Head Coach Jeff Lebo

Players' coach. Intelligent. Great communicator. Hard-working. Family man. Heart. Tremendous Xs-and-Os. Superb. Outstanding basketball coach.

Those are just a few of the many words that have been used to describe Auburn fifth-year head coach Jeff Lebo.

Without a single senior on the roster, he led Auburn to a 17-15 (7-9 SEC) record in 2006-07, the Tigers' first winning season since 2003. Auburn came within 40 seconds of winning the SEC Western Division title as it had the ball and up by three points at Ole Miss in the regular season finale. In tying for third in the SEC West, Auburn and its seven SEC wins were also the most since winning eight in 2003.

Auburn swept Alabama for the first time since 1999, and the first time in history when Alabama was nationally-ranked both times. The win in Tuscaloosa was the Tigers' second in the last 23 years.

Auburn defeated teams that were ranked throughout the season in No. 12 Alabama, No. 22 Tennessee, No. 25 Alabama and ranked Vanderbilt and previously ranked LSU.

It also marked the first time in 12 seasons that Auburn defeated ranked teams two-straight times in its 83-80 upset over No. 22 Tennessee followed up with an 81-57 victory over No. 12 Alabama.

Lebo began his reclamation project at Auburn in leading the Tigers to an over-achieving 14-17 (4-12 SEC) record in 2004-05, his first season at Auburn in turning around a decimated

Tiger program. Four starters and nine lettermen were lost from the 2003-04 Tigers that finished one spot out of the cellar in the 12-team SEC at 14-14 (5-11 SEC).

The Tigers, who were a consensus last-place pick in the SEC, tied for 10th in the league in 2004-05. They equalled the win total from the previous season with far less talent and had the shortest Div. I team in America with only one player taller than 6-foot-6.

In Lebo's first game as head coach at Auburn, the Tigers claimed a thrilling 80-78 upset on the road against Temple and legendary head coach John Chaney. A perfect 5-0 start was halted with a narrow 89-87 loss to 24th-ranked Virginia in Richmond.

Other highlights included a 51-point turnaround as Auburn avenged a 90-53 thrashing at No. 18 Mississippi State in the SEC opener for a 90-76 win over the defending SEC Champion Bulldogs in Beard-Eaves-Memorial Coliseum. The Tigers had a 49-point turnaround as they were annihilated at Arkansas 95-59, but defeated the Razorbacks 77-64 in Auburn on Senior Day.

Auburn advanced to the SEC Tournament quarterfinals as it upset a Vanderbilt team that was on the NCAA Tournament bubble in the first round. The Tigers avenged a 67-43 home loss to the Commodores three weeks prior. A 74-71 SEC road win at South Carolina was huge as the Gamecocks, who defeated No. 3 Kentucky the following game, were fighting for a NCAA Tournament bid.

In Lebo's second season, the Tigers went from the smallest team in Div. I to the youngest in 2005-06. Auburn, with only one senior in Ronny LeMelle on its roster, started four freshmen eight times. Purdue was the only other team to start a rookie quartet, and the Boilermakers only did it once.

A consensus last place pick, Auburn went 12-16 (4-12 SEC) to tie for fifth in the SEC's Western Division. The Tigers defeated Temple, swept Ole Miss and nearly knocked off a pair of Final Four teams, losing to LSU 65-61 and at eventual National Champion Florida 69-57.

Losing its entire frontline in a pair of 6-foot-7 junior forwards in Josh Dollard for the whole season and Korvotney Barber from Dec. 29 on as well as 7-foot-1 freshman center Boubacar Sylla from Nov. 13 on in the 2007-08 season, the Tigers went 14-16 (4-12 SEC). Auburn players missed a combined 4733 minutes on the season.

The Tigers did sweep NIT finalist Ole Miss and defeated Alabama 88-76 on CBS on Feb. 24. The Rebels were ranked 15th nationally when the Tigers beat them on Jan. 19.

Lebo was named the Tigers' 19th head basketball coach on April 8, 2004. In his 20 years as a Div. I head coach, assistant coach and player, the 42-year-old Lebo has won wherever he has been. To his credit are nine conference championships ... two in six years as a head coach, four as an assistant coach and three as a player.

