

Axess sexual health education sessions

Condom distribution and sexually transmitted infections (STIs)

Axess sexual health's Education Team are offering a free condom distribution and STI screening briefing.

The session will support professionals working with young people. This briefing aims to increase confidence, knowledge and skills for you to be able to distribute condoms and STI screening kits, and signpost to sexual health services.

This briefing will include either a short Teams or face-to-face presentation aiming to expand knowledge and highlight the importance of talking about condoms, the protection they offer and the value of discussing sexual health in your role.

The briefing will cover:

- How condoms work to prevent unwanted pregnancies
- How condoms reduce the risk of STIs
- How to become a condom and STI kit distributor
- Where condoms and STI testing can be accessed locally
- Local services and what they offer.

At the end of this briefing session you will have gained knowledge and understanding of:

- Where condoms and STI testing can be accessed for free
- Fraser guidelines and safeguarding
- How to order stock of condoms and STI screening kits from axess sexual health.
- How to support condom distribution and STI screening at your venue

To book onto this training and to organise a suitable date for your staff team, please email both kathy.white@liverpoolft.nhs.uk and axesseducation@liverpoolft.nhs.uk.
