QUAKER NOTEMEAL

How They Got Here

Penn won the outright Ivy League regular season title for the first time since 1995 with a 16-5 mark in conference play, finishing one game ahead of Harvard.

In the Ivy League Tournament (ILT), the Quakers downed No. 4 Columbia on May 19 (10-6), No. 2 Harvard on May 21 (10-7), and No. 3 Princeton (16-3) on May 22 to claim the tournament title and earn the conference's automatic berth.

Right fielder Jarrett Pokrovsky, third baseman Wyatt Henseler, shortstop Davis Baker, and right-handed pitcher Brian Zeldin were named to the All-Tournament team. Pokrovsky was named Most Outstanding Player after hitting .467 (7-for-15) with five runs scored, a home run, and six RBI during the tournament.

QUAKER NOTE MEAL

Jersey Boys

Originally from Williamstown, N.J., Coach Yurkow has kept the Garden State pipeline strong during his time at Penn, especially in 2023. In addition to the Ivy League Tournament performance of Pokrovsky (Pittsgrove), Ryan Dromboski (Columbus) was the league's Pitcher of the Year, Tommy Delany (Princeton) had a WHIP under 1.00 in conference play, Ryan Taylor (Elmer) had five RBI and hit safely in the team's three ILT games, and John Cerwinski (Warren) made eight midweek starts, pitching to a sub-4.50 ERA.

New York State of Mind

Comprising two-thirds of Penn's weekend rotation, Owen Coady (Larchmont) and Cole Zaffiro (Manhasset) dominated on the mound all season. Each finished the regular season in the top seven in the conference in ERA, strikeouts, and opponent batting average, with Zaffiro taking first-team All-Ivy honors and Coady taking second-team.

It's Miller Time

Entering Regionals, Ben Miller has been one of Penn's most reliably consistent hitters since the start of the 2022 season. He's hit over .325 with at least 40 runs, 14 doubles, seven home runs, 40 RBI, and an OPS over .950 with at least 14 multi-hit and 11 multi-RBI games each of the last two years. An All-Ivy first team selection in 2022, he was named honorable mention this season.

The Fabulous Baker Boy

The only freshman in the Ancient Eight to win three Rookie of the Week awards, Davis Baker became a weapon in the heart of Penn's lineup, appearing in the third, fourth, or fifth spot in the lineup in 38 of his 44 starts. His average did not drop below .300 over the final two months of the regular season, capped by a 6-for-14, six-run performance during the ILT.

The Wizard of Oz-mer

When Carson Ozmer entered a game during the 2023 regular season, it usually meant game over for the opponent. The honorable mention All-Ivy selection tied a program record with 23 appearances on the bump, pitching to a 2.17 ERA with six saves, a 0.86 WHIP and an opponent batting average under .200. In Ivy League play, Ozmer's ERA was 1.69 with four saves and a .158 opponent batting average.

The Book of Eli

Eli Trop was nearly unhittable all season and literally unhittable in Ivy League play. The flame-throwing right-hander conceded just five hits in 51 total-at bats this season (a .098 average) while striking out 32 batters in just 15.2 innings (18.4 K/9). In conference play, Trop made six appearances, striking out 15 batters in just 6.1 innings, allowing zero hits in 18 official at-bats.

Life of Brian

Brian Zeldin did not appear in a game between March 20, 2022 and April 3, 2023 (380 days) while recovering from Tommy John surgery. After pitching to a 2.25 ERA in his first four appearances totaling eight innings, Zeldin was pressed into emergency action in the Ivy League Tournament against Columbia on May 19 after starter Owen Coady exited after just two-thirds of an inning. Zeldin limited the Ivy League's best offense to just one run and two hits in 3.1 innings of work; he was named to the All-Tournament team for his efforts.

JOHN YURKOW, HEAD COACH

John Yurkow is in his 10th season as Penn's W. Joseph Blood Head Coach of baseball and 17th year with the program after joining the team as an Assistant Coach in 2006.

Since taking the helm in West Philly, the Quakers have fielded 61 All-Ivy selections, including 30 first-teamers, as well as two Players of the Year, three Pitchers of the Year, and three Rookies of the Year.

During his time at the helm, Penn has posted a 106-57-1 record in Ivy League play, a .649 winning percentage. Additionally, Penn's 33 conference wins since the start of 2022 are a program-record for any two-year span in program history.

Yurkow became just the third Penn baseball coach to tally 200 victories during Penn's Ivy League Tournament win over Harvard on May 21; that win was also the 2,000th in program history.
