THE GAMES

The Bobcats travel to Division I University of Auburn Sunday, Oct. 30 for a season opening exhibition game.

Bobcat basketball games are broadcast on UStream at www.ustream.tv/gcbbobcats

SERIES HISTORY

This is the second time in program history that the Bobcats will face off against Division I Auburn. The Tigers got the better of the first exhibition in 2009-10, 73-50.

LAST TIME OUT AGAINST AUBURN

Despite an explosive second half start by the Georgia College women's basketball team, the Bobcats were unable to recover from being down 40-18 in the first half, losing 73-50. Georgia College did have two players score in double digits as juniors Dominique Huffin and Chimere Jordan had strong showings, scoring 16 and 10 respectively.

Georgia College struggled from the floor in the first half shooting 7-of-36 (.194) and only hit 2-of-14 three-pointers (.143) including a scoring drought of over 10 minutes. Auburn took advantage early off Georgia College's turnovers and went up 4-0. The 'Cats answered back when Jordan hit a jumper from the free-throw line off a pass from Candice Clark. Shandrea Moore put the Bobcats up 5-4, the only lead of the game for John Carrick's squad, when she hit a three-pointer.

Junior Shaquana Bleach got the Bobcats within four, 21-17, when she hit a three off an assist from Dudish. Bleach's field goal was the last of the half for Georgia College.

Georgia College started the second half on a 14-4 run to get the score 43-32 before Auburn ran off eight straight points and the Bobcats struggled to find the basket shooting .333 (10-30) in the frame. The Tigers outscored the Bobcats in the paint (34-10), off turnovers (23-16) and on second chance baskets (21-7). Auburn also out-rebounded Georgia College 57-42. A positive for the Bobcats was their ability to make free-throws shooting .692 from the line to the Tigers' 32 percent.

2010-11 Season Review

The Bobcat women's basketball team capped an outstanding 2010-11 season with the Peach Belt's automatic bid to the NCAA Tournament via a magical run to the PBC Tournament Championship. The tournament title was the fifth in school history, but the first under first-year head coach Maurice Smith. Smith became the only first-year head coach in conference history to take the women's basketball tournament title. The Bobcats earned the program's seventh berth in the NCAA Tournament, and the first since 2007.

GC beat the No. 4 and No. 12 teams in the country en route to the conference tournament title, the first for GC since 2006. Georgia College beat No. 4 Lander in the semifinals 71-62, at the time handing the Bearcats just their third loss of the season. Then, the Bobcats upended No. 12 USC Aiken on their own home floor, controlling the Pacers 62-49. Jordan was named the PBC Tournament MVP with an outstanding three games, including 26 points in the finale.

GC finished 22-7, the eighth 20-win season in program history, as the Bobcat took second in the PBC West Division at 11-6. The squad was led by Chimere Jordan at 21.8 points and 8.3 rebounds per game. Jordan was chosen to the Daktronics All-America Third Team, just the second All-American in school history. Joining Jordan on the All-PBC Team was another senior guard in Dominique Huffin (12.3ppg, 4.6rpg). The pairing averaged over half of the team's points per game. Huffin also earned a spot on the PBC All-Academic Team for the second-straight season thanks to a 3.40 GPA in health education.
