny appropriately at the free throw line. In the waning seconds, Duke fouled Smith twice and she calmly sank all four free throws to send Arkansas to the Final Four in Kansas City. It remains to this day the only time an unranked team reached the Final Four. Smith closed her career second all–time in assists and fifth in scoring. Only 31 assists shy of her coach, Amber Nicholas', record, she certainly would have closed No. 1 in assists without her knee injury. She is married to former Razorback defensive back Jeremy Flowers. The Flowers have three children and live in Austin, where she is the director of operations for the Texas women's basketball team.

2014 Shameka Christon
The first Arkansas women's basketball player to earn Associated Press All–America honors, Hot Springs, Arkansas native Shameka Christon became Arkansas' first, first–round professional draft selection after earning 2004 Southeastern Conference Player of the Year honors. Leading the league in scoring with 21.8 points per game her senior year, Christon played in three NCAA tournaments at Arkansas and closed her career as the second all–time leading scorer with 1,951 points. She led Arkansas to semifinal finishes at the 2001 and 2002 SEC Women's Basketball Tournament, still the all–time best performance for the Razorbacks. As a six–year veteran with the WNBA New York Liberty, she was on the 2004 Rookie Team and a WNBA All–Star in 2009. Christon was traded to the Chicago Sky for the 2011 season, but injuries kept her out of the lineup. Christon ended her WNBA career with the Phoenix Mercury in 2015.

2017 Amy Wright
The all–time record holder for assists in a career (717) and second for a single season (205), Wright finished her career as the first starting point guard to take her team to four consecu–tive postseason appearances (1999–2000, WNIT; 2001–02, NCAA). As a freshman, Wright guided Arkansas to the 1999 WNIT Championship. Her teams won 77 games, including three 20–win seasons, for one of the most successful four–year periods for Arkansas. Her senior season team set the Arkansas record for the least turnovers in a season. After her playing career, she has become a successful Division I women's basketball assistant coach. An SEC Academic Honor Roll selection and member of the Arkansas Academic Honor Roll as a sophomore (1999–00), Wright never missed a game, playing in a school–record 131 consecutive contests. She was named to the Women's Basketball News Service Preseason All–America Team in 2001–02. Following her collegiate career, Wright participated in the WNBA Pre–Draft Camp and was drafted by the Detroit Shock in 2002. A native of Williamsburg, Indiana, Wright earned a bachelor's degree in marketing and management from Arkansas in 2002. She completed her master's degree in sports and administration from Ohio University in December 2012. Following her playing career, Wright went into coaching and after 10 seasons on her former coach Gary Blair's staff at Texas A&M. She is now in her first season as the head coach at Long Beach State.

2018 Sytia Messer
Named the most outstanding player of the 1998 NCAA West Regional, former Razorback women's basketball player Sytia Messer was an integral part of two of Arkansas' greatest women's basketball teams, the 1998 Final Four and 1999 WNIT Championship squads. Messer is a 1,000–point scorer (1,379) and, at 5–8, she pulled down 603 rebounds as one of the best rebounding guards in school history. She was a two–time captain for Arkansas as a junior and senior and was named to the SEC All–Freshman team in 1996. Messer averaged 12.6 points per game in 1997–98, her best season, leading Arkansas to the program's first Final Four appearance. She was named to the Joe Smith Preseason All–American team in 1998–99 and then led her team as they ran the table to the WNIT title against Wisconsin. Along with her play for the Razorbacks, Messer also took time to play in the summer prior to graduation for the collegiate squad of Athletes in Action. She also played for the post–collegian Athletes in Action touring team. Following college, Messer began her coaching career with stops at Arkansas State, Memphis, Georgia Tech, Tennessee Tech and Baylor. Messer is now in her second season as the head coach at UCF going into the 2023–24 campaign.

2022 Gary Blair
The head women's basketball coach at Arkansas for 10 seasons (1993–03), Gary Blair led the Razorbacks to five NCAA Tournaments, including a run to the 1998 NCAA Women's Final Four. That finish is the best in program history and Arkansas remains the lowest seed (No. 9) to ever make a Women's Final Four. In addition, Blair led the Hogs to three WNIT appearanc–es, including the 1999 WNIT Championship. Overall, Blair coached Arkansas to a record of 198–120 (.623). Five Razorbacks who played or coached during Blair's era at Arkansas are members of the UA Sports Hall of Honor (Shameka Christon, Sytia Messer, Amber Shirey, Christy Smith and Kimberly Wilson). Following the 2021–22 season, Blair retired after 42 years of coaching. In 37 years as a collegiate head coach with stops at Stephen F. Austin, Arkansas and Texas A&M, Blair had 35 winning seasons, 30 20–win seasons, 41 postseason victories, 26 NCAA Tournaments, 18 conference titles, 13 Sweet Sixteens, four Elite Eights, two Final Fours and one National Championship (Texas A&M). His career record as a collegiate head coach was 852–348.