He has been a part of two Southeastern Conference Championships at different schools, three Atlantic Coast Conference Championships, two Ohio Valley Conference Championships and a pair of Southern Conference titles.

In six years as a collegiate head coach prior to Auburn, Lebo turned around two programs at Tennessee-Chattanooga and Tennessee Tech en route to a 115-63 career record, an average of 19.2 wins per season. A pair of Ohio Valley Conference Championships at Tennessee Tech

Lebo has accumulated a very impressive 144-100 record (.590) in his last eight seasons as a head coach ... an average of 18.0 victories a season.

He was an assistant coach for eight years at South Carolina, Vanderbilt and East Tennessee State after playing the 1989-90 season with the NBA's San Antonio Spurs.

As an All-ACC point guard and four-year starter at the University of North Carolina from 1986-89, Lebo helped lead the Tar Heels to a 116-25 record and four trips to the NCAA Tournament, two to the Elite 8 and a pair of Sweet 16 appearances. The Tar Heels won two ACC Regular Season Championships and one ACC Tournament Championship with Lebo, who was a two-time All-ACC Tournament selection and an All-ACC second-team pick in 1988.

In high school, Lebo led Carlisle (Pa.) High to a 108-9 record in his four-year career, culminating with the 1985 Pennsylvania State Class 4A Championship as a senior. He earned All-America honors and was a four-time all-state selection.

His father, Dave, who has been an assistant under his son during his entire tenure as a head coach, was the head coach at Carlisle where the school honored him by naming the court after him in a ceremony Dec. 3, 2005.

When Lebo was named head coach at Tennessee-Chattanooga in April 2002, he inherited a team without a returning starter and without a signee for the upcoming season.

Conference championship contender in just one season, leading UTC to a 21-9 record in 2002-03, the school's first 20-win season in six years.

The Mocs gave Lebo a 17-point victory over Furman in his SoCon debut and defeated NCAA Tournament participant Weber State 75-63 in the Dr. Pepper Classic title game. Perhaps his biggest accomplishment was the school's first two-game series sweep over the College of Charleston.

Lebo led the Mocs to a 19-11 mark in 2003-04 and came within one game of the NCAA Tournament for the second-straight season, losing to East Tennessee State in the championship game each year. He earned his 100th-coaching victory in a 93-86 win at Tennessee State Dec. 1, 2003, in only his 153rd game as a head coach.

Lebo became one of the youngest collegiate head coaches in the nation when he began his coaching career in 1998-99 at Tennessee Tech, inheriting a program that went a woeful 9-21 the year before and had a losing record in four of the previous five seasons. However, he would win two Ohio Valley Conference Championships in his four years at the school.

At the age of 32, Lebo guided the undermanned Golden Eagles to a 12-15 mark in his first season in 1998-99. The following year, Tennessee Tech had the most wins in 10 years improving to 16-12, earning Lebo OVC Coach of the Year honors.

In only his third season in 2000-01, Lebo led Tennessee Tech to a 20-9 record and the first of back-to-back OVC Championships. It marked the most wins for the school in 54 years, going all the way back to 1946-47. It was also Tech's first league title in 16 years since 1984-85, and Lebo garnered his second-straight OVC Coach of the Year honor.

Lebo earned his third-straight OVC Coach of the Year honor as Tech mastered a school record 27-7 mark overall and a 15-1 league record in 2001-02 en route to a second-consecutive OVC Championship. The Golden Eagles came within one game of the NIT Final Four, losing at eventual champion Memphis, 79-73. He was tabbed as the District VII NABC Coach of the Year.

Tennessee Tech boasted a season-best 12-game winning streak, including 10-straight conference victories. After losing at Murray State 70-69 in the OVC Tournament championship game, the Golden Eagles defeated Georgia State, Dayton and Yale in the NIT. He was named the Tennessee Coach of the Year.

