KATS FALL IN OPENER AT TCU FRIDAY

TCU defeated Sam Houston 85-59 Friday in Fort Worth in the opener for both teams. Four Bearkats scored in double figures with All-Southland Conference guard Shernise Robertson leading the way with 13 points.

BEARKATS LOOK TO BE IMPROVED IN 2015-16

The Kats look to bounce back into contention in this year's Southland Conference race after an injury-plagued season in 2014-15.

Angela Beadle, a 6-3 post player who missed last year with an injury, made her return to the floor in a 75-59 preseason exhibition victory over Mary Hardin-Baylor in a preseason exhibition contest Saturday afternoon. The senior led Sam Houston with 16 points and eight rebounds.

Shernise Robertson, also a senior and a preseason All-Southland pick after leading the league in scoring last year, added 15 points.

What has Sam Houston head coach Brenda Welch-Nichols even more excited than having two all-conference players returning, however, is the supporting cast around Beadle and Robertson.

"We have so much more depth this year," Welch-Nichols said. "Saundra Guillory, Shadijah Moore and Jasmine McCants bring a lot to the table to our inside game. And we've strengthened our back court as well. Shernise can relax some this year and just concentrate on doing what she does best."

Freshman guard Kamry Orr scored 14 points in the victory over the Crusaders Saturday. As a team Sam Houston shot 50 percent (27 of 54 from the floor) with 40 points coming in the paint.

Head Coach Brenda Nichols

Highlights of Brenda Welch-Nichols' nine years as Sam Houston's head coach include the Kats' first women's Southland Conference regular season championship and NCAA Division I post-season tournament appearances in the Women's Basketball Invitational (WBI) and Women's National Invitational (WNIT). Nichols' players have combined to set 27 school records and have earned All-Southland Conference honors 12 times.

Nichols has been recognized for her contributions both as a student-athlete and coach with her induction in 2014 into the Sam Houston Women's Letterwinners Hall of Honor.

An all-league player and top scorer for the Bearkats' first Southland Conference squad in 1988, Nichols returned to her alma mater as the university's 10th women's basketball head coach on August 23, 2006.

In Nichols' first season in 2007, the women won only two conference games. The team suffered through a 1-27 year in 2008. But a strong and steady recruiting effort laid the foundation for record-setting seasons ahead.

In 2013, Sam Houston earned its first Southland Conference regular season women's basketball championship. The team followed up with its first post-season finals appearance. An berth in the Women's National Invitational Tournament completed the year. Sam Houston's WNIT and Women's Basketball Invitational (WBI) berths stand as the program's first ever at the NCAA Division I level. Nichols was named as Southland Conference "Coach of the Year" in 2013.

Nichols was the leading scorer for the 18-9 Sam Houston squad in 1988. Her 17.8 career scoring average stands as the second highest mark in Bearkat women's basketball history. She earned All-Southland Conference honors in both 1987 and 1988. She began her college career at Western Texas in 1985 where she was named an NJCAA All-American and led her team to a fourth-place national finish.

Nichols spent four seasons as head coach at Mercer University in Macon, Ga., and served as an assistant coach at South Alabama and Memphis and was head coach at Okaloosa-Walton Community College. Her first head coaching job was at the school where she began her college playing career, Western Texas. Nichols spent two seasons as head coach there before moving to Okaloosa-Walton.

Nichols' first collegiate assistant coaching job came at Pensacola Junior College. Nichols earned her Sam Houston degree in physical education in 1989 and her master's at West Florida in 1992. The Jennings, La., native has two sons, Brady and Brock, and a daughter, Brelee.

SAM HOUSTON GAME NOTES

SAM HOUSTON 2016 OUTLOOK

Head coach Brenda Welch-Nichols and her staff welcome back eight letter winners including four starters from last year's squad that battled through an injury-riddled season.

The return of two All-Southland Conference players and a solid group of veterans to mix in with a talented selection of newcomers has team and coaches alike excited.

"Shernise Robertson led the Southland in scoring last season as a junior and Angela Beadle is back from an injury red-shirt after earned all-conference honors two years ago," Welch-Nichols said. "What makes me even happier is the nice group of young ladies we have to build around Shernise and Angela. The depth this year is going to change the whole look of our program."

Other returning letter winners for the Bearkats include seniors Amanda Barnes, Shadijah Moore and Jasmin Anderson, junior Morghen Day and sophomores Saundra Guillory and Angela Delaney.

Jasmine McCants, a transfer post player, and freshmen Kamry Orr, Lydia Baxter, Laurynn McGowen and Ashleigh Cooper also bring a lot to the table for the Kats.

"It's been really exciting in preseason to see the way the team is meshing together," Welch-Nichols said. "All of players are buying in to what we're trying to accomplish. It's a team effort how we're going to play and how we're going to make things happen."

SOUTHLAND CONFERENCE PRESEASON POLL

Sam Houston has been picked to finish 10th in the 2016 Southland Conference women's basketball race according to the annual preseason poll of the league's head coaches.

Lamar is the preseason favorite according to the poll. The Cardinal women have claimed two regular-season titles in Southland Conference history with the most recent coming in 2014 after posting a 13-5 league mark.

SHERNISE ROBERTSON PRESEASON ALL-SOUTHLAND

Shernise Robertson, who led both the Bearkat women's basketball team and the Southland Conference in scoring last year, has been named as a first team preseason all-league selection for 2015-16.

All 10 members return from last season's all-conference team to fill out the 2015-16 all-conference teams, the league announced Tuesday.

Robertson made an immediate impact on the league as a transfer from Tyler Junior College last year. The 5-6 guard from Cy Falls High School averaged 19.7 points per game for the year and posted a 22.1 scoring mean in conference play.

She led the Kats in scoring in 21 games and scored in double figures in all but three contests during the year.

Each of the first-team all-conference preseason selections are all in their final year of competition and all at the guard position. Joining Robertson on the team are JaMeisha Edwards from Lamar, Janelle Perez from Northwestern State, Allison Baggett from McNeese State and Shay Weaver from A&M-Corpus Christi.