2022 Kimberly Wilson Jenkins
A bucket–getter while at Arkansas, Kimberly Wilson Jenkins was the leading scorer for three seasons for Gary Blair's Hogs, averaging 14.4 points over her career. The Hampton, Arkansas native still ranks sixth on Arkansas' all–time scoring list, as she poured in 1,733 points over her 120 games played in Fayetteville. For her efforts, Wilson was named an All–SEC performer in 1995, 1996 and 1997. Wilson also was named to the SEC All–Freshman Team in 1994. She was one of the most well–rounded players in Arkansas women's basketball history and is one of three players in the history of the program to score at least 1,000 points, dish at least 300 assists and collect 400 rebounds. Wilson was remarkably efficient over her four–year career, averaging over 13 points per game every season she played on the Hill. A member of the SEC Scholar–Athlete Honor roll in 1997, Wilson was invited to the inaugural WNBA pre–draft combine and was selected to compete on the Athletes in Action team in 1995. In 2007, she was honored as an SEC Great at the SEC Women's Basketball Tournament.

SOUTHWEST CONFERENCE HALL OF FAME

1994 Bettye Fiscus
Bettye Fiscus set the definition by which all other Arkansas women's basketball players are judged. She was the first player to score over 1,000 points in a career and broke the school record in only two seasons. She went on to become the only Razorback women's basketball player over 2,000 points, and until Razorback All–American Todd Day in the early 1990s, Fiscus was the University's all–time leading scorer. She averaged 18.5 points per game during her career. She was a Wade Trophy Award finalist, an award given to the nation's top women's player. Her jersey number – No. 5 – was the first to be retired by the University of Arkansas – male or female – and was placed in the trophy case and the rafters of Barnhill Arena. In 2015 during a special ceremony, a banner was raised in her honor in Bud Walton Arena, the current home of Razorback Basketball. She still holds 12 Arkansas overall individual records including total points, career scoring average, field goals and free throws and eight class records. When she completed her career, she not only was the all–time leading scorer, but the leader in rebounds as well with 785.

2016 Bev Lewis (Women's Track and Field, Administrator)
Prior to Bev Lewis assuming the duties of director of women's athletics in 1989, her Razorback women's cross country and track teams had six top 20 national finishes, and she coached Team USA at the 1990 World Junior Cross Country Championships. Her coaching was instrumental in establishing Arkansas' perfect record of sending a team or individual to every collegiate national meet since the program's inception. Lewis also coached Arkansas' first women's conference championship team at the 1988 Southwest Conference Cross Country Championships. As a result, her peers voted her SWC Coach of the Year for the second year in a row. She also was named SWC Outdoor Track Coach of the Year in 1989. Lewis spent 19 years (1989–07) as the director of Women's Athletics. She served collegiate athletics at the highest level as an administrator, as a member of the NCAA Management Council, the NCAA Championship Cabinet and the Southeastern Conference Executive Committee. From 2008–14, Lewis served as Associate Vice Chancellor and Executive Associate Athletic Director in the combined men's and women's athletic program. In 1998, she was voted into the University of Arkansas Hall of Honor for her contributions as a coach and administrator. In recognition of her outstanding achievements, Lewis was named to Arkansas Business magazine's "Top 100 Women in Arkansas" in 1996, 1997 and 1998. The publication also named her to their 2010 "Women of Influence" in Arkansas.

2017 Amber Nicholas Shirey
Selected in 2017, Amber Nicholas began her career at Arkansas as a player for the Razorbacks (1989–92) becoming the first women's student–ath–lete selected to receive a NCAA Postgraduate Scholarship. She closed her career as one of two players in school history to rank on four career total lists (points, 6th; rebounds, 10th; steals, 2nd; assists, 1st). Twice named All–Southwest Conference, she was the MVP of the 1991 SWC tournament, leading Arkansas to the first non–Texas title. Shirey equaled her court performance in the classroom. A kinesiology major, she had over a 3.9 GPA, and twice was voted to the College Sports Information Directors of America's Academic All–America Team. She was a three–time conference academic team member as well. Shirey graduated and went on to a student coaching role for one season before being named assistant coach, a position she held for 14 seasons with two different head coaches. In 2007 Shirey redefined herself in a new role as executive director of operations, a position she held until returning to the sidelines as the Razorback assistant from 2012–14. Shirey went back to the director of operations title in 2014 and holds that title to this day for Mike Neighbors' staff.

