

Please note that use of your contact data is governed by the Privacy Policy of each relevant sponsor and partner.

General

1.1 Upon entering the website of “AI Week” (henceforth: “the website”), and prior to carrying out any action on the website and/or using any service or information of any kind offered on the website, you are requested to read, carefully, the terms of service detailed below, including the website content, the services and usage options found and offered through it (henceforth: the “Terms of Use”).

1.2 The terms of use specify the relationship between the Blavatnik Interdisciplinary Cyber Research Center, owner of the website (henceforth: the “ICRC”), and any person/entity entering the website and/or making use of the website and/or the information offered and/or the services found and/or offered as part of the website, of any kind or sort, whether they exist on the website or can be obtained through it (henceforth: the “User”).

1.3 The ICRC will be permitted to change, from time to time, the terms of use, including the way the services offered on the tenders website, their dates and so forth, according to law and/or as per its sole discretion.

The user will be responsible for keeping up to date, at any time, with any change and/or adjustment that the ICRC makes to in the terms of use and the user hereby irrevocably waives any claim and will be prevented from raising any claim and/or demand in connection therewith. Such change and/or adjustment shall take effect from the date of their publication on the website.

1.4 Without derogating from the above, the ICRC will be entitled to discontinue all or part of the activity on the website, temporarily or permanently, at any time, for the purpose of making updates and/or upgrades and/or corrections and/or adjustments and/or as the result of interference, availability and functionality of the website and/or malfunctions or failures of the internet or telephone network, of any kind and type whatsoever, and the user hereby irrevocably waives any claim, and shall be prevented from making any claim and/or suit and/or demand in connection therewith.

1.5 For the avoidance of doubt, it is hereby clarified that in any case of contradiction and/or incompatibility of any kind or type, between the Terms of Use and the content detailed on the website, the provisions specified in the Terms of Use shall prevail.

2. What is the Blavatnik Interdisciplinary Cyber Research Center website?

The Blavatnik Interdisciplinary Cyber Research Center website provides you with a wealth of information on various topics. This information includes:

General information about the AI Week conference, as well as news related to the agenda, speakers, events, videos, registration and more.

Use of the ICRC website constitutes your agreement to the following topics, without you being explicitly required to consent to these terms.

3. Information and images on the website:

The information presented on this site is for convenience purposes only. In any case where the site is used for the purpose of registering for events or information relating to these programs, the binding information shall be the information appearing in the ICRC's regulations, procedures and official publications only (henceforth: the "official version"). In any case of contradiction between the information appearing on the website and the official version, the provisions specified in the official version will prevail.

The Blavatnik Interdisciplinary Cyber Research Center may change from time to time and as it sees fit the information, content and images on the website. The Blavatnik Interdisciplinary Cyber Research Center does not guarantee that information you have found on the website at any given time will continue to be published in the future.

4. Privacy:

4.1 The ICRC respects the privacy of users who access the website and/or use the various services offered as part of it. The purpose of the terms set out in this Privacy Policy, which is an integral part of the terms of use, is to review, inter alia, how the ICRC uses information provided by users on the website and/or collected by the ICRC during website use, as well as the way the user uses the information found on the website and/or the information the user is exposed to through the website.

4.2 When using the website, it is possible that information will be collected about the pages presented to you, the content that you were interested in, how long you spent on the website and what actions you performed during your visit. The information does not identify you personally, so the information collected is of a general, statistical nature only.

4.3 The Blavatnik Interdisciplinary Cyber Research Center may retain the information and use it for its own purposes in accordance with the limitations included in the Terms of Use and the provisions of the law.

4.4 The Blavatnik Interdisciplinary Cyber Research Center may use the information accumulated about the use of the website for the purposes of producing and analyzing statistical information. The Blavatnik Interdisciplinary Cyber Research Center may provide this statistical data to a third party, as long as the data does not reference or identify you personally.

4.5 The Blavatnik Interdisciplinary Cyber Research Center website collects information about users through forms that are located on some of the pages of the website, as long as the user has elected to fill out his details into these forms. The details are provided to the Blavatnik Interdisciplinary Cyber Research Center by the user and are not used to identify the user upon entering the website. The information may be stored at the Blavatnik Interdisciplinary Cyber Research Center's customer management system and used by the Blavatnik Interdisciplinary Cyber Research Center only, for the purpose of responding to or contacting applicants for events at AI Week, as well as for improving of the services provided by the Blavatnik Interdisciplinary Cyber Research Center.