Lebo began his coaching career as an assistant at East Tennessee State under Alan LeForce for two seasons from 1990-92. The Buccaneers made two-straight NCAA Tournament appearances, advancing to the second round in 1992 after the 14th-seeded Bucs upset No. 3-seeded Arizona 87-80.

Jeff Lebo Quick Sketch

PERSONAL DATA: Born October 5, 1966, in Enola, Pa.; married to the former Melissa Mills of Williamston, N.C., on August 8, 1992, and they have two daughters, Addison (13) and Mills (10) and a son, Creighton (6).

YEARS AT AUBURN: Fifth. Became head coach on April 8, 2004, from Tennessee-Chattanooga.

EDUCATION: Graduated from Carlisle (Pa.) H.S. in 1985; B.S. in Business Administration from North Carolina in 1989.

Michigan and the Fab Five, 102-90, went 24-7 and won both the 1992 Southern Conference Regular Season and Tournament Championships. The Bucs went 28-5 in 1990-91, lost to Iowa 76-73 in the NCAA Tournament and won both the SoCon Regular Season and Tournament Championships.

Lebo started the first of six seasons as an assistant under coach Eddie Fogler with a SEC Championship, a NCAA Tournament Sweet 16 appearance and a 28-6 record at Vanderbilt in 1992-93. The Commodores went 14-2 in the SEC for only their third league title in history and their first since 1974. Vanderbilt defeated Boise State and Illinois in the NCAA Tournament before losing to Temple in the Sweet 16.

Lebo then followed Fogler to South Carolina where he spent five seasons and helped lead the Gamecocks to their only SEC Championship in 1997 and a pair of NCAA Tournament appearances.

After turning the South Carolina program around from 9-19 and 10-17 records the first two seasons, Fogler and Lebo led the Gamecocks to an average of 22 wins over the next three years. USC went 19-12 and reached the NIT third round in 1995-96, went 24-8 and won the SEC Championship in 1996-97 and was 23-8 in 1997-98, reaching the NCAA Tournament for the second-consecutive season.

After playing for his father, Dave, at Carlisle (Pa.) High School, Lebo was coached at North Carolina by the legendary Dean Smith, the all-time leader in coaching victories with 879. Lebo's college teammates included NBA greats Kenny Smith of the World Champion Houston Rockets and now a broadcaster on TNT and Rick Fox, formerly of the World Champion Los Angeles Lakers.

In addition to all of his success at North Carolina, Lebo left the Tar Heels with single-season records for free throw shooting (.878 in 1987-88) and 3-point shooting (.462 in 1987-88). He still ranks among the program's top 20 in career scoring with 1,567 points and is sixth in career assists with 580.

A 1989 graduate of the University of North Carolina with a degree in Business Administration, Lebo was presented the school's Patterson Award, given to UNC's top student-athlete for academic achievement.

Lebo has developed a teaching video cassette titled "Half-Court Trapping and Double-Teaming the Post."

Lebo was born Oct. 5, 1966, in Enola, Pa. He married the former Melissa Mills of Williamston, N.C., on Aug. 8, 1992. The couple has two daughters, Addison (13) and Mills (10) and a son, Creighton (6).

dous success as he built programs. He still was winning even as he was building programs. I like the way Jeff's teams play.

"Anyone who saw Jeff Lebo play, understood what it took to be a great player through fundamentals and an understanding of the game. Anyone who has seen his teams play, understands that a team can control a game and win through strong fundamentals. He has been able to accomplish what he has accomplished through his knowledge of the game. He is a great teacher of the game but can also go out there and show the players how it is supposed to be done. He truly cares about the student-athlete."

"One of the things

Jeff has been able to bring is he has a great understanding of what it takes to win, and he has been around it all his life. From grade school to high school to college to now, he has always been a winner. The only way to be taught is if you've done it, and Jeff understands how to do it.

"He always carried a diligence. As a player, he was always diligent in being at the right place at the right time ... in practice and in his preparation for the game.

"As a player, you can always look in the mirror at the end of the day and say you have given your best effort because Jeff has always done that. Having played and knowing what it takes, that's a big advantage."