2018 Tracy Webb
Tracy Webb Rice was the fiery leader of the basketball team during its climb to power in the Southwest Conference era. Webb's scrappy play resulted in four consecutive 20–win seasons, the Lady'Backs' first NCAA tournament appearance and first major title with the 1987 National Women's Invitational Tournament. The leader of a recruiting class that put Arkansas on the map, the Batesville, Arkansas native stole more than the basketball during her four–year career. Aside from 293 basketballs, Webb stole the show and the hearts of Lady'Back fans as one of the most popular on–the–court personalities of the mid–1980s. The first true point guard star, Webb finished her career holding almost all the Lady Razorback assist and steal records. She was the first Lady'Back player to earn First Team All–Southwest Conference honors, a distinction that began her senior season. She was also one of the first three Lady'Backs named conference player of the week. Her junior season team was the first in school history to earn an NCAA berth, losing by a point at Missouri in the opening round, 66–65. Her senior season was exciting as the Lady'Backs missed beating #1–ranked UT by a bucket in Fayetteville (59–56) and at the SWC Tournament (72–70), then was overlooked for a return trip to the NCAA. Fueled to prove they belonged in the NCAA, Webb's team crushed the WNIT field by a 16–point average as she was named the tournament MVP.

GARY BLAIR

Gary Blair was the head Hog of the Arkansas women's basketball team for 10 seasons (1993–03), while leading the Razorbacks to five NCAA Tournaments, including a run to the 1998 NCAA Women's Final Four. The finish is the best in program history and Arkansas remains the lowest seed at No. 9 to ever make a Women's Final Four. In addition, Blair led the Hogs to three WNIT appearances, including the 1999 WNIT Championship. Overall, Blair coached Arkansas to a record of 198–120 (.623). Five Razorbacks who played or coached during Blair's era at Arkansas are members of the UA Sports Hall of Honor (Shameka Christon, Sytia Messer, Amber Shirey, Christy Smith and Kimberly Wilson Jenkins).

COACHING AWARDS

Blair will go down as one of the greatest women's collegiate basketball coaches of all time. He retired with an 852–348 overall record across 37 seasons, which stands as the 12th most Division I wins in NCAA women's basketball history.

GARY BLAIR TODAY

Blair wrapped up his final year coaching collegiate basketball at Texas A&M after a 37-year career coaching college basketball, 48 overall, following the 2021–22 season. Blair has two children, Paige and Matt, and four grandchildren, Logan, Lola, Landry and Reagan. Logan is a student manager for the Arkansas women's basketball team. Paige owns a children's boutique in Fayetteville and is married to Beau Thompson, head boys basketball coach at Farmington High School. Matt is married to the former Alli Nielsen and works in logistics in Fayetteville. In 2020, Blair married his wife, the former Kyla Gay.

SHAMEKA CHRISTON

The first Arkansas women's basketball player to earn Associated Press All–America honors, Hot Springs, Arkansas, native Shameka Christon became Arkansas' first, first–round professional draft selection after earning 2004 Southeastern Conference Player of the Year honors. Leading the league in scoring with 21.8 points per game her senior year, Christon played in three NCAA tournaments at Arkansas and closed her career as the second all–time leading scorer with 1,951 points. She led Arkansas to semifinal finishes at the 2001 and 2002 SEC Women's Basketball Tournament, still the all–time best performance for the Razorbacks. As a six–year veteran with the WNBA New York Liberty, she was on the 2004 Rookie Team and a WNBA All–Star in 2009. Christon was traded to the Chicago Sky for the 2011 season, but injuries kept her out of the lineup. Christon was traded to the San Antonio Stars and retired from the WNBA with the Phoenix Mercury in 2015.

RECORDS

One of the most decorated players in program history, Christon worked with the Razorbacks as the team's color analyst on the radio for one season as well.

HALL OF HONOR

DELMONICA DEHORNEY-HAWKINS

Delmonica DeHorney Hawkins became the second Razorback basketball player and the fourth overall inductee to the Arkansas Hall of Honor in September 2000. The first Kodak All-American at the University of Arkansas, DeHorney set the standard for the Arkansas women's basketball program. The only player in Southwest Conference history to receive three player of the year honors during her career, DeHorney led Arkansas to its peak of domination of the SWC and onto the national stage as a top 10 team.

