Fitment to strategy why AkzoNobel and Atul formed Anaven

- AkzoNobel wanted local presence in the fast growing Indian market to increase its share
- Atul wanted to have forward integration of Cl₂ based products and backward integration for 2,4-D

What went well 2023-24

- two sub-segments generated higher PBT compared to 2022-23 (lower than the best achieved)
- both retail sub-segments turned PBT positive
- three subsidiary | associate companies generated higher PBT compared to 2022-23
- 5% increase in volume over 2022-23 on standalone basis
- % contribution maintained
- lower net working capital tie-up by 14 and 7 days on standalone and consolidated basis
- first patented formulation, Sindica, launched by Crop Protection Retail
- new process engineering laboratory commissioned
- Oracle ERP implemented across subsidiary, associate and JV entities
- five key commercial activities digitalised
- new state-of-the-art occupational health center started

What did not go well 2023-24

Internal

- delay in implementation of projects
- delay in reaching expected performance in product quality and production | sales volume
- unexpected breakdowns in manufacturing
- low capacity utilisation

External

- global supply chain impacted by geo-political tensions
- subdued demand in key consuming industries
 o destocking in chemical industry
- decrease in chemical prices
- pressure on margins
 - o finished goods prices fell more than raw materials prices
 - o absolute decrease in contribution per unit
