Our Community

Vibrant Ecosystem

of young committed professionals

Building the future generation of Healthtech Leadership

Empowering the transformation of Israel to the Healthtech Nation by building a flagship of 8200 alumni

Why are we here?

Life Sciences and human biology are experiencing a digital transformation. The fusion between computer and exact sciences with life sciences ushers a new era in human medicine and biology, one in which we will be able to cure humanity's more dire ails, improve quality of life and cope with chronic illness.

8200Bio, a part of 8200 Alumni Association, helps 8200 alumni to make the most out of this transformation by networking, learning and collaborating with one another in an organized, systematic and structured way.

Our Mission

8200Bio provides meaningful networking and professional opportunities across three main dimensions, correlating with three primary bottlenecks which might stymie the growth of professionals in the industry.

We help our community to overcome the major bottlenecks with unique programs:

Limited exposure to the field

Limited training and knowledge

Limited applicable avenues

Meet

Learn

Build

Meetups Series

Expose community members to industry leaders, entrepreneurs and investors. Inspire new talents to enter the field and act.

8200Bio Academy

Enable community members to develop their knowledge base and practical skills through accessible content, courses and workshops in various fields.

Venture Labs & Internship Programs

Accompany and aspire professionals to make their first steps, on their way to the industry's summit.