DeHorney exhibited her promise her first season at Arkansas, earning SWC Newcomer of the Year honors. Her sophomore season was limited due to injuries, but the 6-4 Poteau, Oklahoma product came back stronger than ever as a junior.

It was during the 1989-90 season that DeHorney and Arkansas became household words in the sports world. Leading Arkansas and the SWC in scoring and field goal percentage, DeHorney paced the Razorbacks to the first win over Texas by a conference opponent. The win at Texas broke a 183-game streak and the UT strangle-hold on the conference title. As the SWC Co-Champions, Arkansas was selected for the NCAA tournament. DeHorney stepped up her game, earning All-NCAA West Regional team honors for her back-to-back 30-point games at the Stanford-hosted tournament. Arkansas reached the Elite Eight with DeHorney leading the way.

For her efforts, DeHorney was voted the SWC Player of the Year in 1990, as well as one of the 10 players selected by the WBCA for the Kodak All-America team.

As a senior, DeHorney proved herself again. Repeating as SWC Player of the Year, she led Arkansas to an undisputed SWC crown with a pair of wins over Texas and a 15-1 conference mark. Arkansas added the 1991 SWC Classic trophy to its collection to become the first team besides UT to win the postseason conference tournament. Ranked as high as 8th in the nation, Arkansas received a first-round bye in the 1991 NCAA Tournament but was upset in the Sweet 16 by Lamar.

RECORDS

The post against all others are measured in Arkansas Razorback women's basketball history, Delmonica DeHorney was one of the most accurate scorers in school history and the key to Arkansas leading the nation in field goal percentage during the 1990-91 season.

She also holds the record for career scoring in SWC games only along with another 10 SWC game records.

ONE OF A KIND

In the storied history of the Southwest Conference, only one woman was voted by the league coaches to a player of the year honor three times in a career. Delmonica DeHorney was the SWC Newcomer of the Year as a freshman in 1988. An injury limited her playing time as a sophomore, but she returned full force as a junior and a senior to lead the league in scoring and earn the 1990 and 1991 SWC Player of the Year award. The first player twice voted first team all-conference, DeHorney was chosen SWC Player of the Week three times and all-tournament once. Her career was remembered years later as she was the only women's basketball player voted to the five-player SWC All-Decade First Team.

Additionally, one of Delmonica's three blocks was key to Arkansas' snapping the Texas 183-game win streak in SWC games in 1990.

DELMONICA HAWKINS TODAY

Married to Jackson Hawkins and the mother of two, Delmonica lives in Baltimore, Maryland, and works as a juvenile probation officer. Immediately after her playing career at Arkansas, she spent a season in Japan in professional basketball, then a brief time in France. She returned to Fayetteville for the retirement of her jersey, only the second in school history, before settling with her family in Baltimore.

DeHorney-Hawkins joined the Razorback women at the 2011 SEC Championship where she was honored as an SEC Great.

BETTYE FISCUS

The first of the true greats in Razorback history, Bettye Fiscus set the definition by which all other Arkansas women's basketball players are judged.

In a career of firsts, Fiscus received perhaps her final and most unique honor in 1994 when she became the first female athlete inducted into the University of Arkansas Sports Hall of Honor.

Fiscus was the first player to score over 1,000 points in a career and broke the school record in only two seasons. She went on to become the only women's basketball player to finish with over 2,000 points, and until Razorback All–American and NBA standout Todd Day in the early 1990s, Fiscus was the university's all–time leading scorer.

Also one in a long line of Arkansas prep legends to play for the Razorbacks, she led her hometown of Wynne, Arkansas to the AAA state title and was named player of the year by the Arkansas Democrat–Gazette.

Her jersey number –– No. 5 –– was the first to be retired by the University of Arkansas –– male or female –– and hangs in the Razorback trophy case, as well as in Barnhill Arena.

Even though her career ended in 1985, she still holds two Arkansas overall individual records including career points and field goals made along with eight class records. When she completed her career, she not only was the all–time leading scorer, but the leader in rebounds as well with 785.

Adding to her career honors, she was inducted into the Arkansas Sports Hall of Fame in 2006 and the Southwest Conference Hall of Fame in 2015.

RECORDS

Two decades later, Bettye Fiscus remains Arkansas' all–time scoring leader with 2,073 points, but the original star of the program still holds two individual records and eight class records.

She also holds two records for SWC games only, career scoring average and season field goals.