Associate Head Coach John Cooper

John Cooper enters his fifth season at Auburn University as associate head coach and his 15th season overall as an assistant.

Cooper has played a vital role in the revitalization of the Auburn basketball program as the Tigers recorded their first winning season since 2003 and played for the SEC's Western Division title in the 2007 regular season finale.

When Auburn head coach Jeff Lebo missed a game each of the past two seasons, Cooper was the acting head coach. With Lebo sidelined with a stomach virus, Cooper coached Auburn to an 80-68 victory over LSU Feb. 28, 2007.

Cooper made his coaching debut in an 84-64 loss at Arkansas Feb. 11, 2006, when Lebo spent the entire game in the Tigers' locker room lying on a table as he was sick with the flu.

Prior to coming to Auburn in April 2004, Cooper spent the two seasons prior at Oregon where he helped the Ducks to a 41-23 mark. Oregon went 23-10 with a NCAA Tournament appearance in 2002-03 and had an 18-13 record in 2003-04, losing in the NIT semifinals.

He coached a pair of All-Americans in Pac-10 Player of the Year Luke Ridnour of the NBA's Seattle Super-Sonics and Luke Jackson, formerly of the Cleveland Cavaliers.

Cooper spent six years as an assistant at South Carolina under his former college coach, Eddie Fogler, from 1995-2001, helping lead the Gamecocks to the SEC Championship with a 24-8 (15-1 SEC) record in 1996-97.

Cooper and Lebo were Fogler's assistants at USC for three years from 1995-

98. South Carolina made four postseason appearances, including back-to-back NCAA Tournaments in 1997 and 1998 and a pair of NITs in 1996 and 2001. Cooper coached former Cleveland Cavalier Ryan Stack and the Gamecocks' all-time leading scorer, All-American B.J. McKie, at South Carolina.

Prior to South Carolina, Cooper spent two seasons as an assistant to Rick Duckett at Div. II Fayetteville (N.C.) State where the Broncos went 18-10 in 1993-94 and 15-10 in 1994-95

Cooper, 39, was a standout forward for Wichita State, playing his first two seasons under Fogler. He scored 1,153 points during his career (1988-91), which ranks 21st in Shocker history and was the team MVP as a junior.

The Kansas City, Mo., native led Wichita State in scoring

Dir. of Basketball Operations, Brandon Johnson

Brandon Johnson enters his fifth season at Auburn University and his 17th in the coaching profession.

Johnson has played a vital role in the revitalization of the Auburn basketball program as the Tigers recorded their first winning season since 2003 and played for the SEC's Western Division title in the 2007 regular season finale.

After four years as an assistant coach under coach Jeff Lebo, he begins his first season as Director of Basketball Operations.

Prior to coming to Auburn in April 2004, Johnson spent the two seasons prior as an assistant at the University of Texas-San Antonio, where the Roadrunners won the Southland Conference and made a NCAA Tournament appearance.

Johnson, 42, has coaching ties in both Alabama and Georgia, including a three-year stint as an assistant at Jacksonville State University from 1998-2001. Prior to going to UTSA, he was the head coach at Atlanta Technical College in 2001-02, where he was in the process of developing the new men's basketball program.

Johnson was an assistant at Clayton College & State University in Morrow, Ga., in 1997-98 and was an assistant at Atlanta Metropolitan College in 1996-97. He started his coaching career in 1992 as an assistant at Atlanta's Frederick Douglas High School for two years and then was an assistant at Benjamin Banneker High School in College Park, Ga., for two seasons from 1994-96.

He helped lead Atlanta Metropolitan to the Georgia Junior College Athletic Association Championship with a 14-0 record in 1996-97. His coaching honors include being named a three-time Georgia High School Association Assistant Coach of the Year in consecutive seasons from 1993-95.

A 1997 Georgia State University graduate in Psychology,

Johnson earned a Master's in General Administration from Central Michigan University in 2002. The Lansing, Mich., native has numerous camp and clinic teaching experience, including his five-year affiliation with the Pete Newell Big Man Camp in Hawaii; working with the New Zealand National Team in 2000 and Nigerian Basketball League in 2003; and working at basketball schools for Bobby Knight, Tubby Smith, Tom Izzo, Eddie Fogler, Bobby Cremins, Jud Heathcote and Randy Ayers.

