3-9 against the Razorbacks all time, the Red Wolves have yet to win in Fayetteville in the four attempts made. All three of the wins came at home and the last win was in 2005. This is the fourth consecutive season the in-state squads are meeting, the second time in that stretch to face off in Bud Walton Arena.

AGAINST THE SEC

18-34 all-time against the Southeastern Conference, Arkansas State faced Missouri earlier in November, losing 75-97. The last win against an SEC opponent came in 2017, when the Red Wolves won 70-69 at Florida

LAST TIME OUT

Arkansas State stretched out an eight-game win streak with a home conference win against South Alabama, 74-61. Although the Red Wolves only made 11% (3-of-27), they out-rebounded the Jaguars and scored 18 more points in the paint.

SCOUTING THE RAZORBACKS

Arkansas is in the midst of a four-game win streak, with wins over Jackson State, Missouri State, Kansas City, and SFA. The only losses on the Razorback resume is at SMU in the SEC/ACC Challenge, a home matchup with Harvard, and a loss at Texas Tech. Arkansas begins conference play Thursday vs Vanderbilt.

DESTINEE ROGERS

HEAD COACH | 4TH SEASON

Destinee Rogers enters her fourth full season as head coach of the Arkansas State women's basketball program in 2025-26. She was named the eighth all-time head coach on March 13, 2022, after completing the 2021-22 season - her third on staff - as the team's interim head coach.

2024-25

Despite being picked to finish 13th in the Sun Belt and retaining three players from the 2023-24 roster, Arkansas State women's basketball coach Destinee Rogers led the Red Wolves to a 21-11 (15-3 SBC) record, securing the first winning season since 2015-16 and the program's first NCAA Tournament Appearance.

The Red Wolves were the only team from any conference picked to finish last or next-to-last in the preseason poll to finish top two in the conference standings. Coach Rogers did so by reimagining the Scarlet and Black's offense, which led the nation in three-point makes (10.4 3PG) and attempts (32.7 APG). She led her team to the T-7th most wins and third-most conference wins for a single season in program history.

A 13-game winning streak beginning on Jan. 2 versus Marshall and running through Feb. 15 against Texas State highlighted the conference slate. It was the second longest winning streak in program history, falling six short of tying the record set in 2015-16. The Scarlet and Black finished 9-0 in January for the third time in program history and finished with the third best road record since 2009-10.

New program records for three-point makes and attempts were established, converting 334 on 1,047 attempts. In NCAA Women's Basketball history, 117 teams have converted 300 triples only 126 times in a single season. 15 programs have attempted 1,000 three-point attempts only 33 times since the 1981-82 season.

A-State defeated James Madison 86-79 in overtime to claim the program's first Sun Belt Conference Tournament Championship on March 10. The Red Wolves punched their ticket to the NCAA Tournament, facing the national champion UConn Huskies.

Coach Rogers produced an All-Sun Belt Second and Third Team selection along with two SBC All-Tournament selections and the SBC Tournament Most Outstanding Player.

2023-24

Rogers finished her second season with a 13-17 overall record along with a 6-12 conference mark for the second consecutive season. The Red Wolves ranked 56th in the nation for free-throw percentage and 63rd for turnovers during the campaign. In addition, the team played clean as they led the Sun Belt in fouls per game.

She played an important role in guiding Izzy Higginbottom to First Team All-Sun Belt Conference honors, producing the program's latest first team selection since 2015-16. Higginbottom spearheaded the Red Wolves' attack, placing ninth in the nation in scoring average (22.2 PPG), sixth in free throw percentage (91.1), and seventh in free throws made (175). She finished second behind Caitlin Clark for the most 30-point performances in the campaign. The Red Wolves added two 1,000-point scorers to the record book under her guidance, with Lauryn Pendleton being the latest addition.

2022-23

Rogers' first full season at the helm ended with a 13-19 overall mark and 6-12 ledger in conference play, but the Red Wolves finished strong with wins in seven of their last 11 contests. In that final stretch run, A-State reached the quarterfinals of the Sun Belt Conference Tournament for the first time since 2017, winning two games at the league tourney for the first time since 2015.

Under her guidance, guard Izzy Higginbottom garnered Sun Belt Conference Newcomer of the Year honors, becoming the first A-State player since 1999 to earn the honor. Higginbottom was among the league's top offensive threats, leading the team in scoring (16.0), assists (3.4) and steals (1.8), while shooting a school-record 91.1 percent from the free-throw line. Higginbottom was also the first A-State player since Aundrea Gamble (2015-16) to exceed 450 points, 95 assists and 50 steals in a season.

2021-22

In her first game as the team's interim head coach on Dec. 14, Rogers made history as the first African-American female head coach to win a game in school history, defeating Mississippi Valley State 81-47. With her hiring as the team's full-time head coach, she made even more history, becoming the first African-American woman head coach in A-State Athletics history.