IT'S NOT ALL ABOUT SCORING

While her career rebound mark of 785 did not last more than three years, Fiscus remains No. 2 on the career rebound list and the top guard–wing rebounder. Notable Razorbacks below Fiscus in boards: Kodak All–American Delmonica DeHorney and SEC Player of the Year Shameka Christon.

Fiscus was Arkansas' first all–conference player, earing first–team all–SWC in 1982. She was a three–time all–SWC selection in her career, two–time all–SWC tournament and was selected to the SWC All–Decade Team

BETTYE FISCUS TODAY

Fiscus remains a part of the great history of the Razorback program. She was the first player in university history to have her jersey retired in 1986.

To celebrate the end of the Barnhill Arena era and the opening of Bud Walton Arena, the Women's Athletics Department issued commemorative tickets for the first women's game in the new facility. Each ticket had the image of one of the four career leaders, and a special banquet was held to celebrate "A Moment in Time." Fiscus was joined at the banquet by Amber Nicholas Shirey (UA's then assist leader) and Shelly Wallace, the only woman to break Fiscus' mark for rebounds.

As a part of the 30th anniversary season of Razorback basketball, the University chose Fiscus as its Southeastern Conference Great to be honored at the 2006 SEC Women's Basketball Tournament in North Little Rock.

SYTIA MESSER

Named the most outstanding player of the 1998 NCAA West Regional, former Razorback women's basketball player Sytia Messer was an integral part of two of Arkansas' greatest women's basketball teams, the 1998 Final Four and 1999 WNIT Championship squads.

Messer is a 1,000-point scorer (1,379) and, at 5-8, she pulled down 603 rebounds as one of the best rebounding guards in school history. She was a two-time captain for Arkansas as a junior and senior and was named to the SEC All-Freshman team in 1996.

Messer averaged 12.6 points per game in 1997-98, her best season, leading Arkansas to the program's first Final Four appearance. She was named to the Joe Smith Pre-Season All-American team in 1998-99, and then led her team as they ran the table to the WNIT title against Wisconsin.

Along with her play for the Razorbacks, Messer also took time to play in the summer prior to graduation for the collegiate squad of Athletes in Action. She also played for the post-collegian Athletes in Action touring team.

SYTIA MESSER TODAY

Messer was hired as the head women's basketball coach at UCF on April 3, 2022. She brings 22 years of coaching experience to the Knights after previously having served on Kim Mulkey's staffs at LSU (Associate Head Coach, 2021-22) and Baylor (Assistant Coach, 2013-21), as well as had stops at Arkansas State, Memphis, Georgia Tech and Tennessee Tech.

RECORDS

Sytia Messer was a part of two record-setting seasons for Razorback women's basketball. She was a two-time captain while helping Arkansas to the program's first Final Four in 1998 and again when the Razorbacks won the Postseason WNIT title in 1999.

AMBER NICHOLAS SHIREY

While others may have better statistics, arguably no other Razorback has had the impact upon the Arkansas women's basketball program as Amber Nicholas Shirey. An All-SWC and Academic All-America player in the late 1980s and early 1990s, she is the first former women's player to become a full-time coaching staff member at Arkansas. As a result, she played a critical hand in recruiting and coaching the athletes who replaced her in the record books.

It seems fitting that the player to hold the Arkansas record for assists would have the best winning percentage in her career (over 75 percent) of any Razorback. In the process, her teams won 86 games, two SWC titles and made three NCAA appearances. Thanks in part to her 538 assists, her post players led the SWC in scoring twice.

She ended her career second in steals and one of only two players to rank in the top 10 in points, rebounds, steals and assists. Nicholas can rightly lay claim to a stake in the 86 games won during her four years as she played in all 117 games and started a school-record 87 consecutive games. The 1991 SWC Tournament MVP, Nicholas also was a two-time CoSIDA Academic All-American and NCAA Post-Graduate Scholarship recipient.

Her legacy to the program continued as an assistant coach, working with guards like former SEC three-point accuracy champion Kimberly Wilson, former four-time AP All-American Christy Smith and three-point record holder Wendi Willits. She had the privilege to coach the woman who finished off her assist record, Amy Wright.

Shirey was inducted into the Southwest Conference Hall of Fame in the fall of 2017.

RECORDS

Of all the records that Amber Nicholas set during her career, which included virtually every assist and free throw mark, the two that speak to the essence of her game remain to this day. She is the only starting point guard to take her team to play in three consecutive NCAA tournaments and the only Arkansas player named MVP of the SWC Classic.

CLASS RECORDS

It's somehow fitting that the consummate point guard of her era does not hold any class records. However, her post players, Delmonica DeHorney (junior season) and Shelly Wallace (senior season) hold the school class records for most points in a game, season and season scoring average.

