NO. 12 AUBURN HOSTS NO. 6 ALABAMA IN HOME FINALE

The No. 12 Auburn gymnastics caps its home slate Friday, hosting rival and No. 6 Alabama in Auburn Arena. The Tigers and the Crimson Tide will face off at 7:30 p.m. CT and the meet will be televised on SEC Network.

"This Alabama team is as talented as they always are and will be coming in here ready to get back on their winning streak in Auburn Arena," head coach Jeff Graba said. "My goal is that we come out and keep our focus because it is going to be a full house with a lot of energy."

IN THE RANKINGS

In the first week of Regional Qualifying Score rankings, the Auburn gymnastics team moves up to No. 12 with a 196.190.

"The RQS ranking is a much more accurate representation of where this team is right now," Graba said. "Being 12th is good at this point, but we have a lot of work left to do. We've got a tremendous test this Friday and need Auburn Arena full of orange!"

Regional Qualifying Score (RQS) will determine rankings for the remainder of the season. RQS is determined by the team total average with its home meets and three highest away meets, as well as dropping the team's highest score. The same ranking goes for individuals with their high score dropped and at least three away scores counted.

Oklahoma and LSU are in a tight race for first as the Sooners hold a 197.535-197.475 edge over the Bayou Bengals. UCLA, Utah, and Florida round out the Top 5. All Southeastern Conference schools are in the Top 25 – Alabama (No. 6), Kentucky (No. 9), Arkansas (t-No. 10), Georgia (No. 16), Missouri (No. 24).

Auburn is ninth on beam with at 49.135. The squad is 14th on vault (49.015), 15th on bars (49.015), and 17th on floor (49.080).

Redshirt junior Abby Milliet is among the nation's best on beam and is tied for fourth with a 9.9 RQS. The Denton, Texas, product is tied for 12th on floor at 9.885. Sophomore Gracie Day is tied for 16th on vault (9.865), while freshman Drew Watson is tied for 23rd in the same event at 9.855.

ROCKING THE VAULT

Vault hasn't been the top event for Auburn recently with the changes to start values over the last couple years. However, a crop of new athletes have brought new degrees of difficulty to the lineup and giving the squad some of it's best scores in the event as of late.

The team ranks t-15th nationally at 49.015, seeing its season-best score of 49.350 against Florida early in February.

Sophomore Gracie Day has really excelled in the event and has recorded a pair career-high 9.925s this season. She is tied for 16th nationally with a 9.865 RQS. Freshman Drew Watson is also among the Top 25 in the nation, holding a 9.855. Along with freshman Jada Glenn, the trio are capable of putting together three-straight 10.0 vaults for the Tigers.

FRESHMEN STEPPING UP

The youngest members of the Auburn team have really stepped up as of late and contributed in major ways in every event.

"I'm just amazed at how well this class has done," Graba said. "I've been impressed with the fact that they are competing as much as they are and I can't say enough good things about this class."

Drew Watson excelled in the all-around against Rutgers, taking the title with a 39.225. She finished second on vault with a 9.8 and set a career best on floor with a 9.875 to tie for second.

Jada Glenn anchors the vault lineup with a 10.0 vault and is starting to see time on floor, while Allie Riddle is leading off on beam. Riddle, of Mobile, Ala., has earned three 9.85s so far this season.

Also adding to the team score is Ashley Smith and Meredith Sylvia. Smith has led off the team on floor in all meets so far, while also competing on vault at Arkansas. Sylvia has become a steady presence on beam, earning a pair of 9.85s recently.

LAST TIME OUT - A 196.575 VS. RUTGERS

Auburn clinched its sixth win of the season against Rutgers, topping the Scarlet Knights, 196.575.194.225, in Auburn Arena.

Three-time SEC Coach of the Year Jeff Graba enters his eighth season at the helm of the Auburn gymnastics program in 2018 and has guided the Tigers record heights during his time on The Plains.

For his efforts over the past seven seasons, the Minnesota native was named SEC Coach of the Year in 2014 and 2015 and SEC co-Coach of the Year in 2012.

Graba and the 2016 team added to the list of firsts for the program under his guidance. The Tigers snapped the 117-meet losing skid to Alabama in February of that season, defeating the Crimson Tide at home (197.275-197.250). Auburn also defeated Georgia in Athens for the first time in program history, setting a new program-high road score on the way (197.325).

Auburn reached the 2015 NCAA Championship for the first time since 2003 and for only the fourth time overall as the Tigers tied a school-best with a runner-up finish at the NCAA Regional with a regional record score of 196.900. Auburn's No. 2 regional seed was the highest in history.

Graba was named Auburn head coach on August 16, 2010. He came to The Plains after spending five years as an assistant coach at Utah. While with the Utes, he was named the 2009 West Region Assistant Coach of the Year while coaching bars, collaborating on floor routines and serving as the recruiting coordinator.