Born January 24, 1966, Johnson is married to the former Toni Michele Martin of Cleveland, Ohio, on July 15, 1995.

Senior Asst. to the Head Coach, Dave Lebo

Not many fathers, in any profession, can say that they work for their son. Dave Lebo is a prime example, and he loves it.

"Coach Dave," as he is known by, enters his fifth season at Auburn University, 11th on head coach Jeff Lebo's staff and his 42nd year in the basketball profession

Lebo played a vital role in the revitalization of the Auburn basketball program as the Tigers recorded their first winning season since 2003 and played for the SEC's Western Division title in the 2007 regular season finale.

Coach Dave, the father of head coach Jeff Lebo, gave up a very successful head coaching career in the high school ranks, one in which he was named the 1988 National Coach of the Year, to join his son at the collegiate level.

In fact, Carlisle (Pa.) High School named its homecourt "Coach Lebo Court" in a ceremony Dec. 2, 2005, to honor and show appreciation for all of Coach Dave's service to the school and community.

He was inducted into the South Central Chapter of the Pennsylvania Sports Hall of Fame at its annual induction banquet Nov. 18, 2007, in Carlisle, Pa.

When Jeff Lebo accepted his first head coaching position in 1998 at Tennessee Tech, one of his first recruits was his father. Coach Dave worked as an assistant for Jeff at Tech and joined the entire staff at the University of Tennessee-Chattanooga when Jeff became the head coach for the Mocs in 2002. He coached two-time first-team All-Conference forward Ashley Champion both seasons. Coach Dave coached the big men at Tech, UTC and Auburn.

At Tennessee Tech, Coach Dave helped the Golden Eagles to a four-year mark of 75-43. After inheriting a program near the bottom of the Ohio Valley Conference, the Tech staff guided the Golden Eagles to back-to-back OVC regular-season titles in 2001 and 2002.

The Eagles won 20 or more games twice, going 20-9 in 2000-01 while the 2001-02 team set a school record for victories with a 27-7 record (15-1 OVC). They lost to Murray State in the OVC Tournament championship game but advanced to the NIT Quarterfinals with wins over Georgia State, Dayton and Yale before being eliminated by eventual champion Memphis. He coached nine All-OVC selections in four years at Tennessee Tech.

Coach Dave, 64, is considered one of the most successful high school basketball coaches in the state of Pennsylvania. He directed the boys program at Carlisle (Pa.) High School, all but two years from 1977-98 and compiled a remarkable 365-149 overall record.

While at Carlisle, Lebo guided his teams to four consecutive State Championships (118-11 record) and coached All-American Billy Owens, who later starred at Syracuse and had a 10-year NBA career. His son, Jeff, was a member of the first championship team in 1985.

Coach Dave was honored as the 1988 National Coach of the Year and the Associated Press Pennsylvania Coach of the Year. During his tenure, Carlisle won eight conference titles and six district championships.

He was the head coach of the United States All-Stars in the McDonald's Classic in Washington D.C. in 1984 and was the head coach of the West squad in the McDonald's All-American game in the McDonald in 1987. He was presented "Carlisle's Finest Award - Teacher Category" in 1985.

Coach Dave was elected to the Elizabethtown College Sports Hall of Fame in 1988. He then worked one season as a head coach at Elizabethtown College, leading his alma mater to a 16-10 record in 1989-90, before returning to Carlisle High School.

He began his career as an assistant coach at East Pennsboro High School in Enola, Pa., from 1966-70 and then recorded a 120-59 record in seven years from 1970-77 as the head coach.

A 1966 Elizabethtown College graduate in Secondary Education, Coach Dave also received a Master's degree in Secondary Education/Guidance Counseling in 1969 from Shippensburg University.

Born September 25, 1944, in Carlisle, Pa., Coach Dave is married to the former Linda Miller in 1967. They also have a daughter, Amy, and five grandchildren