"MISS LADY'BACK"

During the program's 25th anniversary celebration, that's the headline on the newspaper article about Nicholas Shirey. The label fits as no person has been involved in more games than any other individual in Arkansas history, 117 as a player, 27 as a graduate assistant coach and 436 as an assistant coach. That's a total of 580 games over a span of 19 years (when the article was written).

A SCHOLAR AND AN ATHLETE

Recipient of several academic awards, Nicholas Shirey was the first Razorback to earn an NCAA Post-Graduate Scholarship. She also was the NCAA Woman of the Year from the state of Arkansas in 1992.

AMBER NICHOLAS SHIREY TODAY

Nicholas Shirey currently serves as the director of basketball operations for the Razorbacks' women's basketball team. Honored by the university with selection to the University of Arkansas Sports Hall of Honor in 2002 as the third Razorback women's basketball player inducted, Shirey was also honored by the athletic department as the Legend Player at the 2003 Southeastern Conference Women's Basketball Tournament hosted in North Little Rock at ALLTEL Arena. She married Farmington High teacher Jason Shirey in 1999, and the Shireys have three children, a son, Ross, and daughters, Reese and Rheid.

CHRISTY SMITH

The fifth Razorback women's basketball player inducted into the Arkansas Sports Hall of Honor, Christy Smith lives forever in the memories of women's basketball fans for her heroic leadership of the 1998 NCAA Final Four team.

Smith became the first Razorback to lead the nation in a NCAA statistical category by shooting 89.9 percent at the free throw line as a freshman. Yet, one of her 15 missed free throws that season cost Arkansas a chance to advance to overtime versus Ole Miss. That loss put Arkansas at 1–3 for SEC games, but Smith would not be denied and led Arkansas on a 6–1 finish to give the Razorbacks their best SEC finish in school history, 7–4, tied for fourth overall.

As a sophomore, Smith had the best single free throw shooting game in Division I for the 1995–96 season, a 15–of–15 effort to defeat Ohio State in the preseason WNIT. Arkansas roared to a program–best start of 13–1, but the team faltered when Smith tore her ACL at Kentucky midway through conference play. Without Smith, the team accepted a NWIT berth.

Upon her return, Arkansas opened 12–1 including Smith leading the Razorbacks' first–ever win over Tennessee, but a tough close made Arkansas the bubble team left out of the NCAA Tournament.

In her final season, Smith rallied Arkansas again into a NCAA bid, but with a ninth seed and the unenviable assignment to the Stanford–hosted subregional it appeared Smith would end her career short of her dream. But two flawless games from the West Lafayette, Indiana guard –– zero turnovers –– put Arkansas into the West Regional at Oakland. Defeating Kansas in the Sweet 16, and struggling from behind against eight–ranked Duke, Smith fulfilled her destiny appropriately at the free throw line. In the waning seconds, Duke fouled Smith twice and she calmly sank all four to send Arkansas to the Final Four in Kansas City. It remains to this day the only time an unranked team reached the Final Four.

Smith closed her career second all–time in assists and fifth in scoring. Only 31 assists shy of her coach Amber Nicholas' record at the time, she certainly would have closed in on No. 1 in assists without her knee injury.

Along with her All–SEC honors, Smith was a member of the inaugural AP Women's All–America Team in 1995. Smith was a four–time honorable mention AP All–American, a feat made more notable by her season ending knee injury in 1996.

RECORDS

Smith was one of the most accurate free throw shooters in the nation during her career. In fact, she led Division I in 1994–95 for the season and had the single best game in all of Division I in 1995–96.

In addition to these records, Smith holds another 14 records for SEC games only including career free throws, career free throw percentage and career consecutive SEC starts –– 43. In fact, she is one of two Razorbacks to start every SEC game of her career that she was able to play (Makayla Daniels the other).

CHRISTY SMITH TODAY

Following her trip to the NCAA Final Four, Smith was a WNBA second–round draft pick of the Charlotte Sting, and as the starting point guard for the franchise, Smith led the Sting to the WNBA Playoffs. Injuries limited her playing time the following season and eventually ended her professional career.

Smith was the fifth Razorback women's basketball player selected by the A–Club membership for inclusion in the Arkansas Hall of Honor. She was inducted in 2005.

Smith and former Razorback defensive back Jeromy Flowers have three children. She served as the head coach at Incarnate Word in San Antonio from 2016–19. Now, Smith is the Director of Operations at the University of Texas, a position she has held since the start of the 2022–23 season.