4.6 The Blavatnik Interdisciplinary Cyber Research Center is interested in periodically sending you information about its services, as well as marketing and advertising information related to the ICRC or its services. Such information will be sent to you only if you have given explicit consent, and at any time you may withdraw your consent and cease receiving such information.

4.7 The Blavatnik Interdisciplinary Cyber Research Center uses information security systems and procedures on its websites. While these systems and procedures reduce the risks of unauthorized access, they do not provide absolute safety. Therefore, the ICRC does not guarantee that its services will be completely immune from unauthorized access to the information stored within them.

5. Using "Cookies":

5.1 The Blavatnik Interdisciplinary Cyber Research Center uses remarketing with Google Analytics and other tools to advertise its academic programs and activities on the Internet. Third-party vendors, including Google, publish Blavatnik Interdisciplinary Cyber Research Center ads on websites across the Internet.

5.2 The Blavatnik Interdisciplinary Cyber Research Center and third-party vendors, including Google, use first-party cookies files (such as a Google Analytics cookie) and third-party cookies files (such as the DoubleClick cookie) together, to notify the ICRC of website traffic, for optimization of pages on the site and to display, from time to time, ads based on a user's previous visits to the website.

6. Intellectual Property:

6.1 All intellectual property rights, including copyrights, distribution rights, trade secrets and other intellectual property rights, inter alia, in connection with the information and services found on the website, are owned solely by the ICRC or in the event that they were presented on the website and/or through the website via a third party, are the property of these third parties only, and the user shall have no rights with respect to them whatsoever (hereinafter: "the protected components").

6.2 You may not copy, distribute, make changes, broadcast, publicly display, reproduce, publish, issue a license, create derivative works from the information and data published on the website and/or deliver to any third party any of the above, without obtaining the explicit written consent of the ICRC in advance. The name of the ICRC, the domain name of the website and proprietary symbols (whether registered or not) of the ICRC are the exclusive property of the ICRC and/or anyone acting on its behalf and may not be used without its written consent, obtained in advance.

6.3 The user commits not to remove, conceal, disable and/or modify any notice and/or any marks relating to the intellectual property rights and/or to the ICRC's rights and exclusivity, whether these notices and/or marks are attached, included and/or associated with them in any way.

6.4 The intellectual property rights of the Blavatnik Interdisciplinary Cyber Research Center apply, inter alia, to the graphic design of the site, its databases, the computer code of the site, content on the website pages and any other details related to its operation. No data may be copied, reproduced, distributed, sold, marketed or translated from the website, nor may any data published on the website be used for the purpose of displaying such data on any other website or service without the written permission of the Blavatnik Interdisciplinary Cyber Research Center in advance, and in accordance with that permission (if given). It is also prohibited to collect data from the site by any technical means, or to disseminate such data in public.

6.5 The site may not be displayed in a graphic design or interface other than those designed by the Blavatnik Interdisciplinary Cyber Research Center or as part of an iframe, subject to written consent by the ICRC, obtained in advance.

6.6 The name "Blavatnik Interdisciplinary Cyber Research Center", the ICRC's trademarks and the domain name of the website (whether registered or not) are all the property of the Blavatnik Interdisciplinary Cyber Research Center only. They cannot be used without written permission, obtained in advance.

6.7 By checking yes on the box "I allow the circulation of my details to AI WEEK sponsors" you consent to the transfer of your complete details as provided in your registration form to the AI Week sponsors.

6.8 Co-hosted events – by registering to an event that has identified co-hosts on the event page you allow the ICRC to share your details with the specific event co-hosts

7. Restricting commercial use of the website:

No commercial use may be made of the website or the data published therein.

if you checked the box allowing the distribution of your details to AI Week logos - Your full details as you entered them on the registration form will be forwarded to AI Week sponsors to support marketing and networking opportunities. Sponsors will be responsible to protect the information and will be able to send marketing emails and information.

8. Changes to the Site:

The Blavatnik Interdisciplinary Cyber Research Center may change, from time to time, the structure of the site, the appearance, scope and availability of the services offered therein, the links found therein and any other aspect connected with the site and its operation - all without any advance notice. Such changes will be made, inter alia, as a result of the ICRC's activities and taking into account the dynamic nature and the innovations of the Internet. By nature, such changes may involve malfunctions, or may initially cause inconvenience, and so forth. You will not have any claim or demand against the Blavatnik Interdisciplinary Cyber Research Center for making such changes, or malfunctions that may occur in the course of their execution.