Under her watch, A-State won six of her first seven games at the helm, including a 3-1 start to Sun Belt Conference play before losing leading scorer Keya Patton to a season-ending injury. Despite having one of their most dynamic players sidelined with an injury, the Red Wolves remained competitive down the stretch of the regular season as they dropped only one contest by more than double digits before closing with an 82-75 road victory at eventual Sun Belt Conference tournament champion UT Arlington.

Rogers guided guard Lauryn Pendleton to Sun Belt Conference Freshman of the Year laurels – just the second player to earn the honor in program history and the first since 1997.

2019-21: ASST. COACH/ASSOC. HEAD COACH

The Strong, Ark., native joined the A-State women's basketball program in 2019 as an assistant coach before being elevated to associate head coach in 2020. Rogers also owns experience as a head coach at the high school level in the state of Arkansas, serving as the girls' head coach at El Dorado High School from 2016-19. During those three seasons, she guided the Wildcats to a 52-28 record, including a 21-8 mark in her first season with a state semifinal finish.

BEFORE ARKANSAS STATE

Rogers' first full-time coaching assignment came at her alma mater of Central Arkansas, where she also was a three-year starter at point guard for the Sugar Bears. She helped UCA to a 78-45 ledger in her time as an assistant coach, including 45-18 in the final two seasons. She helped recruit and develop two Southland Conference Players of the Year, a Southland Conference Freshman of the Year and eight all-league players.

Following her playing career at UCA, Rogers spent four seasons on the bench for the Sugar Bears with one season as a graduate assistant (2012-13) and three more as an assistant coach (2013-16). In the 2015-16 season, Rogers helped guide the Sugar Bears to their first NCAA Tournament and a program record 28 wins, regular-season record 26 victories and Southland Conference program record win total of 16.

PLAYING CAREER

A three-year starter at UCA, Rogers finished her playing career averaging 7.4 points, 3.2 assists and 2.3 rebounds per game with more than 100 3-point field goals to her credit. She helped UCA to the 2012 Southland Conference Championship and was the floor general when the program made its first Division I postseason appearances, hosting UAB in the 2011 WBI and traveling to Oklahoma State in the 2012 WNIT.

Rogers earned her Bachelor of Science degree in Health Sciences in 2012 and a Master of Science in Health Sciences in 2014.

>> Entering the 2025-26 season, senior Zyion Shannon has 771 career points, with two seasons at Tennessee State, and last season as a Red Wolf, leaving her needing 229 points.

REMEMBERING THE TEAM OF FIRSTS

>> While A-State prepares to move into the 2025-26 season, they will do so with a strong foundation laid by the team before them.

>> Last season, A-State returned to the SBC Tournament Championship game for the first time since the 2014-15 season.

>> The Red Wolves had never won in the final until March 10, finishing as a runner up three times in 1991-92, 2013-14, and 2014-15.

>> The Indians/Red Wolves won three regular season titles as members of the Sun Belt, cutting down the nets in 2003-04 (19-10, 10-4 SBC), 2013-14 (22-12, 14-4 SBC), and 2015-16 (27-6, 19-1 SBC).

>> The Scarlet and Black had never appeared in the NCAA Tournament, but a win on over the Dukes changed that forever.

>> Crislyn Rose gave the Dukes thorns in the fourth quarter and overtime of the Sun Belt Conference Tournament Championship game, scoring 11 of 19 points along with the five points that created separation in overtime.

>> She became the first Red Wolf to earn SBC Tournament Most Outstanding Player honors along with being named to the All-Tournament team.

>> Rose and Montue became the third A-State duo named to the SBC All-Tournament team and the first since 2015-16.

>> Here are the Red Wolves previous SBC Tournament Championship results:

PROGRAM R3D3FIN3D

>> The 2024-25 campaign was defined by one particular statistic... three pointers.

>> The Red Wolves drained 334 triples over 33 games, standing alone as a program record and tying 2023-24 Iowa along with 2018-19 DePaul for the ninth-most in NCAA history.

>> Shaunae Brown netted the record-breaking 225th three-pointer at the 1:52 mark of the first quarter against Georgia State on Feb. 5, shattering the previous mark set in 1997-98.

>> In NCAA Women's Basketball history, 117 teams have converted 300 triples only 126 times in a single season.

>> As for three-point attempts, A-State was one of only two teams (Marshall) to attempt at least 1,000 three-pointers in 2024-25.

>> The Red Wolves led the nation in three-point attempts at 1,047, the most in program history. It was the 15th-most by a program that has won their conference tournament, and the 15th-most by a team that has made the NCAA Tournament.

>> The feat had only been accomplished 33 times by 15 programs since the 1981-82 season.

>> The Scarlet and Black drained a program record 20 three-pointers in a 114-54 victory over Mississippi Valley State on November 13, 2024.

>> The total tied for the second-most three-pointers made in a game last season, with Tennessee (30) setting a new NCAA record.

>> The Red Wolves took at least 30 three-point attempts in 24 contests last year (40-plus three times), making 10-or-more in 17.

>> A-State boasted a 16-1 record when making 10-plus threes in a game last season.