TRACY WEBB RICE

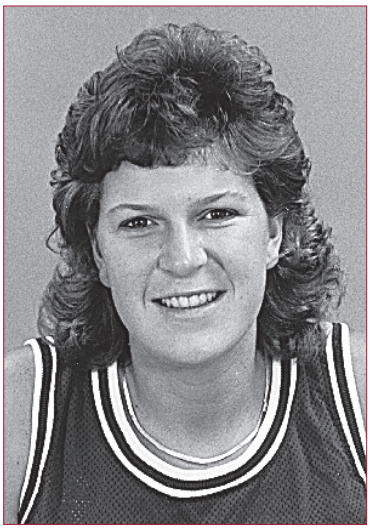

The fourth Razorback women's basketball player inducted into the Arkansas Sports Hall of Honor, Tracy Webb Rice was the fiery leader of the basketball team during its climb to power in the Southwest Conference era.

Webb's scrappy play resulted in four consecutive 20-win seasons, the Razorbacks' first women's basketball NCAA tournament appearance and first major title with the 1987 National Women's Invitational Tournament.

The leader of a recruiting class that put Arkansas on the map, the Batesville, Arkansas native stole more than the basketball during her four-year career.

Aside from 293 basketballs, Webb stole the show and the hearts of Arkansas fans as one of the most popular on-the-court personalities of the mid-1980s. The first true point guard star, Webb finished her career holding almost all the Razorback assist and steal records. She was the first Razorback player to earn All-Southwest Conference First Team honors, a distinction that began her senior season.

She was also one of the first three Razorbacks named conference player of the week. Her junior-season team was the first in school history to earn an NCAA berth, losing by a point at Missouri in the opening round, 66-65. Her senior season was exciting as the Razorbacks missed beating No. 1-ranked UT by a bucket in Fayetteville (59-56) and at the SWC Tournament (72-70), then was overlooked for a return trip to the NCAA. Fueled to prove they belonged in the NCAA, Webb's team crushed the WNIT field by a 16-point average as she was named the tournament MVP.

RECORDS

One of the first true point guards in Arkansas history, Tracy Webb set the standard by which future "1" players were measured. When she finished her career in 1987, she held almost every guard-oriented career mark, including assists, steals and free throw percentage. She still holds these Arkansas marks.

She also holds the record for career assists and career steals in SWC games, plus the career and season records for best free throw percentage in SWC games.

MAKING HER POINT

Back in the 1980s, the NCAA tournament was limited to only 32 bids, and as a result many great basketball players never reached the Big Dance. Such was the case for the 1986-87 Razorbacks and their leader, Tracy Webb. Snubbed by the NCAA committee, Webb and company headed west to Amarillo, Texas, and the National Women's Invitational Tournament on a mission. Not only did Arkansas want to win, the team crushed the opposition by a record-setting margin that stood until the end of the NWIT's existence. That same year, Webb had a profound impact on Arkansas' future as she impressed upon a young recruit, Amber Nicholas, her duty to stay home and take over for her at point guard.

TRACY WEBB RICE TODAY

After finishing her playing career at Arkansas, Webb Rice was a graduate assistant coach for the Razorbacks in 1987-88.

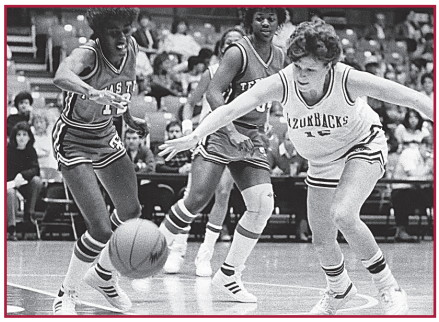

She worked for several years as a flight attendant for a major carrier. Married to Paul Rice and the mother of three, Webb lives in Hot Springs, Arkansas.

Tracy was the University of Arkansas' honored former player at the 2005 Southeastern Conference Women's Basketball Tournament in Greenville, South Carolina.

She was inducted into the Arkansas Sports Hall of Fame in 2008.

HALL OF HONOR
KIMBERLY WILSON JENKINS

Kimberly Wilson, a true Arkansas native, etched her name into the history of Razorback Women's basketball with her remarkable scoring prowess and all-around game. Wilson was one of the most well-rounded players in Arkansas Women's Basketball history and stands among a select trio of players in the program's storied history to score at least 1,000 points, dish at least 300 assists and collect 400 rebounds. She became a beloved figure in the program, competing as a shooting guard and a three-year team captain from 1993-1997 at the University of Arkansas. Known as a relentless "bucket-getter," she led the Razorbacks in scoring for three consecutive seasons under the guidance of Coach Gary Blair, boasting an impressive career average of 14.4 points per game.