9. Limited Liability:

9.1 The ICRC shall provide the user with the services as described in the Terms of Use. In any case where the ICRC will not be able to provide the user with the services of the website, for any reason whatsoever, including due to an act and/or omission of the ICRC or in the event that the ICRC requests to change and/or cancel the services in accordance with the provisions of section 1.4 above, the user will not be entitled to any compensation and/or indemnity of any kind whatsoever for the aforesaid, and hereby waives fully and irrevocably and shall be prevented and waived from raising any claim and/or suit of any kind and type whatsoever in this regard.

9.2 Without derogating from the ICRC's rights under section 4.1 above, the ICRC and/or anyone acting on its behalf shall bear no liability whatsoever for direct or indirect damage and/or loss, including compensation for loss of work and business, loss of profits, damage to reputation, loss and/or other financial damages arising and/or related to the user's ability to benefit from the use of the site and the adaptation of the services to the user's needs; circumstances that are not under the control of the ICRC or that the ICRC could not foresee; use or reliance on information and content published on the site, including by third parties; any act and/or omission performed with the information or details provided by the user to third parties; Disruption of functionality and/or availability of the tenders websites and/or other services arising from malfunctions or failures of the Internet or TV networks and/or overload of traffic in email; damage or loss caused by error, accident, inaccuracy, etc., in the content of the information provided by the user on the tender site; Without derogating from the aforesaid, any damage or loss that the ICRC was unable to anticipate and/or prevent by reasonable means.

9.3 The user acknowledges that the services and all that is related thereto are provided by the ICRC in their condition, as they are, and subject to their availability. The user hereby declares and guarantees that he is solely and fully responsible for any use they make of the services or information found on the website, and is aware that the ICRC is not responsible, directly or indirectly, for any use the user makes of such services or information.

10 Networking platform

Please note that by checking "yes" for "I would like to join the AI Week networking platform" upon registrations, you allow the ICRC to reveal your full name, job title and organization to other registrants.

The ICRC may use a third party platform for networking.

The ICRC reserves the right to modify the terms at anytime.

Privacy:

The ICRC respects the privacy of users who access the website and/or use the various services offered as part of it. The purpose of the terms set out in this Privacy Policy, which is an integral part of the terms of use, is to review, inter alia, how the ICRC uses information provided by users on the website and/or collected by the ICRC during website use, as well as the way the user uses the information found on the website and/or the information the user is exposed to through the website.

When using the website, it is possible that information will be collected about the pages presented to you, the content that you were interested in, how long you spent on the website and what actions you performed during your visit. The information does not identify you personally, so the information collected is of a general, statistical nature only.

The Blavatnik Interdisciplinary Cyber Research Center may retain the information and use it for its own purposes in accordance with the limitations included in the Terms of Use and the provisions of the law.

The Blavatnik Interdisciplinary Cyber Research Center may use the information accumulated about the use of the website for the purposes of producing and analyzing statistical information. The Blavatnik Interdisciplinary Cyber Research Center may provide this statistical data to a third party, as long as the data does not reference or identify you personally.

The Blavatnik Interdisciplinary Cyber Research Center website collects information about users through forms that are located on some of the pages of the website, as long as the user has elected to fill out his details into these forms. The details are provided to the Blavatnik Interdisciplinary Cyber Research Center by the user and are not used to identify the user upon entering the website. The information may be stored at the Blavatnik Interdisciplinary Cyber Research Center's customer management system and used by the Blavatnik Interdisciplinary Cyber Research Center only, for the purpose of responding to or contacting applicants for events at AI Week, as well as for improving of the services provided by the Blavatnik Interdisciplinary Cyber Research Center.

The Blavatnik Interdisciplinary Cyber Research Center is interested in periodically sending you information about its services, as well as marketing and advertising information related to the ICRC or its services. Such information will be sent to you only if you have given explicit consent, and at any time you may withdraw your consent and cease receiving such information.

The Blavatnik Interdisciplinary Cyber Research Center uses information security systems and procedures on its websites. While these systems and procedures reduce the risks of unauthorized access, they do not provide absolute safety. Therefore, the ICRC does not guarantee that its services will be completely immune from unauthorized access to the information stored within them.