

PRIVACY POLICY

Cyber Week Online respects the privacy of users who access the website and/or use the various services offered as part of it. The purpose of the terms set out in this Privacy Policy, which is an integral part of the terms of use, is to review, inter alia, how the Cyber Week Online uses information provided by users on the website and/or collected by the Cyber Week Online during website use, as well as the way the user uses the information found on the website and/or the information the user is exposed to through the website.

When using the website, it is possible that information will be collected about the pages presented to you, the content that you were interested in, how long you spent on the website and what actions you performed during your visit. The information does not identify you personally, so the information collected is of a general, statistical nature only.

Cyber Week Online may retain the information and use it for its own purposes in accordance with the limitations included in the Terms of Use and the provisions of the law.

Cyber Week Online may use the information accumulated about the use of the website for the purposes of producing and analyzing statistical information. Cyber Week Online may provide this statistical data to a third party, as long as the data does not reference or identify you personally.

Cyber Week Online website collects information about users through forms that are located on some of the pages of the website, as long as the user has elected to fill out his details into these forms. The details are provided to Cyber Week Online by the user and are not used to identify the user upon entering the website. The information may be stored at the Cyber Week Online customer management system and used by Cyber Week Online only, for the purpose of responding to or contacting applicants for events at Cyber Week, as well as for improving of the services provided by Cyber Week Online.

Cyber Week Online is interested in periodically sending you information about its services, as well as marketing and advertising information related to the Cyber Week Online or its services. Such information will be sent to you only if you have given explicit consent, and at any time you may withdraw your consent and cease receiving such information.

Cyber Week Online uses information security systems and procedures on its websites. While these systems and procedures reduce the risks of unauthorized access, they do not provide absolute safety. Therefore, the ICRC does not guarantee that its services will be completely immune from unauthorized access to the information stored within them.
