05. GETTING AROUND

The best way to get around Porto and Matosinhos is by metro, by bus or on foot. Both cities boast an extensive public transportation system operated by Sociedade de Transportes Colectivos do Porto (which includes the metro, buses and trams) that helps visitors reach the top attractions in and around the city.

PORTO'S METRO (METRO DO PORTO) features six lines that run from around 6 a.m. to about 1 a.m. daily and are marked by letters and colors: A (blue), B (red), C (green), D (yellow), E (purple) and F (orange) lines. More than 80 metro stations are located around the cities and they are marked by signs with a wavy blue 'M'. The majority of the lines reach Porto's and Matosinhos' best sights, and traveling via metro is an affordable option when you're visiting the city.

Buying an ANDANTE (CARD) allows you unlimited transportation on the metro, buses and funiculars for a set period of time.

For more details about the Metro such as fare, schedules and more, visit: <https://en.metrodoporto.pt/>

BUS, TRAM AND FUNICULAR

More than 75 STCP bus routes are available throughout Porto and its surrounding regions, including Vila Nova de Gaia and Vila do Conde. Buses run regularly from about 6 a.m. to 9 p.m., with limited service operation from 9 p.m. to 1 a.m.

STCP also operates three tram routes in Porto: Line 1, Line 18 and Line 22. Porto's trams (or cable cars) are a historic part of the city, dating back to 1872. Line 1 runs along the west coast and the Douro River from Matosinhos to Lóios. The single-track funicular runs up and down the hillside from Porto's Ribeira area to the higher elevated Batalha square.
