Southeastern's Enters Yolanda Moore Era

A new era of Southeastern Louisiana women's basketball was ushered in on April 4, 2014, when two-time WNBA champion and successful junior college head coach Yolanda Moore was named the fifth head women's basketball coach in school history.

Moore spent the 2013-14 season as the head coach at LSU Eunice. Taking over a program that had won 17 games combined in the previous two seasons, Moore led the Lady Bengals to a 26-3 overall record and the program's first-ever Miss-Lou Conference championship.

LSU Eunice was ranked as high as No. 22 in the NJCAA Division I national rankings, thanks in large part to the commitment to defense by the 2013-14 NJCAA Region 23 Coach of the Year. The Lady Bengals finished the season ranked sixth nationally in scoring defense, holding opponents to just 39.9 points per game.

A 2010 inductee into the Ole Miss Sports Hall of Fame, Moore was a three-time All-Southeastern Conference post player for the Lady Rebels, including earning unanimous first team All-SEC honors in her final two seasons. Moore went on to become a player in the inaugural seasons of the WNBA and was a member of the champion Houston Comets during the league's first two years.

Following her playing career, Moore put her Ole Miss degree in radio and television to work. In addition to serving as a women's college basketball analyst for Fox Sports South in 2005, she was the post-game radio analyst for the NBA's Memphis Grizzlies in 2007.

Moore also has extensive experience as both a consultant and motivational speaker. She released her first book, "You Will Win If You Don't Quit", in September 2012.

Moore, a Port Gibson, Miss. native, is the mother of four and has a grandson.

Southeastern's Pool Named Preseason All-Southland Conference

Southeastern Louisiana junior forward Nanna Pool represented the Lady Lions on the 2014-15 preseason Women's Basketball All-Southland Conference Teams.

Pool, a native of Magnolia, Miss., was named to the second team. As a sophomore, she was named third team All-Southland Conference and honorable mention All-Louisiana.

Southeastern Adds Four for 2015-16

The Southeastern Louisiana women's basketball team has added four student-athletes who will continue their athletic and academic endeavors beginning in the 2015-16 season, Lady Lion head coach Yolanda Moore announced on Thursday.

The four newest Lady Lions include two in-state guards in Jaclyn Scholvin (Mandeville) and Baylie Stears (Walker). Moore and her staff also includes a pair or post players in Chambria Harrison (Vidalia, Georgia) and Kyle Felton (Decatur, Georgia). All four players are entering their senior seasons at their respective high schools in 2014-15.

The SLU coaching staff needed to be aggressive during the early signing period, as it was faced with replacing five 2014-15 seniors. That quintet includes three starters in Elizabeth Styles, Symone Miller and Jameika Hoskins. Moore believes the four new additions will help offset the losses of her current senior class.

Scholvin enters her senior season at Fontainebleau High School approaching 2,000 career points. The 5-7 point guard has averaged 15.7 points, seven rebounds, 4.4 steals and 3.8 assists per game through the first three seasons at FHS.

Stears comes to Hammond from down the road at Walker High School, where she averaged 10 points per game and helped WHS to the Class 5A quarterfinals as a junior. In addition to basketball, Stears has also competed in golf, volleyball and track and field.

Named one of South Georgia's top prospects in the Class of 2015, the 6-0 Harrison will join the SLU program out of Vidalia High School. Harrison also has experience playing for the Big South Dream Team.

Felton will provide an added dimension to the Southeastern roster with her 6-2 frame. She also brings a winning pedigree, having helped Columbia High School to a state championship as a sophomore.