To this day, Wilson remains a revered figure, holding the sixth spot on Arkansas' all-time scoring list, with an astonishing 1,733 points accumulated across 120 games played in Fayetteville. Her contributions on the court were rightfully recognized with multiple All-SEC performer honors in 1995, 1996, and 1997, alongside being named to the SEC All-Freshman team in 1994.

RECORDS

Wilson is one of three in Arkansas women's basketball history to have tallied 1,000 points, 400 rebounds and 300 assists in their career.

What truly sets Kimberly Wilson apart is her well-rounded skill set, a cornerstone of Arkansas Women's Basketball history. Wilson's hallmark was her efficiency, as she consistently averaged over 13 points per game in each season spent on the Hill. Even beyond her athletic achievements, she excelled academically, earning a place on the SEC Scholar-Athlete Honor Roll in 1997. Her talent and dedication extended further than just college, as she received an invitation to the inaugural WNBA pre-draft combine and represented her university with pride as part of the Athletes in Action team in 1995. In a fitting tribute to her enduring impact, Kimberly Wilson was honored as an SEC Great during the SEC Women's Basketball Tournament in 1997, forever cementing her legacy in the hearts of Razorback fans and the hall of fame.

"As an Arkansas native, it was a dream come true to play for the University of Arkansas Lady Razorbacks. I had great coaches, teammates, support staff and fans that influenced my experience and made it unforgettable. Being a Division 1 and SEC student-athlete was very difficult with all of the expectations, travel and extra time commitment, but we were held to high standards and made to be accountable on and off the court, which taught me great life lessons."

KIMBERLY WILSON TODAY

Coach Kimberly Wilson Jenkins now lives in Springdale with her husband of 26 years, Quincy Jenkins. She is in her sixth year as a Springdale Public Schools and Har-Ber High School staff member. The couple have two sons who are Har-Ber High School graduates. Lawson Jenkins is currently playing basketball at Missouri Southern State University, and Connor Jenkins, attends the University of Arkansas.

AMY WRIGHT

The all-time record holder for assists in a career (717) and second for a single season (205), Wright finished her career as the first starting point guard to take her team to four consecutive postseason appearances (1999-2000, WNIT; 2001-02, NCAA).

As a freshman, Wright guided Arkansas to the 1999 WNIT Championship. Her teams won 77 games, including three 20-win seasons, for one of the most successful four-year periods for Arkansas. Her senior season team set the Arkansas record for the least turnovers in a season.

After her playing career, she has become a successful Division I women's basketball assistant coach. An SEC Academic Honor Roll selection and member of the Arkansas Academic Honor Roll as a sophomore (1999-00), Wright never missed a game, playing in a school-record 131 consecutive contests. She was named to the Women's Basketball News Service Preseason All-America team in 2001-02.

Following her collegiate career, Wright participated in the WNBA Pre-Draft Camp and was drafted by the Detroit Shock in 2002.

A native of Williamsburg, Indiana, Wright earned a bachelor's degree in marketing and management from Arkansas in 2002. She completed her master's degree in sports and administration from Ohio University in December 2012. Following her playing career, Wright went into coaching and served 10 years on Gary Blair's staff at Texas A&M before becoming the associate head coach/recruiting coordinator at Oklahoma. She was named head coach at Long Beach State prior to the 2023-24 season.

AMY WRIGHT TODAY

Amy Wright was hired by Long Beach State as the head coach in the summer of 2023. She heads to California after finishing her second season at the University of Oklahoma as the associate head coach and recruiting coordinator. Wright spent 10 seasons as an assistant coach at Texas A&M with her collegiate coach Gary Blair, working with A&M's point guards, in-bound plays and serving as the recruiting coordinator.

In Wright's final season with the Aggies in 2020-21, the team captured its first SEC regular season title, made its way to No. 2 in the AP poll (highest ranking in program history) and advanced to the NCAA Sweet 16. In nearly 20 years of coaching, Wright has been a part of 15 postseason teams (11 NCAA tournaments) and has won five conference championships. At Texas A&M, she helped the Aggies to eight NCAA Tournament appearances, four Sweet 16 trips and a ticket to the 2014 Elite Eight. Texas A&M also won the SEC Tournament with her on staff.

Wright has coached over 11 first team all-conference selections, including Kelsey Bone (2012-13) and Courtney Walker (2013-14, 2014-15, 2015-16), who were named All-SEC at Texas A&M.
